

ARMED BAND RAIDS PAPER IN IRELAND

Type Is Destroyed, but Machinery Is Spared.

10,000 COPIES RUINED

Attack Believed to Have Been Made to Prevent Publication of Arthur Griffith's Address.

SLIGO, Ireland, April 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—Armed men raided the offices of the Sligo Champion today and smashed the type for this week's issue, apparently in order to prevent publication of the newspaper's report of Sunday's meeting, when Arthur Griffith, president of the Gaelic League, delivered an address in favor of the Free State treaty.

The raiders tore up 10,000 partly printed copies of the paper, but spared the machinery.

BELFAST, April 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—Firing again was in progress in Belfast, early today. A sergeant in the special constabulary was the first casualty of the day.

Two deaths in the hospital last night and the death of Andrew McCarty, one of yesterday's wounded, raised the Easter list to 12.

Three men who were discovered looting in the Falls district yesterday received a shock when they were tried and sentenced by republican police to be tarred and feathered.

The sentence was duly carried out and the thieves were marched down the street labeled "Looters beware" and accompanied by a joyous shouting crowd. The arrival of the military ended the thieves' ordeal.

BELFAST, April 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Catholic protection committee tonight sent the following telegram to Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary for the colonies, and Austin Chamberlain, home secretary, leader in the house of commons:

"Belfast Catholics are being gradually but certainly exterminated by murder, assault and starvation. Their homes are being burned, streets are being swept by troops and life is unbearable. The military forces are inadequate. The special police are hostile.

"The northern government either is culpable or inefficient. Your government saved the Armenians and Bulgarians. Belfast Catholics are getting worse treatment. The last two days here have been appalling."

TAFT EXTENDS COURTESY

UNUSUAL RECOGNITION GIVEN OREGON ATTORNEYS.

Case Set for Monday Resect to Accommodate W. W. Banks, Arthur Moulton, W. H. Moore.

THE OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, D. C., April 21.—An unusual courtesy was extended to W. W. Banks, Arthur Moulton, Portland attorneys, and W. H. Moore, assistant attorney-general of Oregon, by Chief Justice Taft today. These attorneys came to Washington to argue the case of Olin vs. Keimiller in the supreme court of the United States. They found their case set for next Monday, but inasmuch as they have come 3000 miles to argue it and are both anxious to return to Oregon at the earliest possible moment, Chief Justice Taft ordered the case on for a hearing today, allowing 20 minutes' argument on each side.

The case involves the validity of the act of 1909 of the Oregon legislature providing that only citizens of the United States can hold commercial fishing licenses.

Mr. Banks is running for state senator in Multnomah county and Mr. Moulton for circuit judge, and both naturally were anxious to return to Oregon where they were interested spectators when the naval personnel question was settled by the house on Tuesday.

Counsel for Olin contended that under a compact between Washington and Oregon, aliens who enjoyed such fishing rights prior to 1919 were exempt from the operations of a law enacted that year by Oregon requiring them to obtain licenses. The court was urged by counsel for the state officials to affirm the decisions of the United States district court for Oregon and the circuit court of appeals for the 9th circuit, which held that aliens acquired no irrevocable fishing rights under the compact, but were subject to such regulations as the states might by law impose.

Fiance of Miss McCormick Hopes to Obtain Rockefeller's Consent.

ZURICH, Switzerland, April 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—Max Oser, former Swiss cavalry officer and fiance of Miss Mathilde McCormick, daughter of Harold P. McCormick of Chicago, and grand-daughter of John D. Rockefeller, is making arrangements for his marriage to Miss McCormick the latter part of June at Basel. Although Mr. Rockefeller's consent to the marriage has not yet been obtained, Oser's friends here express the hope that it finally will be forthcoming.

Oser is negotiating for the sale of the horses he used in his riding school here and also is about to purchase a large farm near Geneva. The couple, it is expected, will spend their honeymoon in Switzerland, later taking up their residence on the farm.

CONFERENCE TAKES LONG STEP FORWARD

Russian and German Replies Are Encouraging.

ATMOSPHERE IS CLEARED

Genoa Gathering Now Back to Main Business, Peace With Russia, and Outlook Is Bright.

BY ARNO BOSCH-FLEUROT.
(Copyright by the New York Evening Post, Inc. Published by Arrangement.)

GENOA, April 21.—(Special Cable.)—The conference took a long jump forward today. George Chicherin presented Russia's reply to the allied demands showing he is willing to discuss all of them except judicial reorganization and other matters infringing on his country's sovereignty. The political commission at once started on the details and before night had cleared away some of the doubtful problems arising from Chicherin's letter.

War debts were practically set aside, the Russians agreeing to cancel their counter-claims for damages resulting from interventions. Interest on the pre-war debt also was eliminated.

As the pre-war debt is thus accepted in principle, this phase of the Russian question boils down to details as to how to compensate foreigners whose property was confiscated. This comes before the commission of experts tomorrow. The final settlement of the problem of recognition and the form of credit to be accorded will be discussed.

Atmosphere Is Cleared.
Thus the conference has gotten back to its main business—peace with Russia. Having received the Russian and German notes, the atmosphere of the conference now is relieving attention.

The Russian note was more reasonable than was expected. The German reply to the allied reprimand was also more gentle than was looked for but, explained this morning, it was originally framed in more definite language. As the Germans cooled off, they realized that a sharp reply would gain them nothing and that interest also has passed to the Russians.

Chicherin in his note presupposes recognition, but emphasizes the necessity of making a loan to Russia. On that point the conference is going to turn in the immediate future.

New Treaty In Sight.
The British are inclined to emphasize the necessity for coming to a new treaty, but the move will be made when the confiscated property, about which the French are still firm. It presents a much less complicated problem than the loan, as it concerns a matter of the past, and seven experts on Russia who began sittings this afternoon can probably come to an agreement.

However, if the conference moves rapidly, Genoa will within a fortnight produce a new peace treaty with Russia, and the move will be made when the confiscated property, about which the French are still firm. It presents a much less complicated problem than the loan, as it concerns a matter of the past, and seven experts on Russia who began sittings this afternoon can probably come to an agreement.

Both Declare They Attend University to Get Education, "Not to Follow School Traditions."

ANN ARBOR, Mich., April 21.—With Louis T. Orr of Chicago standing firm in his determination to refuse to wear the freshman cap and facing possible expulsion from the University of Michigan as a result, a second freshman, Jesselyn Van Tyne of Ann Arbor, professor's son, has joined Orr in the fight on college traditions.

Van Tyne, like Orr, has declared he is attending the university "to obtain an education; not to follow traditions of the school."

The underclass conduct committee, composed of sophomores, has asked Orr's expulsion from the school and it is rumored it will consider Van Tyne's case. Officials of the university have made no decision. In the absence of a decision, the committee has recommended that Orr be expelled.

Orr's father, a Chicago attorney, is expected to arrive here today to support his son.

Van Tyne is the son of Professor Claude H. Van Tyne of the university history department.

SINGER'S SUIT ANSWERED
Lydia Lypkowska Quit When Pay Rise Refused, Says Producer.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 21.—H. W. Saville, theatrical producer, today filed an answer to the suit of Lydia Lypkowska, soloist, with the Chicago Opera company, in which he alleged that the prima donna quit his cast when she was refused an increase of $25 a week. The singer sued to recover $2500 said to have been her contract of $1000 a week for 30 weeks. She asserted that she was dismissed by Saville without notice.

Saville contends that he did not give her permission to sing with other companies, when she signed the contract with him. The defendant said he owed the singer one week's salary.

SCIENTISTS IN SESSION

Baffling Problems Come Up at Convention.

Why Clocks Run Faster at Night Than During Day Is One Solution That Is Sought.

PHILADELPHIA, April 21.—Scientists gathered from all sections of the United States continued today to wrestle with baffling problems in the fields of chemistry, astronomy and physics at the second session of the American Philosophical society.

Charles F. Brush of Cleveland related experiments conducted by him showing that equal quantities of zinc and bismuth have slightly different weights. Heretofore, scientists have agreed and it has not been doubted that equal masses of all substances have equal weights. The discrepancy, Professor Brush declared, probably is due to the fact that gravitation does not act with equal force on all kinds of matter.

Other speakers at today's session were E. E. Barnard, University of Chicago; R. H. Tucker, Lick Observatory; Karl T. Compton, Princeton university; J. H. Morecroft, Columbia university; Herbert E. Ives, New York, and P. LeComte du Noy of the Rockefeller institute.

RADIO SENDS ARBOR TALK

SECRETARY WALLACE URGES GROWING OF TREES.

Experts Declare Speech "Reached More People Than Any Human Voice Since Time Began."

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 21.—An Arbor day speech delivered tonight by radio by Secretary Wallace of the department of agriculture was declared by experts to have "reached more people than any human voice since time began."

The speech, a plea to make the growing and producing of trees a matter of national concern, was transmitted from the government stations at Arlington, San Diego, San Francisco, the great lakes station and by all the Radio Relay league and other broadcasting stations. Arrangements also had been made wherever possible to have Boy Scouts who received the message to deliver it to the mayors of their respective cities tomorrow, the golden anniversary of Arbor day.

In his message Secretary Wallace paid a tribute to J. Sterling Morton, founder of "Arbor day" and sounded a warning that "unless as a people we have thought to our need for forests we shall suffer an increasing economic and social loss."

The country's forests, a half century ago, thought inexhaustible, he declared, have been retreating steadily before fire and ax, and a vast area of denuded and idle land has resulted. This he said, can be restored to usefulness only through tree planting.

Accuser Takes Stand
Investigator Heard in Suit Against Ex-Warden.

Mushrooms and Lobsters Alleged to Have Been Used at Home and Charged to Prison Upkeep.

HELENA, Mont., April 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—T. H. MacDonald, upon whose prison investigation report the state filed suit for an accounting against ex-Warden Conley, alleging misappropriations and inebriation of more than $300,000, this afternoon took the stand as a witness in Judge Horsky's court to tell of supplies declared to have been taken by the defendant from the penitentiary storehouse.

MacDonald, who is an assistant counsel for the state in the present action, was called by Attorney-General Rankin to tell of cases of mushrooms and lobsters alleged to have been used by Conley at his home and charged to the prison maintenance. Following a direct examination of but a few minutes the witness was turned over to Colonel C. B. Nolan, chief counsel for the defense, who began cross-examination which may continue several days.

Colonel Nolan told the court, in answer to an objection, he intended to go into MacDonald's report thoroughly to show the "bias and prejudice of witness."
