Executive Not Allowed to Appear Before Grand Jury Probing Closing of Bank.

OKMULGEE, Okla., March 3 .overnor Robertson of Oklahoma, re-James G. Lyons, an oil man of Okmul-see, Okla., today engaged in a fistic encounter with Lyons in the county courthouse here, which was crowded with lawyers, court officials and spec-tators. A half dozen or so blows were exchanged by the two men before they were separated. Neither bears shy marks of the conflict. Pandemonium broke loose in the crowded corridors of the courthouse, many persons fleeing, expecting more serious occurrences.

Lyons' Blow Declared First. That Mr. Lyons struck Governor Robertson the first blow was the statement of W. H. Crume and Assistant Attorney-General Sewick.
The governor had arrived here early today to present to the county attor-ney a letter offering to appear in person before the grand jury inves-tigating the affairs of the defunct Bank of Commerce, and testify. Governor Robertson was not injured in the encounter.

The governor, accompanied by mem-bers of his party, later returned to

"Who caused this disturbance?"
couted County Attorney Hepburn.
"James Lyons," was the reply from "Who caused this disturbance?" shouted County Attorney Hepburn. Hepburn Makes Move.

Mr. Hepburn started toward Lyons and two or three men told the county attorney that a remark of the governor started the affair "I know who started this," Judge Sewick Intervened.

Mr. Lyons is president of the Lyons Petroleum company and a director of the Guaranty State bank.
