TWO AFTER INSURANCE

WOMEN IN PITTSBURG CLAIM DEAD MAN AS SON.

Body of Sailor Who Succumbed in Hoquiam Sent East for Further Identification.

HOQUIAM, Wash., March 2.—(Special.)—Two women in Pittsburg, Pa., each having a son away from home and carrying life insurance in the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, have been notified that A. Walther, 29, died in Hoquiam General hospital February 15. Each seeks his insurance. Walther got sick while a member of the crew of the schooner Santa Alberta. The ship was loading in Hoquiam. Walther was sick only a few days, but during that time his ship departed.

The nurse at the Hoquiam hospital asked him about his relatives and he told her his mother was Mrs. L. Walther of the North Side, Pittsburg, Pa. He said he had sister living there also. Questioned for a more definite address, he did not recall it. When the patient died J. M. Dawson, undertaker, telegraphed to the address given. In a few days he received a letter from Mrs. M. Walthers asking for photographs, as she was doubtful about the identification. Mr. Dawson noted that the name of the woman did not exactly correspond with that given by the dying man, but the pictures were taken and forwarded. February 21 the American Railway Express company here notified the undertaker that money had been deposited for the shipment of the body. It was shipped February 22.

The following day a letter came from Mrs. M. Walther containing a legal form known as a "proof of death" to fill out for the life insurance company. Yesterday afternoon there came a letter from Mrs. L. Walther containing a similar request for a proof of death. Both were filled out as required. Mr. Dawson also notified the life insurance company of the tangle.

GOVERNOR HART IS MUM

NOTHING SAID OF RESIGNATION OF PRISON HEAD.

State Director of Business Control, However, Declares Executive Is Trying to Settle Trouble.

OLYMPIA, Wash., March 2.—T. E. Skaggs, director of business control, today said the resignation of William G. Potts, warden of the state penitentiary, had been received here about February 24, but the governor had taken the matter in his own hands and had gone to Walla Walla to adjust the situation. Mr. Skaggs said Warden Potts had not assigned any reason for his resignation, but had only suggested that it take effect about April 15. The entire matter lies with Governor Hart, Mr. Skaggs said.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., March 2.—(Special.)—Governor Hart returned evasive answers today regarding the resignation of William G. Potts as warden of the state penitentiary. "I don't know anything about it; I am not going to make any statement in the matter," was the governor's reply to questions concerning the matter.

Governor Hart insisted that all he knew about the resignation was what he had read in the newspapers. He said, however, that Warden Potts has been an efficient superintendent of the prison and that everything was in fine shape.

Warden Potts continued to maintain silence on the matter beyond admitting that the resignation was sent in several days ago.
