ACTRESS LIKES PORTLAND

ROSE FETE FLOWERS ARE ADMIRER GREATLY.

Barbara Brown, Playing at Heilig, Declares Highway Trip Will Be Remembered Always.

Among the out-of-town visitors during Rose Festival week none is more enthusiastic about the flowers and the events than Miss Barbara Brown, who plays the role of Rose-Mary in "Abie's Irish Rose," current at the Heilig. Miss Brown is from Los Angeles, the home of flowers, but she says she has never seen anything lovelier than the blossoms in Festival Center or the marvelous roses which bloom alike in the yards of rich and poor in Portland. "Even the tiniest, most unpretentious cottage has its rose hedge, or at least a bush in bloom," said Miss Brown. "I went for a long ride yesterday on the highway and the day is one I shall always treasure in my memory. There were four in our party, Mr. Schubert who plays Abie in our play, and Mr. and Mrs. John Peltret of New York. Mr. Peltret is in Port-
