

TWO MEN ARRESTED IN WINE RAID PLOT

Prisoners Accused of Posing as Federal Officers.

EXTORTION SCHEME FAILS

Ex-Liquor Investigator and Shoe Clerk Held for Attempting to Extract "Bail" Money.

A little scheme of extortion, in which two men posing as federal officers endeavored to force an Italian householder to give them $200 in cash as "bail," because they found wine in his cellar, came to a bad end yesterday when Deputy Sheriff Christofferson and Rodney Hurlbut arrested the "master minds" of the plot.

H. Hoagell of 428 Yamhill street, who was employed as a special investigator in liquor cases by the police department last winter, and E. H. Carpenter of 1099 East Eighth street North, shoe clerk, who successfully fought extradition to San Francisco in 1914, on a forgery charge, were lodged in the county jail, charged with impersonating federal officers. Their case will be handled by the United States attorney.

Women Escape Arrest.

F. Ferraris of 509 East Fifteenth street was scheduled as victim in the plot that failed.

Mrs. Evelyn Erickson, landlady at the Hoagell home, and Mrs. E. H. Carpenter narrowly escaped being arrested as accomplices for they were suspected of acting as "lookouts" for the men under arrest.

Hoagell and Carpenter rose early in the morning of Memorial day to put their idea into action, according to Ferraris, who said that they awakened him at 8:20 A. M. Tuesday.

"We're government officers," spoke one of them, reported the victim, as both flipped back their left coat lapels to give Ferraris a fleeting glimpse of shabby stars. "We have information that you have some liquor stored here and want to search the premises."

Search Warrant Waived.

Ferraris muttered something about a search warrant.

"We ain't gotta search warrant, but can get one in a minute if you want it," the pair replied, according to the victim.

"I thought that if they could get it in a minute there was no use bothering them for it," naively explained Ferraris last night.

The search disclosed several barrels of wine in the basement, about 60 gallons in all. Ferraris explained that it had been made for the consumption of himself and large family, and that it was their custom to have wine with most of their meals.

"You may be right, but we gotta take you to jail anyhow," he was told. "Get into your clothes."

Ferraris dressed. Then one of his unwelcome visitors spoke up.

"Listen, we kinda hate to take you to jail on Memorial day, and if you can furnish cash bail of $500 we will not make you report until your case is called for hearing."

Searchers Spar for "Bail"

"I haven't $500 and today is a holiday and I can't get any money." This disturbed the strangers. They consulted one another.

"Well, if you can dig up $200, we'll take that for bail, this being a holiday."

But Ferraris could not "dig up" even $200, it appeared. Finally, out of apparent kindness of heart, the visitors told him that they would trust him for it and would return at noon the following day for the bail money. Warning him not to tell anyone for fear they would get into trouble for their leniency, they left him.

Ferraris notified the sheriff's office and Deputy Sheriff Christofferson and Rodney Hurlbut decided to keep the appointment yesterday and went to Ferraris' home. At the appointed time nothing was heard from the "officers." A little later the telephone rang.

"We're not coming to your home again, but will meet you in front of the Catholic church. Bring the money," was the message.

Women Seen in Auto.

The deputy sheriffs left the house by the rear entrance, and five minutes later Ferraris started for the Catholic church, three blocks away. About a block from the house Deputy Christofferson spotted an automobile marked in which two women were standing, gazing intently in the direction of the Ferraris home. But they could see only the top of the door.

Hoagell met Ferraris alone. The deputy sheriffs then walked up to the door. Carpenter was arrested later at the shoe store at Third and Morrison where he was employed. Hoagell told Christofferson that he was deputy constable. Constable Gloss said that Hoagell had been deputized some time ago, but had been discharged since.

DIPLOMAS GIVEN TO 66

NORTH PACIFIC COLLEGE GRADUATES 1922 CLASS.

Growth of Institution From 35 in 1899 to 715 in 1916 Cited by President Miller.

Commencement exercises of North Pacific college were held last night at the White Temple, 66 persons receiving diplomas from the dental and pharmacy departments of the college. The commencement address was given by President Miller.

Dr. Herbert C. Miller, president, presided at the exercises and his address was a feature of the evening. He made a strong plea for the cause of education, taking opportunity to urge that citizens of Portland provide the funds desired by the school board in the coming election.

The record of North Pacific college growing from an enrollment of 35 in 1899 to one of 715 during the year just closed, was cited by President Miller. This, he pointed out, makes the institution third in size in Oregon.

The commencement address was delivered by Dr. Walter B. Hinson, pastor of the East Side Baptist church. His address to the graduates was given by Dr. J. Allen Gilbert. The address were conferred by President Miller.

Interpreted musical numbers included out the commencement program. John Claire Monteth sang "My Heart," and "Myself When Young." Mrs. Pauline Miller Chapman sang "Annie Laurie" and "A Song of Thanksgiving" (Auntie). Mrs. Miller and Mr. Monteth sang as a duet Nevin's "Oh, That We Two Were Maying." Edgar B. Courson opened the programme with an organ solo, "Athalia" (Mendelssohn).

Those who received degrees as doctor of dental medicine were:

Leslie Reed Alexander, Henry Weissert Anderson, Roland Stanford Bender, Robert Edgar Blackburn, Edwin Hillard Burns, Theodore Coran Carlson, Millard Donald Cole, Miller Elphinstone Cooper, Raymond Lee Deaver, Euclid H. Demers, Wesley Ballinger Edmonds, Harry Louis Gierler, Roy Glenn, James Edward Hanratty, Robert Shaw Howell, Bernard Francis Hussen, Arnie Charles Jewell, Earl Harvey Ledingham, Percival Alexander Lipsky, John Elihu Loris, Wilfred McKinnon Maclean, Philip Joseph Mostar, Robert James Moore, Harry Paul Murphy, Mark James O'Brien, Samuel D. Naval Lieutenant Dies.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 31.—Word was received here today of the death in Ontario, Cal., yesterday of Lieutenant A. B. Wyckoff, U. S. N., retired, first commandant of the Puget sound navy yard at Bremerton, Wash. He was 74 years old.

Lieutenant Wyckoff first came to the Pacific coast nearly 40 years ago in charge of a survey party from the hydrographic office of the navy, making some of the earliest surveys of the coast line in this section. Later he was a member of the committee that selected the site of the Puget sound navy yard, of which he afterward became commandant.

Four Out of Five Wait Too Long—

Are your gums tender—do they ever bleed when you brush your teeth?

If so—see your dentist at once and start using Forhan's For the Gums. You have the first symptoms of Pyorrhoea.

Incredible as it seems, four people out of every five past the age of forty, and thousands younger, have Pyorrhoea.

If neglected Pyorrhoea soon runs its deadly course. It loosens teeth until they drop out or must be pulled, and it causes those deadly pus pockets to which scientists now attribute so much serious illness.

If you use Forhan's For the Gums consistently, and use it in time, you can prevent Pyorrhoea or arrest its course.

Brush your teeth with Forhan's twice each day. It will keep your teeth and gums in a clean healthy condition.

Don't delay longer. Four out of five fall victims to Pyorrhoea because they waited too long. 35c and 60c tubes, at your druggist's.
