

STATE GUARDSMEN TO LEAVE THURSDAY

Four Special Trains to Go to Camp Lewis.

ABOUT 2000 TO ATTEND

Preparations Made at Headquarters Already and Troops Will Be Met by Special Guides.

Four special trains will carry Oregon national guardsmen to their summer training area, the first leaving Portland at midnight Wednesday.

Coast artillery units destined for Fort Worden on Puget sound leave on the first train. Infantry, artillery, machine gun, engineer and engineer companies will be encamped at Camp Lewis, Wash.

Coast defense detachments are from Salem, Albany, Ashland, Newport, Marshfield and Toledo, and will go to Seattle on through sleeping cars, transferring to boats at Seattle docks direct from the train.

Battery A is to go. The first train leaving Portland on the morning of June 15 will be comprised of Battery A and Company H, machine guns, of Portland, together with other units.

The third special will carry only outfits outside of the county, including infantry units from Eugene, Woodburn, McMinnville, Roseburg, Salem, Silverton, Independence, Dunsmuir, Clifton, and Cottage Grove, and a hospital unit from Lebanon.

Promptness and orderliness in training is essential. This is a memorandum from the office of the adjutant-general. "Company commanders will be responsible for the orderly conduct of their men at all times and particular care will be exercised while passing through towns. Men will not be permitted to ride on platforms or lean out of windows. Company commanders will cause a sentinel to be placed at each end of each car occupied by troops.

Men Must Stay on Trains. "Men will leave the train under no circumstances except when required to do so upon changes of trains, mess outfits, or arrival at destination. Commanders of companies are charged with the policing of cars occupied by their units before detaching at destinations. All troops leaving Portland will carry a prepared meal for each man. Those going to Camp Lewis will obtain hot coffee at Centralia, where a stop of 15 minutes will be made. Full field equipment will be taken by each officer and enlisted man, but neither will be permitted to carry any hand grip or personal luggage of any character.

Immediately upon detaching at camp, all organizations will confer with their guides—who have been preparing camp since Sunday—and will take up the march immediately for their quarters, which they will proceed to establish themselves. Following mess, on the evening of arrival in camp, all officers will be assembled for a critique of the details of the movement.

Cots, blankets and sheets will be furnished all enlisted personnel and the regular army rations have been augmented under authority from the war department to make an unusually good "mess." Recruits for the guards are still being accepted at the armory, Tenth and Couch streets. The lowest pay during the period of the camp is $1.50 per day for privates.

Lift Off with Fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little "Frezzone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. "Frezzone" is a tiny bottle of "Frezzone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the painless, without soreness or irritation.—Adv.

TODAY'S FILM FEATURES. Peoples—"Reckless Youth." Columbia—"Missing Husband." Liberty—"George Behan." The Sign of the Rose. Rivoli—"Kathleen Norris." "Sisters." Majestic—"Constance Talmadge." "The Primitive Lover." Hippodrome—"Tom Mix." "Sky High." Circle—"Dorothy Dalton." "The Crimson Challenge."

"SISTERS," adapted for the screen from the novel by Kathleen Norris, is the current attraction at the Rivoli theater. It was directed by Albert Capellani. The picture contains a quiet, but surely moving story, more narrative than dramatic. One seeking thrills or big moments won't find them; but they will find good entertainment.

The triangle in this picture is supplied by the man, played by Matt Moore, who is older than the younger of the two sisters, while the older is in love with him. The younger sister is frivolous. She marries a man who is an emancipation and carries no responsibilities. Life in logging camp becomes irksome. The man has taken a trip around the world to forget her. Returning, he marries the elder sister. He does not love her, but they have a wonderful foundation for married happiness in the fact that they were always good pals; there was almost a mutual sympathetic understanding and an unfeeling friendship. The younger sister quits her husband and visits the home of her sister. There she learns from the man himself that she was the girl that sent him around the world. That centers her attention on her brother-in-law. Thematically we are supposed to believe that she is all to blame. Maybe the continuity of the picture is to blame, for the man rushes her more than she rushes him. It reaches the point where he is going to sacrifice his home, wife and everything. But realization comes in the nick of time, showing him the true worth of the woman who is not only his wife—but his life—the ideal mating. The denouement is convincingly satisfactory.

BANK'S PORTRAYAL SPIGY

FEDERAL RESERVE FIGURES IN "JIM-JAM GEMS."

Brookings Man Admits Furnishing Information Picturing "Super-Shylock."

Portrayal of the federal reserve bank as a "super-shylock" in the columns of a highly-seasoned publication, "Jim-Jam Gems," was brought about by the furnishing of information to its editor, W. D. Wood, secretary of the Brookings State bank, according to testimony elicited from Mr. Wood yesterday, when he took the stand in federal court. The bank is seeking a permanent restraining order against the federal institution, alleging that the latter has maliciously interfered with the operation of small banking houses.

Cross-examined by attorneys for the defense, Mr. Wood also admitted that he, as postmaster, had given mail to Ray Landon, agent of the federal reserve bank, while dealing as a banker to approve Landon's credentials. He was questioned closely respecting a shipment of $5000 in silver, and another of $10,000 in gold, which he carried by his bank and at his instructions during the period of the agent's official visit. The inference sought by the defense was that these unusually heavy calls for silver and $1 bills were intended to embarrass and inconvenience the federal bank agent, when he should present his checks for cashing.

The plaintiff had charged that, on one occasion, greatly to the embarrassment of the Brookings bank, the check of the federal reserve bank was cashed at the bank. The plaintiff had stamped one of the smaller bank's checks with the phrase, "bank closed." This the defendant admitted, with the exception that it was merely a clerical error. Mr. Wood testified, upon questioning from defense attorneys, that he had a copy of this check made, and that one of these checks had been furnished to "Jim-Jam Gems."

Beginning this morning at 7 o'clock the Portland Rotary club will be host to more than 2500 Rotarians from all over the country, as they reach this city en route home from the international convention held in Los Angeles last week.

The first visitors reached the city last night on the Shasta limited, about 50 members from eastern cities arriving. They were met by delegations from the local chapter and escorted to the Multnomah and Benson hotels. Most of them will remain here for a day or more and take part in the entertainment arranged for the larger parties due to arrive today and later in the week.

Special Trains Arrive Today. This morning at 7 o'clock two special trains are scheduled to arrive from Los Angeles, carrying together about 600 Rotarians. The first train will be loaded with the delegations from New York city, Ontario and Quebec. The second will bring the Maryland, Pennsylvania and West Virginia parties, which will be made up of Rotary club members and their wives.

Although more trains and special cars will arrive daily all week, Friday is considered the big day for the Rotarians, when three special trains, the first from Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Vermont, the second from Maryland, Washington, D. C. and New York state, and the third from eastern New York and northern New Jersey, will arrive.

Visitors to See City. The visitors today will enjoy the regular Rotary club luncheon at the Benson hotel, and will be taken over the highway and on sightseeing trips around the city in automobiles supplied by local club members. Delegations will also pay visits to all women accompanying their husbands at the hotels and arrangements have been made for gifts of robes and other flowers to them.

On Friday evening there will be a formal welcome of guests and an informal ball at the Multnomah hotel. Most of the visitors will stop in Portland for at least a day.

RAYMOND, Wash., June 12.—(Special.)—The Elks of this city at the annual flag day exercises at Pilsburg, five miles south of Vernon, has been designated as a market road and close to $175,000 has been spent in its construction. To go by either of the present routes via Clatskanie and Mist or via Portland, Forest Grove and Timber, now requires about one-half day and the distance is twice as great as it will be by the market road. If the court can make the necessary financial arrangements it might complete the rock work this year.

WORN OUT AFTER SHE COOKED A MEAL

Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Read the Result

Cincinnati, Ohio.—"I suffered for a year with nervous troubles and irregularities before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back pained all the time and I was unfit for household work. I was worn out if I cooked a meal, and was unable to do my washing. My girl friends and my sister told me if I would take your Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills I would be relieved. After taking the first bottle I felt better, and neglected it awhile, but found I could not do my work until I was stronger. So I took the Vegetable Compound again and now I am the mother of a 19 months old boy. He is fat and healthy and I am sure I could never have carried him if it had not been for your medicine. I recommend your medicine to all women although I am young to be advising some one older."—Mrs. CHRIST, PETROFF, 318 W. Liberty St., Cincinnati, Ohio.
