

MODIFIED LEAGUE MAY GAIN SUPPORT Genoa Conference Expected to End American Isolation.

VIEWS HELD CHANGING Realization that Europe Cannot Pay for Goods it Wants Seems to Make Difference.

BY MARK SULLIVAN. Copyright, by the New York Evening Post, Inc. Published by arrangement with WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 30.—(Special.)—There can be little doubt of the deeper significance of the movement to have the United States represented at the Genoa conference. It is the beginning of the swing back from the extreme isolation in favor of isolation that was the verdict of the 1920 political election. That was nearly a year and a half ago, and it takes about that long for an average political tide to begin to recede.

Government Goes Slow A first principle in America's conduct of the Washington conference has been to take one step at a time.

WHAT CONGRESS DID AS ITS DAY'S WORK. Senate.

Debated war loan refunding bill during one day, several amendments being rejected, without a final vote on the measure.

Resolution offered by Capper providing for an investigation of the Knickerbocker theater disaster.

House. Passed independent offices appropriation bill by a vote of 167 to 41, including an amendment by Representative Walsh, Massachusetts, limiting shipping board salaries to $25,000 a year.

Representative Thomas A. Ryan, New York, introduced resolution for investigation of Knickerbocker theater disaster, despite plea by Floor Leader Mondell that municipal authorities be allowed to complete their investigation without interference.

Cardinals Meet Thursday. On Thursday the cardinals will enter the Vatican, there to remain until they have chosen a successor to Benedict XV.

The sacred college met today to make final arrangements respecting the funeral.

The American delegates have successfully resisted the exercise of considerable firmness all efforts to throw economic or other extraneous matters into the agenda of the Washington conference.

The agenda has been right where they were originally fixed. As Ambassador Harvey expressed it in a speech at London, with an obvious and acid allusion to the Paris conference, "this Washington conference was called not to see if the nations of the world could agree on all things, but to see if they could agree on one thing."

The Washington conference cannot be regarded with complete success until the American senate has ratified its work. Until that has happened the American position is in a state of limbo, and it is embarrassing and difficult for our government to embark on a second step of world stabilization.

It is a singular fact, no doubt, that if the promoters of the Genoa conference could see their way clear to postpone the opening of the conference for a few months, the question of our participation would be made less complex to decide.

Mass Celebrated in New York. NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Diplomatic representatives of nearly a dozen foreign governments and state and city officials attended a solemn pontifical mass for the soul of Pope Benedict XV in St. Patrick's cathedral today.

John L. Burns identified as his revolver yesterday a weapon which had been found, wrapped in a newspaper bearing the date of the murder of James H. Phillips, in a store room adjoining the room of Dan Cassidy, convicted of participation in the murder, at 129 1/2 Russell street.

Burns was on the witness stand at a court trial last night in the case of Cassidy. He testified that the revolver found under the pillow of the bed in his own room was not his. Testimony of revolver experts produced by the state has shown that the weapon under Burns' pillow fired at least one of the fatal bullets extracted from the body of Phillips.

Burns and Cassidy were indicted jointly as the boxer bandits who fatally wounded Special Agent Phillips. Burns was surprised when in the course of rifling a car, Cassidy was arrested beneath Burns' bed.

In his testimony yesterday in the case of his second trial the first jury discharging Cassidy declared he had no idea how Cassidy got under his bed, that he had not seen Cassidy for two days prior to that time.

His admission was made by Burns that he had written the damaging letter introduced by the state which had been found in Cassidy's cell at the court house in which Burns testified the alibi they were to present at the trial.

Mrs. Margaret Furney James B. Hatcher, L. P. Pashak, W. L. Bielew and D. W. Walker testified concerning light conditions in the neighborhood of the Alhambra railroad yards on the night in question. Burns had been positively identified by a state witness as one of the men seen within a few yards of the scene of the shooting a few moments before the duel.

C. B. Murray, who has been arrested five times, convicted three times and is at present serving a jail sentence for bootlegging, testified that he saw Burns at 10 o'clock on the night of the murder.

The shooting took place about that time, Mrs. Mary Hyland said she had seen the defendant about 9 o'clock of the same evening. E. E. Bates declared that A. C. Van Diver, important state witness, had once carried an L. W. card.

Maurice E. Crumpacker and Joseph L. Hammerly are conducting the prosecution, and D. C. Lewis and H. F. Mulkey, the defense.

Sherman Highway Under Way. HOOD RIVER, Or., Jan. 30.—(Special.)—Angus C. The new road is being constructed in accordance with state highway department specifications on a 5 per cent grade. An additional eight miles, he says, will be under construction soon.

Knights Conclude Session. MARSHFIELD, Or., Jan. 30.—(Special.)—The Knights of Columbus ended their annual gathering here last night with a banquet. Many members from other parts of Oregon attended the all-day ceremonies. Twenty-seven new members were initiated. One hundred and ten attended the banquet at the Chandler hotel.

LAUNCHED HASTILY AND CLUMSILY. The time, March 8, is embarrassing to us. It telescopes too closely into the end of the Washington conference. During the same weeks when the Genoa conference is in session our senate will be discussing the results of the Washington conference. Every morning we would be receiving news of what is being done at Genoa of such a nature that it would be injected into the debate on the results of the Washington conference. Some of these dispatches would provide consistent arguments for the irreconcilables and others would suggest what it would do to throw at any foreign agreement we attempt.

ALLEGED DEBTS BOARD TO HAVE FREE HAND TO INTERFERE WITH REFUNDING PLANS. Congress Not to Interfere With Refunding Plans.

SENATE VOTE DECISIVE BORAH OF IDAHO CHARGES SINISTER INTERESTS INTEND EUROPE SHALL NOT MEET OBLIGATIONS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 30.—By fairly decisive votes, the senate refused today either to require congressional approval of the agreements to be entered into with debtor nations by the proposed allied debt refunding commission, or to limit authority of the commission in deferring the time when interest payments on the $11,000,000,000 foreign debt shall begin.

Despite an agreement sharply limiting debate, a final vote was not reached. Late in the day a reference to the agriculture bloc by one senator brought a tart reply by another, that led to further discussions and finally it was decided to recess until tomorrow.

Amendments Are Rejected. The first amendment rejected was that proposing approval by congress of the bond convention agreements. It was proposed by Senator Johnson, republican of California, and was voted down, 44 to 36. Seven republican senators, Borah, Branger, France, Johnson, La Follette, Moses and Morris—joined with 29 democrats in supporting the amendment.

Another amendment, proposed by Senator Johnson, was to amend the act so that interest on the converted bonds be paid semi-annually or annually. Senator Williams also opposed this amendment, while four republicans—Senators Borah, La Follette, Johnson and Norris—supported it.

Interest Limit Is Defeated. Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, then proposed that the commission be prohibited from deferring interest payments by any country for longer than two years, but this also was voted down, 44 to 24. Senator Williams also opposed this amendment, while five republicans—Senators Johnson, Borah, La Follette and Norris—voted for it.

Senator Simmons offered an amendment limiting the time for deferring interest payments to three years. This was pending when the senate finally went into a brief executive session preliminary to taking a recess.

Senator Simmons reiterated charges that the proposed legislation would benefit holders of the bonds of the United States entered the war.

LEASE CONFERENCE SET WEEKS AND HARDING TO DISCUSS MUSCLE SHOALS. Contract Expected to Be Submitted to Congress Wednesday or Thursday, Is Declaration.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 30.—Secretary Weeks will discuss the proposed purchase and lease by Henry Ford of the Muscle Shoals power and nitrate projects with President Harding before sending the contract to congress for final action. It was stated today at the war department. Since Mr. Weeks had made no engagement today at the White House, it was assumed that the subject of Muscle Shoals would be discussed during his regular cabinet meeting tomorrow.

The contract probably will be submitted to congress Wednesday or Thursday, the war secretary said. Representative Almon of Alabama conferred with Mr. Weeks today and argued a favorable endorsement for the Ford project. The secretary reiterated his intention to present the facts in full, Mr. Almon said, and a friendly endorsement for the project when the report was submitted.

"The proposed commission would have the right to determine what sale of fertilizer products and the price which has been charged therefor, and, if necessary, for the purpose of limiting the annual profit of 8 per cent, as aforesaid, shall regulate the price at which said fertilizer may be sold by the company."

A copy of the contract as signed by Mr. Ford January 25 was received today by Senator Harris of Georgia, containing two modifications of the original proposal, one providing for the appointment of a commission by the president to see that the contract was strictly observed and the other setting forth an agreement on the part of the contractor to pay an annual rental of 1 per cent on the cost of completion of dam No. 3.
