

REPARATIONS ISSUE LEFT IN CONFUSION

Briand's Action Causes Much Surprise in London.

SOVIETS ARE PROTESTED

Samuel Gompers Declares Lenin and Trotsky Have No Place in International Meeting.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12.—Determination of the administration's attitude toward participating in the international economic conference called to meet at Genoa in March may be delayed as a result of the resignation of Premier Briand of France. It was indicated today in high official circles.

The administration intends to avoid haste in deciding its course in connection with the economic conference and high officials believed the change in the French ministry will be another factor to be considered before a decision as to this government's attitude is reached.

So far the United States has not agreed to participate in the Genoa conference, it was said at the state department today.

Agenda is Awaited. The administration, however, is understood to consider the resolution adopted by the allied supreme council in calling the conference as an invitation to the United States to participate.

Also, until the scope of the conference discussions is known, the United States scarcely will be able to determine the advisability of taking part in the view of high officials, who thus believe receipt of the agenda for the meeting will be awaited before the different factors to be considered by the government in reaching its decision can be studied.

Objection to the Genoa conference was made today by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in a formal statement in which he advocated the conference idea but asserted that an economic conference should be held by the United States to discuss a program fixed by the United States.

Soviets Not Wanted. "There is," he said, "no place in an international conference for Lenin and Trotsky," adding that an objection was to the "action of the allied supreme council which constitutes recognition of the soviet as the de facto government of Russia."

The call for the economic conference, determined upon by former premier Briand and Georges Clemenceau, was largely the result, it is understood, of the conviction of both prime ministers that the United States government would not take the initiative.

Evidence of Action Needed. Persons near the administration, however, believed that consideration of an economic conference could not be given until the arms conference had been conclusively decided. An international conference of limited program could take constructive action.

Members of the British delegation. It is also understood, made the same inquiries with the same results. Important members of the French delegation continued after M. Briand's departure, to round certain members of President Harding's cabinet as to the possibility of the United States government taking an active part in an economic conference. This resulted, it is understood, in supplementary letters being sent to the United States to the effect that the state of American public opinion was regarded by the government as being opposed to further reduction of European aid on the part of America to aid Europe unless military establishments were further reduced.

American Relief Doubtful. Even then, it was said on behalf of the American government, doubts might arise as to how much America could do at this time. It developed in informal conversations that if the United States government took an active part in the economic conference of Europe it would mean concessions or "sacrifices" on a large scale and these, it was felt, could not be made at this time. The cancellation or scaling down of debts owing to Europe, the American government could not be thought of now at least and, consequently, it was considered that it would be necessary for the two strongest economic organizations, those of France and Great Britain, to take the leadership in European economic restoration.

GENERAL WRIGHT MOVED. Ninth Corps Area Head Transferred to Philadelphia.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12.—Major-General William M. Wright, commanding the 9th corps area, headquarters at San Francisco, was assigned today by Secretary Weeks to command the Philippine department. Orders directing the transfer of command said General Wright would sail from San Francisco about February 5.

Major-General Charles G. Morton was relieved as chairman of the board of reclassification in the war department and ordered to San Francisco to succeed General Wright in that command.

ARCHBISHOP IS GUILTY. Church Court Convicts Greek of Attempting to Cause Schism.

ATHENS, Jan. 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—An ecclesiastical court presided over by the metropolitan of Athens today found Most Rev. Nektarios Metaxakis, recently elected patriarch of Constantinople, guilty of attempting to cause a schism in the church.

It is ordered that he be deprived of his very rank and declared as a monk in the monastery at Zante. Archbishop Metaxakis was not present at the trial.

REPARATIONS ISSUE LEFT IN CONFUSION

Briand's Action Causes Much Surprise in London.

SOVIETS ARE PROTESTED

Samuel Gompers Declares Lenin and Trotsky Have No Place in International Meeting.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12.—Determination of the administration's attitude toward participating in the international economic conference called to meet at Genoa in March may be delayed as a result of the resignation of Premier Briand of France. It was indicated today in high official circles.

The administration intends to avoid haste in deciding its course in connection with the economic conference and high officials believed the change in the French ministry will be another factor to be considered before a decision as to this government's attitude is reached.

So far the United States has not agreed to participate in the Genoa conference, it was said at the state department today.

Agenda is Awaited. The administration, however, is understood to consider the resolution adopted by the allied supreme council in calling the conference as an invitation to the United States to participate.

Also, until the scope of the conference discussions is known, the United States scarcely will be able to determine the advisability of taking part in the view of high officials, who thus believe receipt of the agenda for the meeting will be awaited before the different factors to be considered by the government in reaching its decision can be studied.

Objection to the Genoa conference was made today by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in a formal statement in which he advocated the conference idea but asserted that an economic conference should be held by the United States to discuss a program fixed by the United States.

Soviets Not Wanted. "There is," he said, "no place in an international conference for Lenin and Trotsky," adding that an objection was to the "action of the allied supreme council which constitutes recognition of the soviet as the de facto government of Russia."

The call for the economic conference, determined upon by former premier Briand and Georges Clemenceau, was largely the result, it is understood, of the conviction of both prime ministers that the United States government would not take the initiative.

Evidence of Action Needed. Persons near the administration, however, believed that consideration of an economic conference could not be given until the arms conference had been conclusively decided. An international conference of limited program could take constructive action.

Members of the British delegation. It is also understood, made the same inquiries with the same results. Important members of the French delegation continued after M. Briand's departure, to round certain members of President Harding's cabinet as to the possibility of the United States government taking an active part in an economic conference. This resulted, it is understood, in supplementary letters being sent to the United States to the effect that the state of American public opinion was regarded by the government as being opposed to further reduction of European aid on the part of America to aid Europe unless military establishments were further reduced.

American Relief Doubtful. Even then, it was said on behalf of the American government, doubts might arise as to how much America could do at this time. It developed in informal conversations that if the United States government took an active part in the economic conference of Europe it would mean concessions or "sacrifices" on a large scale and these, it was felt, could not be made at this time. The cancellation or scaling down of debts owing to Europe, the American government could not be thought of now at least and, consequently, it was considered that it would be necessary for the two strongest economic organizations, those of France and Great Britain, to take the leadership in European economic restoration.

GENERAL WRIGHT MOVED. Ninth Corps Area Head Transferred to Philadelphia.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12.—Major-General William M. Wright, commanding the 9th corps area, headquarters at San Francisco, was assigned today by Secretary Weeks to command the Philippine department. Orders directing the transfer of command said General Wright would sail from San Francisco about February 5.

Major-General Charles G. Morton was relieved as chairman of the board of reclassification in the war department and ordered to San Francisco to succeed General Wright in that command.

ARCHBISHOP IS GUILTY. Church Court Convicts Greek of Attempting to Cause Schism.

ATHENS, Jan. 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—An ecclesiastical court presided over by the metropolitan of Athens today found Most Rev. Nektarios Metaxakis, recently elected patriarch of Constantinople, guilty of attempting to cause a schism in the church.

It is ordered that he be deprived of his very rank and declared as a monk in the monastery at Zante. Archbishop Metaxakis was not present at the trial.

REPARATIONS ISSUE LEFT IN CONFUSION

Briand's Action Causes Much Surprise in London.

SOVIETS ARE PROTESTED

Samuel Gompers Declares Lenin and Trotsky Have No Place in International Meeting.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12.—Determination of the administration's attitude toward participating in the international economic conference called to meet at Genoa in March may be delayed as a result of the resignation of Premier Briand of France. It was indicated today in high official circles.

The administration intends to avoid haste in deciding its course in connection with the economic conference and high officials believed the change in the French ministry will be another factor to be considered before a decision as to this government's attitude is reached.

So far the United States has not agreed to participate in the Genoa conference, it was said at the state department today.

Agenda is Awaited. The administration, however, is understood to consider the resolution adopted by the allied supreme council in calling the conference as an invitation to the United States to participate.

Also, until the scope of the conference discussions is known, the United States scarcely will be able to determine the advisability of taking part in the view of high officials, who thus believe receipt of the agenda for the meeting will be awaited before the different factors to be considered by the government in reaching its decision can be studied.

Objection to the Genoa conference was made today by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in a formal statement in which he advocated the conference idea but asserted that an economic conference should be held by the United States to discuss a program fixed by the United States.

Soviets Not Wanted. "There is," he said, "no place in an international conference for Lenin and Trotsky," adding that an objection was to the "action of the allied supreme council which constitutes recognition of the soviet as the de facto government of Russia."

The call for the economic conference, determined upon by former premier Briand and Georges Clemenceau, was largely the result, it is understood, of the conviction of both prime ministers that the United States government would not take the initiative.

Evidence of Action Needed. Persons near the administration, however, believed that consideration of an economic conference could not be given until the arms conference had been conclusively decided. An international conference of limited program could take constructive action.

Members of the British delegation. It is also understood, made the same inquiries with the same results. Important members of the French delegation continued after M. Briand's departure, to round certain members of President Harding's cabinet as to the possibility of the United States government taking an active part in an economic conference. This resulted, it is understood, in supplementary letters being sent to the United States to the effect that the state of American public opinion was regarded by the government as being opposed to further reduction of European aid on the part of America to aid Europe unless military establishments were further reduced.

American Relief Doubtful. Even then, it was said on behalf of the American government, doubts might arise as to how much America could do at this time. It developed in informal conversations that if the United States government took an active part in the economic conference of Europe it would mean concessions or "sacrifices" on a large scale and these, it was felt, could not be made at this time. The cancellation or scaling down of debts owing to Europe, the American government could not be thought of now at least and, consequently, it was considered that it would be necessary for the two strongest economic organizations, those of France and Great Britain, to take the leadership in European economic restoration.

GENERAL WRIGHT MOVED. Ninth Corps Area Head Transferred to Philadelphia.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12.—Major-General William M. Wright, commanding the 9th corps area, headquarters at San Francisco, was assigned today by Secretary Weeks to command the Philippine department. Orders directing the transfer of command said General Wright would sail from San Francisco about February 5.

Major-General Charles G. Morton was relieved as chairman of the board of reclassification in the war department and ordered to San Francisco to succeed General Wright in that command.

ARCHBISHOP IS GUILTY. Church Court Convicts Greek of Attempting to Cause Schism.

ATHENS, Jan. 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—An ecclesiastical court presided over by the metropolitan of Athens today found Most Rev. Nektarios Metaxakis, recently elected patriarch of Constantinople, guilty of attempting to cause a schism in the church.

It is ordered that he be deprived of his very rank and declared as a monk in the monastery at Zante. Archbishop Metaxakis was not present at the trial.

REPARATIONS ISSUE LEFT IN CONFUSION

Briand's Action Causes Much Surprise in London.

SOVIETS ARE PROTESTED

Samuel Gompers Declares Lenin and Trotsky Have No Place in International Meeting.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12.—Determination of the administration's attitude toward participating in the international economic conference called to meet at Genoa in March may be delayed as a result of the resignation of Premier Briand of France. It was indicated today in high official circles.

The administration intends to avoid haste in deciding its course in connection with the economic conference and high officials believed the change in the French ministry will be another factor to be considered before a decision as to this government's attitude is reached.

So far the United States has not agreed to participate in the Genoa conference, it was said at the state department today.

Agenda is Awaited. The administration, however, is understood to consider the resolution adopted by the allied supreme council in calling the conference as an invitation to the United States to participate.

Also, until the scope of the conference discussions is known, the United States scarcely will be able to determine the advisability of taking part in the view of high officials, who thus believe receipt of the agenda for the meeting will be awaited before the different factors to be considered by the government in reaching its decision can be studied.

Objection to the Genoa conference was made today by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in a formal statement in which he advocated the conference idea but asserted that an economic conference should be held by the United States to discuss a program fixed by the United States.

Soviets Not Wanted. "There is," he said, "no place in an international conference for Lenin and Trotsky," adding that an objection was to the "action of the allied supreme council which constitutes recognition of the soviet as the de facto government of Russia."

The call for the economic conference, determined upon by former premier Briand and Georges Clemenceau, was largely the result, it is understood, of the conviction of both prime ministers that the United States government would not take the initiative.

Evidence of Action Needed. Persons near the administration, however, believed that consideration of an economic conference could not be given until the arms conference had been conclusively decided. An international conference of limited program could take constructive action.

Members of the British delegation. It is also understood, made the same inquiries with the same results. Important members of the French delegation continued after M. Briand's departure, to round certain members of President Harding's cabinet as to the possibility of the United States government taking an active part in an economic conference. This resulted, it is understood, in supplementary letters being sent to the United States to the effect that the state of American public opinion was regarded by the government as being opposed to further reduction of European aid on the part of America to aid Europe unless military establishments were further reduced.

American Relief Doubtful. Even then, it was said on behalf of the American government, doubts might arise as to how much America could do at this time. It developed in informal conversations that if the United States government took an active part in the economic conference of Europe it would mean concessions or "sacrifices" on a large scale and these, it was felt, could not be made at this time. The cancellation or scaling down of debts owing to Europe, the American government could not be thought of now at least and, consequently, it was considered that it would be necessary for the two strongest economic organizations, those of France and Great Britain, to take the leadership in European economic restoration.

GENERAL WRIGHT MOVED. Ninth Corps Area Head Transferred to Philadelphia.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12.—Major-General William M. Wright, commanding the 9th corps area, headquarters at San Francisco, was assigned today by Secretary Weeks to command the Philippine department. Orders directing the transfer of command said General Wright would sail from San Francisco about February 5.

Major-General Charles G. Morton was relieved as chairman of the board of reclassification in the war department and ordered to San Francisco to succeed General Wright in that command.

ARCHBISHOP IS GUILTY. Church Court Convicts Greek of Attempting to Cause Schism.

ATHENS, Jan. 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—An ecclesiastical court presided over by the metropolitan of Athens today found Most Rev. Nektarios Metaxakis, recently elected patriarch of Constantinople, guilty of attempting to cause a schism in the church.

It is ordered that he be deprived of his very rank and declared as a monk in the monastery at Zante. Archbishop Metaxakis was not present at the trial.

REPARATIONS ISSUE LEFT IN CONFUSION

Briand's Action Causes Much Surprise in London.

SOVIETS ARE PROTESTED

Samuel Gompers Declares Lenin and Trotsky Have No Place in International Meeting.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12.—Determination of the administration's attitude toward participating in the international economic conference called to meet at Genoa in March may be delayed as a result of the resignation of Premier Briand of France. It was indicated today in high official circles.

The administration intends to avoid haste in deciding its course in connection with the economic conference and high officials believed the change in the French ministry will be another factor to be considered before a decision as to this government's attitude is reached.

So far the United States has not agreed to participate in the Genoa conference, it was said at the state department today.

Agenda is Awaited. The administration, however, is understood to consider the resolution adopted by the allied supreme council in calling the conference as an invitation to the United States to participate.

Also, until the scope of the conference discussions is known, the United States scarcely will be able to determine the advisability of taking part in the view of high officials, who thus believe receipt of the agenda for the meeting will be awaited before the different factors to be considered by the government in reaching its decision can be studied.

Objection to the Genoa conference was made today by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in a formal statement in which he advocated the conference idea but asserted that an economic conference should be held by the United States to discuss a program fixed by the United States.

Soviets Not Wanted. "There is," he said, "no place in an international conference for Lenin and Trotsky," adding that an objection was to the "action of the allied supreme council which constitutes recognition of the soviet as the de facto government of Russia."

The call for the economic conference, determined upon by former premier Briand and Georges Clemenceau, was largely the result, it is understood, of the conviction of both prime ministers that the United States government would not take the initiative.

Evidence of Action Needed. Persons near the administration, however, believed that consideration of an economic conference could not be given until the arms conference had been conclusively decided. An international conference of limited program could take constructive action.

Members of the British delegation. It is also understood, made the same inquiries with the same results. Important members of the French delegation continued after M. Briand's departure, to round certain members of President Harding's cabinet as to the possibility of the United States government taking an active part in an economic conference. This resulted, it is understood, in supplementary letters being sent to the United States to the effect that the state of American public opinion was regarded by the government as being opposed to further reduction of European aid on the part of America to aid Europe unless military establishments were further reduced.

American Relief Doubtful. Even then, it was said on behalf of the American government, doubts might arise as to how much America could do at this time. It developed in informal conversations that if the United States government took an active part in the economic conference of Europe it would mean concessions or "sacrifices" on a large scale and these, it was felt, could not be made at this time. The cancellation or scaling down of debts owing to Europe, the American government could not be thought of now at least and, consequently, it was considered that it would be necessary for the two strongest economic organizations, those of France and Great Britain, to take the leadership in European economic restoration.

GENERAL WRIGHT MOVED. Ninth Corps Area Head Transferred to Philadelphia.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12.—Major-General William M. Wright, commanding the 9th corps area, headquarters at San Francisco, was assigned today by Secretary Weeks to command the Philippine department. Orders directing the transfer of command said General Wright would sail from San Francisco about February 5.

Major-General Charles G. Morton was relieved as chairman of the board of reclassification in the war department and ordered to San Francisco to succeed General Wright in that command.

ARCHBISHOP IS GUILTY. Church Court Convicts Greek of Attempting to Cause Schism.

ATHENS, Jan. 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—An ecclesiastical court presided over by the metropolitan of Athens today found Most Rev. Nektarios Metaxakis, recently elected patriarch of Constantinople, guilty of attempting to cause a schism in the church.

It is ordered that he be deprived of his very rank and declared as a monk in the monastery at Zante. Archbishop Metaxakis was not present at the trial.

REPARATIONS ISSUE LEFT IN CONFUSION

Briand's Action Causes Much Surprise in London.

SOVIETS ARE PROTESTED

Samuel Gompers Declares Lenin and Trotsky Have No Place in International Meeting.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12.—Determination of the administration's attitude toward participating in the international economic conference called to meet at Genoa in March may be delayed as a result of the resignation of Premier Briand of France. It was indicated today in high official circles.

The administration intends to avoid haste in deciding its course in connection with the economic conference and high officials believed the change in the French ministry will be another factor to be considered before a decision as to this government's attitude is reached.

So far the United States has not agreed to participate in the Genoa conference, it was said at the state department today.

Agenda is Awaited. The administration, however, is understood to consider the resolution adopted by the allied supreme council in calling the conference as an invitation to the United States to participate.

Also, until the scope of the conference discussions is known, the United States scarcely will be able to determine the advisability of taking part in the view of high officials, who thus believe receipt of the agenda for the meeting will be awaited before the different factors to be considered by the government in reaching its decision can be studied.

Objection to the Genoa conference was made today by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in a formal statement in which he advocated the conference idea but asserted that an economic conference should be held by the United States to discuss a program fixed by the United States.

Soviets Not Wanted. "There is," he said, "no place in an international conference for Lenin and Trotsky," adding that an objection was to the "action of the allied supreme council which constitutes recognition of the soviet as the de facto government of Russia."

The call for the economic conference, determined upon by former premier Briand and Georges Clemenceau, was largely the result, it is understood, of the conviction of both prime ministers that the United States government would not take the initiative.

Evidence of Action Needed. Persons near the administration, however, believed that consideration of an economic conference could not be given until the arms conference had been conclusively decided. An international conference of limited program could take constructive action.

Members of the British delegation. It is also understood, made the same inquiries with the same results. Important members of the French delegation continued after M. Briand's departure, to round certain members of President Harding's cabinet as to the possibility of the United States government taking an active part in an economic conference. This resulted, it is understood, in supplementary letters being sent to the United States to the effect that the state of American public opinion was regarded by the government as being opposed to further reduction of European aid on the part of America to aid Europe unless military establishments were further reduced.

American Relief Doubtful. Even then, it was said on behalf of the American government, doubts might arise as to how much America could do at this time. It developed in informal conversations that if the United States government took an active part in the economic conference of Europe it would mean concessions or "sacrifices" on a large scale and these, it was felt, could not be made at this time. The cancellation or scaling down of debts owing to Europe, the American government could not be thought of now at least and, consequently, it was considered that it would be necessary for the two strongest economic organizations, those of France and Great Britain, to take the leadership in European economic restoration.

GENERAL WRIGHT MOVED. Ninth Corps Area Head Transferred to Philadelphia.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12.—Major-General William M. Wright, commanding the 9th corps area, headquarters at San Francisco, was assigned today by Secretary Weeks to command the Philippine department. Orders directing the transfer of command said General Wright would sail from San Francisco about February 5.

Major-General Charles G. Morton was relieved as chairman of the board of reclassification in the war department and ordered to San Francisco to succeed General Wright in that command.

ARCHBISHOP IS GUILTY. Church Court Convicts Greek of Attempting to Cause Schism.

ATHENS, Jan. 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—An ecclesiastical court presided over by the metropolitan of Athens today found Most Rev. Nektarios Metaxakis, recently elected patriarch of Constantinople, guilty of attempting to cause a schism in the church.

It is ordered that he be deprived of his very rank and declared as a monk in the monastery at Zante. Archbishop Metaxakis was not present at the trial.

SALESMEN!

THE Salesman becomes more efficient when equipped with a Ford Runabout; he covers more territory, visits more prospects and as a result, closes more sales.

No waiting for trains, or for busses to carry him to towns where trains don't go. The salesman driving his Ford Runabout is continually on the job—after business. And at the new low price of $325.00, the Ford Runabout offers transportation at an exceptionally low cost per mile.

Phone us, and let us tell you how our concerns have found it good business to equip their salesmen with Ford Runabouts. Terms if desired.

AUTHORIZED PORTLAND FORD DEALERS CITY DEALERS

TALBOT & CASEY, East Ankeny and Grand Ave., East 8118

ROBINSON-SMITH CO., 216 Commercial, Main 1100

MAY MOTOR COMPANY, Union Ave. and Alberta Woodlawn, 3800

ARMSTRONG-WESTER MOTOR CO., 82d and Foster Road, Auto. 638-46

SEA FIGHT IS DESPERATE

Boat Transfers Liquor Cargo After Shots Are Fired. VANCOUVER, B. C., Jan. 12.—(Special.)—A desperate sea fight is reported to have taken place off Point Grey last night about midnight, when two boats were seen to meet, exchange shots, and later transfer a cargo of whisky from one boat to the other.

ROBBER SUSPECT CAUGHT

Soldier is Accused of Holding Up Vancouver Restaurant. VANCOUVER, Wash., Jan. 12.—(Special.)—Francis O. McCoy, of the 7th company, stationed at Vancouver, was arrested today at Camas, Ore., and accused of the robbery here last night of a Chinese grill.

WATER HEARING IS HELD

State Department of Public Works Has Session in Vancouver. VANCOUVER, Wash., Jan. 12.—(Special.)—A hearing of the Washington department of public works was held in the Vancouver chamber of commerce rooms today. The commission is following the law in establishing a valuation on the water works owned by the North Coast Power company.

BOOKS GIVEN TO MEDFORD

Will of Colonel Sargent Leaves 167 Volumes to Library. MEDFORD, Or., Jan. 12.—(Special.)—It is reported that the late Colonel H. H. Sargent, widely known army officer and prominent Medford and Jacksonville citizen, in his will has bequeathed to the city of Medford, books of biography, travel and high-class fiction to the public library.

GENERAL WRIGHT MOVED

Ninth Corps Area Head Transferred to Philadelphia. WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12.—Major-General William M. Wright, commanding the 9th corps area, headquarters at San Francisco, was assigned today by Secretary Weeks to command the Philippine department.

ARCHBISHOP IS GUILTY

Church Court Convicts Greek of Attempting to Cause Schism. ATHENS, Jan. 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—An ecclesiastical court presided over by the metropolitan of Athens today found Most Rev. Nektarios Metaxakis, recently elected patriarch of Constantinople, guilty of attempting to cause a schism in the church.

BRUMFIELD GETS DELAY

Convicted Murderer Not to Be Hanged Pending Appeal. SALEM, Or., Jan. 12.—(Special.)—Richard M. Brumfield, Roseburg dentist, who is in the penitentiary here

APPRISED DEERS' CHIEF ENDS STRIKE

Howat Issues Order for Men to Resume Work. PITTSBURG, Kan., Jan. 12.—Striking coal miners of the Kansas field were ordered back to work today by Alexander Howat, their imprisoned leader. He declared in a lengthy order that the purpose of the strike has been accomplished, in that it has been shown that the Kansas industrial court law has failed to abolish strikes and industrial turbulence.

TRUMPHELD ACHIEVED

Futility of Kansas Industrial Court Law Declared to Have Been Conclusively Proved. PITTSBURG, Kan., Jan. 12.—Striking coal miners of the Kansas field were ordered back to work today by Alexander Howat, their imprisoned leader. He declared in a lengthy order that the purpose of the strike has been accomplished, in that it has been shown that the Kansas industrial court law has failed to abolish strikes and industrial turbulence.

ACQUITTAL OF ACCUSED MAN PROMPTS INVESTIGATION.

Grand Jury Will Probe Reasons Why Complainants Changed Stories as Witnesses. PITTSBURG, Kan., Jan. 12.—Striking coal miners of the Kansas field were ordered back to work today by Alexander Howat, their imprisoned leader. He declared in a lengthy order that the purpose of the strike has been accomplished, in that it has been shown that the Kansas industrial court law has failed to abolish strikes and industrial turbulence.

NO SURRENDER SEEN.

The order is signed by Howat and August Dorey, deposed vice-president of the district. "We respectfully request and urge the mine workers of district 14 to resume work," Howat and Dorey said in their statement. "A committee should be selected from among the miners and different mines in the district to see the mine foremen promptly and in the event they refuse to return to work, the strike will continue in effect at all the mines of this company."

PUBLICATION ACT INVALID

LAW FIXING NEWSPAPER FEES HELD UNCONSTITUTIONAL. Ruling Affects Papers of Small Circulation and Includes Seattle Labor Organ. SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 12.—The section of the state law regulating publication of legal notices, which fixes the fees to be paid newspapers having a circulation of 20,0