

WATERWAY REPORT FORECASTS FIGHT

St. Lawrence River Project Submitted to Congress.

SPEAKER IS IN QUANDARY

Committee to Consider Plan to Be Merchant Marine, Foreign Affairs or Ways and Means.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 16.—A bitter and perhaps protracted fight in congress over the proposed improvement of the St. Lawrence river to provide a channel for ocean-going vessels to the Great Lakes was forecast today by developments in the house after the report of the international joint commission, which investigated the project, had been transmitted to Speaker Gillett by President Harding.

Instead of immediately referring the report to a committee the speaker announced he would determine at a hearing Wednesday which of three committees—the merchant marine, foreign affairs or ways and means—should take charge of it. Lengthy hearings appear certain.

Senators Refer Report.

In the senate the report, which recommends that improvement of the New Welland canal between Lake Erie and Lake Ontario be included with that of the St. Lawrence river between Lake Ontario and Montreal, was sent to the foreign relations committee.

The commission recommended that the cost of the improvement for navigation purposes be borne by the United States and Canada in proportion to the benefits derived by each. It advised that during the five years following completion of the project the ratio be determined by such factors as the developed resources and the foreign and coastwise trade of each country within the territory economically tributary to the proposed waterway and that thereafter the ratio be adjusted every five years on the basis of freight tonnage of each country passing through the waterway.

Costs Are Apportioned.

The commission also recommended that the cost of "navigation works" for the combined use of navigation and power, over and above the cost of works necessary for navigation alone, should be apportioned equally between the United States and Canada.

The report suggested that "navigation works, which would not lie wholly in one country, or would not be capable of economic and efficient construction, maintenance and operation within one country as complete and independent units," be maintained and operated by a board on which Canada and the United States would have equal representation.

The commission was of the opinion that Canada should proceed with the improvement of the new Welland canal in accordance with plans already decided upon by that country.

The commission's report emphasized the necessity of further study of the project by experts and recommended that the United States and Canada enter into treaty negotiations over the proposal.

DANCE CRUSADE SPREADS

Indorsement of Fight Against School Parties, Statewide.

Letters are being received from various parts of Oregon and Washington indorsing the stand taken by the Methodist Episcopal church against dancing in public school buildings, according to Rev. Guy Fitch Phelps, a member of the committee appointed by the Methodists to investigate the situation. Rev. Mr. Phelps is calling upon all churches, fraternal orders and other societies interested to pass resolutions on this subject.

"Ministers of all denominations in all parts of the state are interested and they are urged to take action at once," said Mr. Phelps, "and an expression will go far toward an agreeable interpretation of the law, as well as to decide the action of school officials. More than 75 ministers have lined up against the dance."

Operation Will Be Continued So There May Be No Slackening of Unemployment Relief.

A group of business men of Portland have undertaken the task of underwriting the expense of operating the municipal woodyard until anticipated revenues are collected. W. B. Ayer, chairman of the unemployment committee, personally has pledged $2500 and other members of the special committee, which met yesterday in the office of Mayor Baker, will canvass business men for the remainder of the money necessary.

Need of an active campaign for the sale of tickets to "our city's ball" to be given tomorrow night in the auditorium, for the purpose of raising funds to aid the unemployment situation, was emphasized by Mayor Baker and members of the committee agreed to aid in this work also.

It was explained that the operation of the municipal woodyard is giving employment to single men and "floaters" who come to Portland. No money is paid for this labor, the workmen receiving board and lodging. Work for which cash is paid is reserved for married men.

The operation of the woodyard, according to Mayor Baker, is reducing the petty crime that occurs during periods of depression and unemployment. Many men are content to receive board and lodging in return for work until such time as general work opens up. It is this class of men that the woodyard is not catering for.

The members of the special committee are Mayor Baker, W. B. Ayer, E. C. Sammons, J. B. MacNaughton and J. C. English.

MRS. MARIE ADCOX DIES

BULLET WOUND, SELF-INFLICTED, PROVES FATAL.

Steady Improvement Shown Until Sunday When Sudden Relapse Forecasts End.

Mrs. Marie Adcox, wife of Luther L. Adcox, head of an auto and aviation school, died yesterday at St. Vincent's hospital from a bullet wound which she sustained last Tuesday night, when her husband returned home unexpectedly and found her in the role of hostess at a dinner party for Eugene C. Haber, automobile dealer. She was 28 years old.

Mrs. Adcox had been showing steady improvement until Sunday afternoon, when she suffered a sudden relapse from pneumonia, which set in late in the week.

The body was removed to the Finley & Son undertaking establishment. The coroner received no official notification of her death, but announced there would be no inquest. The fatal shooting occurred at the Adcox home, 224 Shawou street, at the dinner hour last Tuesday night when Mr. Adcox walked in on Mrs. Adcox, Haber and another man and woman, who were guests at the home. The husband began to upbraid his wife because of her conduct, and she rushed into the kitchen, procured a revolver and shot herself in the breast.

Mr. Adcox last night announced that he and a sister of the deceased would leave with the body for Vancouver, B. C., where burial will take place. Mrs. Adcox's mother and family are now living there. According to their plans, interment will take place tomorrow.

VETERANS' BUREAU MOVES

MORE FLOOR SPACE IS OBTAINED IN NEW OFFICES.

Facilities for handling cases of injured ex-soldiers also are increased.

Due to crowded office facilities that proved inadequate to meet the increasing needs of the organization in Portland, the United States Veterans' bureau yesterday moved from the Medical building to the new Myler building at Ninth and Oak streets.

In the new location, the offices will have a floor space of approximately 6500 square feet. The staff has been increased to 42 persons. Of this number there are six doctors, two dentists and two nurses who will have in their charge the supervision of the veterans who make application for compensation and examination for physical injuries incurred in line of duty during the war.

L. C. Jessop, director of the Veterans' bureau for this district, was here from Seattle yesterday, conferring with Kenneth L. Cooper, local director. Mr. Jessop announced the appointment of Dr. A. E. Rokey as advisor in all surgery cases handled by the bureau here.

Mr. Jessop also announced that an efficient eye, ear, nose and throat dispensary would be started in the Portland office. An X-ray machine has been ordered and as soon as it is installed all such work will be done in the local offices.

LADIES! SECRET TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Bring Back Its Color and Lustre With Grandma's Sage Tea Recipe.

Common garden sage, brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, in a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores. Known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound no one can tell because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, and luxuriant, and you appear years younger.—Adv.
