

NEW PASTOR DUE TODAY

METHODISTS TO ENTERTAIN
DR. B. E. PARKER.

"Best Preacher in Indiana" to Arrive Here at 8 o'Clock This Morning to Begin Duties.

Dr. B. E. Parker, the new pastor of First Methodist church, will arrive in Portland at 8 o'clock this morning to take charge of his duties, according to telegraphic information received at Methodist headquarters yesterday. He stopped yesterday in Spokane to confer with Dr. N. M. Jones, superintendent of the Spokane district, and with Dr. F. L. Wemett, former pastor of Centenary-Wilbur church in Portland, and was scheduled to leave that city last night.

Ames M. Smith, G. F. Johnson and Dr. Richmond Kelly make up the committee in charge of entertainment for the new pastor of First church. He will be met at the union station by Bishop W. O. Shepard, Dr. W. W. Youngson, the president and secretary of the ministerial association, a number of local pastors and the official board of the First Methodist church.

Dr. B. E. Parker, new pastor of First Methodist church, who will arrive in Portland today.

Dr. Parker comes to Portland from Mishawaka, Ind., where for five years he has filled the pulpit of the First Methodist Episcopal church of that town, and will fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Dr. Joshua Stansfield, who left last October to take the pastorate of McCabe Memorial church in Chicago.

A reputation of being the "best preacher in Indiana" and for having built up his former church at Mishawaka to a point where it was one of the largest in the region precedes Dr. Parker to Portland. He was appointed to First Methodist church on December 8, 1921, by Bishop Shepard. He is described as being a great evangelistic preacher and a man of extensive educational attainment; being a graduate of De Pauw, Chicago university and Oberlin, Ohio, and a student of Northwestern university, Chicago.

Dr. Parker's wife and four children, the oldest 18 years of age, accompany him to Portland.

LIQUOR INQUIRY BEGUN

Umatilla County Grand Jury Takes Up Special Officer's Case.

BENDLETON, Or., Jan. 5.—(Special.)—The grand jury has convened here and with 12 witnesses called for the first day it is said that the first consideration of the secret investigation body will be the alleged illegal practices of the special prohibition officer, appointed by the governor and paid by the county.

Sensational charges have been made by men in the city regarding the officer's activity and several of these men have been called by the district attorney to tell what they know. This action is the sequel to a dispute between the Umatilla county court and the sheriff over enforcement of the prohibition laws. The sheriff some months ago said he could not continue to enforce the prohibition law out of his own pocket and when the court refused to allow him money to continue this work, the sheriff said he could not continue. The special officer was then obtained through Governor Olcott.

BAR JAPANESE, SAYS POST

Legion Wants No Yellow Colonies in Crook County.

PRINEVILLE, Or., Jan. 5.—(Special.)—There has been much discussion here recently of the proposal to colonize Japanese farmers in Crook county. At a meeting of Crook county post, American legion, held last evening, resolutions declaring the post "unfavorable to the sale or lease of any lands to Japanese" were adopted.

The action of the legion was endorsed by the Prineville Commercial club at its regular meeting Tuesday. The local legion post holds that the lands should be sold or leased to white farmers, especially to ex-service men, and this was set forth in the resolutions.

The problem will be further discussed at a meeting to be held next week by farmers, among whom there is said to be considerable sentiment favoring the leases.

ACID GAS POISONS TWO

Mother and Daughter Overcome in Tightly Closed Room.

YAKIMA, Wash., Jan. 5.—(Special.)—Mrs. N. Jamison, 709 South Seventh street, and her daughter, Stella, 20, were found unconscious on the floor of their bedroom early this morning. They had been poisoned by carbonic acid gas caused by long-continued use of an oil heater in the tightly-closed room. Miss Jamison quickly recovered, but her mother did not regain consciousness until this afternoon.

Witnesses awakened Miss Jamison and she staggered toward the door, but fell unconscious. Her mother, awakened by the sound of the door, lifted the girl to the bed and then fell with her burden. Another member of the household, returning from an early morning train, found them soon afterward.

LIME PLANT EXPENSIVE

124 TONS OF PRODUCT STILL ON STATE'S HANDS.

Demand for Fertilizer on Part of Farmers Declared Far Less Than Was Expected.

GOLD HILL, Or., Jan. 5.—(Special.)—The state limestone plant at Gold Hill, authorized by the legislature for the purpose of supplying Oregon farmers with limestone fertilizer at cost, has become a white elephant. Estimates were that from 20,000 to 30,000 tons of limestone fertilizer would be produced annually on Oregon farms, whereas only 124 tons have been produced. Since June orders for limestone have aggregated only 412 tons. The plant, which cost to produce this 500 tons a total of $551,227. Whether the plant will be reopened again, according to M. D. Stevens, member of the board, who returned recently from a board meeting at Corvallis, depends upon the demand in the spring and the cost of the product. The principal costs have been high wages and the re-equipping of the plant after each shutdown.

4750 WED IN VANCOUVER

2375 Couples Obtain Licenses in Course of 1921.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Jan. 5.—(Special.)—Couples to the number of 2375 were married in Vancouver in 1921. While more couples were married in 1920 and the year before, it was because times were better, local officials said.

In December, 1918, 198 couples were married; in 1919, 248, and in 1920, the banner year for December, the number was 272. December this year was 219.

In 1919, 2861 licenses were issued; in 1920, the number was 2791.

State Forest Policy Formed.

WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE, Pullman, Jan. 5.—(Special.)—Professor E. H. Steffen, head of the forestry department here, has been appointed chairman of the agricultural forestry committee as a result of the recent conference of northwest lumbermen held in Seattle. Steps necessary for the establishment of a state forestry policy will be taken by this committee in the near future.

WASCO WAR HERO BURIED

Body of Sergeant Frank E. Brown Laid at Rest by Veterans.

WASCO, Or., Jan. 5.—(Special.)—The body of Sergeant Frank E. Brown, Company D, 104th Infantry, who was killed in action at the battle of Chateau-Thierry, July 22, 1918, was buried here today with military honors by Frank E. Brown post, American legion. The post was named for him, as he was the first boy from this county to be killed. The body arrived in Brooklyn, N. Y., December 13, and at the request of the parents was forwarded here for interment.

COMMISSARY IS ROBBED

About $250 and Watches Taken From Westport Camp.

ASTORIA, Or., Jan. 5.—(Special.)—The commissary of the Mist camp of the Westport Lumber company was entered some time during last night and a sum approximating $250 in cash and two watches stolen, according to a telephone message received by the Astoria police this morning from P. L. Thompson, superintendent of the camp.

The company has offered a reward of $100 for the arrest of the robbers.

Officer Returns From School.

ALBANY, Or., Jan. 5.—(Special.)—Captain Clarence Collins, commanding officer of the 5th company, coast artillery corps, Oregon national guard, of this city, has returned from Fort Monroe, Va., where he spent several months in a course of special instruction in the United States artillery school. Natural guard officers from many states attended this school. Captain Collins was the only officer from Oregon.

Spokane Has $20,000 Fire.

SPOKANE, Wash., Jan. 5.—Damage estimated unofficially at $20,000 was done by a fire starting from an undetermined cause early today in the Shelton hotel. Forty patrons escaped in their night clothing. Damage was suffered by the hotel and by business establishments on the first floor of the building in which it is located.
