RALPH BUDD, railroad man and civil engineer, who left Portland in 1912? Mr. Budd has advanced rapidly and is now president of the great Northern Railway company, with headquarters at St. Paul, Minn.

He has held this position since October, 1913.

Mr. Budd came to the northwest in the spring of 1910 as chief engineer of the Oregon Trunk railway in a charge of construction. Before coming here he was chief engineer of the Panama railroad and supervised the relocation of that line 50 miles across the isthmus.

In the fall of 1910 he was appointed chief engineer of the Spokane, Portland & Seattle railway, the Oregon Electric railway, the United Railways and the Inland Empire railroad companies, with headquarters in this city. During his last year here he planned and carried out the Spokane, Portland & Seattle terminal developments in East Portland.

Then he was called to St. Paul as assistant to the president of the Great Northern and later made executive vice-president, thence advancing to president.

He has many friends in Portland and the state, who are following his career with interest.

DOG DROWNS WILDCAT

Collie Seizes and Holds Fleeing Opponent Under Water.

MARSHFIELD, Or., April 27.—(Special.)—Lad is a collie dog owned by Herman DeLong of Four Mile, a rural district south of Bamum, where he is boss of the woods. Lad killed enough raccoons during the past winter to bring his owner $50 for their pelts.

Not long ago Lad came upon and surprised a large wildcat before the cat could reach a tree and gave it a fast and furious fight. The cat, however, slipped from Lad's hold, plunged into a creek and tried to escape. The dog plunged into the water, seized the cat by the neck and held it under water until it drowned.
