

MR. McARTHUR HOME TO OPEN CAMPAIGN

Navy Personnel Fight Delays Return to Oregon.

BONUS BILL CRITICISED

Oregon Representative to Be Own Manager in Conducting Drive for Renomination.

C. N. McArthur, representative of the third Oregon district, arrived from Washington, D. C., last night in order to be on the ground during the last three weeks of the primary campaign. He will devote his time exclusively to his fight for renomination in the republican primaries and will be his own manager. He has not decided on any definite campaign plans, he said, but after consulting friends today will determine whether he will make any public speeches or make a general canvass among the voters.

"My return to Oregon has been delayed on account of the navy personnel fight," said Mr. McArthur. "I wished to come home two weeks ago, but felt that it was my duty to stay in Washington and my influence toward amending the naval appropriation bill to the end that our enlisted personnel be maintained according to the treaty agreement."

Defense Fight Aided.

"The 'little navy' men who control the appropriations committee, were bent on reducing the personnel to $7,000 on the plea of economy. They were 'penny wise and pound foolish' and their position was not sustained by the majority of the house. I was glad to be one of the active participants in the fight for an adequate navy, for I felt that I was really doing something in the interest of national defense which was far more important to the country than my campaign for renomination."

"Now that I am on the ground I expect to devote myself actively and aggressively to my campaign. I have no quarrel with or personal feeling against the gentlemen who are opposing me and if any of them is nominated May 19, I will do my best to bring about his election in November. I do not intend to resort to personalities, but to confine myself strictly to the issues of the campaign."

"Ever since I can remember new candidates for congress from Oregon have come forward with the plea that the members of congress from this state are ineffective and do not get results for our projects and enterprises. These charges are being made during the present campaign and although I cannot admit that the test of congressional service is an ability to secure local appropriations, I shall, at the proper time, give official facts and figures which will show conclusively that Oregon gets a fair share of federal expenditures for roads, irrigation, rivers and harbors, fisheries and other projects, and on occasion to investigate this subject before leaving Washington and was surprised at the amount of federal money expended in Oregon during recent years."

Bonus Bill Criticised.

"Of course, expect to be criticised because of my vote on the bonus bill, but I am perfectly willing to allow the voters of the district to decide whether or not I voted right on this question. The United States treasury is in no condition to assume large additional obligations at this time, and the so-called bonus bill which recently passed the house is an indefensible measure—nothing less than a 'paw-brokers' bill."

WINE AND BEER WANTED

SANITY LEAGUE TO CONDUCT CAMPAIGN IN PORTLAND.

Personal Liberty Basis of Move Launched Here to Organize Light Drink Crusade.

Voters in this city soon may be asked whether or not they wish a return of wine and beer. F. George Walker, vice-president of the Sanity League of America, and A. N. Jackson, the executive secretary, are in Portland and have established temporary headquarters in the Imperial hotel. They say the league they represent does not seek a return of the liquor, but rather a return to sanity in matters of personal liberty. An extensive campaign for membership in the league will begin immediately, after which the league will petition the city council to put the matter up to the people.

The sanity league of America is a co-operative organization incorporated under the laws of California. The league is opposed to "blue laws" of all kinds.

Both Mr. Walker and Mr. Jackson showed credentials and papers testifying to the growth of the league in this country, and giving much of the credit for its progress to the work of such individuals as Representative Kahala, Representative Nolan, U. S. Grant Jr., John D. Spreckels, Judge O. N. Hilton, Father Jerome S. Ricard, General O. M. Terry, Warren C. Crane, Crawford H. Ellis and many other prominent men who compose the advisory board of the league.

"Please make this very clear," said Mr. Walker, "that we are not tied with the liquor interests on one hand nor with any political party on the other. We stand in the middle of the road, calling to all our countrymen to restore our land to sanity, reason and normalcy. The league is thoroughly organized and permanent and it intends to fight to the finish, for the majority of rationally thinking people are with it."

BERRY OUTLOOK BRIGHT

Marion County Crops to Be Large and Prices Satisfactory.

SALEM, Or., April 27.—(Special.)—Reports received here from the rural districts indicate that the loganberry and strawberry crops in Marion county not only will be larger this season than last year, but that the prices will be more satisfactory than at any time since the close of the war.

Last year there were 12,000,000 pounds of loganberries on the hills near Salem, of which 9,000,000 pounds were harvested. The remainder of the crop was left to rot because of the low prices offered by the buyers.

This year, it is estimated, there will be 15,000,000 pounds of loganberries. The strawberry crop probably will aggregate 1,000,000 pounds.

SOVIET DELEGATION READY TO GO HOME

Genoa Meet May Proceed Sans Russians.

ALLIES WILL ACT TODAY

Future of Economic Conference Probably Depends Upon Terms Submitted to Slavs.

BY SAMUEL SPERWACK. (Copyright by the New York Times. Published by Arrangement.)

GENOA, April 27.—(Special cable.)—The Russian delegation to the economic conference is prepared to go home. Whatever it does depends on the nature of the allied terms to be submitted tomorrow. This afternoon Lloyd George conferred with the Japanese and Italians at the Villa Alberti as to the tenor the document will take. Two conflicting stories resulted. One was that the allies drew a document unacceptable to the Russians, with the suggestion that the soviets postpone negotiations for several months and then resume them. The other was that the document is to be conciliatory in tone with the offer of credits extended and calculated to encourage further negotiations.

Reliable information tonight, however, indicated that the allies will pursue the former course. At British headquarters it was said that the conference was ready to proceed without the Russians or Germans.

Meanwhile, Poland has requested of the allies a reconsideration of her eastern boundaries as fixed by the signatories of the treaty of Versailles. This is one of the maracas mentioned in Lloyd George's speech to the American and British correspondents.

Japan Against Soviets.

Poland has little love for Russia and she is ready now to take a more active part in the conference. Similarly, Japan, previously a silent observer, has thrown herself into the discussion of the Russian problem. Despite the attitude of the Tokio advisory council, Japan has maintained her most antagonistic attitude toward the soviets as France.

George Tchitcherine, the Russian foreign minister, spent the day discussing the situation with his colleagues. In an interview tonight he said Russia was unable to abandon her principles and must have a loan. He was somewhat about Russian headquarters was one of anxious waiting.

With no likelihood of a loan—as these dispatches have pointed out—and with Russia interested only in a loan, there is little hope of a settlement. Certain powers which are especially anxious for a Russian loan, such as the United States, will be satisfied with credits instead. This is a technical question, but up to this time the allies and his colleagues have insisted that if there is no loan there will be no conference, so far as Russia is concerned.

Little Yet Accomplished.

The representatives of the soviets lament the fact that the conference has not produced anything as yet. The Russo-German treaty, in their view, is independent of the conference. An official Russian communique emphasizes that Russia has no desire to break up the conference, but must stick to her principles.

"Russia," says the communique, "is the one nation that really lives up to the Cannes resolution."

While the allies' note is not yet ready, rumors concerning it are thicker than soldiers in the martial city. Whatever the nature of the note, this much was made clear in interviews on all sides.

The allies are prepared, though they do not like the idea of doing so, to proceed without Russia. The Russians, though they do not like the idea, are prepared to return to Moscow empty-handed.

COW BURNED SEVERELY

Police Shoot Animal After Blaze at J. H. McCully Home.

A family cow tied in a barn at the rear of the home of J. H. McCully, 274 East Twenty-ninth street, was burned so badly when the barn was destroyed by fire early yesterday that she had to be killed by the police. The fire was believed to have been started by a tramp who was seen in that neighborhood Wednesday night. The barn was a total loss.

A coffee roaster in the plant of the Dwight Edwards company, Front and Couch streets, caught fire yesterday morning but the flames were extinguished by Frank Howell, manager, before fire apparatus arrived. The damage was slight.

A fire of undetermined origin started in a clothes closet of the home of J. A. Smith, 399 East Forty-sixth street North, Wednesday night and caused damage of approximately $800 before it was extinguished. Members of the family were not at home at the time. The flames were first seen by neighbors who turned in the fire alarm. The flames spread from the clothes closet to several adjoining rooms.

"DEATH WATCH" ENACTED

Jurors Play Part of Alleged Slayer in Burch Trial.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 27.—The "death watch" claimed by the prosecutor to have been kept by Arthur C. Burch on J. Belton Kennedy, for whose murder Burch is now on trial, was re-enacted today with the father, J. D. Kennedy, taking the part of his slain son and members of the jury in turn taking the part of Burch.

In his office in the Laughlin building in Broadway the father sat at a desk occupied by his son prior to his death August 5 last, while in a little hotel room directly across the street one by one the jurors sat in a chair near the window and looked across at the father. At Burch's former trial and that of Mrs. Madeline Oberchain, co-defendant, in both of which juries disagreed, and at the change the prosecution introduced testimony in an effort to show that Burch rented this room for the purpose of keeping a watch on Kennedy and for nearly two weeks preceding Kennedy's death he sat at the window for hours every day.

The jury was taken to the hotel when court convened for the afternoon session. From the hotel they were taken to the Laughlin building and from Kennedy's office window looked across at the windows of the hotel room. Thomas Haley, proprietor of the hotel, sat in the chair next to the window of the room formerly occupied by Burch.

ESTATE BEGINS EVIDENCE

DESCAMPS' FRIEND DENIES WOMAN IS WIDOW.

Children Support Mother's Claim That Missing Man Was Known as Stepfather.

Hector Moulmal, administrator of the estate of Ernest Descamps and his lifelong friend, testified on the stand in the court of Circuit Judge Tawvel yesterday that he had always known the woman who is claiming to be established as the legal widow of Descamps was his housekeeper, that Descamps never referred to her as his wife, or told his friend that he was married.

Mr. Moulmal was the first witness to be called on behalf of the estate, which is contesting the claim of Jeanne Grivols.

Jean Hulard and Maurice Hulard, sons of the woman, her first marriage, testified along lines similar to the assertions of their mother, averring that they always called Descamps "papa," it being his own desire, and that they always looked upon him as their stepfather.

Tom Coleman, police inspector, testified he had known Descamps for 20 years and that in 1913 Descamps had introduced the woman to him as his wife. He took a more active part in the conference. Similarly, Japan, previously a silent observer, has thrown herself into the discussion of the Russian problem. Despite the attitude of the Tokio advisory council, Japan has maintained her most antagonistic attitude toward the soviets as France.

DESIRE FOR RUPTURE DENIED BY SOVIET

Delegates Are Discontented With Powers' Attitude.

SECRECY IS CRITICISED

Other Nations Busy Preparing Document on What They Will Do for Russia, What Is Expected.

GENOA, April 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—While the powers today were preparing the details of a document informing the soviet delegates what the powers expected of them and what the powers, on their part, were ready to do for Russia, the Russian delegates issued an open statement whereby they expressed their discontent because they were not being kept informed of what the powers intended to do.

Foreign correspondents stated that Russia would protect her sovereign rights and contended that she alone was following the fundamental ideas of the Cannes resolutions touching the questions of reciprocity and economic reconstruction. The text of the statement follows:

"After the meeting of the experts at which the Russian viewpoint on the first seven articles of the London experts' report was presented in detail, no news has come to us concerning the attitude which the powers will pursue."

"Russia has not the least desire for a rupture, but she is determined to safeguard the principle of her sovereign rights and the principle of reciprocity, which is the only possible basis of a community of peoples and economic reconstructions."

"Such indeed constitutes the fundamental idea of the Cannes resolutions, and we believe that it is Russia alone which remains faithfully faithful to the Cannes resolutions in all their essentials."

"The document of the powers which is to be handed to the Russian delegates was considered today by Premier Lloyd George, Signor Schanzer, M. Barthou, M. Jaques and Baron de Selys-Longchamps at the villa. It will be submitted to the sub-commission on Russian affairs tomorrow."

Text Is Cause of Interest.

Immense interest is concentrated in the probable text of Lloyd George's non-aggressive pact, several drafts of which have been drawn. It is understood that the idea emanated from Roumania, but several delegates gave it as their opinion that there seemed little chance of its being incorporated.

As the conference assumes broader aspects certain indications come to the surface that two distinct political groups, being contradictory, are difficult to reconcile, are surely spreading throughout Europe.

Some Statesmen Speak Openly.

One is internationalism, which the thinkers of both countries have been preaching; the other is nationalism. While few statesmen dare to speak openly of the possibility of attaining some form of federation of the European states, it is learned that many of them secretly possess ambitions to bring about harmony between nationalism and internationalism, and the basis of this new European construction could be the principles of equity, justice and the fellowship of man.

MAJOR NOT IN OIL VENTURE.

ALBANY, Or., April 27.—(Special.)—P. A. Young, mayor of Albany, has received a letter from a man in Eugene advising that he had written and invested in an oil venture in Texas on the assurance of the salesman that the mayor of Albany had invested heavily in the enterprise. The Eugene man said he never had been able to hear from the company since and wanted Mayor Young, whom he believed to be a heavy stockholder, to let him know how things were progressing. The mayor never before had heard of the enterprise.

Highway Grading Declared Good.

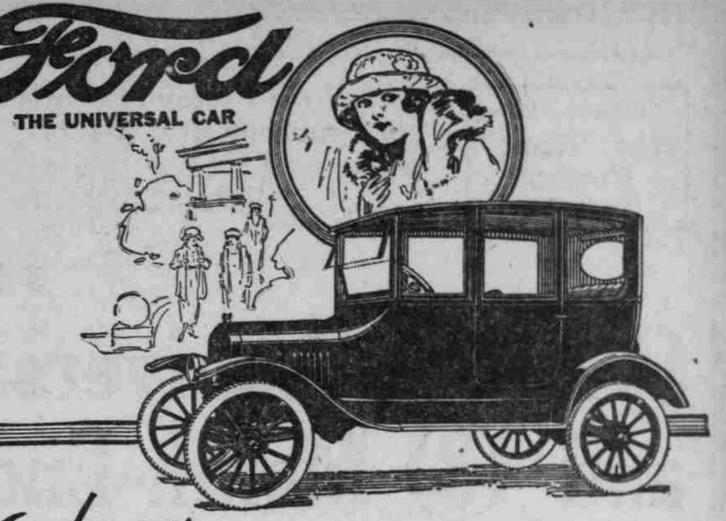

REDMOND, Or., April 27.—(Special.)—Work under way on the contract on the Sisters-Bend highway, near Sisters, is declared by road authorities to be the best dirt grade ever constructed in Deschutes county. Arthur Tuck, ex-University of Oregon road engineer, and John W. Smith, United States Javelin record, and his brother also have the contract for some work which is to be done on the McKenzie highway.

West Linn Restricts Cattle.

OREGON CITY, Or., April 27.—(Special.)—For the first time in the history of West Linn, cattle will not run in large herds Sunday, May 7, for at the special session held at that place on Monday, April 24, the vote stood in favor of impounding cattle when running at large after that date.

Pimples, blackheads and boils—fresh yeast rids you of them

It is well known that pimples and blackheads (acne) and boils are often caused by errors of diet.

Fleischmann's Yeast is now being recommended for these embarrassing and painful skin troubles because fresh yeast corrects the errors of diet which cause them.

The surgeon of one important New York hospital states: "I have used yeast extensively and found it invaluable in curing boils." When 17 cases of pimples were treated with Fleischmann's Yeast at hospitals in New York and Philadelphia the results were remarkable. A typical case was a young man who had suffered from pimples for three years. He ate three cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast daily. In five weeks the eruption had cleared completely.

If you are troubled with pimples or boils, begin at once to correct them by eating 2 or 3 cakes of Fleischmann's fresh yeast daily before or between meals. Be sure it is Fleischmann's Yeast—the familiar tin-foil package with the yellow label. Place a standing order with your grocer for Fleischmann's Yeast.
