IN MEMORIAM. John Doe is dead, the good old ma Who's stood before the bar criminal, since time began Wherever court rooms are.

Have hunted high and low, And always in the course of time Have brought in old John Doe. He's burgled, pillaged, forged and slain

He's purjured, robber and lied, His yearning for ill-gotten gain Was never satisfied.

In every prison that there is, In dungeons deep and dark, That ever busy hand of his Has carved its well known mark No judge has ever served a term On benches here below, Who's not, in accents clear and firm Passed sentence on John Doe

And now he's dead-for Mr. Taft, In one judicial breath, Has swept this famous king of graft To dim and dusty death.

The law for his time-honored name Has no official use. And so he's dead, but just the same We'll miss him like the deuce,
