

INCOME AND MILLAGE TAX PLANS ARE LAID

Committee of Grange and Reduction League Meets.

TWO MEASURES POSSIBLE

If Series of Subjects Cannot Be
Combined Suitably, Then Issues
Will Be Separated.

One initiative measure, combining a state income tax, repeal of the 1.2 millage and enforcing assessment of property at full cash value, with concessions for farm property, was the plan adopted yesterday by a committee of the state grange and the tax reduction league. The measure will be prepared in two or three weeks. If it is found that the whole subject, or series of subjects, cannot be suitably combined in one measure, then there will be two measures prepared for the initiative.

Those attending the meeting were J. C. Cooper, president of the tax reduction league; C. E. Spence, master of the state grange; J. D. Brown, W. H. Strayer and Chris Schubel.

Measure is submitted. So far as Mr. Cooper was concerned, he was satisfied to submit a measure repealing the millage tax and let it go at that. This plan failed to meet with general support from the others attending the meeting. Mr. Spence is head of the grange and of the grange committee which has been directed to prepare a state income tax to be initiated in November. The conference finally agreed tentatively on a combination measure which includes the income tax, amending the law assessing property by taking care of the institutions of higher learning.

The income tax is to be a graduated rate, ranging from one-half of 1 per cent up to 10 per cent. The minimum of exemption has been vaguely set as $2000 or $2500, the exact amount to be determined later. It may be dropped to $1000.

In the matter of assessment, the plan calls for assessment at full cash value, with the exception that farm property shall be assessed at one-third of the cash value. The plan to make assessments in full has teeth in it, according to Chris Schubel, who fathers this idea. It requires assessors to demand inventories of lands and personal property, and the attorney to start prosecutions against those who fail or refuse to co-operate with the assessor in arriving at the full cash value of property to be assessed.

While the repeal of the 1.2 mills for the institutions of higher learning is provided for in the omnibus bill, the old three-tenths of a mill for the university and four-tenths of a mill for the college is to be maintained.

New Plan is Explained.

The argument advanced is that with the property assessed at full cash value this reduced millage will produce about as much money as is now raised under the 1.2 mills. The idea is that Oregon, under the new valuation system, instead of being a billion-dollar state will be a three billion-dollar state.

Providing, after careful deliberation, it is discovered that all these subjects cannot well be worked into one measure, the committee will split them and propose two measures, one dealing with the income tax alone and the other with the assessments and repeal of the 1.2 millage.

BANDIT'S PAL IDENTIFIED

JOHN L. BURNS WITH SLAYER,
WITNESS DECLARES.

Itinerant Laborer Gives Testimony
in Trial for Murder of Railroad Special Agent.

With the same positive air as in the other two trials, Harry Patterson, itinerant laborer, pointed to John L. Burns yesterday in the courtroom of Circuit Judge Stapleton, identifying him as the companion of Dan Casey on the night Casey and another boxer bandit shot and killed James H. Phillips, railroad special agent, in a pistol duel in the Albina railroad yards.

Patterson was sitting on a flatcar, Mr. Patterson said, when he saw Casey and the other man passed him while the train was halted in the yards. A few moments later, several car lengths beyond and in the direction the man had been walking, the reports of revolver shots split the night. When Patterson and Herman G. Schneider, fellow agent with Phillips, reached the scene, Phillips was lying on the ground fatally wounded and his two assailants had escaped. Casey and Burns were arrested and charged with murder in the first degree. Casey was being tried yesterday for the third time, the first two juries disagreeing.

Witnesses in addition to Patterson who testified yesterday were: Mrs. Lulu J. Phillips, widow of the slain man; Marvin C. Faulk, deputy coroner; W. A. Miller, train dispatcher; Albert C. Murphy, conductor; Dr. Ivan M. Woolley, Dr. W. R. Hall and Herman G. Schneider. The direct examination of Patterson had concluded just before recess.

Deputy district attorneys Hammerly and Mowry are prosecuting Burns. D. C. Lewis and B. F. Mulkey, defending.

ROOSTER ATTACKS MAN

Fowl's Spurs Painfully and Seriously Injure Fancier.

VANCOUVER, Wash., April 10.—(Special.)—H. M. Eger, local fancier of blooded chickens, and owner of a large, ferocious Plymouth Rock rooster, was painfully and seriously injured by this bird last week. Mr. Eger went into the chicken yard to feed the chickens and was scattering grain when the rooster made a dash for him, and so quick was he that he spurred Mr. Eger's left hand with both spurs, catching the middle finger and the fleshy part of the hand close to the wrist. The spur in the latter wound pierced to the bone.

ROBERT McCROSKEY DEAD

Pioneer Banker, Educator and Ex-Washington Senator Passes.

GARFIELD, Wash., April 10.—Robert Crampton McCroskey, pioneer banker, educator and former state senator, died here at noon today of a paralytic stroke believed to have resulted from injuries sustained in a recent accident. The funeral arrangements had not been made to-night.

Mr. McCroskey had been active in civic affairs of the inland empire since 1887, when he settled in Whitman county. He had been a regent of Washington state college since 1897. He previously taught school in California, and for six years was superintendent of schools in Monterey county, in that state. At the time of his death, Mr. McCroskey still retained numerous banking interests in eastern Washington.

During the civil war Mr. McCros-

BABY CLINIC IS OPENED

IMPORTANCE OF BATHING IN PROPER WAY EMPHASIZED.

Early Influences Bearing on Irregularity of Teeth Also Are Explained to Mothers.

The importance of bathing small babies correctly was emphasized yesterday in the first clinic of well baby week by a demonstration which was supplemented by individual conferences with mothers who attended the meeting. A baby's bath was declared to be one of the most vital elements contributing to its health and mothers were urged to study the methods shown at the clinic. This subject will be repeated during the week as the opening topic of each day's program.

Early influences bearing on the irregularity of teeth were discussed by Dr. William C. Cavanaugh, who explained how crooked teeth originate and outlined some of the methods used to correct such faults. Dr. Cavanaugh said that a simple method to straighten protruding teeth was to have the child play a cornet or a trombone, or whistle. He added that as any protrusion of the lips tended to push the teeth back and lengthen the short upper lip. He said that oral deformities were seldom due to heredity and could usually be corrected.

"Make children chew to exercise their jaw muscles," he continued, "in order that their jaws will be developed sufficiently to make room for their second teeth. This should be done from the time they are two years old so that their jaws will be ready to take care of their permanent teeth. Many sets of inadequate teeth are caused by improperly developed jaws."

Arletta babies were examined in the afternoon clinic by Dr. Ivan Woolley, and the life-saving value of well baby clinics was explained by Dr. C. Ulysses Moore. This talk was followed by the daily health play, given by school children.

Today at the mothers' conference hour three things will be discussed. Bathing will be first. Then Miss A. E. Sprague, dietitian for Good Samaritan hospital, will give a demonstration in the preparation of foods. Individual interviews with public health nurses will conclude the hour. Dr. S. C. Kohn, psychologist from the court of domestic relations, will speak at 11 o'clock on the child's mental progress during the first five years. In the afternoon, Miss Elvora Thomson, baby specialist, will discuss habit training.

Disabled Veterans Open Bazaar.

Members of Portland chapter of the disabled veterans opened their free bazaar and "littery" dance at the armory last night and every afternoon and evening during the week the entertainment will continue. Articles that have been made by the disabled veterans in the local hospitals are for sale, in addition to merchandise of all kinds. The money derived from the proceeds of the affair will be converted to the use of the local chapter's relief fund.

GOSPEL CRUSADERS READY TO CONTINUE

Another Week of Strenuous Effort Begins.

LEADERS ARE CONFIDENT

Dr. Anderson Wins Support of
Other Churchmen; Week's Program
Opens at Pantages.

After a day of rest yesterday the united gospel crusade party is ready today to launch into another week of strenuous effort. Leaders of the crusade were greatly encouraged by the almost capacity congregation Sunday night, and believe that in spite of the many passion week services being held in all parts of the city, the attendance at the tabernacle services will be good throughout the week.

Dr. George Wood Anderson, leader of the crusade, appears to have been taken off the "probation roll" on which Methodists put all "new members," and has been taken into what might be termed "full membership," or full confidence, by Methodism of the city. Demonstration by the crusader that he could lead a great revival campaign without resorting to anything spectacular or vulgar has won for him strong support not only from the Methodists, but also from other denominations. Several active clergymen from other denominations are regular attendants at the tabernacle meetings who do not conflict with the hours of their own church services. Pastors of all denominations have been invited to occupy seats on the platform with the Methodist clergymen.

The first meeting of the week will be at 12:10 P. M. today at the Pantages theater, when Dr. Anderson will conduct the pre-Easter service arranged by the Portland Council of Churches. He will also speak at the same hour Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at similar services. Tonight the crusader will give his sermon, "The Empty Chair." Guests at tonight's service will be the Sunday schools from Central, Woodlawn, Patton, University Park, St. Johns, African Methodist Episcopal and First German Methodist churches. They will occupy reserved sections of the tabernacle.

Obituary.

Mrs. Elizabeth Mary Goble.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Sterling May, for Mrs. Elizabeth Mary Goble, who died Friday in this city. Mrs. Goble, who was 67 years old, crossed the plains from Minnesota in 1863 with her parents. She lived in Brownsville and in 1871 moved to Seattle. She was married to James M. Parker, of Washington, in 1884. After Mr. Parker's death, she was married to George W. Goble, and they moved to Tacoma. For the last seven years, Mrs. Goble had made her home in this city with her son, George M. Parker. She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Juergen Seattle, Mrs. Jack Hamer of Corvallis and Mrs. May, of this city, and three sons, George M. Parker and Harry C. Goble of this city and Carl A. Goble of Port Angeles, Wash.

Electrical and Industrial Efficiency

INDUSTRIAL efficiency is becoming more and more dependent upon scientific electrification. The success of electrification depends largely upon the responsibility and competence of the electrical contractor who does the job. Realizing the importance of safeguarding standards of electrical materials and service, the Pacific States Electric Company—the largest distributor of electrical merchandise on the Pacific Coast—distributes its materials and appliances through electrical engineers and contractors who are qualified as to their responsibility and technical competence.

These standard materials and appliances are identified by the "check" mark reproduced in this advertisement.

Cut-rate electrical contracting service is never economical. Employ a competent, responsible contractor. Look for the "check" mark on the materials and appliances.

CITY EXTENSION OPPOSED

Large Tracts of Unimproved Land
Held Cause of High Taxes.

Criticism of the policy of extending the city limits was voiced yesterday by C. G. Woodward, 149 East Seventy-ninth street, who said that large tracts of unimproved lands within the city limits on which no city taxes are paid are responsible for the high rates of taxation prevalent.

"Our city has grown to such proportions," Mr. Woodward said, "and contains so much unoccupied and unimproved land, that the cost of civic improvement is increased because the taxation must be borne by the plotted ground and the holders of the non-plotted escape. The only remedy I can see is to hold the city within its present limits, forcing those owning acreage and holding lots and tracts for speculation within the city limits to bear the same burden of taxation as the small home owner."

BRITISH RULE HELD BEST

India Favours Well Under Present
Control, Says Mr. Wheelwright.

People of India are much better off under the control of the British government than they possibly could be under independent rule, according to W. D. Wheelwright, president of the Pacific Export Lumber company, who addressed the members' forum of the Chamber of Commerce at the weekly luncheon yesterday. Mr. Wheelwright recently returned from India, and he gave a recital of conditions as he found them in that country. Captain Robert Dollar, head of the Robert Dollar Steamship company of San Francisco, was a guest of the Chamber at the luncheon and urged that Portland steamship companies own their ships.

45 AGE LIMIT IS FIXED

Prohibition Director Is Notified
Regarding Appointments.

J. A. Linville, federal prohibition director, received notification from Washington yesterday that in the future no appointments may be made in his department of men more than 45 years of age. This ruling does not affect men actually in the prohibition enforcement service at this time.

Further announcement of the rules was made necessary, Mr. Linville said, because the department was asked to waive it in too many instances. "It will have little bearing on my department," said Director Linville, "because no vacancies now exist, and I have no information to the effect that there will be any more appointments of prohibition agents on my staff."

Ask For Whiter Teeth

If you desire them—make this free test

You see glistening teeth on every side today—teeth you envy, maybe. Millions of people now employ a new teeth-cleaning method. They combat the film that dims the teeth.

That method will be sent you for the asking—a ten-day test. It will bring to you its delightful effects. Won't you ask?

Film makes teeth dingy

Most people find that well-brushed teeth discolor and decay. The reason lies in film, which old-way brushing does not effectively combat.

Film is that viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. It absorbs stains, making the teeth look dingy. It forms the basis of tartar.

It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Very few people who brush teeth daily have escaped those film-caused troubles.

Now ways to combat it

Dental science has for years sought ways to combat that film. It has found two methods and proved them effective. Authorities now advise them, and leading dentists everywhere urge their daily use.

A new-day tooth paste has been created, complying with modern requirements. These two methods are embodied in it. This tooth paste called Pepsodent—has brought to millions a new conception of clean teeth.

Its delightful effects

Pepsodent attacks that film, wherever it abides. It keeps teeth highly polished, so film less easily adheres.

It also multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise cling and form acids.

It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is Nature's neutralizer for acids which cause decay.

It brings all these effects twice daily, as modern authorities desire. Old teeth-cleaning methods bring just opposite effects.

Learn what a change it brings. Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

What you see and feel will quickly show you that this method is essential. Cut out the coupon so you won't forget this test.
