WINSOME M'CARTHY SISTERS BRIGHT WOMEN IN MINIATURE

Clever Girlish Team With Greenwich Village Follies Natural Singers and Dancers and Love Parks, Tennis and Swimming.

BY LEONE CASS BAER.

Alice and Mary McCarthy, who look as if they might be about 12, go in 12, thereabouts, are really around 18, koin' on 19. In fact, Alice, the elder, is past 19. From one side of the footlights you see them in their short gingham dresses, with huge bows bobbing on their curly heads, and you visualize the dollies they have probably left in their dressing room. Maybe you wonder if they're as far along in arithmetic as your own Kate, and if their mother travels alone to the theatre and tend their morals. When they sing their little songs and smile so ingeniously at each other you remember the infantile Alice in "The Children were reared in an atmosphere that even when we were very small fostered a desire to go into professional work. From the time we could toddle we imitated dad's dances and made up steps of our own. We sang, too, and harmony came easy to Molly says we harmonized instinctively. Anyway, I know we've never studied music, and they say they're perfectly natural. As soon as we were able to leave school and have private teachers, dad placed us with Gus Edwards. We owe a great debt to him. He is a considerate and conscientious man and a fine friend."

Alice and Mary McCarthy, one of the hits of follies at Heilig.

Then if you meet Alice and Mary you remodel your vision. They are charming women in miniature, and quite capable of looking out for themselves. They are American born, and Philadelphia is their home town, but their mother McCarthy hail from Ireland. "Daddy is Charles McCarthy, a minstrel man," volunteered Alice, the speaking first, and they sang a song, a song with Dockstrader's minstrel, and mother, who had a lovely voice, sang in the church choir. So we children were reared in an atmosphere that even when we were very small fostered a desire to go into professional work. From the time we could toddle we imitated dad's dances and made up steps of our own. We sang, too, and harmony came easy to Molly says we harmonized instinctively. Anyway, I know we've never studied music, and they say they're perfectly natural. As soon as we were able to leave school and have private teachers, dad placed us with Gus Edwards. We owe a great debt to him. He is a considerate and conscientious man and a fine friend."

Alice and Mary are making their first trip to this part of the world and they say they've learned more geography on this trip than they ever learned at school.

"The parks out here are wonderful," said Mary yesterday as soon as we had made our hotel arrangements and we dashed out to see the parks. In most of the cities of the east we have to go out into the country to see the flowers and natural woods, but here there are parks everywhere we go. "We ride horseback a lot, we play tennis whenever we get a chance, and we love swimming above everything else," said Alice. "We carry our bathing suits in the top of our trunks where we can grab them at a minute's notice, and in every city we have been we've had some sort of a swim. We'd rather swim in a river, but if you haven't a river handy we'll take a tank."

Mary and Alice say they never get "grown-up letters" at all. They get notes from girls who think they are about 12 years old. Mary is always getting letters from girls or boys asking her to send them a ukulele guitar like hers. "We get letters asking for photographs and for our old clothes and for contributions, but the most we get are from little girls who would like to go on the stage and want us to advise or help them about getting on," said Alice. "We try to answer the sensible letters, but the silly ones we destroy."

IRVINGTON CLUB TO REORGANIZE.—The reorganization of the Irvington club and future policies of the organization will be the outstanding features of the annual meeting, which will be held at the club house East Twenty-first and Thompson streets. At the meeting four vacancies on the board of trustees will be filled, the terms of F. C. Felter, W. J. Hofmann, R. W. Neighbor and Dr. Thomas W. Watts having expired. Eight names have been placed in nomination, the four above-named and W. H. Cutler, O. L. Price, S. C. Rasmussen and W. Laird. The nominating committee consists of F. A. Rosencranz, C. C. Colt, A. E. Doyle, Joseph Riech and J. L. Bowman.

PROPERTY OWNERS NOTIFIED.—Formal notice was given by City Auditor Funk yesterday to owners of more than 41,000 lots included in the assessment district for the Columbia sewerage plant. The total amount to be collected is $49,181.75, and this is said to be the largest single levy for a public improvement in the city's history.

LIBRARY PROGRESS MADE.—Progress is being made on the plan of residents of the University Park district to provide a side and building for the branch library for that territory. During the week articles of incorporation for the University Park Library association have been filed at Salem with George F. Mahoney, John D. Rice and Dora McPherson as the incorporators. Abstract and deed for the property on Lombard street are expected to be ready to transfer to the new corporation within a few days.

THREE FILE DIVORCE SUITS.—Divorce suits filed in the circuit court yesterday were: Opal against Roscoe Starks, Evelyn F. against John J. Haight, and Roy R. against Emma G. Martin. RUMMAGE SALE, April 27, 28, 29; 50 Third street. Daughters of Isabella. Adv.

ROAD EXTENSIONS WANTED.—A cooperative movement is on between the communities of the Mount Scott district and sections of northern Clackamas county to obtain the extension of highways from Portland into that part of the neighboring county. A tentative programme is under consideration by the executive committee of the Lentz Business Men's club, headed by Roy L. Davis, who is president, and the other committee members being Ben Wise, Dr. A. L. Lundberg, J. D. Donaldson, Alex. Kihlquist, L. E. Wiley and Dr. C. S. Osgood. This committee will meet with the Mount Scott Improvement club at the Arieta library next Tuesday night. Then the Lentz club will have its meeting in the Oddfellows' hall, May 10.

MR. WHITE WITHCOMBE APPOINTED.—Over the Top post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, has adopted a resolution denying that George A. White, adjutant-general, was appointed to that office by Governor Olcott, against whom Mr. White is now a candidate for the republican nomination. The resolution states that Mr. White received his appointment from James Withcombe, when the latter was governor, and took a leave of absence during the war and that when he returned and Ben Olcott was governor he reported for duty under the leave of absence given him by Mr. Withcombe. Under these circumstances, over the Top post contends that Mr. White is not under obligations to Governor Olcott for reinstating him.

VIOLATOR BLAMES WOMAN.—That the woman was to blame for the world-old excuse of C. W. Morgan, who pleaded guilty in federal court to a charge of transporting a stolen automobile from Seattle to Portland, it was urged in his behalf that a widow exercised her wiles upon him and he reacted in a way that broke the federal law. He was sentenced to six months in the county jail, instead of drawing a penitentiary penalty, thanks to a record previously unblemished.

JOHN VEATCH TO LEAVE.—John Veatch, assistant United States attorney, will go to San Francisco at the end of the week, where he has been called as a witness in the trial of Morris Silverman, jewelry salesman, who is charged with the sale of stolen theft stamps in San Francisco. The stamps, it is charged, were stolen from a Dayton, Or., bank. Silverman was indicted here, but the charge was dismissed in view of the world-old transaction at San Francisco.

U. S. CITIZENSHIP RESTORED.—Because William Johnson enlisted in the Canadian army in May, 1917, he renounced his citizenship in the United States and became a subject of King George, but his American status was restored yesterday by Judge Bean in federal court upon his application. He fought overseas during the last year of the war. Sam Goldstein, a native of Russia, was admitted to citizenship yesterday by Judge Bean.

NARCOTICS TRIAL TODAY.—Jimmy Haddon and William Hunter will be placed on trial this morning in federal court, charged with having been in possession of narcotics illicitly on February 18. It is alleged by the government that the two were caught mixing morphine with sugar of milk to dilute the drug before selling it. Haddon has a record of one previous conviction on a drug charge.

WHITE LABOR ONLY APPLY AT COLUMBIA HALL N. E. Corner Second and Oak Sts.

Statement By the Waterfront Employers' Union

The Employers' Union of Portland have opened their own hall for the purpose of furnishing all labor employed on the Portland waterfront, with the idea of arranging for an equal and impartial distribution of all water-front work in this port. The employers have had brought to their notice many instances where men who have desired to engage in longshore work of the Portland waterfront, including veterans of the late world war, have been discriminated against by the longshoremen's local union and not permitted to engage in such work. By maintaining a closed union, with a membership totally inadequate to perform all the longshore work within the port, and refusing the request of the employers to increase their membership to suitable proportions, the longshoremen's union have seriously handicapped the working of vessels within the port, as when their supply of union labor was inadequate they have obtained labor from other unions with no experience whatever of longshore work, thereby decreasing efficiency and increasing the cost of working vessels on the Portland waterfront. This seriously handicaps Portland in competing with Puget Sound ports and San Francisco, and vitally affects the business interests of every citizen of Portland. It is a well known fact that every vessel coming to Portland expends large sums of money, which directly or indirectly benefits all our industries, and if vessels are to be driven away from Portland by reason of decreased efficiency, resulting in increased cost of working, the whole business community will suffer and Portland's rapid progress towards recognition as a world port will be seriously impeded.

The employers are desirous of retaining in permanent employment on the waterfront all of the old longshoremen who are willing to co-operate with them to secure increased efficiency and reduced costs to vessels coming to the port, thereby adding to the port's popularity with ship-owners and assuring a large and steadily growing volume of tonnage handled. The employers are now registering at their hall men who are willing to carry out this policy. All vessels in port have been worked since the inception of the strike, and with a rapidly increasing number of men coming forward for registration, all vessels will be assured full gangs at an early date. It is the desire of the employers that all men who wish to engage in longshore work and who can subscribe to the above policy shall attend at the employers' hall for registration, when they will be immediately placed to work without distinction as to union membership or otherwise. It must, however, be clearly understood that the employers are determined to maintain their own hall through which this labor shall be employed, as is done at other Pacific Coast ports, to insure that only efficient and competent men are employed on the waterfront. It is only in this way that the trade of the port can be stabilized and expanded. Unless, therefore, the old longshoremen employed on the waterfront attend at the employers' hall for registration, their places will be taken by other men who are willing to co-operate for the good of the community, and if sufficient men cannot be found locally, the employers will not hesitate to obtain suitable white labor from adjacent ports. When a sufficient number of competent men have been registered at the employers' hall to amply provide for all waterfront work, the list will be closed, and these men will be given preference on all future longshore work.

Arrangements have been made by the employers, if the condition of the strike makes it necessary, to house and feed all men under police protection during the continuance of the strike.

WATERFRONT EMPLOYERS' UNION

This Association is furnishing all labor on the Portland Waterfront and is in best position to place men in steady employment.
