PROOF IS PROMISED TO DANCE CHARGES

Ministers to Prepare Evidence, Says L. D. Mahone.

Inasmuch as supervised dances have been for a long time held in Jefferson. Washington and Franklin high schools, representatives of these have publicly challenged the statements that have been made as to immoral conditions, "parking" of corsets included.

Charges Held Without Truth.

Hugh J. Boyd, principal of Washlagron high school, declares there is no truth in the charges, so far as hig school is concerned. "The dances are adequately chaperoned," he states, "and I personally attend most of them. So do many parents. There could be no checking of corsets there for we have no checkrooms. It is true that we have ejected some persons from the floor for improper dancing. It was our stuty so to do and we have no hesitancy when the opension requires. They were not high school boys, but outsiders. We welcome the co-operation of parents and others naturally interested and have always stood ready to admit the city dance inspectors at any time."

Robert Mautz, for four years a student at Washinston high school, reinforces the statements made by Mr.
Boyd. "I consider that every high school student has been insulted by the charges made by the ministers and others allied with them." said he.
"In the four years of my attendance at our dances, I can truthfully say they are clean, our boys and girls are clean and are the equal of any others who do not dance."

"It is my opinion," said Mrs. Charles, "that this thing has been taken up in the wrong way. I should think if the ministers or any one clese had any information as to wrong doing in the school dances, that they would have taken it up, first, with the Parent-Teacher organizations or the school authorities, rather than to have caused all of this hullabaloo in public. Furthermore, they have disclosed nothing worth while yet, and, cial.)—The ranch home of closed nothing worth while yet and, until and unless they do, there is little for us to do, however much we

Clark warmly championed the dances held at Jefferson high, of which he has personal knowledge. He declared them to be of a clean, safe character, with sufficient care to make them mafe. "I know of one falciy large city in Oregon where they abolished the school dance, but now wish it back, because of the very bad conditions following it." said Mr. Clark at the Thursday night meeting.

"What city is it?" was asked from Bishops Discuss Challenge of the group opposing dances.

"Tillamook," abswered Mr. Clark,
"What is your authofity for your statement that conditions are very nuch worse since the dances were prohibited?" was another question. "The Tiliamook school board," he

—Lester W. Humphreys of Portland, United States district attorney for Oregon, has the distinction of being Oregon, has the distinction of being the youngest person who ever received a teacher's certificate in Linn county and perhaps in the entire state. Local records disclosed that he was granted a permit to teach school in this county when he was only 13. Mr. Humphreys took the county teachers' examination at this city in November, 1896. At that time he was living with his parents near Foster, Or.
