AMUSEMENTS.
ORPHEUM (Broadway at Taylor)—Vaudeville. This afternoon and tonight.
BAKER (Morrison at Eleventh)—Baker Players in Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm, tonight.
LYRIC (Broadway at Morrison)—Musical comedy, "The Birdbird." Three shows daily, 2, 7 and 9:30 p. m.

CORPORATION BLANKS READY.—Blank forms for reporting net income of corporations were received yesterday by Clyde G. Bailey, collector of internal revenue, and may be obtained upon application either of Mr. Huntley at the custom-house or the branch offices at Pendleton and Eugene. As is the case with individual income tax returns, corporations must file their returns in the office of the collector of internal revenue not later than March 15. The time for filing partnership and fiduciary returns, however, has been extended to May 15, but with this exception all income tax returns must be filed on or before March 15 or the delinquent taxpayer will be liable to heavy penalties. The federal tax on income of corporations is divided into two parts, income tax and excess profits tax. The income tax on corporations for 1921 is at the rate of 10 per cent of the net income subject to tax. For 1922 it will be 15 per cent, as provided by the revenue act of 1921, the income tax is 1 1/2 per cent.

CAN KNOCKED OFF TRACK.—A west-bound Irvington truck was knocked off the track, a large truck loaded with sawdust was overturned, and C. Simons, driver of the truck, suffered lacerations of the face and neck when the street car and truck collided yesterday afternoon at East Eleventh and Multnomah streets. Simons was driving the truck south on Eleventh street. The Irvington car was crossing when he reached the intersection. He swung the truck sharply to the right, throwing it broadside against the street car. Several windows were knocked out of the car and the truck was slightly damaged. Simons was taken to St. Vincent's hospital in an ambulance, but his injuries were reported there to be only slight.

TRUCK DRIVERS FURRY.—C. E. Clingens, truck driver for the Union Oil company, and C. Speelberg, driver for the West Oregon Lumber company, were each fined $100 yesterday morning when they pleaded guilty before District Judge Delch to piloting overloaded trucks. The loads varied from one-half ton to one ton more than is permitted by law, according to Deputies Griffith and Llewellyn of the secretary of state's office who made the arrests. The arrests are an incident of a campaign being made by Secretary of State Kozer against violators of the motor vehicle law, whose overloaded trucks are breaking down the highways of the state. The arrests were made on the Linton road.

WORKMAN LOSES ARM.—Loss of his left arm and right leg was reported yesterday morning by A. G. Van Rosen, a workman at the Northwest Plating mill, 554 East Tenth street, when the sleeve of his coat became entangled in a lathe, his whirling cog and he was thrown into the machinery. Mr. Van Rosen's left arm was torn off close to the shoulder and his right leg was severely shattered. A doctor from the emergency hospital rendered first aid and sent him to Emanuel hospital. There his condition was considered serious, but but little hope was held for his recovery. Mr. Van Rosen had not regained consciousness last night.

GARSON SYSTEM HERE COERS LESS.—Portland disposes of its garbage at a lower cost than does any of 23 cities in which statistics have been gathered on this subject by C. E. Hickok, city manager of Alameda, Cal. Mr. Hickok sent out queries to cities west of the Mississippi river and secured responses from 23 cities. Mr. Hickok will recommend the same type of incinerator in use in Portland be installed in Alameda. The average cost of garbage disposal in Portland last year was $74 a ton, according to the annual report of William Heiber, superintendent of the incinerator.

SUPERINTENDENT GOING EAST.—D. A. Groust, superintendent of schools, will leave Portland Friday morning for Chicago, where he will attend the annual convention of the National Education association. Mr. Groust will be a representative of the group of cities with populations between 250,000 and 400,000 and will read a paper before the convention on "How We Are Selling the Public Education Programme in Our City." The convention will be in session from February 22 to March 2. Mr. Groust will return after the closing session.

BOY, 13, MISSING.—The police were asked yesterday to assist G. W. Majors in finding his 13-year-old son Jack who has been missing since last Saturday morning. The boy, who was a student at the Davis school, left his home in the morning to go to the library and has not been seen or heard of since. When he left he wore a mackinaw coat, gray cap and knee pants. He is described as being about 4 feet 8 inches tall and weighs 118 pounds.

CONTRACTORS MEET TONIGHT.—Plans for the convention of Associated General Contractors of the Pacific Northwest to be held in Portland on March 10 and 11, will be formulated tonight at a meeting of the Portland branch of the organization, according to the announcement of Natt McDougall, president. The meeting will be held at the Multnomah hotel, and the various convention committees will be appointed to carry out the details for the two-day meeting.

HUMORIST ENTERTAINS FORUM.—Herbert Leon Cope, humorist and lecturer, entertained the members' forum of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday with his laugh-provoking talk on the philosophy of laughter. He occupied nearly the entire time allowed for speakers at the end of the luncheon. Thomas Withycombe, made a short talk on the farm bloc, which he said has been voicing the dissatisfaction of farmers throughout the country.

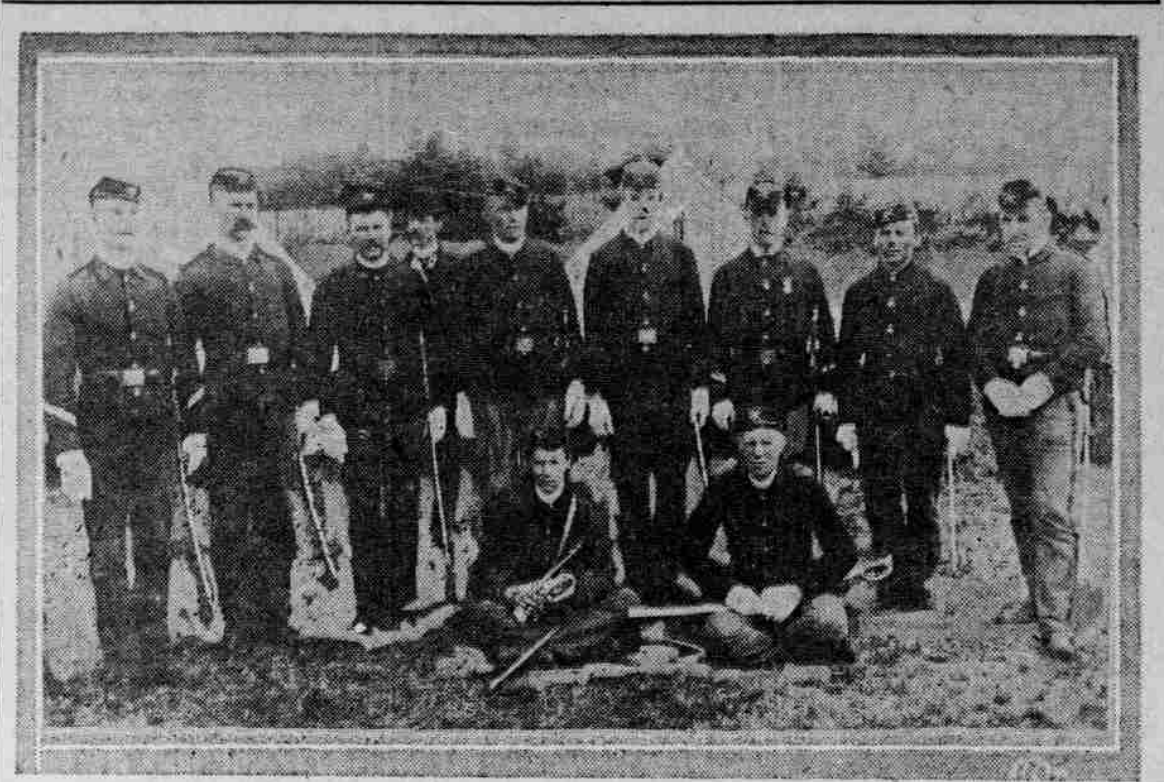

GENERAL MANAGER RETURNS.—J. P. O'Brien, general manager of the O. W. R. & N. Co., returned to his office yesterday after being away for two months, due to illness. While recuperating he spent his time in southern California and Arizona.

PLANS FOR PUBLIC GARAGE APPROVED.—Plans for the large public garage at Fourth and Pine streets were approved yesterday by Plan Examiner Rayner. The garage will be built by Guthrie & Co. for the Imperial Investment company and is estimated to cost approximately $90,000.

ZONING WILL BE DISCUSSED.—Dr. F. J. Kolar will address the Portland Zoning club at 3 P. M. tomorrow in the blue room of the Portland hotel.

DR. A. E. TAMBIER, Medical bldg., nervous and mental diseases. Hours, 1 to 5, Main 4335.—Adv.

DO YOU REMEMBER?

When old Battery A, field artillery of the Oregon national guard, went to Long Beach in August, 1892, for two weeks' encampment? In those days the state made no appropriation for summer military maneuvers and the occasion the members of the battery each donated a certain sum and business men of Long Beach provided the camp ground and other essentials to get the boys down there.
The photograph which was loaned by Lee M. Clark, now a captain but then a sergeant, shows his section of Battery A in their old blue uniforms and carrying sabers. They took with them one field piece, an antique brass cannon such as is often seen mounted in the public squares of small towns. They went to the beach in the height of the summer season and all vacationists there followed the drills day by day.
Colonel Charles F. Beebe was in command of the camp and Captain F. Kelso commanded Battery A. Standing in the picture, from left to right, are Sergeant Lee M. Clark, Sergeant A. McDonald, Private J. D. Chisholm, Private Cook, Private Kliger, Private S. E. Reinstrom, Private Sorenson, Sergeant W. G. Holmes. Sitting, in front, are Bugler L. Wilhelm and Private J. R. Brooker. The civilian in the rear is Lieutenant Williams, who went down from Portland for a visit the day the photograph was taken.

The smiling bartender with the black mustache, who formerly conducted the Pantheon saloon but who is now teaching dancing in a fashionable hotel on the Pacific coast?
When you would jingle a little bell from the lapel of your coat when someone told a "chestnut"?
When every home was surrounded by a fence of either iron or wooden pickets and the calamity of having one's gate carried off on Halloween?
When Pim Kelly and Billy Morgan started to the penitentiary with a prisoner and he escaped near McMinnville?
Billie Marshall, engineer on the Governor Grover?
Olds & King's store at First and Taylor streets, where the late S. W. King met you at the door with a friendly handshake?
When you could stand in the front door of the Portland hotel and see Mount Hood?
Readers of the Do You Remember column who have old photographs of events and groups of people are requested to lend them to The Oregonian.

PUPILS TAUGHT FIRE PREVENTION.—An educational fire prevention programme was staged in the Shaver school yesterday. The programme was arranged by Lieutenant Boatright, who is in charge of the school education in the fire prevention bureau. Fire Marshal Grenfell gave an interesting talk on fire prevention, telling the pupils the numerous ways in which they could assist in preventing dangerous and costly conflagrations. Lieutenant Boatright gave an illustrated lecture on the Portland fire department, which among other things showed just how a fire alarm should be turned in through the street call boxes. Ex-Chief Dowell made a brief talk touching on incidents in large Portland fires that have occurred in years gone by.

TONO MEMBERS LEAVE CITY.—A general exodus from Portland of members of the Hip Sing tong occurred yesterday morning from old Chinatown. A squad of taxicabs pulled up along the curb and about 40 Chinese got into them at once. They left Portland on the O.-W. R. & N. 9 o'clock train, but efforts to learn their destination were futile. A number of policemen were on hand to guard the Chinese tong members until they got out of the city. The war between the Hip Sing tong and the Kung Chow tong, which broke out along the Pacific coast last week in several cities caused the local Hip Sing tong members to go into hiding to avoid trouble.

ESTATE OF $30,000 LEFT.—An estate valued at $30,000 was left by the late Charles S. Lipschuetz, according to the petitions for probate of will filed by his business partner, Herbert A. Katz, and sister, Mrs. Attie Cohn, in the circuit court yesterday. Of the property, $20,000 is estimated as the value of his half interest in the business of Lipschuetz & Katz. Under the will, $10 a week for life is bequeathed to Isadore Lipschuetz, father; $1000 cash to George Lipschuetz, brother; $1000 cash to Elizabeth G. Brophy, bookkeeper and secretary, and the residue to Mrs. Cohn, sister.

ELECTRIC DRILL STOLEN.—The theft of an electric drill of the type commonly used by yeomen from E. M. Tucker, Auto Body shop, 423 Belmont street, caused Captain of Inspectors Moore to issue a warning to all firms to be on the lookout for a guard against safe robberies. The thieves entered the shop through a rear window, and although there were other valuable tools lying around, they stole only the one drill, which they fitted with a long drop cord before they left.

DAMAGE SUIT FOR $7500 FILED.—Damage of $7500 for the death of Beulah Westley in an automobile wreck on the Pacific highway near Brooks, Or., are asked in a suit filed by Roy Westley, administrator of her estate, in the circuit court yesterday against E. G. Osborne, Homer Ross and the Oregon Rubber company. The woman was a passenger in an automobile colliding with a machine occupied by two of the defendants on July 2, 1921.

GRANGE IMPROVES ITS HALL.—Russellville grange is making improvements on its hall on Base Line road. New flooring is to be laid in the basement section and the dancing floor upstairs has been redressed. At its last session the grange heard an illustrated lecture on "Birds of Oregon" by L. N. Galverson. Members of the grange are preparing to present a drama, "Red Acres Farm," early in March.

PLANS FOR GARAGE COMPLETED.—Plans have been completed by E. E. McClaren, architect, for a garage to be erected by H. Jacobson, on Derby street in Keaton. Bids on the construction are being received. The building is to be 50 by 100 feet, of concrete, with plaster magnesia stucco. The woman was a passenger in an automobile colliding with a machine occupied by two of the defendants on July 2, 1921.

EVANGELISTIC MEETINGS END.—A three weeks' series of evangelistic meetings in Grace Baptist church, Montavilla, ended Sunday night. They have been conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. F. Huckleberry, and Evangelist Hunder, who was in charge of the meetings. About 50 persons have made a profession of faith or have been reinstated in church fellowship during the meetings.

SIGN BOARD PROTESTED.—A protest signed by 23 property owners against the granting of a permit for the erection of a sign board on the west side of Union avenue between Russett and Baldwin streets has been filed with the city council.

As the Crow Flies

The Long Distance Telephone has become the inseparable ally of the successful business man. It is a time-saving, money-saving practice to use Long Distance in the daily business transactions which require speed, accuracy and definite results.
In the West the Long Distance lines must follow the contour of the country, the highways, the railroad lines, but regardless of the route followed you can talk direct to any point in our territory and our rates are based on air line distance—as the crow flies.
You can talk as easily across the state as you can across the city. Use the Long Distance Telephone in your business—you will be pleased with results obtained.
