RETURNS MUST BE FILED

MARRIED PERSONS REQUIRED TO REPORT INCOMES. Collector of Internal Revenue Notes Failure to Observe Law Due to Misunderstanding.

"Many married persons are not filing federal income tax returns this year who are required under the provisions of the law to do so," said Clyde G. Huntley, collector of internal revenue, yesterday. "This condition is due to a misunderstanding on the part of the requirements of the law. Many married persons are under the impression that they are not obliged to file a return unless their net income aggregates $2500. This assumption is an erroneous one but is apparently based upon the fact that a married person is entitled to an exemption of $2500. The fact is that it is positively necessary for every married person living with husband or wife to file a return if his aggregate net income amounts to only $2000. In order to claim the exemption of $2500 together with the additional exemption of $400 for each dependent, every married person must file a return, although he may have had a net income of only $2000."

WORK ON PIERS TO BEGIN Bridge of Gods Abutment. Contractors on the piers for the Oregon shore abutment of the Bridge of the Gods, to be constructed across the Columbia river just below Cascade locks, soon will start pouring concrete for the piers, according to announcement made yesterday by E. R. Clark, engineer who designed the bridge. The contracting company has, he said, passed the testing stage on the foundation and has found the mountain, which is the original one of Indian legend in the legendary bridge, to be of solid rock where the abutment is to be located.

THE YOUNG-McDONALD COMPANY of Portland, which is to construct the bridge at the Cascade locks, in corporation with headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce building, will use gravity system in pouring concrete for the piers, Mr. Clark states. It will be mixed high up on the hill and will be run down into the piers. The piers on the Oregon side are under contract to be completed June 5, but Mr. Clark says the work has progressed so favorably despite bad weather that it probably will be completed before June 5.

CONCRETE Pavements and heavy traffic are pals. Big trucks, heavy loads, roll along joyously without denting, rutting or grooving CONCRETE'S rock-solid surface. This means cheaper transportation, lower costs—"Normalcy." No need to embargo the big load. CONCRETE is the one pavement that stands up under the continually increasing weight and terrific pounding of modern traffic. Oregon needs more CONCRETE hard-surfaced highways.
