Naval reserve officers of Oregon have been asked by Lieutenant-Commander John A. Beck with to meet in his office, 503 Consolidated Securities building, Sixth and Oak streets, tonight at 8 o'clock to arrange for the organization of the naval reserve officers' association.

JAPANESE TO ADDRESS CLUB

Tsugawa, one of Japan's most eminent parliamentarians, will arrive in Portland next Saturday morning from San Francisco to be the guest for the day of the City club. He will arrive at 10 o'clock and will be presented by the club at a public luncheon in the assembly room of the Multnomah hotel at 12:30, following which he will confer with committees of the club interested in international welfare. Representative Tsugawa is coming direct from the Washington conference on limitation of armament, where he was an observer for the disarmament organization of Japan, a strong citizens' organization.

REPUBLICANS HEAR ADDRESS

Under the auspices of the Republican club, a luncheon was held yesterday at the courthouse. The meal was served by the George Wright boat relief corps. Charles E. Lockwood, president of the club, acted as toastmaster. The speakers for the occasion were M. C. George, former member of congress and circuit judge; J. D. Lee, member of the Multnomah delegation in the legislature and a candidate for the republican nomination for governor, and Judge Robert Tucker, the latter speaking on the judiciary. The speeches were flavored with a musical programme.

SYMPHONY PROGRAMME DISTRIBUTED

Miniature programmes of the popular concert to be given by the Portland Symphony orchestra tomorrow night in the municipal auditorium are attached to menu cards in all downtown restaurants and hotel dining rooms this week for the benefit of patrons, while orders are being filled.
The slips are in blue and white and form an attractive announcement of the programme under the auspices of the City club. The women of the Macdowell club are giving to members of all clubs the opportunity to enjoy this concert by being on the committees in hotel lobbies after all club luncheons.

GRADING CONTRACT LET

Contract was awarded by the state highway commission yesterday for the grading of the Cow Canyon section of the Dulles-California highway in Jefferson county. The work goes to D. F.
McCarthy & Co., who have been working on the highway since October. Delay in making the award has been caused by right-of-way problems which have been adjusted.
The commission will place orders signals to be placed on state highways at danger points. The commission will hold another meeting Friday when a contract will be let for work with the federal authorities regarding co-operative projects.

UNDESIRABLES TO BE TAKEN AWAY

Mexico is to be the future home of four undesirable if the plans of inspector Watkins, of the immigration service, are carried out. Mr. Watkins will leave Portland Saturday night with John Mora, a public charge in eastern Oregon; Erin Frari and Mansel Diaz, who recently completed terms in the state prison and Tom Martinez who is in the county jail.
Orders have been received for the deportation of A. Arivoshi, a Japanese newspaper man who is in the jail serving a term for passing bad checks.

EXACTS TO HOLD MEETINGS

The young people's organization of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints are sponsors for a series of young people's rally meetings to begin January 15 and run to January 29, in the church located at East Seventy-sixth and East Irving streets. Elder C. E.
Jones, the pastor, is to be assisted by Elder A. C. Martin of Independence, Mo., which is headquarters for this delegation. There will be nightly meetings with chorus music as a special feature. The quarterly conference of the churches of Oregon and Washington will be held in this church February 4, 5 and 6.

BONDS REQUIRED OF VIOLANTERS

Members of the vigilantes committee appointed by Mayor Baker must furnish bonds in the same amount and manner as is required from special police officers. This was decided at a meeting of the council yesterday.
The committee will be held in the auxiliary police force already have been appointed by Mayor Baker, and the remaining ten will be named under the contract entered into by attorney Grant told the council that he believed that the members of the vigilantes committee could be bonded under the contract entered into by the city for the bonding of police officers.

NIGHT SCHOOL TERM TO OPEN

Announcements of the opening of the new term of the night school of the High School of Commerce are being mailed to employers, former students, who did not complete their course, and others who are expected to be interested in the work, in an attempt to increase the attendance at the classes. About 200 students are now enrolled in the Commerce night classes, it was stated yesterday by R. F.
Barnes, superintendent, while at least twice this number can be accommodated without necessitating an increase in the facilities and teaching staff.
No tuition is charged at the school.

PRESIDENT INVITED TO PORTLAND

President Harding has been invited to attend, in July or August, the unveiling of the Roosevelt equestrian statue, which Dr. Henry Waldo Coe has donated to Portland. A telegram, signed by Governor Olcott, Mayor Baker, City Commissioner Pier, A.
Phinister, treasurer, sculptor, Dr. Coe and Dr. B. Neuse, was mailed to the president to be present at the ceremonies, was sent to Washington, D. C. yesterday. Members of the Roosevelt Memorial association are endeavoring to obtain a triangular strip at Nineteenth and Washington as the site for the statue.

AMERICAN POST OPPOSED

The move to organize a post of the American Legion for the Peninsula district, which was headed by F. P. Stewart and Dr. John G. Abels, has met with decided opposition from Portland Post No. 1, and the state executive board of the American Legion has "laid on the table" the petition for the new charter. Members of the state board advised that it would be better to concentrate all activities in the post now established than to duplicate efforts in the new post.
The petition was filed with the state board yesterday, and the proposition of the move were urged to give their efforts to advancement of post No. 1.

CLOTHING STORES ROBBED

For the third time in two days burglars have broken into the clothing store of M. Wax, 281 Front street, and taken men's wearing apparel. The break-in was reported by the store owner yesterday and the Multnomah police department is endeavoring to locate the stolen goods. A large quantity of clothing, Mrs. A. Morris, 827 Ganton street, reported that burglars had broken into her home during the early morning hours and had stolen a quantity of jewelry, including a valuable gold watch. Entrance was gained by breaking through a rear door.

CRIMINALS TO BUY PARK SEAT

An ordinance appropriating $21,899 from the special park and playground fund to be used by the park bureau in acquiring the west half of block 95, Leifurth street, was passed by the council yesterday. The city now owns the east half of the block, and if the purchase contemplated is made the entire block will be owned by the city and will be used as a playground.
The property is owned by Louis J.
Bader, and it was reported that an agreement for the purchase of the property by the city has been reached.

BOOKS GIVEN BY REED COLLEGE

Through a gift from Frederick V.
Holman, president of the Oregon Historical society, the Reed College library was made the recipient of one of the 200 published sets on the "Accidents of Oregon and the Long Suppressed Evidence About Marcus Whitman." The work is published in two volumes and is from the pen of William I. Marshall, principal of a Chicago school.

the Peninsula National bank and Peninsula Savings company held their annual banquet at the Multnomah hotel Wednesday night with 45 present, including the wives and women friends of the members. Fred C.
Knapp, chairman of the board of directors, presided as toastmaster. A number of musical numbers, including vocal solos by Gertrude Hooper, were given. Dancing followed the banquet.

"OPEN HOUSE" TO BE HELD

Faculty and students of the Pacific Chiropractic college will have "open house" today and tonight at their new college home, Grand avenue and East Holt street. The 200 students of this institution moved from their old quarters at Park and Yamhill streets to the new location last Monday morning, when regular class work was resumed.

widower and lives at the Wisconsin hotel.

PAPER TO GET NEW HOME

THREE-STORY BUILDING TO BE BUILT FOR TELEGRAM.

25-Year Lease Taken on Property That Will Be Colonial in Type and at 11th and Washington.

A three-story building of brick construction and costing $300,000, is to be erected on the quarter block at the northwest corner of Eleventh and Washington streets by J. N. Barde for the Portland Telegram, according to announcement yesterday.

Specifications call for an 18-foot basement and a tower at the corner rising 90 feet above the pavement. The publishers of the Telegram have taken a 25-year lease on the building and it is to be constructed for the special use of that newspaper.

Plans are now being prepared by Rasmussen, Grace & Co. It is expected to let the contract for the wrecking of the one-story brick building now on the property within the next few days so that construction can be started early this year.

It was announced that the architecture of the structure will be early colonial in type. Red brick with white joints and terra cotta in replica of honest New England marble will create a dignified atmosphere.

The Telegram will occupy the basement and the second and third stories will be devoted to business establishments. The property where the new building is to be located was purchased about four months ago by Mr. Barde from the S. Morton Cohn estate. The consideration was reported to have been $200,000.

Judge Starts Something by Giving Cigars to Reporters.

Everyone but Right One Claims Credit and Rumors Fly Thick and Fast.

MUNICIPAL Judge Rossmann started something Tuesday when he eased into the press room at police headquarters and presented the reporters with a box of cigars. One of the jurist's admirers had presented the smokes to him for Christmas, but the judge hadn't any more for them than Lou Wagner has for a nickel.

The box was quickly opened and placed on the big round table in the center of the room, where the reporters sat most of the day. "First came a 'copper' who wanted his name in the paper for catching some thief. He 'lamped' the cigars and made a dive for the box. With that Ben Titus demanded, for he well knew that it was a rare occasion when police reporters give anything away.

With that Ben Titus swelled out his chest and strutted around the room. "Smoke one on me," quoth Benjamin. "Yep, I'm the guy; a big eight-pound girl arrived at our house last night and I'm setting 'em up for the boys."

Inside half an hour the word had spread, and Titus was kept busy the remainder of the day denying the exaggerated report. "Who's celebrating?" demanded attorneys who handle police court business, as they filled their pockets with cigars.

"Well, smoke this time on me," urged George O'Neal. "I've brought home a pretty little southern bride. O'Neal was kept busy throughout the day explaining that he is still single, and most of the voices which he heard over the telephone were feminine.

These conflicting reports soon caused consternation among the police and other station attaches. They wanted the truth. Just about the time a committee waited on the bunch Earl Goodwin, who covered police for an afternoon paper during O'Neal's absence in Alabama, "brezzed" in. "I'll give you guys the old 'um-chay,'" he said. "The truth is that I bought this box myself and presented it to the boys. It signified my retirement from the beat."

This explanation seemed satisfactory to everyone and Judge Rossmann never got a bit of credit.

DR. HOADLEY IMPROVED

Victim of Young Heifer Reported as Being Convalescent.

Dr. B. J. Hoadley, retired Methodist Episcopal minister, who was badly injured Sunday by a 2-year-old heifer which he had staked out near his place at 157 1/2 Fisk street, was reported yesterday to be much improved and was able to sit up a while.

Dr. Hoadley had gone out to take the heifer to his barn and as he was stooping to detach the chain the animal sprang upon him with its fore feet and bore him to the earth. It was with difficulty that he was able to get out from under the hoofs of the animal. He was badly bruised.

Dr. Hoadley is well known in the church circles throughout the north-west. He was for a time professor in Portland university. He was in the limelight when the services had been unsatisfactory and many complaints were sent in. With the new extension the company is building, future trouble will be avoided, it is expected.

SERVICE TO BE IMPROVED

Traction Company Starts Extension of Line at Gresham.

GRESHAM, Or., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—The Portland Railway Light and Power company has begun work necessary to give Gresham an efficient and uninterrupted light service. In the past the service has been unsatisfactory and many complaints were sent in. With the new extension the company is building, future trouble will be avoided, it is expected.

COW PASTURING FORBADE

Council Passes Ordinance Prohibiting Bovine Browsing.

Property within the city can no longer be used for pasturing cows without a special permit from the city health bureau. The council yesterday passed an ordinance making it unlawful to keep two or more cows on any property within the city limits without first obtaining a special permit.

CHURCH SUBMITS PLANS

Laurelwood Methodist Episcopal Edifice Awaits Approval at Chicago.

Plans for the new church edifice for the Laurelwood Methodist Episcopal church, prepared by DeYoung & Road, architects, are now in the hands of the church board of architects at Chicago, for approval of certain details. It is expected that construction work will begin early in the spring. The building will cost approximately $60,000, of which $10,000 will be a donation from the Century fund, states Rev. F. S. Finley, the pastor.

Marionettes

Portland has been given the rare opportunity of seeing puppet plays every season for the past years, but only New York and Chicago could boast of regular performances by the marionettes in various tiny theaters. And now the pioneer puppeteers, who first introduced Portland to the delightful world of the puppets, members of the Curish Puppet company now known as the Grand Buried Puppets will present a new series of programmes which are said to rival Tony Sarg's justly famous production.
