

RODEEN OPENS FIRE ON WELFARE BOARD

Loose Methods of Spending Public Funds Charged.

TICKET PURCHASE CITED

Transportation of Woman Paid at Full Rates When Half That Much Would Have Done.

A warrant for $26.11, drawn against county funds was recently handed to Mrs. John L. Burns, by the public welfare board to cover transportation charges for herself and two children to Iowa, where her husband is facing serious charges in the federal court there.

Order Held Up

The order was held up for a day or two by Sam E. Martin, county auditor. However, there was no legal way in which Auditor Martin could withhold payment.

Later the claim came to the attention of Fred Tomken, special auditor assigned to the welfare board to check expenditures of county funds. Mr. Tomken ascertained that the welfare board is given half-fare rates on railroads but that in this case the county was permitted to pay the full fare.

Attaches of the welfare board protested that it would be dishonest for the bureau to obtain transportation for indigent persons at reduced fares when county funds were used.

A meeting of the welfare board has been called tomorrow afternoon in the courthouse. At this time it is understood that the appointment of Mr. Tomken by Chairman Rudeen and County Commissioner Hoyt will be discussed.

Tomken Is Storm Center

Mr. Tomken, who has had years of experience as an investigator and accountant, is the storm center between the county board of supervisors and the welfare board. He was employed for months by Chairman Rudeen to make investigations of expenditures by the welfare board.

Oakes, William Janin and Alden Brodt. The party hiked to the summer camp on the shore of Wautlum lake, going in over the Eagle creek trail.

The trail was found in good condition until the last three miles, where the first snow was encountered, and where the going was made difficult by fallen bushes and trees. Coming out they used the Herman creek trail, which was in far worse shape above the six-mile post.

At the lake the scouts found from six to 12 feet of snow and considerable ice on the water.

Moving Picture News

TODAY'S FILM FEATURES. Rivoli—Thomas Meighan, "The Bachelor Dandy." People's—"The Sheik's Wife." Majestic—Lon Chaney, "The Trap." Liberty—Jackie Coogan, "Trouble." Columbia—Booth Tarkington's "The Man From Home." Hippodrome—Bert Lytell, "The Face Between." Circle—Constance Binney, "Midnight."

JACKIE COOGAN, in "Trouble," the current attraction at the Liberty theater, merits the attention of the show-weary who are seeking diverting entertainment. One might easily be misled by the title to assume that this is essentially a "sob-picture." That is far from being the case. There are more wholesome laughs contained in this interesting feature than there are in many alleged five-reel comedies.

The work of the little starlet is really remarkable. He registers the comedy with as much facility as he does the pathos. The story begins in a barrel where the youngster, a fugitive from an orphan asylum, is concealed with his dog. Following this there are a series of hilarious situations centering about Jackie's life in that institution. Later he is adopted by a plumber. The individual is a perpetual wife-beater, and Jackie remarks to his dog: "Queenie, if you ever marry, don't pick a plumber."

Interwoven with the comedy there is an excellent story running throughout the feature. There is nothing implausible about it. It is different and tremendously enjoyable.

Another distinct novelty offered by the Liberty is Branson De Cou and his "Dream Pictures." This is an original conception. Beautifully colored and harmoniously blending views of the Grand Canyon of the Arizona, and of Mount Hood, with varying lights of day and night playing upon its snowy beauty, are shown to the accompaniment of the ampic, playing selections from the various masters that are expressive of the constantly changing pictures shown.

The programme is ably rounded out by a snappy comedy featuring Johnny "Torchy" Hines. It was in this peppy offering that "Torchy" made his reputation; and in this particular one he has surpassed all his previous efforts.

Screen Gossip. Marie Prevost now passes under the guidance of Stuart Paton, who will direct her in automobile drama entitled "They're Off." Scenes are now being shot at Universal City.

Lambert Hillier has been engaged by Universal to direct "Broken Chains," a magazine story by Jack Bechdot. Frank Mayo will be starred.

Ruth Dwyer is going to Germany to appear in photoplays. She was last screened here at home with Eugene O'Brien in "Clay Dollars." Ruth will take a lot of "em along to exchange for German marks.

Owen Moore who was "Reported Missing," has turned up in Hollywood where he had "A Previous Engagement" with Myron Selznick to make another screen comedy.

Apple blossoms and whales are the contrasting features of the Elvir Clifton production "Down to the Sea in Ships."

Agnes Ayres, latest Paramount picture, "The Ordeal," has been booked for showing soon at the Liberty theater. Like Miss Ayres' other successes, "The Ordeal" is a tragic love story with a happy ending.

All the scenes of Marion Davies' new photoplay, "The Bride's Play," coming to the Peoples are laid in Ireland. It is a story based on an ancient Irish legend. Wyndham Standing plays the male lead.

ex-wife, even though he signed a fictitious name. Mrs. Schumacher recognized his handwriting and swore to a complaint charging Schumacher with having deserted and abandoned their four minor children, the eldest, a boy of 11 years, toward the support of whom the court had ordered him to pay $75 a month. Schumacher was arrested at Clear Lake, Wash., and Governor Hart today issued a requisition for his return to Glacier county, Montana, for trial.

BATES ON THE PAYROLL ALL WINTER LONG

Oregon Man Says Tanlac Built Him Up 25 Pounds and Kept Him on Job by Completely Overcoming His Long-standing Stomach Trouble.

"Tanlac not only built me up twenty-five pounds but it actually kept me on the payroll all winter," said C. T. Bates, 476 Umattilla Ave., Portland, Ore., employee of the West Side Lumber Co.

"I suffered so bad from stomach trouble and a run-down condition for three years that even the slightest foods gave me indigestion. Gas on my stomach gave me awful cramps and my heart palpitated so I could hardly breathe. I had dreadful headaches and dizzy spells, and my kidneys bothered me too, with such sharp pains in my back I could scarcely bend over. Nothing helped me and I got so weak I had to give up my job when winter came for I didn't have strength to stand the cold."

"When I read how Tanlac helped other people with troubles like mine I decided to try it. I improved from the very first, now feel fine all the time and I got so weak I had to give up my job when winter came for I didn't have strength to stand the cold."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.
