

PASTOR BLAMES SIN

Mr. Sheldon's withdrawal gives Mr. Dunn a clear field. The announcement came as a surprise to most people of the county, but not to those who knew of the repeated efforts made by Medford republicans to bring out an Ashland man for one of the legislative positions...

Environment Declared Only Excuse for Wrong.

The foregoing sentences were taken at random from the sermon of Dr. George Wood Anderson, delivered last night at the United Methodist tabernacle, East Third and Irving streets. His subject was "Conscience Awakened."

"You may believe anything you please about the Bible, about the church, about Christ, about God, about heaven and hell, about eternity that is before you, and while you are sinning your theory may be a wonderful comfort and consolation to your soul."

"Your theory may act as an anesthetic to deaden your conscience and you may seem pious and virtuous at the time while you are sinning in every man's life, when your conscience will awaken with the touch of God, and you will find that your theories about God and your soul will crumble to dust."

Dr. Anderson will conclude the week's campaign tonight at 7:30 o'clock with a sermon at the tabernacle on "Jonah, the Most Misrepresented Man in the Bible Testament." Sunday afternoon he will preach from the subject, "What Becomes of the Martyr's Blood?" and Sunday night on "Babylon."

This afternoon Walter R. Jenkins, musical director, and Dr. Anderson will meet with the children. Mr. Jenkins is training a junior choir, which will be one of the features of the night service before the crusade closes May 7.

Young Attend Service. Last night was Sunday school night and young people's night combined. Preceding the service were the leagues of the city paraded through the downtown streets, singing the crusade hymn. The parade terminated at the tabernacle where the Methodist churches which had not been invited to send delegations on the previous nights of the week will present last night and occupied reserved seats in the tabernacle.

To further the interests of the crusade, the Y. M. C. A. has arranged for a series of Easter sunrise prayer meetings to be held at 10 o'clock in the morning at the various Methodist churches of the city. Arrangements for these meetings are being made by Lawrence Snyder, district vice-president.

Mr. Snyder has also called a meeting for all the league's first vice-presidents for a meeting in the gray room of the Y. M. C. A. when important league matters will be discussed.

Interview Is Denied. Joseph R. Bowles, president of the Northwest Steel company of Portland, yesterday repudiated an alleged interview with Fred L. Boalt, published in the Oregonian, in which it was related by Mr. Boalt in a first-page editorial article that Mr. Bowles, on behalf of himself and his friends, had offered to buy $100,000 worth of advertising in the News if the News would support Senator I. L. Patterson for governor.

Mr. Bowles yesterday made the following statement: "I do not know Mr. Boalt's reasons for making the statement. I do not know Mr. Boalt's interview with me in his office. I will merely state that he did not have such an interview with me at any time. The article mentioned in the article nor on any other subject. Mr. Boalt can best explain why he made the statement. My object in requesting the publication of this statement was to clear my impression which might naturally be created by the article."

Mr. Boalt, in a signed article, said that Mr. Bowles called upon him at the office of the News and "went directly to the point" saying he had come on behalf of himself and friends to say that, "if it were possible with the policy of the News" to support Senator Patterson for governor, that "I and my friends will buy $100,000 worth of advertising in the News."

Mr. Boalt then went on to state how badly it made him feel thus to be offered what he considered a sort of bribe; that he had been thinking over the situation himself and had thought that Senator Patterson and Governor Dixon (also a candidate) were both good men and he had been unable to choose between them. However, he said, he had offered by Mr. Bowles, he said, "I am not angry at him. Rather, I am grateful, for he has helped me make up my mind."

Medford Man Withdraws. Ashland Candidate Alone in Field for Senate Nomination. MEDFORD, Or., April 14.—(Special.)—Political circles in Jackson county were electrified with astonishment over the announcement made today by Ben C. Sheldon of Medford that he had decided not to enter the race for republican nomination for the state senate with ex-County Judge George W. Dunn of Ashland. Mr. Sheldon was the only candidate in the race until several days ago. Mr. Dunn entered his own candidacy.

ROAD CONTRACTS

Called to the witness stand this afternoon by Attorney-General Rankin in an effort to identify receipts for supplies alleged to have been taken from the prison storehouse.

The former warden was asked to identify the names of collectors signed to the receipts in question. He said he could only remember that the receipts were given to a man who he thought was named Horsey.

Commission Will Be Organized and Debtor Nations Advised of Pending Negotiations.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 14.—(Special.)—A bill for the creation of a commission to investigate the various properties owned by the United States in foreign countries, and to advise the government of the best means of disposing of them, was introduced in the House of Representatives today.

After opening 134 bids yesterday, the state highway commission last night awarded work for 60 miles of road at an aggregate cost of $754,720. In addition to the roads, the commission awarded bridge jobs amounting to $48,856.

A number of road jobs have been held up until the counties which are interested can be conferred with. This morning the commission will resume work on the bids for the bridge and open bids for more work.

Practically all of yesterday was consumed by the commission in opening bids. The largest number ever received at a session was presented, and to open and read the bids from morning until late in the afternoon.

Awards Announced. The commission was unable to announce the awards until night. The work disposed of yesterday and the jobs to be awarded today will clean up the work against Ralph E. Williams, incumbent, yesterday. Mr. Fithian came to Oregon in 1900 and was engaged in the shoe business.

In his platform he says that if elected he will loyally support the principles of the republican party, and will endeavor to do his best to insure the election of candidates of the party nominated at the republican caucus.

He favors a nation-wide presidential primary, giving the voters of all parties an equal vote in the election of their respective national conventions, and he favors equal rights for women within the republican party.

Mr. Fithian participated in the organization of the state chamber of commerce and had charge of three counties as field manager in two library loan drives. He is a member of the Progressive Business Men's club, past president of the Kiwanis, member of the Sons of Veterans, a member of the Y. M. C. A., and a member of the Methodist church. He is married and has one child.

Tomlinson Would Be Judge. Chief Deputy City Attorney in Race for Nomination. Henry M. Tomlinson, chief deputy city attorney, is the latest republican to file for the nomination for circuit judge, department No. 8. Mr. Hewitt was admitted to the bar in 1882, attended public schools and later took a general course at the University of Oregon. He attended the Nebraska law school and Columbia University law school in New York, graduating in 1907, in which year he was admitted to the bar in Oregon. In 1910 he came to Portland and continued in his profession.

Oliver B. Huston Candidate. Attorney Seeks Seat in House of State Legislature. Oliver B. Huston, attorney, filed yesterday as candidate for representative in the legislature in the republican primary. He advocates in his platform: "Strong system of public schools; revision of present automobile license law; abolition of land ownership by aliens in Oregon; honest effort to lower confederate taxes and strict enforcement of the same; and the funds during the period of economic readjustment."

Huston was born in Washington county in 1887. He has practiced law since 1914. During the war he was in the army for 18 months, and in the aviation committee of the American Legion.

State Senate Seats Sought. William C. Bristol and Harry L. Corbett yesterday filed candidates for the state senate in the Multnomah district. Mr. Bristol has filed for the long term, a seat which John Gill has held since 1914. Mr. Corbett has filed for the unexpired term of the late Wilson T. Hume. Messrs. Bristol and Corbett will appear before the nominating committee in response to a petition signed by prominent business men. An effort was made to induce Mr. Corbett not to run by backing another candidate for the long term.

Riddle Man Enters Race. ROSEBURG, Or., April 14.—(Special.)—Dr. S. B. Riddle, candidate for principal owner of the Riddle State bank at Riddle, Or., tonight telegraphed the secretary of state that he would be a candidate for the legislature in the republican primary. He has practiced law for 17 years and is a progressive business man. He advocates elimination of the tax on the earnings of corporations and also the development of the rural districts of the state.
