BEAUTIFUL and impressive was the wedding of Miss Catharine Burnside and Edgar E. Piper, which took place last night in Westminster Presbyterian church in the presence of an assemblage of friends and relatives of the young couple. Dr. E. H. Pence, pastor of the church, officiated. Bristle lilies, hydrangeas and palms were used in decoration and tall candles lighted the marriage altar. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Burnside, was stately in her robe of white tulle, made quite simply and becomingly. Her filmy veil was gracefully arranged with a head dress of silver leaves. The bouquet was a shower of delicate pink roses and lilies of the valley. J. Hutchings played the wedding march. Mr. Burnside gave his daughter in marriage. The bride's attendants were two pretty little maids—Patricia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Cartwright, and Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Doyle. The former was in white and the latter in pink. Their costumes were of the Kate Greenaway type, quaint and charming. On their heads were wreaths of flowers and they carried wreaths. Robert Burnside, a brother of the bride, was Mr. Piper's attendant.

The guests were ushered by George Huland, Robert L. Sabin Jr., Johnston Wilson, Arthur Geary, Everett Fen-ton and Jamison Parker.

After the church ceremony there was a small reception for relatives and close friends who were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Burnside. A buffet supper was served at an attractively appointed table. Among the guests were several from out of town. Of these Mrs. Lyman Hoge Black and Miss Agnes McDonald, both of Seattle, were among the sorority sisters of the bride who were interesting visitors. The bride is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma, of which national women's fraternity she is an officer. She is a graduate of the University of Washington and is a member of Phi Beta Kappa. During the war the bride did noteworthy work as a representative of the national industrial committee of the Young Women's Christian Association. She inaugurated and carried forward recreational work among the girls employed in munition plants in the south and east. Since then she has carried on her interests among the girls of the Y. W. C. A. and among the Campfire girls. Last night among the guests at her wedding there were several of these young girls, for whom a section was reserved. Last summer and the year before the bride assisted Miss Dorothy Elliott at Camp Willapa—a girls' outing camp which was attended by a large number of young girls of Portland.

Mr. Piper is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar E. Piper. He is a graduate of Reed college. During the war Mr. Piper was commissioned a lieutenant in the aviation division of the service and was overseas about two years. He is now associated with the Columbia-Pacific Shipping company. He has written a number of interesting magazine and news articles.

After a wedding trip of about ten days Mr. and Mrs. Piper will be with the bride's parents for a short time until the completion of their new home in Eastmoreland.

Household Problems

by Lillian Tingle

WOODLAND, Wash., April 11.—Dear Miss Tingle: Will you please help me with a few problems? I have read your column and find it very interesting. I am a housewife and I am sure that I am not alone in my problems.

(1) What kind of bread does one eat to avoid the fattening effects of white bread, and a recipe for one?

(2) Are Graham bread and muffins, buttermilk and eggs fattening?

(3) Will you print a list of things one can eat while dieting? I should be very grateful to you if you will do this as it is imperative that I lose some of my surplus flesh. It is affecting my heart.

thank you for what help you have given me and what I hope to receive in the future. Your columns are a great help. Hoping for an early reply. Very truly yours, MRS. S. P. T.

A NUMBER of suggestions concerning reduction diets have recently been given. I am sorry if you did not see them. The important thing is to avoid "frank" diets of all kinds and all patent-medicine "reducers." You need to understand food values. Get Mrs. Rose's "Feeding the Family" and study the food values given there, especially the chapter on the overweight women. Before starting on any very strenuous reduction it might be well to consult a competent physician.

1. Any bread may be fattening if you eat much of it. Best avoid bread and butter for a while.
2. They are likely to prove so, though they may be used in a limited quantity in a reduction diet if the general caloric value is kept low. Best omit them at first.
3. See Mrs. Rose's book. A list is of little value unless you understand food values. In general, unless there are special reasons against it, you might begin for a week or so with a diet of cooked fresh vegetables and fruits, avoiding potatoes, bananas and sweet dried fruits. Take a little milk (not more than one pint, preferably less) with this, and about one tablespoon butter a day. Later you can arrange a less restricted diet with the aid of the book. Don't forget that the results will be better if you combine diet with exercise, being very careful not to overdo at first. Remember also that a gradual but steady reduction is much safer and more permanent than a hurried reduction. A sudden reduction may be dangerous and the overweight is apt to return.

PORTLAND, Or., March 3.—Dear Mrs. Tingle: Will you please give a recipe for a frothy sauce, the old-fashioned kind, to serve with steamed puddings. Thank you. MRS. V. M.

I hope the following is what you want. The real old-fashioned kind had sherry in place of orange juice so it will not taste just the same as the frothy you have in mind.

Frothy sauce (for plain steamed puddings or plain cereals cooked in milk)—Beat one-half cup butter to a cream. Beat in one cup brown sugar, one egg yolk and one-half cup hot water. Beat in one stiffly beaten egg white. Flavor with orange juice and rind, lemon, vanilla, mapleine or nutmeg as preferred. Serve hot with steamed puddings or plain baked puddings.

Man Kicks Wife and Is Put in Jail.

MONTESSANO, Wash., April 18.—(Special)—It cost Ray Delaney six days in jail to kick his wife, who, not satisfied with this measurement of punishment, says she will seek a divorce. Delaney was arrested by Sheriff Gibson and Deputy McIntosh at Copalis last night on complaint of Mrs. Delaney. He declared he was drunk and did not know what he was doing. Sentence was passed by Justice Bignold.

Olympia Street to Be Closed.

OLYMPIA, Wash., April 18.—(Special)—Paving of East Bay avenue between Fourth street and Priest Point park will be begun at the park end May 1, Mayor Bowen announced today. The street will be closed from that date until the paving is completed. The announcement was made to give those planning on building construction during the summer opportunity to get their materials on the ground before the street is closed.

Road Camp Is Opened.

HOOD RIVER, Or., April 18.—(Special)—Contractors who will build the link of the Mount Hood Loop highway from Booth hill to the Oregon national forest boundary, a distance of 12.5 miles, are now making camp near Mount Hood stores. Quarters will be established for more than 100 men. Contractors engaged on the Hood River-Booth hill section are busy on rock excavation just south of the city. The Booth hill unit, begun last fall, is well under way and will be passable by fall, it is expected.
