

MISCONDUCT DENIED BY MRS. STILLMAN

Charges Affecting Beauvais Held Unfounded.

BANKER'S WIFE ON STAND

Defendant in Divorce Suit Tells of Trip Taken in Canada When Guide Was Engaged.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., May 10.—Mrs. Anne S. Stillman, fighting for her reputation and the good name of Guy Stillman, her three-year-old son, categorically denied on the witness stand today every charge of misconduct made against her by James A. Stillman, New York banker, and the various witnesses who have supported his efforts to obtain a divorce and disown little Guy.

Each bit of testimony that Mrs. Stillman had misadvised herself with Fred Beauvais, Indian guide, alleged by Mr. Stillman to be the father of Guy, was flatly contradicted by her. She denied authorship of two love letters introduced last week as having been written by her to Beauvais.

Mrs. Stillman testified that her husband had in the past made several presents to Beauvais, who was employed at their summer camp in Quebec.

Ring in Evidence

The banker's wife admitted today at Beauvais had given her a plain gold ring in which were inscribed the initials "F. B." and it was offered in evidence. Then Mrs. Stillman swore at instead of having worn it constantly, as one of the former employees on the banker's country estate testified, she actually had cared little for it that she gave it to the oldest son, James ("Bud") Stillman.

She said she had been Guy's nurse since he was four days old, and collected the testimony of Bernard Hey, another of the banker's former employees, that he had seen a pair of Guy's moccasins in which were written "I hope Guy will some day know his father," and "I hope I will always develop as a nurse." It was said, declared there had been no writing in the baby's moccasins. The inscriptions previously had been attributed to Beauvais.

It was reported that Mrs. Stillman had not been allowed to answer questions which sought to establish that she and her husband lived together two days in New York, near their country estate in the Poconos hills, and for two weeks in February of last year in a hotel.

This is the most important in the family issue affecting her infant son, Guy Stillman, who was born in November, 1918.

Leading Guide Engaged. Mrs. Stillman began, it was related, by explaining that she met Beauvais in 1916 after Mr. Stillman had sent her to Canada with her three children to avoid an infantile paralysis epidemic.

She wanted a guide and was informed at Lake Dawson in Quebec that Beauvais was the best guide in the St. Lawrence valley, so she engaged him.

She denied past testimony that she and Beauvais went at night to the shore at a club on Little Lake Wagaquack in the Quebec woods. She went to the Little Lake on a moon, but returned to the St. Maurice Fish & Game club before dusk, she said.

Direct examination of Mrs. Stillman was concluded shortly before a 6 o'clock. She will be cross-examined tomorrow.

BANKER'S DAUGHTER AT HOME

Miss Anne Stillman to Divide Vacation Between Parents.

NEW YORK, May 10.—Miss Anne Stillman, returning today on the Atlantic from school in Paris, was a committee on the question of whether she would take the stand for her mother.

She was met at the pier by her brother Bud, who was reported to have come from Poughkeepsie to induce his sister to become a witness for the defense.

Miss Stillman would only say she planned to divide her summer vacation equally between her parents.

PEKIN'S BEAUTY FADING

Old brick pier. He characterizes it as a bulky old building, quite the best of its sort in China, and adds that it is a ruin with a flair for pigments as a go at it if they want Pekin here. Here and do not, you are also a ruin. As he sketched and fed, this old man of Heaven, it was both a resident and a resident. What he said concerning the story and the Temple of Heaven, it had turned the Mings to their heads. It was after this fashion:

"Two years ago," quoth the artist, "I was at the temple of Heaven. I was rather impressive, you ask me. But not half so impressive as the 324 degree, which we engaged on the altar itself at midday. I took a bit of it, but we arranged for it, but we managed. Quoth old piece, this, I like to come here after tiffin and daub a bit."

Empress's Visits Infrequent. The emperor came but infrequently to the Temple of Heaven—to pray and to be. When he peacocked his way on these long porticoes of granite with their pillars of writhing dragons and fluttering birds, beneath the cornice where curious gilded creatures and devil horns squall and peer, he either pious as a saint or amorous as any Romeo. Through this way, whose stout door is thickly laden with iron in rows of nine, swept with the "number one" wife his beneficent bosom, while music vined and snarled and tumbled about. This portal gave him welcome.

PINCHOT EXPRESSES NEW STATE SPIRIT

Idealist Chosen to Exemplify People's Idealism.

PEPPER REFLECTS MOOD

Four Out of Five Population Declared to Be Lined Up to Wreck Pennsylvania Machine.

BY MARK SULLIVAN. (Copyright by the New York Evening Post, Inc., Published by Arrangement, PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 10.—(Special.)—The fight to make Gifford Pinchot governor of Pennsylvania is a large extent one of expression of a mood, an exaltation of feeling that has gripped the state. It shows itself in many ways.

A distinguished citizen of Philadelphia has set aside a fund for the interest on which an annual gift of $10,000 is to be given to that citizen of Philadelphia who during the year has done the greatest public service for the city. It is characteristic of the new mood that the first award was made to a man whose functions are wholly in the world of art—to the leader of an orchestra. It is in the same spirit that Philadelphia is getting ready to hold a great world's fair in 1928.

The men from whom the initiative sprang and in whose hands the preparations are have gone about the work with the intention of making this fair entirely different in conception and spirit from any of the great world's fairs of the past. Their objective is to make the event a landmark in the world of ideas rather than in the material world.

Ideas to Be Emphasized. Exhibitions of commercial greatness, mechanical achievements and gleaming enamel. One would like to be in the frame of mind of a mandarin haled from Hunan, let us say, to ask the boon of life, if he were earnestly trying to get Herbert Hoover to be the director of the fair, their theory being that Mr. Hoover has the fertility of mind and the interest in humanity which would make him most resourceful in devising ways to portray the progress of human thought and idealism.

One incident of the project includes the intention to have the barest minimum of temporary buildings and to conduct the enterprise in such a way as to leave Philadelphia a residuum of noble buildings including a great art gallery. This preoccupation of Philadelphia with a new and exalted spirit shows itself in a more or less organized effort to make every citizen self-conscious about this city and cause him to feel pride in it.

Good Causes Favored. The appointment a few months ago of George Wharton Pepper to be the successor of Penrose as United States senator was a political expression of the same spirit. Mr. Pepper never had any identification with politics. He was in a sense the city's leading citizen in the world of art and letters. He was one of the city's two or three most distinguished lawyers; he had been a teacher of law and an author; he was a hard and effective worker in every good cause, and he was perhaps the most distinguished layman in the Episcopal church and the most hard-working in its affairs.

The lift of pride which Pennsylvania felt in being represented by Pepper in the United States senate after a generation of Penrose and this spirit shows itself in a more or less organized effort to make every citizen self-conscious about this city and cause him to feel pride in it.

Pinchot Example of Spirit. No man in America can be more accurately described by the word "Idealist." It has been characteristic of his entire career to be preoccupied about the world's future rather than present generation. This quality goes so far with Pinchot as to cause his political enemies, when they want to be scornful about him, to speak of him as "God's saker." But Pennsylvania at the moment is markedly and most excitedly determined to line up on the side of the "God's sakers."

Pennsylvania is almost in a "Billy Sunday" evangelistic mood. Every newspaper in Philadelphia with one exception is behind Pinchot. It is believed that four out of every five women who come out to vote will be for him. All the old Roosevelt leaders in the state are working for him. All in all, Pinchot's candidacy represents the most formidable force in the state on the Pennsylvania republican machine.

Captain Bergen kept his ugly crew balling, although several times some of them tried to man boats and go over the side.

Finally 130 days out of Philadelphia, Captain Bergen beached his steamer near Norovossyok, threw 2000 tons of water overboard and lightened the ship, loading the rest onto smaller vessels he had called to his aid.

Steaming out of Norovossyok, the real mutiny began. Then the chief engineer, the captain said, demanded salvage for saving the ship, and the crew backed him up.

"My officers and myself fired revolvers over the heads of the men aboard," said the captain, "and kept them at bay. In the harbor was a United States destroyer, and I finally asked it for help.

"It sent 40 men and officers aboard. There was a short but vicious fight, the chief engineer was put into irons and taken ashore and the men were sent to quarters.

"It was then I learned the men had brought a ruse aboard. They were members of a notorious Philadelphia water front gang, and did nothing but fight. We went to Constantinople to look before returning home.

Captain Bergen on docking today learned that two cooks, missing when he left Constantinople, had been located in a charge of murdering two British soldiers.

TARIFF BILL IN CLASH

SENATE DEBATE IS MARKED BY PARTISAN RANCOR.

Republicans Accused of Trying to Frighten People With "Ghost of Germany."

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Sharp clashes between republican and democratic leaders marked senate consideration today of the tariff bill. Referring to the night session devoted to this bill by the majority beginning tonight, Senator Simmons of North Carolina, democrat leader, charged that the republicans were "driving with whip and spur and indecent haste" to pass the measure.

Specifically the chemical schedule came up again today. During the discussion of it Senator Hitchcock declared that the majority beginning tonight, Senator Simmons of North Carolina, democrat leader, charged that the republicans were "driving with whip and spur and indecent haste" to pass the measure.

One incident of the project includes the intention to have the barest minimum of temporary buildings and to conduct the enterprise in such a way as to leave Philadelphia a residuum of noble buildings including a great art gallery. Shoes More Than Fashionable

Fashion has swung to the round, roomier toe and the low heel. These are important elements of comfort and foot efficiency, but the most important one element—the flexible arch—is not to be had with the round toes and low heels of ordinary shoes. And the flexible arch is the achievement of modern shoe designing.

Kellogg's Bran means so much to the health of every one who eats it!
Start eating Bran today! You can't afford the delay of a day—for BRAN—Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is nature's own remedy for constipation. Stimulate constipation, which clogs the eliminative passages, backing up poisons and creating toxic conditions. At this stage the blood becomes affected and then follows the disorder of various organs. Bright's disease, diabetes, most cases of rheumatism, hardening of arteries, headaches, brain fog, etc., are directly caused by intestinal poisoning. Pills and cathartics can give no adequate relief. They are not only temporary in their effect, but tend to aggravate already dangerous conditions. Kellogg's Bran causes neither discomfort nor irritation, and its action is a natural, healthy one. Bran sweeps and cleanses and purifies. Its work is wonderful! Physicians endorse the use of Kellogg's Bran for constipation because it relieves constipation, naturally. Eat Bran regularly—at least two table-spoons daily; in chronic cases with each meal—as a cereal, sprinkled on other cereals, or in many other appetizing ways such as in raisin bread, cream, pancakes, macaroni, etc. Recipe on every box. All grocers sell Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled! Start with Kellogg's Bran today. P. S.—Kellogg's Bran, eaten regularly, will clear up a pimply complexion and give you a clear, healthy complexion.
