

MR. BARBUR TO QUIT WHEN TERM IS DONE

Official Life Wears, Says City Commissioner.

MR. PIER LIKELY TIRED

Rumors Circulating Regarding Office of Mayor in Event It Should Be Vacated.

A. L. Barbur, who entered city service as auditor 17 years ago, will retire from public life when his present term as city commissioner expires, July 1, 1925.

This was made known yesterday when Commissioner Barbur, a member of the council that he was nearing the stage in life when the cares and worries of official life become too strenuous.

"I have had a long fling at city service," he said, "and I have always tried to give the best in me. I will continue to do this until my present term expires; then I want to retire to private life."

Mr. Barbur owns a large cranberry marsh in Washington and probably when he retires will take over the active management of this enterprise. At present the land is leased.

Mr. Pier Also May Quit. Mr. Barbur is not the only member of the city council who will call it "quits" when present terms expire. Commissioner Pier has informed friends that he will not be a candidate for re-election in November. It has been rumored, however, that his son, Stachope St. Pier, will be a candidate to fill the office now occupied by his father.

Charles Bigelow, president of the council, is expected to be a candidate for re-election next November, although he has made no definite statement on this subject as yet.

Commissioner Bigelow has served as acting mayor on a number of occasions and although he has said that he does not want to assume the task of "filling George Baker's shoes as mayor," it is believed in city hall circles that Mr. Bigelow would be quite willing to become mayor in the event that Mr. Baker should retire to assume a higher position, such as that of governor.

Mr. Mann Is Mentioned. Commissioner Mann also has been mentioned as a possible successor to the mayor in the event the latter vacates his seat. However, there are several men who are said to be preparing to enter the race next fall. Among these, it is reported, are ex-City Commissioner Perkins and City Auditor Funk.

100 TENDER SHORT JOBS

MARRIED VETERANS GET 3 TO 4 DAYS' WORK.

Portland Residents Again Urged to Offer Chores: More Than 2000 Men of Family in Need.

Approximately 100 residents of Portland tendered short-time jobs, chores around home, to the public and American Legion employment bureau yesterday, at 170 Fourth street. To these were instantly assigned married men who have registered for work. For three to four days they will have cash for the grocer. But it is estimated that more than 2000 men of family are in need of such relief, and the plea that residents find a day or two of work for the applicants is insistently repeated.

One man who came to the bureau yesterday had served with the Australians at Gallipoli, though an American. A bullet smashed his ankle, another boled itself deep in his thigh, and a third entered his mouth, leaving upward through bone and cartilage. Upon discharge he returned to his wife and children in the states. Because the Australian government refused to pension all who dwelt outside the empire he has received no aid from customary sources. They live in Portland.

The dialogues at the bureau, when applicants are called in, are much the same. There are children at home, and often an impending visit from the stork. Save for an occasional day's work the husband and father has been without employment all winter. Credit at the corner grocery is exhausted. There is no novelty in the repeated coincidence of want and illness.

"You addressed me for short time jobs," said one, an ex-service man. "I need a day or two pretty bad. The folks—"

"Out of groceries?" "Out of everything. I came in here without breakfast, as far as that's concerned."

"Out of wood?" "Yes."

Offers of short-time jobs should be telephoned direct to the two bureaus, both located at the Fourth-street address. For the public employment bureau telephone Main 2765, and for the American Legion bureau call Main 5247.

DRUG TRIAL DELAYED

Dave Leightner Files Demurrer, Saying Crime Is Not Charged.

Dave Leightner, alleged master mind of a drug and crime syndicate, postponed the day of reckoning yesterday when he filed in federal court a demurrer to the charge of narcotic law violation. Dismissal was sought on grounds that the indictment does not charge a crime.
