THE most interesting event on today's social calendar is the tea which will be given by the Portland day nursery. This is an annual affair and will be given in the nursery at 404 Madison street. Mrs. James Gillison is in charge of the arrangements. Presiding at the tea tables will be Mrs. W. B. Ayer, Mrs. Joseph N. Teal, Mrs. C. F. Adams and Mrs. Ben Selling. Those who will assist in the dining room are Miss Elise Bristol, Miss Mary Louise Wright, Miss Marian Farrell, Miss Lillian Luders, Miss Lee Tevis, Miss Marguerite Wheeler, Miss Frances Cornell and Miss Eleanor Wiggins.

Mrs. Charles A. Burckhardt, the house guest of Mrs. John Burgrad, was the inspiration for a beautifully appointed luncheon, at which Mrs. Charles E. Humelin was hostess on Monday afternoon. Those who enjoyed the affair were Mrs. Lawrence McNary, Mrs. A. L. McCully, Mrs. Joseph N. Teal, Mrs. J. E. Adams, Mrs. C. W. Hodson, Mrs. M. A. M. Ashley, Miss Rhoda Ashley, Mrs. E. C. Griffin, Mrs. T. B. Foster, Mrs. Jay Smith, Mrs. Paul E. Frothing, the guest of honor, and the hostess.

Mrs. M. A. M. Ashley has asked a number of her friends to a bridge party Friday afternoon in Mrs. Burckhardt's honor.

Miss Imogene Seton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Waldemar Seton, will interpret some of the latest in Colgate's court as an additional feature of the programme to be offered by the Portland Shakespeare study club tomorrow night at the latter's home. The oriental settings and beautifully colored hangings will be carried out to make a background for the young Portland dancer, who has returned recently from abroad. Miss Elizabeth Eugenia Woodbury will be presented in "Antony and Cleopatra." Miss Woodbury was professor of dramatic art in the Columbia College of Exposition, and has an enviable reputation as a reader.

Mrs. Samuel Holbrook will be hostess at luncheon today at her home in Holbrook.

Mr. and Mrs. W. U. Sanderson were hosts at a delightful picnic supper Tuesday night at their country home "La Donsa." The guests included Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Martin, Dr. and Mrs. Albert B. Smith, Mrs. M. A. M. Ashley, Stanley, C. E. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Keeton, Miss Jean Skene, Harvey Dick and Richard Haller.

Mrs. J. D. Farrell and Miss Helen Farrell, who have so many friends in Portland, have returned to their home in Seattle after a trip to Los Angeles. Miss Farrell is continuing as her house guest Miss Doreen Kavanaugh of Los Angeles.

The members of the Alpha Phi alumnae will meet at the home of Mrs. O. J. Groezky, 423 East Eighth street North, at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Mrs. Anderson M. Cannon will entertain at tea today. Honors will be shared by Mrs. John C. Spencer, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Otto T. Wedemeyer, and Mrs. W. A. Love, the guest of Mrs. F. J. Patterson. A group of prominent society women make up the guest list.

Miss Constance Piper has returned to Portland accompanied by Miss Helen Stover, who will be Miss Piper's guest for the summer.

Mrs. Frederick A. Jacobs and her son, Frederick Jr., are being welcomed home. They returned from the Hotel Malloy. Mrs. Jacobs has been visiting in Kansas City, Mo., and California.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Day of Walla Walla are at the Benson. They are honeymooners, having been married only a week. They returned from eastern Washington and after spending a few days at the seashore will drive back by way of Seattle and Snoqualmie pass. Mrs. Day was formerly Miss Hallie Cropp. She is the daughter of a pioneer physician of the northwest and is a gifted pianist, as well as being one of the social leaders of Walla Walla. Mr. Day was postmaster of Walla Walla for eight years, but is now engaged in the general implement business.

The friends of Dean Horace M. Ramsey and Mrs. Ramsey will greet them at an informal reception to be given by the women of St. Stephen's Episcopal church at Bishopcroft, 574 Elm street, this evening from 8 to 10 o'clock. Personal friends of the dean and his wife, members of the cathedral and other Episcopal churches will be welcomed cordially. Those who have chosen the evening Merritt, Mrs. J. C. Robinson, Mrs. George Weidner, Mrs. Horace M. Ramsey, Mrs. W. G. Billingham, Mrs. Herbert Holman, Mrs. H. E. Blossom, Mrs. James Desendorf and Mrs. Bert C. Ball.

Dr. and Mrs. Ray Matson, with Mr. and Mrs. John Flageman, spent last week end at the Eyrie.

Miss Dorothy Reed is numbered among the Portland girls who have returned recently from Mills college to spend the summer months in Portland.

also the cape and lining of the blue would be attractive and the design is rather unusual. With material such as tulle you could wear it into the fall and enjoy real service. At 20 rather enjoy the bobbed hair if the wearer can carry the head of freedom and still have the appearance of dignity, which in your line is most necessary. I could devote an entire page in this print to the subject of the bobbed-hair craze and the types who dare to wear the many locks. If the style really links with all that is best and most refined in your nature, then continue with the bobbed hair. The style has been an advantage to some types of faces and heads and some who have chosen the evening dresses have displayed the lack of any "head" at all.

For the clothes which you wish to have when traveling southward wear the tweed suit with the tailored waists and the brown oxfords and a smart, tailored hat, not too small but certainly tailored. No flowered trimming. A one-piece dress of type reworked with a satin frock and one of crepe de chine for a dinner gown. The black hat with carefully selected flowers is always effective for the more dressy affairs.

Minstrel Show Saturday.

The Waluga Civic club of the upper Oswego lake district will stage a minstrel show and dance on Saturday evening, June 3, at the Carver house near Bryant station, Southport Pacific electric. An excellent program has been arranged under the direction of Carroll A. McFarland. The cast is as follows: Interlocutor, R. L. Herrick; end men, A. B. Carter and C. A. McFarland; Max Boulanger, Fred Reese, R. B. Stotzel, R. K. Kennedy, Fred Hiehoff, R. B. Shreve, G. D. Burt, W. E. Simonton, Laurence Commons, M. L. Craft, House and Zimmerman. A five-piece orchestra, led by Mrs. W. E. Simonton, will furnish the music.

The committee in charge of the affair, headed by Mrs. Robert S. Farrell, consists of Mrs. E. Lawrence, Mrs. Chester Robbins, Mrs. A. S. Moody, Mrs. R. S. Stearns, Mrs. C. A. Bell, Mrs. Gustave E. Bruere, Mrs. O. W. Mielke, Mrs. William House, Mrs. M. A. Miller, Mrs. M. W. Lorenz and Miss Florence Stackpole.

Household Problems by Lillian Tinglo

LIBRARIAN, Or.—Kindly send me some information on an ideal kitchen.

I AM never able to "send" information. In your library, or from the state library, you can obtain a good deal of helpful information on kitchen planning. Some of the book numbers of "Good Housekeeping" contain useful articles on special points and equipment. Frederick's "Household Engineering," Bruere's "Increasing Home Efficiency" and "The Healthful Farm House" by "A Farmer's Wife" will offer suggestions. I think there is also a government bulletin on the subject, but am not sure.

There is a government bulletin on "Floor Coverings" which may help you. Most household arts textbooks have chapters devoted to kitchen planning. You will also get some suggestions from Lippincott's Manual of Housewifery, which is probably in your school library.

If (as I judge is possible from your address and form of request), you have been asked to write a high school composition on the subject, the important point is for you to do some book-browsing and in dependence on domestic science teacher in your building, she probably will be able to help you in suggesting easily available sources of material. But you must do your own "digging" and "thinking," if the writing is the composition in penmanship. Get the habit as early as you can, of learning to "look up a subject" and think about it without calling for help, or you may develop into the kind of woman described by Edith Wharton, one of her best stories, who "pursued culture in hands as though it were dangerous."

The Portland Progress club will meet today at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. James A. Walker, 556 East Sixtieth street North. The May meeting of the club was held at the home of Mrs. Earl C. Robinson. Mrs. J. Wrenn read a paper on Mark Twain, and Miss Mora Proctor entertained with a number of readings and impersonations. Refreshments were served during the social hour.

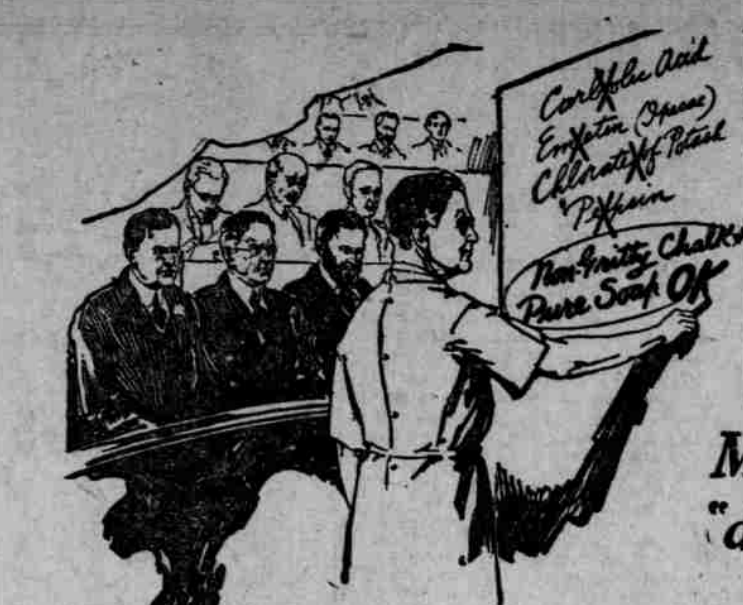

The Women's Benefit association of the Macabees has been organized in St. Johns, and at its initial meeting of the club was held at the home of Mrs. Earl C. Robinson. The second meeting of the association will be

PHYSICIANS AND DENTISTS know how plausible claims of one sort or another are exploited, attract attention and pass out. Years ago carbolic acid in a dentifrice was hailed as a dental cure-all. Later peroxide appeared as a panacea to the teeth. Emetin (Ipecac) suddenly promised more in a dentifrice than any ethical dentist could do by professional treatment in his own office. Chlorate of Potash, too, had its day as the end-of-all dental worries. But the pitiless test of time sweeps away absurd claims.

More recently a resuscitation of pepsin brought a touch of humor to exaggerated claims for druggery dentifrices. Solely the "Journal of Dental Research" exploded the pseudo-scientific pepsin theory. Following is a recipe for cantaloupe conserve, supplied by a friend. I hope it may be the kind recently asked for by Mrs. R. D. M. (Gervais). Cantaloupe conserve—Select the large yellow muskmelons or yellow fleshed cantaloupes as they begin to ripen, but while they are still firm. Peel off the outer skin, remove the seeds, cut a thin slice off the softer part next to the seeds (this can be used in a fruit cocktail), cut into pieces about one-half inch cube. Weigh and for ten pounds prepared fruit allow eight pounds sugar with four oranges, one lemon and two pounds raisins. Put into a preserving kettle in alternate layers with the sugar, having the rinds of the oranges and lemon finely cut or ground and previously cooked until tender, while the pulp is cut in the thinnest possible slice. Add one quart water and the raisins, cover and cook until the melon is transparent. Then take off the cover and cook rapidly until the mixture is as rich as desired. Add nut meat if desired and seal in jars and store in pint jars in a cool place.

Passing Fads in Dentifrices

Modern science rejects "drugged" tooth pastes

PHYSICIANS AND DENTISTS know how plausible claims of one sort or another are exploited, attract attention and pass out. Years ago carbolic acid in a dentifrice was hailed as a dental cure-all. Later peroxide appeared as a panacea to the teeth. Emetin (Ipecac) suddenly promised more in a dentifrice than any ethical dentist could do by professional treatment in his own office. Chlorate of Potash, too, had its day as the end-of-all dental worries. But the pitiless test of time sweeps away absurd claims.

More recently a resuscitation of pepsin brought a touch of humor to exaggerated claims for druggery dentifrices. Solely the "Journal of Dental Research" exploded the pseudo-scientific pepsin theory. Question: What drug shall next be seized to bolster the illogical claims in the "patent-medicine dentifrice" field? Which dentifrice is worthy of professional confidence and deserving of endorsement and daily use?

Not a Medicated Dentifrice. During all these years Colgate & Co. refused to "drug" their Dental Cream. They followed scientific authority in the contention that strong drugs are harmful to the membrane of the mouth. Such drugs should not be used in a dentifrice except in the treatment of diseased conditions, and then only under the advice of a practitioner.

Not an Acid Dentifrice. Once more Colgate's stand is with the members of the two great professions who refuse to recognize the false claims of medicated tooth-pastes but who recommend to their patients a Dental Cream with thorough cleansing qualities, pleasant to taste, containing safe ingredients.

The most effective and trustworthy tooth cleaner for habitual use is one combining the action of non-gritty precipitated chalk and pure soap.

Colgate's Ribbon Dental Cream is mildly alkaline, practically neutral, and cleanses without disturbing nature's balance. Recognizing that other good dental creams aid cleanliness throughout the nation, Colgate & Co. desire only that professional friends pause to differentiate between the true and the pseudo-scientific. Colgate's cannot harm the enamel or soft tissues—it leaves the mouth clean, cool, and refreshed.

Ride on Springs—Walk in Cantilevers

Primitive people rode in ox-carts—heavy, rigid, without springs. Modern love of comfort and speed brought about the essential motor car, traveling on springs so resilient and balanced that we seem almost to ride through the air—the modern "Wings of Mercury."

To a lesser degree, our feet in daily life should act like the springs of the motor car. Nature composed the human foot of resilient, flexible arches to absorb the body shocks. Nothing rigid about your foot as Nature made it.

In the words of a doctor, "The foot is a cantilever spring."

The Flexible Arch. Does the arch of your shoe correspond with the arch of your foot in flexibility? Change to Cantilever Shoes. There is no concealed rigid metal embedded in the Shank of Cantilever Shoes as in all ordinary shoes. They flex with your foot when you walk; permit the muscles to exercise and strengthen; allow free circulation; give room for all the toes. They give you complete comfort and trim appearance.

Wear the "Wings of Mercury." That means Wear Cantilever Shoes. Sold in Portland only by
