Publishing Society Manager Tells How Revenues Grow.

$2000 CHECK EXPLAINED

Directors Declared to Have Received $150,000 to Which They Were Not Entitled.

BOSTON, Jan. 16.—Figures as to income and expenditures of the Christian Science Publishing society were given to the supreme court today by John H. Watts, business manager of the society. His explanation, begun last week in the hearing on the petition of Herbert W. Eustace and Paul Harvey for allowance of their accounts as trustees of the society, was resumed after Judge Crosby had refused a request of the directors off the First Church of Christ, Scientist, that he appoint three new trustees.

The resignations of Mr. Eustace and Mr. Harvey were accepted by the court Saturday. Removal by the directors of Lamont Howlands as a trustee was upheld by the supreme court in its decision on the protracted litigation between trustees and directors. Judge Crosby said today he would not appoint new trustees until the present hearing is concluded.

Profits Are Reported.

Mr. Watts testified that for the year ending April 1, 1919, the society's net profits were $18,999 and for the year ending April 1, 1920, they were $1,497,245. From April 1, 1919, to December 31, 1920, he said the net profits were $1,204,455, of which $428,844 was paid to the directors and the balance retained for the society, in accordance with the terms prescribed in the will of Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy.

Under cross-examination Mr. Watts explained a payment of $2000 by the trustees to Mrs. Clementine Dixon, wife of Frederick S. Dixon, editor of the Christian Science periodicals. He said Mrs. Dixon had worked at the publishing house every day of the week except Saturdays and had refused compensation to which the trustees believed she was entitled. When they learned she was obliged to meet an "abnormal" rent increase and had incurred other expenses amounting in all to about $2000, Mr. Watts said, they sent her a check for that amount.

Mr. Watts gave the cost of the San Francisco plant established for distribution of Christian Science periodicals as $23,269, and said that the overhead expenditures from February 1, 1920, to December 30, 1920, had been $4,110.

Payment Made in Installments.

For the year ending April 1, 1919, he said, the gross income was $3,335,810; total expenditures $2,816,310; net profits $519,500. Profits of that year were turned over to the directors in two installments, he stated. The sum of $287,102 was paid May 8, and it became necessary for the trustees to borrow $200,000 from the First National bank to meet that payment. This resulted, he said, in an investigation of the financial system which therefore had been carried by the trustees and an accounting firm was employed.

The firm found an erroneous system of bookkeeping and an overpayment to the directors of "profits" which should have been charged to "depreciation."

The jury of ten women and two men which had been out 71 1/2 hours was discharged without comment by Judge Reeve. The foreman announced the final vote was 10 to 2. According to jurors who talked to newspaper men later, the majority was for conviction.

Ex-President of Exchange National Bank of Spokane Pays Judgment of $1830.

SPOKANE, Wash., Jan. 16.—(Special.)—In a decree entered today at Kansas, Mo., Mrs. Sallie Wilcox Coman obtained a divorce from Edwin T. Coman, state senator and ex-president of the Exchange National bank, according to a telegram received today by Attorney Post, Russell and Higgins, who have represented Mrs. Coman in her litigation with her husband in the superior court here.

Mr. Coman's attorneys today entered into a stipulation dismissing the divorce suit started against Mrs. Coman in the superior court here. The order of dismissal was signed by Judge Lindsey. "The decree granted to Mrs. Coman by the Missouri courts provided that the judgment for $1830 given to Mrs. Coman under the property settlement entered into in November, 1919, should be satisfied," said A. E. Russell, one of the attorneys for Mrs. Coman. "This judgment in pursuance to the Missouri decree, the judgment was satisfied."

CHANGE ASKED IN ENFORCING DRY LAW

Authority Change to Justice Department Asked.

BILL IS INTRODUCED

Secret Service Division of Treasury Would Be Switched, According to Plan.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 16.—Enforcement of the national prohibition act would be transferred from the treasury department to the department of justice under a bill introduced today by Senator King, democrat, Utah. The measure was referred to the judiciary committee without discussion.

The bill also would transfer the secret service division of the treasury to the justice department, which then would be charged with suppressing counterfeiting and other crimes protecting the president and members of his family and performing the other varied functions now discharged by the treasury secret service.

Prohibition Is Presented.

A diminutive senate page, preceded by Senator Frelinghuysen of New Jersey, walked into the senate chamber today, bearing a bundle of paper about which his arms were barely able to reach. There was a buzz of comment, but no revelation of the nature of the bill, until the senator a few minutes later submitted to the senate a petition carrying, he said, 15,000 signatures of New Jersey citizens who were appealing for modification of the Volstead act.

The senator said that it came from the anti-dry league, of his state. Improved methods of prohibition enforcement are being worked out by the treasury, in line with the administration's policy for modification of the 18th amendment, it was said.

Strict Supervision Aimed.

Efforts of the treasury, it was explained, were aimed at strict supervision of liquor withdrawal to prevent alcohol obtained ostensibly for legal purposes being diverted to beverage use and means of combating forgeries of permits and prescriptions. Forged prescriptions for liquor, one official declared, were becoming a serious problem and plans were under consideration for perfecting a none-forgeable prescription blank.

Ohio Voters to Decide

Fight to Repeal Volstead Law to Be Carried to Polls.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 16.—A fight to repeal the Volstead act and permit the sale of 2 1/2 per cent beer and light wines will be carried to the voters of Ohio this fall under the terms of the referendum law, according to Captain William H. Stanton, managing vice-president of the National Association Against the Prohibition Amendment.

Petitions will be circulated and a vigorous campaign waged to determine whether public opinion has changed since the act became effective. "We are daring the drys to fight us on open ground," Captain Stanton said. "We feel that public opinion has undergone a change, and we have come to the home of the Anti-Saloon league and into a state that was dry before the national amendment to determine whether we are right or wrong. If opinion has changed in Ohio we will proceed in other states. No brewers or distillers will manage our campaign. It will be in the hands of business and professional men who have seen the errors of the Volstead act and who are looking for a law that will correct its evils."

Captain Stanton said his organization has more than 250,000 members, 5000 of them in Ohio.

DRY LAW IS HELD SUCCESSFUL

Prohibition to Last as Long as Government, Is Declaration.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 16.—Prohibition will stand as long as the government stands, Wayne B. Wheeler of Washington, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon league, declared in an address today. Considering all issues involved, he said.

PROHIBITION HAS BEEN ENFORCED BETTER THAN ANY SIMILAR LAW EVER ENACTED.

He asserted, adding that efforts to legalize beer and light wines were designed to nullify prohibition. "No amendment to the constitution ever has been repealed, and the 18th amendment will not be repudiated," he emphasized.

DRY VICTORIES ARE CLAIMED

Last Two Years Declared to Be Marked by Successes.

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—A continuous succession of dry victories have marked the last two years, Virgil Hinshaw, chairman of the prohibition national committee, declared today in a statement issued in connection with the second anniversary of national prohibition.

"Wets have been overwhelmingly defeated at every appearance in the courts, while congress has defeated their efforts to bring back beer and light wines and state and municipal authorities have combined against the propaganda favoring non-enforcement of the law," the statement said.

"The joke is turned," Mr. Hinshaw said, "upon the half hundred anti-prohibition societies attempting to capitalize the waning appetite of some old soaks who still cry for their booze. Prohibition is here to stay."

He was unable to appear in court for the arraignment, but was represented by his attorney, Tom Garland, who waived all legal formalities in the lower court.

Purdin received copies of a resolution adopted by the Spanish War Veterans' camp at Hillsboro, Or., in which his ex-comrades assured him of their sympathy and support in his pending trial.

STUDY OF WORLD ADVISED

HARDING URGES PEOPLE TO WATCH AFFAIRS.

Letter From President Is Read to Reading, Pa., Chamber of Commerce Session.

READING, Pa., Jan. 16.—President Harding, in a letter read at the annual dinner today of the Reading chamber of commerce, declared that the American people have "every reason to cultivate the most intelligent understanding and definite informed opinions regarding affairs which involve our relations to the rest of the world."

Declaring he had been informed that the chamber was "to consider the conference on limitation of armament and its various implications, in relation to our country and to the international relationships of the world," he added:

"It is a deep satisfaction to note the active interest which organizations such as your own are taking in these issues. We have as a people every reason to cultivate the most intelligent understanding and definite informed opinions regarding affairs which involve our relations to the rest of the world. In the past we have not been under the necessity to devote much specialized attention to these; but in the present state of the world your public servants will find themselves encouraged and supported in their efforts along these lines if they note a developing co-operation and interest among the people."

"So I am glad of opportunity to point out to a group of influential Americans that the conference, though its labors are not yet completed, has recorded a great accomplishment in putting a definite end to costly naval competition and in the prohibitions regarding certain inhuman methods of warfare. I feel confident that no obstacles will be placed in the way of just agreements affecting principles of peace in the world."

"Inasmuch as determination of some of these elementary political relationships is a vital preliminary to the great task of economic rehabilitation throughout the world, it is gratifying to feel most hopeful that the settlements finally to be arrived at in Washington will be helpful in adding that economic restoration which is so essential to the good fortune of all peoples."
