

HUNGED AND SMOKER SET FOR TONIGHT

Olympic Invaders Will Meet Multnomah Men.

GLOVE AND MAT BOUTS ON

Matches to Be Strictly Amateur, With Cuff Links for Winner in Each Class.

PROGRAMME OF INTER-CLUB SMOKER AT MULTNOMAH CLUB TONIGHT.

- Boxing. Walter Dellamora, Olympic club, vs. Don Smith, Multnomah, 135 pounds. Herman Alpers, Olympic club, vs. Clayton Frye, Multnomah, 145 pounds. Joe Blank, Final Fifth club, vs. Ed Stengel, Multnomah, 135 pounds. Meyer Richenstein, Final Fifth, vs. Virgil Hamlin, Multnomah, 135 pounds. Gus Crabtree, Armory, vs. Ed Richmond, Multnomah, 145 pounds. Wrestling. Nathan Sosnovsky, Olympic club, vs. Virgil Hamlin, Multnomah, 135 pounds. Nathan Sosnovsky, Olympic club, vs. Frank Bolin, Multnomah, 130 pounds. Carl Frellinger, Multnomah, vs. Al Wilkinson, Multnomah, 175 pounds.

No fat purses will be split among the boxers and wrestlers appearing on the inter-club smoker tonight at the Multnomah club. All that each winner will get for his efforts is a pair of gold cufflinks and the honor of winning. This is an amateur card, and mere pelf is not the big thing to the contestants.

The feature bouts are two boxing contests between boxers of the Olympic club of San Francisco and Multnomah club representative, and two wrestling matches between Olympic and Multnomah grapplers. And besides these four bouts, there will be three more boxing matches containing the debut of professional amateur game and one preliminary wrestling match. It looks like a whale of a card for action.

Olympic Men Good.

The Olympic club has sent the pick of its men to meet the best of the west tonight. The boxers, Walter Dellamora in the 135-pound class, and Herman Alpers, 145 pounds, display as much class as the professional with the padded mitts. Dellamora will tackle Don Smith of Multnomah and Alpers will meet Clayton Frye. Here are four amateur boxers who are in the game for the sport there is in it, and when they start mixing tonight more action will be crowded into the arena than has ever been witnessed in many a ten-round professional prizefight.

Two Mat Bouts Booked.

There are only two wrestling matches on the card. Both are between Olympic and Multnomah athletes. Nathan Sosnovsky, Olympic, tangles with Virgil Hamlin, crack 135-pound Multnomah wrestler. More than the usual is taken in this match because Hamlin lost a hairline decision to the San Francisco boy last year. That match was so close that the referee decided this time because he is out to decide the match on falls.

The other wrestling match will be between Ed Roper, Olympic, and Frank Bolin, Multnomah, in the 130-pound class. Bolin is a mighty clever mat performer, and has considerable experience while on the Oregon Agricultural college wrestling team.

Preliminaries to Be Fast.

Multnomah boxers in the preliminary bouts also will take on boxers from the Olympic club and the Army Amateur Athletic club. Bud Stengel, Multnomah 135-pound scrapper, meets Joe Blank of Final Fifth club in the 135-pound division, while Ed Richmond and Gus Crabtree mix in the 145-pound section. Crabtree is one of the best looking 145-pounders turned out here in some time.

Olympic Dranga Will Referee the Boxing Bout.

Dr. B. F. Loomis will referee the wrestling matches. There is one preliminary bout in which Carl Frellinger will take on Al Wilkinson. Both are Multnomah club men and weigh 175 pounds.

Grids to Be Guests.

The Multnomah and University of Oregon football teams, which play here Thanksgiving day, will be guests at the smoker. The first bout will start promptly at 7 o'clock. The Multnomah club wrestlers have been coached for the fray tonight by Ted Thye, while Tom Louitt has put the finishing touches on the program. W. J. Leonard, Olympic club instructor, accompanied his men north.

PULLMAN PLANS GAME HERE

Athletic Coach Has Option on Club Field for Thanksgiving, 1922.

WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE, Pullman, Nov. 22.—(Special).—Portland football fans probably will have an opportunity to see the Cougars in action Thanksgiving day next year. It is known that J. F. Bohler, athletic director has an option on Multnomah field for the 1922 Turkey day, but he declines to say what team he expects to play, saying that nothing definite can be announced until after the Pacific coast conference meeting.

Island Swim Next June.

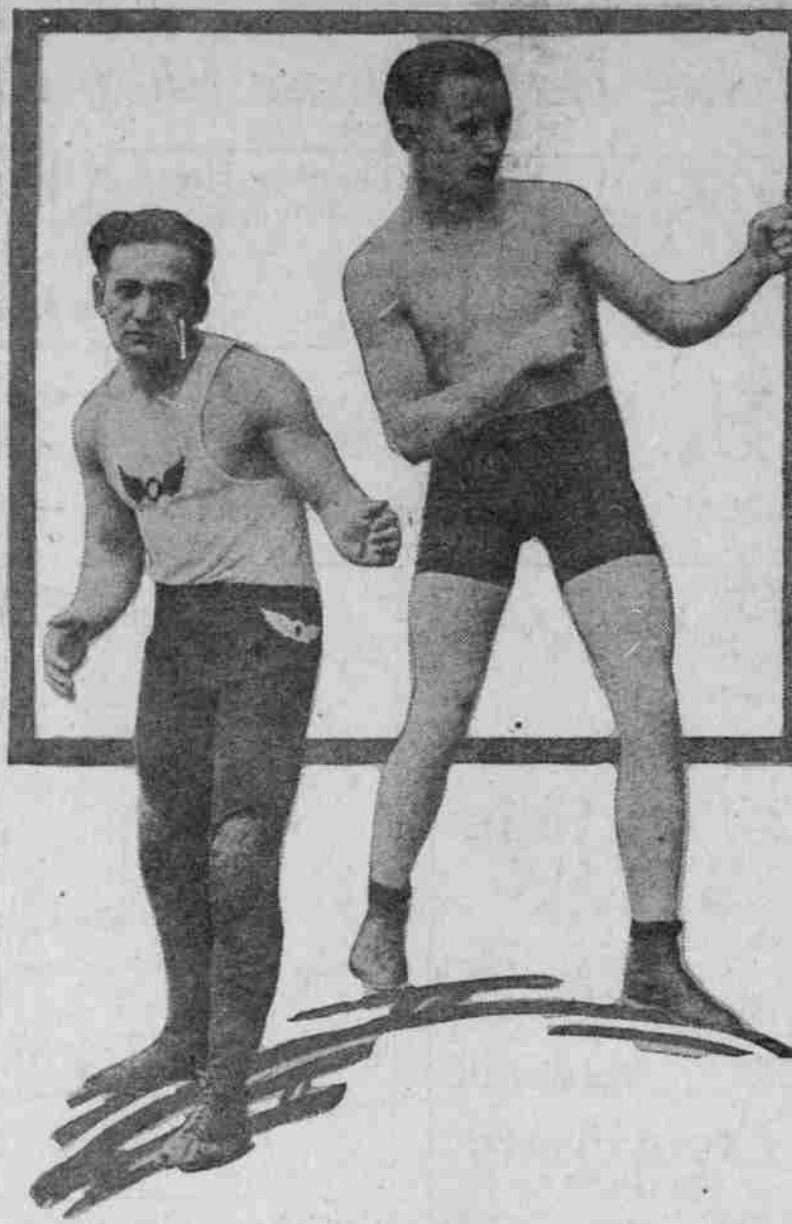

HONOLULU, T. H., Nov. 22.—(Special).—The next big swimming meet in Honolulu is scheduled for June, 1922, although tank meets probably will be held prior to that. Ethelinda Heibrey, Mina Wylie, John Weismuller, Margery Lee Woodbridge and one Canadian swimmer are expected to compete as outside aquatic stars.

U. S. Fencers Win.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—American swordsmen won the Thompson international 1921 fencing trophy last night by defeating the members of the British team in seven of the 12 bouts in saber competition. With four bouts still to be contested the total score was: Americans 24, British 18.

AGGIE ELEVEN ON TRIP

GRID SQUAD OFF TO PLAY IN PASADENA SATURDAY.

16 Men Taken Along for Game With Southern California—Lineup Not Picked Definitely.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Nov. 22.—(Special).

The Oregon Aggie football squad left Corvallis today for Pasadena to play the University of Southern California November 26.

Only 16 men were taken, which means that several of the best substitutes were left at home. Some of the new ones consist of Stewart, center; Christensen and Clarke, guards; Loney and Crowell, tackles; McFadden and Richard, ends; Kasberger, quarter; Miller and Summer, halves, and Powell, fullback.

There may be several shifts in the lineup, however. The backfield lacked its early season punch against Oregon. It still looks as if Coach Rutherford's biggest problem is right end. Rickert was switched from the backfield in an attempt to add strength to this position, but it still is the weakest part of the Aggie's machine. Tousey has been used several times, but has not filled the bill. The other two prospects are Longhrey and Taggart.

As neither has started in any of the big games their value is unknown. Hayden is still out of the game, so the choice for right end lies between Ed Clarke and Mickelwait. Both played against Oregon.

Word has just been received by Jimmy Richardson that the Aggie O. C. ex-students will be in the Aggie rooters' section at Pasadena.

TUCKER WITH PACIFIC SQUAD

New Player to Work Against Chemawa Indians Thanksgiving.

PACIFIC UNIVERSITY, Forest Grove, Or., Nov. 22.—(Special).—Coach Frank has announced George Tucker as the new player to work against the Chemawa Indians Thanksgiving day.

Tucker has been with the squad all season, but owing to an operation performed on his ear just before school, he was unable to play. Tucker may kick for the Badgers. He played with the O. C. rooks last year and was reported to have booted well for them then. Tucker formerly played with Astoria high school and he will be given a chance in the line unless he is needed for kicking.

Preparations are under way to make the game Thursday the biggest ever held in Washington county. A letter from the president of the Associate Alumni says that body will be there in force.

MILL HANDS STAGE SMOKER

Wrestling and Boxing Bout Are Features of Programme.

BAKER, Or., Nov. 22.—(Special).—Three boxing matches and two wrestling bouts were staged by local mill workers at a smoker given by members of the Four L club Saturday night. Ralph Bryant defeated Ben Spencer and Jim Talbert defeated Ben Byers in straight falls in the wrestling bouts.

The boxing matches were no-decision affairs, in which Carl Wood, Lloyd Palmer, Merrill Luak, Joe Radonky, Wes Durkee and Al Shepard were paired in the order named. Following the bouts a social hour followed, at which Rev. Joseph Chester, Prescot Lilly, Captain Anthony of the Salvation Army, Secretary Webster of the Y. M. C. A. and C. C. Basche gave short talks. The Four L's stage a smoker for the various mill employes each month.

Turkey Shoot Off.

ABERDEEN, Wash., Nov. 22.—(Special).—The Aberdeen Trapsshooters' association will not stage their annual Thanksgiving turkey shoot, according to Captain H. A. Benham, secretary of the club. The shoot originally was scheduled for Wednesday, but the inclement weather interfered and the trapsshooters will not have another opportunity to stage the event before Thanksgiving. The regular Christmas turkey shoot will be held.

Arleta to Play Astoria.

The Arleta Athletic club football eleven will hold its last football practice at 7 o'clock tonight at the armory. Tenth and Couch streets, before its departure for Astoria tomorrow morning to meet the powerful eleven of FLEET TEAM TO PLAY HERE.

The Pacific fleet football eleven will play here after all. Just when it looked as if the game between the fleet and the Multnomah club would be scheduled for Saturday, December 3, would have to be called off because of the fleet's demands for a heavy guarantee, everything has straightened out yesterday.

Harry Fischer, Multnomah football manager, got a telegram from the fleet manager accepting his counter proposition, so the celebrated Bill Ingram and all the fleet boys will be here Saturday week as per schedule.

Offensive is Strong.

Oregon has developed a crashing offensive line and the defense is likely to give the club some anxious moments. King and Johnson are as good as having a pair of backs as the men from Eugene have had in several seasons.

But one place where the club has kept its lead is in the line. Any time Bill gets within 40 yards of an opponent's goal he is just as likely as not to drop-kick it over. Billy is a great advantage to the team, because he is always dangerous. His ability to boot them over increases the offensive strength of the Multnomah club eleven just about 50 percent.

Forward Passes Good.

But that isn't all Bill can do, for he is a forward-passer, and he can run. He is a triple threat to the opposition. Nobody knows which of three things he will do until he does it.

Oregon has missed big Bill sadly this season. If he had been in there Saturday against the Aggie Oregon would have had a good chance of winning by a drop-kick. But for all his collegiate zest, Bill doesn't seem to have the instinct about playing against his alma mater tomorrow. If he can beat the variety boys he certainly will do it.

Pomona's game will give those persons who are disgusted with Oregon's poor showing against Idaho that they didn't think it possible the team could be so good. It is hard to see just how much improvement the variety men have made. It certainly was a different football eleven against the Aggie Saturday than the one that played Idaho here.

Players Still New.

In that game half the Oregon players were in positions that were new to them. Since then they have been shifted around to their proper niches and that of itself has made a whole lot of difference. Now, at right, Tiny Shields' fairly floundered at fullback. He couldn't make yardage or anything else. But put in at guard and he is a different player.

Then Von der Ahe, a big fellow who didn't know where he belonged, was tried at end against Idaho and looked pretty slick. Now, at right, tackle, he is the find of the year. And Latham was too tall and loose-jointed and awkward ever to make a success at end, but now that he has been shifted back to fullback he is another player entirely.

Latham Makes Good.

Latham wasn't much in line-backing against Idaho. The moment when he was called to take a forward pass he certainly shone. He has arms as long as the ordinary fellow's, and he just reaches out over the heads of half a dozen men trying to break up the play, grabs the ball and departs from there. He has had a lot of experience as a basketball center, and that, with the length of his arms and his height, makes it a cinch for him to receive a pass. Watch that boy tomorrow, for the chances are he will make more than once for the Multnomah safety.

Oregon played hard against the Aggie, but though it was a tough game it wasn't an especially rough one, and nobody was hurt. That leaves all the players in pretty good condition for tomorrow's turkey-day scrap. Oregon has been beating Multnomah regularly for the last two years, and now that the club has a real team at last the Wings-M boys are bound and determined to wipe out a few memories of the "win" of 1919. Oregon may have something to say about that.

The game will start at 1:30 instead of the usual 2:30 starting time.

PAPER CHASE IS TOMORROW

Portland Hunt Club to Hold 18th Annual Event.

The 18th annual Thanksgiving day paper chase of the Portland Hunt club will start at the Garden Home club house tomorrow at 11 o'clock. Miss Martie Ebbin and Miss Alice Moore will lay the trail, which will be about six miles, with numerous blinds and a number of traps. An unusually large field will face the starter. The winner, besides the coveted blue ribbon, will have his name engraved on the directors' cup.

PULLMAN SQUAD READY

ALL EXCEPT TWO MEN IN FINE SHAPE FOR WASHINGTON.

Eleven Practices in Gym Because Storm Prevents Work on Rogers Field.

WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE, Pullman, Nov. 22.—(Special).—Jenne and Skadan are the only members of the Cougar football squad not in tip-top shape to take the field against the Cougars of Washington at Seattle Thanksgiving day. Jenne is practically out for the season with a strained tendon and Skadan still has his leg in a cast, but may get into the game.

Ford Dunton, right tackle, is groomed for the punting job at Seattle with Eddie Hickey, right end, read to place-kick if the opportunity comes. McKay, right guard, who injured his back in the Oregon and Oregon Aggie games, is again reporting for practice and will be in shape for the battle.

There has been no let-up in the snout storm which struck here last week, and as a result the football squad has not been able to use Rogers Field for the past five days. Coach Welch has been having the men run drills in the gym, but the gym is too narrow for effective practice in anything except straight line plays.

Woodson Maddox Playing Quarter on Hawaii Club Team. HONOLULU, T. Maddox starred in a recent game in which the Athletics lost to the town team 21 to 0. The Athletics, though a weak team, held the town team down to three touchdowns.

Hard luck and the wind lost Maddox his chance for fame. He made a beautiful drop kick from the 53-yard line, but the ball struck the cross bar and bounded back. His punting featured the game.
