STEVENSON GROOMS BAKER FOR SENATOR

Colonel Lamping and William T Laube Possible Candidates Against Mr. Poindexter.

PUGET SOUND BUREAU, Seattle, Wash, May 10.—If George Herbert Baker of Goldendale, Klickitat county, could be induced to be-come a candidate for United States senator against Miles Poindexter he would be highly satisfactory to George H. Stevenson, whose desortion of Mr. Poindexter recently was an-

Mr. Stevenson's preference for Mr. Baker is, in a way, the call of one old political orony to another across a space of years during which neither has been particularly conspicuous. Time was when they were close together in politics, and the friendship formed in earlier association has persisted. Mr. Stevenson thinks Mr. Baker would make a first-rate candidate against Senator Poindexter and a good senator if elected. What Mr. Baker thinks of the matter has not yet been disclosed. In any case, Mr. Stevenson is so determined on opposing Senator Poindexter that he may himself become a candidate if Mr. Baker will have mone of it. page of years during which neither Mr. Baker will have none of it.

The Oregonian's story of Mr. Sjevenson's remunciation of gliegiance to Senator Poindexter has started gossip going again, and new names are being brought into discussion of possible candidates in the republican senatorial primaries. During the last week about equally frequent mention has been made of Colonel George B. Lemping and William T. Laube, both of Seattle. Colonel Lamping was one of the unsuccessful candidates for the republican nomination for governor in 1920. Almost immediately following that defeat he resigned his seat in the state senate and was elected a member of the Seattle port commission, of which he is chairman. Mr. Laube is a local attorney, ex-secretary of the state senate, and ex-president of the Young Men's Republican club.

Mr. Paulhamus Still Busy. From Pierce county come increas-ngly definite hints that W. H. Paul-namus of Sumner is by no means done with his opposition to Senator Poindexter. Mr. Paulhamus is said still to be convinced that the defeat of Poindexter is a matter of public duty. The announced candidacy of John E. Ballaine does not appeal to him any more than it does to George Stevenson. At the same time it is not likely that Mr. Paulhamus and Mr. Stevenson could agree on any candidate—they haven't often agreed on anything in the past. If Mr. Stevenson produces a candidate or gets into the contest himself, it is not at all improbable that Mr. Paulhamus would break from cover and get ready to file on his own account. with his opposition to Sanator Poin The announced candidate, of John E.

Trouble Looms for Senator.
Ordinarily that would be sound political logic. But since the elements opposed to Poindexter are so constituted that they cannot well unite on one candidate, two, three or even four fairly strong candidates might cause the senator some trouble. There is no present means of accurately estimating the strength of any element opposed to Senator Poindexter, and with a strong current of criticism and hostility running through the state there is no telling just where is might head in. county delegations that have deen maked to date are as follows:

LARGER BUILDING PROJECTED

Scattle's Old Federal Structure

Wash. May 10.—Seattle's old-fash-iened government building, now of three stories, will be subject to ex-tensive alterations and the addition of four more stories, if the recom-mendations of the supervising archimendations of the supervising architect of the treasury department are given the sanction of congress. Millard T. Hartson, collector of customs of this district and custodian of the government building, believes that the plan will be put through, since it is actually in line with the administration policy of economy. Collector Hartson has just returned from the national capital.

The Seattle government building was crected 20 years ago. It is of the type common to that architectural period, poorly lighted and ventillated and with much waste of space.
It now houses the postofice, the general and private offlices of the custioms service and the district court and its attendant officers. The many other government offices located in Seattle are scattered about the city in reasted quarters and the cost of

DYE OLD DRESS

John F. Miller, representative of the congress from this district, has a bill before the house for a new federal building in Scattle. The cost of this including a new site, would be between $2,500,000 and $3,000,000. Representatives of many other districts throughout the country have introduced similar bills, calling for an aggregate building expenditure of $840,000,000. In the present economical mood of the administration and congress it is said that not one of these bills stands the slightest chance of passage. Collector Hartson does not think that the plan for change and enlargement of the present Scattle building would come within the general inhibition.

CUSTOMS HEADS WILL CONFER

Meet Western Collectors.

PUGET SOUND BUREAU, Seattle, Wash., May 10.—Collectors of customs of all the western districts are to meet in conference in San Francisco on May 22. Elmer Dover, assistant secretary of the treasury, will attend the conference, which is expected to continue for several days. Later in the month Mr. Dover is to come to the morthwest and may ness a week continue for several days. Later in the month Mr. Dover is to come to the northwest and may pass a week or so in and about his home city of Tacoma.

The idea of holding the conference originated with Millard T. Hartson, collector of the Washington district, and met with the approval of George U. Piper, collector at Portland, and other collectors down the coast. The first plan was for a conference of coast collectors only. Collector Hartson was called to Washington, D. C., te discuss the plan with the treasury officials and the decision was there reached to include the collectors especially find that he canadian and Mexican boundaries.

Plans Laid for Fire Chiefs.

MARSHFIELD. Or., May 10.—(Special.)—The Marshfield volunteer firemen, who will be hosts to the Oregon fire chiefs the latter part of June, are making extensive preparations for the convention of three fays and have engaged a floor space 100 by 100 feet on the main floor of the Elks' building for the use of exhibitors who desire to display equipment. It was thought at first the convention would draw 100 to 125 visitors, but the inquiries and advices now indicate and about 10 per cent of the prosbuilding for the use of exhibitors who desire to display equipment. It was thought at first the convention would draw 100 to 125 visitors, but the inquiries and advices now indicate the attendance will be well over 200. The local ffremen have a fine programme in the making and it is expected it will be of a nature that will be an innovation. Entertainment is to occupy a goodly portion of the three days.
