The "alma mater" of Fred Weaver the Oregon state penitentiary-was hamed yesterday morning when EPISCOPAL OFFICER QUITS Weaver, 40 years old and with a record of nine years in the institution for burglary, was captured on the streets of Vancouver by inspectors Goltz and Schulpius and locked in the city jail as the "5 o'clock burglar who lest his shoes.'

Weaver served five years of a 13year sentence, was paroled to try life anew, but bungled and was sent hack for a post-graduate course at the inner and the Very Rev. R. T. T. Hicks, stitution. There he met George Brown, an association which developed the recent 5 o'clock burglaries that have compelled Captain Harms and Inspectors Coleman, Collins, Golis, Howell, Moloney and Schulpius to lose many hours of sleep during the last two weeks.

Alleged Pal in Jail.

Brown, an alleged pal of Weaver, was in the city jail yesterday charged with vagrancy, but he probably will be re-booked on a more serious charge while cellmates in the penitentiary Their capture indicates, said the poice, that even a post-graduate course will never make a bungler anything but a bungler-and never a burglar.

Weaver on the morning of March 31. He took off his shoes, after entering the home of E. J. Mahoney, 584 East Jimmied window, in order not to dis turb the family. He was a thoughtful burgiar and meant well, but he awakmade with his clumsy hands.
