

STARR CASE IN ANNUAL TRIAL

Miss Rappe's Nurse Takes Stand for Defense.

CROWD FILLS COURTROOM

Chief Counsel for Actor Declares State Failed to Prove Charge of Manslaughter.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—The prosecution closed its case late today in the manslaughter trial of Roscoe C. (Fatty) Arbuckle, after reserving the right to introduce further testimony tomorrow.

CHAMBERMAID ON STAND

Glennon was excused from the stand following the court's ruling.

Kate Brennan, a chambermaid at the St. Francis, followed Glennon and testified that she dusted off the two doors introduced in the prosecution for fingerprint evidence some time after the fingerprints were supposed to have been made by Arbuckle and Miss Rappe.

Nurse Is Witness.

Mrs. Martha Hamilton, a trained nurse, followed Mrs. Lancashire on the stand and testified that she attended Miss Rappe at the Wakefield hospital where she was taken from the hotel.

Adjourment was taken at the conclusion of the day's proceedings.

More general interest was evidenced in the trial today than on any day since it began.

Locking of Door Denied.

Glavin McNab, chief counsel for the defense, said in his opening statement that the room in which Arbuckle was alleged to have locked himself and Miss Rappe at the time of the supposed attack, was open at all times.

Arbuckle showed amusement in the drawing of a diagram by Heinrich showing his finger prints. His attitude bordered on the jovial throughout the day.

Locking of Door Denied.

Glavin McNab, chief counsel for the defense, said in his opening statement that the room in which Arbuckle was alleged to have locked himself and Miss Rappe at the time of the supposed attack, was open at all times.

Arbuckle showed amusement in the drawing of a diagram by Heinrich showing his finger prints. His attitude bordered on the jovial throughout the day.

Locking of Door Denied.

Glavin McNab, chief counsel for the defense, said in his opening statement that the room in which Arbuckle was alleged to have locked himself and Miss Rappe at the time of the supposed attack, was open at all times.

Arbuckle showed amusement in the drawing of a diagram by Heinrich showing his finger prints. His attitude bordered on the jovial throughout the day.

Locking of Door Denied.

Glavin McNab, chief counsel for the defense, said in his opening statement that the room in which Arbuckle was alleged to have locked himself and Miss Rappe at the time of the supposed attack, was open at all times.

Arbuckle showed amusement in the drawing of a diagram by Heinrich showing his finger prints. His attitude bordered on the jovial throughout the day.

Locking of Door Denied.

Glavin McNab, chief counsel for the defense, said in his opening statement that the room in which Arbuckle was alleged to have locked himself and Miss Rappe at the time of the supposed attack, was open at all times.

Arbuckle showed amusement in the drawing of a diagram by Heinrich showing his finger prints. His attitude bordered on the jovial throughout the day.

Locking of Door Denied.

Glavin McNab, chief counsel for the defense, said in his opening statement that the room in which Arbuckle was alleged to have locked himself and Miss Rappe at the time of the supposed attack, was open at all times.

Arbuckle showed amusement in the drawing of a diagram by Heinrich showing his finger prints. His attitude bordered on the jovial throughout the day.

Locking of Door Denied.

Glavin McNab, chief counsel for the defense, said in his opening statement that the room in which Arbuckle was alleged to have locked himself and Miss Rappe at the time of the supposed attack, was open at all times.

Arbuckle showed amusement in the drawing of a diagram by Heinrich showing his finger prints. His attitude bordered on the jovial throughout the day.

Locking of Door Denied.

Glavin McNab, chief counsel for the defense, said in his opening statement that the room in which Arbuckle was alleged to have locked himself and Miss Rappe at the time of the supposed attack, was open at all times.

Arbuckle showed amusement in the drawing of a diagram by Heinrich showing his finger prints. His attitude bordered on the jovial throughout the day.

Locking of Door Denied.

Glavin McNab, chief counsel for the defense, said in his opening statement that the room in which Arbuckle was alleged to have locked himself and Miss Rappe at the time of the supposed attack, was open at all times.

Arbuckle showed amusement in the drawing of a diagram by Heinrich showing his finger prints. His attitude bordered on the jovial throughout the day.

mittee of two experts representing each of the nine powers was rejected at the suggestion of Senator Lodge, who was said to have argued that Chinese questions were not matters for experts and that the representatives of the powers were responsible directly for any action taken. His objections were said to have been supported by Mr. Balfour and Premier Brand.

Questions relating to Shantung, Manchuria and foreign treaty and other concessions in China, it was probably soon to be reached by the committee. It was said that so far no hint as to the Chinese attitude regarding Shantung had been given by American officials, although intimations have come that Japanese were disposed to insist on retention and protection of their rights and privileges in Manchuria.

WHAT IS CHINA? IS PROBLEM

Political Geography Question Is Big One for Conference.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—What is China? That's the question in political geography becoming more and more a poser for the armament conference in far eastern problems.

The recognized Chinese government of Peking as represented in the conference, says the China to which the most principles must apply includes the 18 provinces within the greater wall and Manchuria, Mongolia, Tibet and Chinese Turkestan. They say, they say, was sanctioned by the great powers when they recognized the Chinese constitution.

A Japanese representative considers Manchuria and Mongolia as outside the legitimate border line. The Japanese intentions in Shantung also are uncertain in the minds of the Chinese.

Then again, there is the Chinese government of Canton, which claims that politically speaking, it is China. The geographical limits, it lays down are similar to those recognized by the Peking authorities, but they charge the latter cannot speak the true voice of China in the negotiations here.

Historical, ethnological and statistical data are being mustered to support the various viewpoints.

Upon the answer, says the Chinese, will hinge whether the Root principles mean much or little. The principles contained in these principles mean much, as the Chinese apply them to the whole of China. They may consider as constituting China, but they say they mean almost nothing if Japan considers them applicable only to a restricted China, minus Manchuria, Mongolia and Shantung.

AUSTRALIAN GIVES OPINION

Neutralization of Pacific Declared Vital to Far East Peace.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—Neutralization of the Pacific was declared last night by Senator Felice, Australian delegate to the Washington conference, to be the most important thing to be striven for as an effective means of assuring peace in the far east.

He suggested a tripartite understanding between Great Britain, Japan and the United States.

4 RAIL OFFICIALS KILLED

SANTA FE ROAD OFFICIALS WRECKED IN ARIZONA.

Division Superintendent, Assistant Roadmaster and Engineer Lose Lives in Accident.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 22.—W. H. Oliver of Los Angeles, assistant to the chief engineer of the coast line of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railway, and four division officers of that railway were killed when a motor inspection car overturned three miles north of Wickenburg, Ariz., 40 miles northwest of here.

In addition to those killed several persons were injured, some of them seriously.

The others dead are: William Mathie of Winslow, Ariz., division superintendent.

H. C. Storey, Prescott, Ariz., assistant division superintendent.

William Bowman of Wickenburg, roadmaster of the Prescott-Phoenix district.

J. A. Jaeger, Prescott, assistant division engineer.

The accident happened, according to those on board the car, as the car was rounding a curve. An axel on the front truck broke, they said, and the car plunged down an eight-foot embankment, turning over at least once.

EMPLOYMENT PROBLEM UP

Bill to Push Conference Plans Introduced in Senate.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 22.—Legislation designed to carry out the policy of the recent national unemployment conference was introduced in the senate today by Senator Kenyon (Republican, Iowa).

The bill would provide for preparation in advance against periods of industrial depression and unemployment by establishment of an elastic programme for the development of public works.

The secretary of commerce would be authorized, also, to publish monthly reports concerning the trend of business conditions.

Phone us for prices on your winter coal. Diamond Coal Co., Bldg. 3937.

Orpheum matinee today, 15-25-50-Ad.

French Vermouth advertisement with image of a bottle and text describing its quality and availability.

McQuinn advertisement for restaurant and wine services, located at 428 Portland St.

JAPAN WILL RESIST DRASTIC NAVAL CUT

Proposed Allowance for Nippon Held Inadequate.

WARLIKE AIMS DISAVOWED

Nation Will Not Consent to Having Armament Plan Cramped Down Her Throat, Says Writer.

BY ADACHI KINOSUKE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—Naval authorities here with the Japanese delegation deny flatly and definitely the Tokio report that the navy department of Japan has requested the builders of the battleship Tosa to rush work on it.

It is certain that such requests or orders never were issued from here. None of the Japanese delegation, including Admiral Kato, the minister of the navy, knows anything about it.

They hold it inconceivable that a request of that sort should be made to contractors without the Japanese navy making the slightest difference in its attitude toward the American authorities on their proposed ratio of 10-10.

On this point they are about as yielding as a chunk of flint. The newspaper talk of the emphasis on the yielding attitude of the American authorities on their proposed ratio of 10-10 does not make any particular sense.

One thing, they don't believe a word of it. They simply cannot believe that the American government could take such a stand.

Japanese Navy "Joke."

They cannot see why America should object to a 70 per cent ratio for Japan, for the following reason: It makes not the slightest difference to the American navy whether the Japanese naval strength be 70 or 60 per cent of the American naval power.

If Japan dreamed ever of attacking the American navy, she would hold out for 17 capital ships for herself as against America's ten, and in that ratio there is not too big a margin of safety, according to our naval authorities.

The bare fact, they say, that Japan never aspired even to equality with the American navy is the best of all proofs that she has never been mad enough to think of such a thing.

While a ratio of 70 per cent for Japan would not make the slightest difference to America, it would make all the difference in the world to the defense of Japan. In proof of this, they cite many things, these among others: Some 55 naval engagements were fought since the battle of Dover in 1820, in which the ratio of naval powers of the contestants was known.

Out of the number there were only five, less than 10 per cent of the battles, that resulted in victory for a naval power having less than 70 per cent of that of its opponent.

If Japan were to agree to make her naval power less than 70 per cent, it simply would mean, in the light of indisputable historic facts, that she would give herself a chance of winning about five times out of 55.

As for the new super-dreadnought Mutsu, Japan is going to hold to it, in all probability. In fact, in her case, our delegation has little choice about the matter. This time it is not the militarists who would insist on it, but the people.

All arguments which technical experts of the United States may or may not be able to present against her being saved would have about as much effect as the "spring breeze on a horse's ear," as the Japanese say.

Sacrifice Is Symbolized. The Mutsu is not a warship to the sentimental imagination of the people of Japan. She is a symbol of national self-sacrifice in steel.

A millionaire girl baby may throw away any number of expensive French dolls without the slightest regret. The first real French doll which a wee girl of the poor gets has quite a different status, especially in the affection of its baby proprietor. Japan is no spoilsport.

The Billboard Weekly advertisement with a large graphic of a billboard and text promoting its content.

The Christmas Issue of The Billboard advertisement, highlighting special content for the holiday season.

Christmas 1921 advertisement for The Billboard, featuring a large graphic and promotional text.

Paying for the Home advertisement, offering a solution for home financing and mortgage assistance.

daughter of the rich. The Mutsu is one of her rare and really expensive toys.

In the popular imagination of Japan the Mutsu is more a crystallization of the sweat and tears and blood of millions of toilers than it is a fighting machine.

Correlation Held Unthinkable. The Japanese people have always understood that America asked the other great powers of the world to corner here for just one purpose—to talk things over among themselves and, if possible, work out some practical measure, through the agency to all the parties concerned, for the limitation of naval armaments.

The people of Japan never for one moment convert the German position from a defensive into an offensive weapon. And that is really a big order, even from purely a technical point of view.

BERLIN, Nov. 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—In a statement to the Associated Press today, the German government took issue with the charges of Premier Briand of France at the Washington conference that the German police forces and the reichswahr constituted a nucleus for a future German army.

It declared M. Briand's assertion that the reichswahr was composed exclusively of officers and non-commissioned officers of the old army was incorrect and said that the bulk of the reichswahr is made up of youths between the ages of 18 and 21, recruited since the war.

The statement said that the "protection police" were created at the bidding of the entente, and added: "The reichswahr is wholly unaffiliated with the Schutzpolizei which took the place of the security police when the entente ordered the latter's dissolution."

The Schutzpolizei is primarily an agency to maintain law and order. It takes orders solely from the civil government and is not connected with its numerical strength and its composition with reference to the ratio of officers and men are designated and supervised by the entente control commission.

The number of rifles and small arms it is permitted to have is specified. It does not possess heavy-calibered arms. The elwonerwehr or civilian guards, referred to by M. Briand have been dissolved and their arms have been surrendered and destroyed.

The statement disputed M. Briand's assertion that Germany still possessed numerous arsenals equipped to turn out war materials and asserts these plants are limited to two or three required to keep the German army supplied and that their output is supervised by the entente control commission.

The government's statement referred the French premier to the address from the throne in which King George of England declared satisfactory progress had been made by Germany in execution of her financial and disarmament obligations.

Newspaper comment generally characterized M. Briand's speech as "flat falsehood" but most of the journals express fear that America may believe what he said. The opinion most frequently expressed was that his attitude would likely undermine and nullify the whole effort toward disarmament.

The excerpts from Berlin newspapers were generally characteristic of the comment: "Yesterday Tagblat Rundschau: 'Yesterday the whole disarmament question was consecrated. Militarism is dead; long live militarism!'"

Kreuz Zeitung: "The principal thing is that France does not consider disarmament, and so disarmament by land is settled so far as the Washington conference is concerned."

Allegemeine Zeitung: "Americans will not see through the politics of France. Under the cloak of keeping peace on the continent, she seeks military political and economical control."

These excerpts from Berlin newspapers were generally characteristic of the comment: "Yesterday Tagblat Rundschau: 'Yesterday the whole disarmament question was consecrated. Militarism is dead; long live militarism!'"

Kreuz Zeitung: "The principal thing is that France does not consider disarmament, and so disarmament by land is settled so far as the Washington conference is concerned."

Allegemeine Zeitung: "Americans will not see through the politics of France. Under the cloak of keeping peace on the continent, she seeks military political and economical control."

These excerpts from Berlin newspapers were generally characteristic of the comment: "Yesterday Tagblat Rundschau: 'Yesterday the whole disarmament question was consecrated. Militarism is dead; long live militarism!'"

Kreuz Zeitung: "The principal thing is that France does not consider disarmament, and so disarmament by land is settled so far as the Washington conference is concerned."

Allegemeine Zeitung: "Americans will not see through the politics of France. Under the cloak of keeping peace on the continent, she seeks military political and economical control."

These excerpts from Berlin newspapers were generally characteristic of the comment: "Yesterday Tagblat Rundschau: 'Yesterday the whole disarmament question was consecrated. Militarism is dead; long live militarism!'"

Kreuz Zeitung: "The principal thing is that France does not consider disarmament, and so disarmament by land is settled so far as the Washington conference is concerned."

Allegemeine Zeitung: "Americans will not see through the politics of France. Under the cloak of keeping peace on the continent, she seeks military political and economical control."

These excerpts from Berlin newspapers were generally characteristic of the comment: "Yesterday Tagblat Rundschau: 'Yesterday the whole disarmament question was consecrated. Militarism is dead; long live militarism!'"

Kreuz Zeitung: "The principal thing is that France does not consider disarmament, and so disarmament by land is settled so far as the Washington conference is concerned."

Allegemeine Zeitung: "Americans will not see through the politics of France. Under the cloak of keeping peace on the continent, she seeks military political and economical control."

These excerpts from Berlin newspapers were generally characteristic of the comment: "Yesterday Tagblat Rundschau: 'Yesterday the whole disarmament question was consecrated. Militarism is dead; long live militarism!'"

Kreuz Zeitung: "The principal thing is that France does not consider disarmament, and so disarmament by land is settled so far as the Washington conference is concerned."

BRIAND'S CHARGES DENIED BY GERMANY

"Protection Police" Declared to Have Allies' Approval.

HUGE FORCES HELD JOKE

Reichswahr Said to Be Wholly Unaffiliated With Police Body. Entente Control Is Cited.

BERLIN, Nov. 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—In a statement to the Associated Press today, the German government took issue with the charges of Premier Briand of France at the Washington conference that the German police forces and the reichswahr constituted a nucleus for a future German army.

It declared M. Briand's assertion that the reichswahr was composed exclusively of officers and non-commissioned officers of the old army was incorrect and said that the bulk of the reichswahr is made up of youths between the ages of 18 and 21, recruited since the war.

The statement said that the "protection police" were created at the bidding of the entente, and added: "The reichswahr is wholly unaffiliated with the Schutzpolizei which took the place of the security police when the entente ordered the latter's dissolution."

The Schutzpolizei is primarily an agency to maintain law and order. It takes orders solely from the civil government and is not connected with its numerical strength and its composition with reference to the ratio of officers and men are designated and supervised by the entente control commission.

The number of rifles and small arms it is permitted to have is specified. It does not possess heavy-calibered arms. The elwonerwehr or civilian guards, referred to by M. Briand have been dissolved and their arms have been surrendered and destroyed.

The statement disputed M. Briand's assertion that Germany still possessed numerous arsenals equipped to turn out war materials and asserts these plants are limited to two or three required to keep the German army supplied and that their output is supervised by the entente control commission.

The government's statement referred the French premier to the address from the throne in which King George of England declared satisfactory progress had been made by Germany in execution of her financial and disarmament obligations.

Newspaper comment generally characterized M. Briand's speech as "flat falsehood" but most of the journals express fear that America may believe what he said. The opinion most frequently expressed was that his attitude would likely undermine and nullify the whole effort toward disarmament.

The excerpts from Berlin newspapers were generally characteristic of the comment: "Yesterday Tagblat Rundschau: 'Yesterday the whole disarmament question was consecrated. Militarism is dead; long live militarism!'"

Kreuz Zeitung: "The principal thing is that France does not consider disarmament, and so disarmament by land is settled so far as the Washington conference is concerned."

Allegemeine Zeitung: "Americans will not see through the politics of France. Under the cloak of keeping peace on the continent, she seeks military political and economical control."

These excerpts from Berlin newspapers were generally characteristic of the comment: "Yesterday Tagblat Rundschau: 'Yesterday the whole disarmament question was consecrated. Militarism is dead; long live militarism!'"

Kreuz Zeitung: "The principal thing is that France does not consider disarmament, and so disarmament by land is settled so far as the Washington conference is concerned."

Allegemeine Zeitung: "Americans will not see through the politics of France. Under the cloak of keeping peace on the continent, she seeks military political and economical control."

These excerpts from Berlin newspapers were generally characteristic of the comment: "Yesterday Tagblat Rundschau: 'Yesterday the whole disarmament question was consecrated. Militarism is dead; long live militarism!'"

Kreuz Zeitung: "The principal thing is that France does not consider disarmament, and so disarmament by land is settled so far as the Washington conference is concerned."

Allegemeine Zeitung: "Americans will not see through the politics of France. Under the cloak of keeping peace on the continent, she seeks military political and economical control."

These excerpts from Berlin newspapers were generally characteristic of the comment: "Yesterday Tagblat Rundschau: 'Yesterday the whole disarmament question was consecrated. Militarism is dead; long live militarism!'"

Kreuz Zeitung: "The principal thing is that France does not consider disarmament, and so disarmament by land is settled so far as the Washington conference is concerned."

Allegemeine Zeitung: "Americans will not see through the politics of France. Under the cloak of keeping peace on the continent, she seeks military political and economical control."

These excerpts from Berlin newspapers were generally characteristic of the comment: "Yesterday Tagblat Rundschau: 'Yesterday the whole disarmament question was consecrated. Militarism is dead; long live militarism!'"

Kreuz Zeitung: "The principal thing is that France does not consider disarmament, and so disarmament by land is settled so far as the Washington conference is concerned."

Allegemeine Zeitung: "Americans will not see through the politics of France. Under the cloak of keeping peace on the continent, she seeks military political and economical control."

These excerpts from Berlin newspapers were generally characteristic of the comment: "Yesterday Tagblat Rundschau: 'Yesterday the whole disarmament question was consecrated. Militarism is dead; long live militarism!'" which she hopes to extend over Russia." Tages Zeitung: "M. Briand reckons on the almost unbelievable credulity of Americans. That the English, Japanese and Italian delegates believed him, he himself would scarcely dare to presume."

Kreuz Zeitung: "The principal thing is that France does not consider disarmament, and so disarmament by land is settled so far as the Washington conference is concerned."

The newspaper said that while talking disarmament France is really strengthening her army.

BREAKFAST TABLE PLACE TO CORRECT CONSTIPATION

A Dish of Cereal Meal Each Morning Makes Bowels Regular as Clock.

Thousands of Men, Women and Children Eating Their Way Back to Health.

Stop Drugs for Constipation—They Can't Cure But Can Do Injure.

One Package of Cereal Meal Costs Nothing Unless Entirely Satisfactory.

Ninety per cent of all adults and children of this country are constipated and train loads of pills and laxatives are taken each year with no more than "emergency" relief—nothing permanent. The more drugs you take, the more the necessity for taking them—and each dose is taken at your physical expense.

Cereal Meal, the Ideal Health Food, in a normal, natural manner regular daily movements—thorough, copious, poison-removing movements—through the bowels. Nature intended you should have for good health.

Certain elements now missing in the food you are eating CAUSE constipation. Cereal Meal simply supplies these missing elements and Nature does the rest. All the drugs in the world will not add these elements to your food—this is why you are always constipated. Cereal Meal contains no drugs—neither is it to be confused with bran—it is something different.

Cereal Meal is delicious, wholesome, nutritious—and is for the entire family from its oldest member to the baby old enough to take solid food.

A dealer of Kingville, Texas, writes: "We are enclosing check for the amount of our last order and we wish to duplicate that order. Cereal Meal certainly has been a seller and the customers we have kept bringing orders."

But Cereal Meal and there will be no more constipation. Then naturally follows relief from indigestion, headaches, fermentation, chronic appendicitis, dull eye and hollow complexion, much nervousness, these symptoms and conditions, as a rule, being but secondary to constipation.

Instead of taking pills, laxatives and oils—drugs—that bring bowel movements by irritation, you merely substitute Cereal Meal for the cereal you may be accustomed to eating for breakfast. This is all YOU do—you need not worry—you need not look for a new kind of "physic"—you will not have any griping or distress—you can simply forget that you ever were constipated. For Cereal Meal will not have any griping or distress to perfect working order and will not WEAR OUT.

It is probable that your dealer has not as yet stocked Cereal Meal, therefore, write direct to the Cereal Meal Corp., 125 Fifteenth St., Denver, Colo., for the address of your nearest dealer, a free booklet on constipation, prices and other information—Adv.

These excerpts from Berlin newspapers were generally characteristic of the comment: "Yesterday Tagblat Rundschau: 'Yesterday the whole disarmament question was consecrated. Militarism is dead; long live militarism!'"

Kreuz Zeitung: "The principal thing is that France does not consider disarmament, and so disarmament by land is settled so far as the Washington conference is concerned."

Allegemeine Zeitung: "Americans will not see through the politics of France. Under the cloak of keeping peace on the continent, she seeks military political and economical control."

These excerpts from Berlin newspapers were generally characteristic of the comment: "Yesterday Tagblat Rundschau: 'Yesterday the whole disarmament question was consecrated. Militarism is dead; long live militarism!'"

Kreuz Zeitung: "The principal thing is that France does not consider disarmament, and so disarmament by land is settled so far as the Washington conference is concerned."

Allegemeine Zeitung: "Americans will not see through the politics of France. Under the cloak of keeping peace on the continent, she seeks military political and economical control."

These excerpts from Berlin newspapers were generally characteristic of the comment: "Yesterday Tagblat Rundschau: 'Yesterday the whole disarmament question was consecrated. Militarism is dead; long live militarism!'"

Kreuz Zeitung: "The principal thing is that France does not consider disarmament, and so disarmament by land is settled so far as the Washington conference is concerned."

Allegemeine Zeitung: "Americans will not see through the politics of France. Under the cloak of keeping peace on the continent, she seeks military political and economical control."

These excerpts from Berlin newspapers were generally characteristic of the comment: "Yesterday Tagblat Rundschau: 'Yesterday the whole disarmament question was consecrated. Militarism is dead; long live militarism!'"

Kreuz Zeitung: "The principal thing is that France does not consider disarmament, and so disarmament by land is settled so far as the Washington conference is concerned."

Allegemeine Zeitung: "Americans will not see through the politics of France. Under the cloak of keeping peace on the continent, she seeks military political and economical control."

These excerpts from Berlin newspapers were generally characteristic of the comment: "Yesterday Tagblat Rundschau: 'Yesterday the whole disarmament question