

FOUR POINTS GAINED BY CHINA AT PARLEY

Wireless Control, Neutrality, Property Return Assured.

CONFERENCE TO BE SET

Admiral and General Declared to Have Resigned Because of Way Shantung Matter Goes.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—Optimism prevailed in Japanese and Chinese circles tonight over the prospect of a satisfactory solution of far eastern questions as a result of meetings today at which many involved problems were discussed. Important developments included: Adoption of a resolution involving preservation of the territorial integrity of China, giving her control over all foreign wireless stations in China. Adoption of the three Chinese delegates for the neutrality of China in future wars to which China is not a party. Agreement by the Japanese, subject to ratification, to return to China all public property in the Kiaochow leasehold of the Shantung province to be transferred to China. A tentative agreement by the Japanese to delay no longer than Saturday further discussion of control of the Kiaochow-Tsintau railway in Shantung.

Strife in Delegation Reported.

Somewhat offsetting the progress made were assertions and denials of further resignations and dissensions in the Chinese delegation. Dr. Alfred Sze, Chinese minister to Washington and a delegate, denied there had been any resignations. High officials of the Chinese government, Dr. Philip K. C. Tsou as general secretary, which was announced Monday. "I cannot emphasize too strongly," he said, "that the three Chinese delegates are pulling together. There is no dissension. There have been points on which we have not agreed as to procedure, but we have conferred together always with the view of harmonizing them and this we have done."

Resignations Are Rumored.

In other Chinese sources it was said that Admiral T'ai Chow Tai-chi and General Huang Fu, superior advisers, had resigned through displeasure with the manner in which the Shantung controversy was being treated.

At the meeting of the far eastern committee today, Dr. Wellington Koo, for China, made a statement concerning Manchuria and other leased territories in China in relation to the Japanese position taken at the meeting last week "that it would not at this time" withdraw from that province.

There was said to have been considerable further discussion of leased territories in China, but no final agreement was reached. Chinese and Japanese delegates explaining their separate negotiations regarding Shantung were somewhat involved in the conference question of leased territories and therefore it was considered advisable first to make further headway with the Shantung negotiations.

A communique said: "The committee on Pacific and far eastern questions met at 11 o'clock this morning. The following report of the sub-committee on draft in regard to radio stations in China was submitted: "The sub-committee on drafting begs to report the following resolution regarding radio stations in China: "Representatives of the powers hereinafter named participating in the discussion of Pacific and far eastern questions at the conference, to-wit: the United States, Belgium, the British empire, China, France, Italy, Japan, The Netherlands and Portugal, have resolved: "That all radio stations in China, whether maintained under the international protocol of September 7, 1901, or in fact maintained in the name of any of the foreign legations in China, shall be limited in their use to sending and receiving of telegrams and messages and shall not receive or send commercial or personal or unofficial messages, including press matter, provided, however, that in case all other telegraphic communication is interrupted, then, upon official notification accompanied by proof of such interruption of the Chinese ministry of communications, such stations may afford temporary facilities for commercial, personal or unofficial messages, including press matter, until the Chinese government has given notice of the termination of the interruption."

Foreign Messages Restricted. "All radio stations operated within China by a foreign government or the citizens or subjects thereof, under treaties or concessions of the government of China, shall limit the messages by the terms of the treaty for concessions under which the respective stations are maintained."

In case there be any radio station maintained in China by a foreign government or citizens or subjects thereof, without the authority of the Chinese government, such station and all the plants, apparatus and material thereof shall be transferred to and taken over by the government of China, to be operated under the Chinese ministry of communications upon fair and full compensation to the owners for the value of the installation, as soon as the Chinese ministry of communications is prepared to operate the same effectively for the general public benefit.

"If any questions shall arise as to the radio stations in leased territories in the south Manchuria railway zone or in the French concession at Shanghai, they shall be regarded as matters for discussion between the Chinese government and the governments concerned."

"The owners or managers of all radio stations maintained in China by foreign powers or citizens or subjects thereof shall confer with the Chinese ministry of communications for seeking a common agreement to avoid interference in the use of wave lengths by wireless stations in China, subject to such general arrangements as may be made by an international conference convened for the revision of the rules established by the international radio telegraph convention signed at London, July 3, 1912."

Further Progress Urged. "Mr. Viviani gave his unwavering support to the resolution proposed by the committee on draft, which, he said, indicated real progress toward solution. He said he would like to express again an idea previously formulated. The conference had made a first step, but it was most desirable that further progress be made. To this end a general agreement should be reached which would result in the regulation of the competition now prevailing with regard to wireless telegraphy in China—a competition which if prolonged might easily result in a hopeless tangle. Compulsion must be replaced by co-operation. He added that views similar to this had been developed by the United States delegation.

The chairman then stated that the American delegation was in full sympathy with Mr. Viviani's idea and wished once more to suggest that Mr. Viviani's cure to bring in a resolution giving effect to it.

The above report of the sub-committee on draft was then unanimously adopted. The committee discussed leased territories in China. Dr. Koo made the following statement: "At the meeting of the committee December 3, Mr. Hanjira read a statement outlining the position of Japan with reference to the leased territories of Kiaochow and Kwantung peninsula. The declaration that Japan succeeded Germany in the leasehold of Kiaochow under the treaty of Versailles is obviously one unilateral in character to which China, not being a party to that treaty, cannot be expected to subscribe."

Danger Again Emphasized. "It is, however, gratifying to note the reference to the fact referred to in the statement that Japan obtained the leased territories in China directly from her but from other powers at considerable sacrifice in men and treasure, because the fact appears to confirm the views of the Chinese delegation that the maintenance of foreign leased territories in China jeopardizes peace in the far east. It will be recalled that Russia's possession of Port Arthur and Dainy and Germany's possession of Kiaochow eventually brought about the outbreak of the Russo-Japanese war in 1904 and 1905, and the original term will expire in 1925, and while an extension to 99 years was obtained by Japan, it was obtained under circumstances that the dispute about its validity remains one of the most grave outstanding questions between China and Japan."

Both Port Arthur and Dainy are situated in Manchuria, which is an important part of Chinese territory. No funds other than those I agreed to supply and the small amount that Arbutick was able to get together have been spent in Arbutick's defense.

McNab Grills Arbutick. "Before Attorney McNab agreed to defend Arbutick he subjected the defendant to a far more severe grilling than Arbutick underwent at the hands of the representatives of the district attorney's office. And Gavin McNab conducted his private grilling in far more efficient manner than did the prosecuting counsel at the trial. It was not until McNab had thoroughly gone into all phases of the charges against Arbutick and was completely satisfied in his own mind that Arbutick was innocent and that he had received rather unfair treatment here that McNab agreed to act as the defense counsel.

SECOND WINTER FAIR OPENS IN ASHLAND

Big Annual Event Is Opened With Numerous Exhibits.

POULTRY DIVISION LEADS

Horticultural Products Are Next in Importance With Livestock Taking Prominent Place.

ASHLAND, Or., Dec. 7.—(Special.)—With livestock, poultry, fruit and industrial exhibits quartered in three buildings in different parts of the city, the second annual winter fair opened here today for a four-day show in which approximately $1500 in prizes will be given away. Exhibits continued to arrive today and more are expected tomorrow. It is estimated that 250 entries already have been made.

Although the apple and fruit display are a close second and make the highlight showing, the poultry division is the dominant feature of the fair. Many exhibits from Portland, Eugene and other northern cities are entered in this division.

Orchard Exhibits Fine. The horticulture exhibits, apples and the like, are several times more extensive than last year. The poultry is one-third larger. Although Jackson county stock raisers and several from Josephine county have entered exhibits, the livestock division is not quite so large as originally expected owing to housing difficulties.

The Jackson County Fair association has utilized the remnants of the exhibits at the state fair and have decorated a booth that is attracting much attention.

The winter fair is conducted under the auspices of the chamber of commerce and is the culmination of plans made this summer. Outside of donations made by the county court, the city and other public sources the expense is partially borne by funds raised through benefit sales and admission charges of 50 cents.

Show Replaces County Fair. The show is considered to be representative exposition, taking the place of the county fair which was not held this year. The judges are: Professor Fitz of the Oregon Agricultural college, livestock; B. P. Keeney of Eugene, poultry, and Professor Reimer, talent experiment station, fruit and vegetable.

The schools of the county are represented by nearly 400 individual exhibits, ranging from kindergarten paper cuttings to dresses and furniture made by high school students. The automobile exhibit, the first to be held in Ashland, excited expectations and is one of the main features. Speakers tonight were John E. Grakke of Portland; C. E. Gates, mayor of Medford, and State Senator Thomas of Medford.

Ever since the charges for service through the Eugene exchange of the big company were advanced about a year ago there has been agitation for severance from the company's lines.
