

INTERESTS NEEDED IN CHEST CAMPAIGN Defeat Faced Unless New Life Is Injected. CALL MADE FOR WORKERS

In Spite of Discouragements Organization to Carry Work Over Into Another Week.

Portland's fight to fill the community chest and defeat the forces of hunger, distress and unemployment promises to be a losing one unless new life and renewed public interest be injected into the campaign.

The grand total of contributions last night was announced as $469,513. This leaves $228,262 still to be raised if the required quota of $758,775 is reached.

In spite of the discouragements which the chest organization is meeting it was declared yesterday that the work would be carried over into next week. It was said that the coming week would be devoted to checking over prospects, ascertaining the results of the first canvass and laying the groundwork for a further canvass to continue until the chest is full.

Appeal Made for Workers. General Smith also made an appeal for 20 more clerical workers at the chest headquarters at the Multnomah hotel.

Children Give $700. More than $700 has been subscribed to the community chest by Portland school children through the miniature chests placed in the schools.

The largest amount given through the school chests was a check for $3 by two little brothers. The miniature chests were emptied every night by the school principals and taken to the chest headquarters.
