

SCHOOL BOARD ROW
MAY GO INTO COURT

Two Recalled Directors Refuse to Retire.

TWO NEW MEN ELECTED

Gilbert Station District Doesn't Yet Know Just Who is to Take Seats at Meeting.

A neighborhood upheaval which resulted in a vote to recall two members of the school board of district 45, located around Gilbert station just east of Leuts, and the election of two new members in their places promises to be taken into the courts as a result of the refusal of the two "recalled" school directors to consider themselves dismissed.

The trouble, which has created a furor in the district, started when the school board student yesterday six of the eight teachers employed in the school that their services would not be needed after the close of the school year. No good reason for the dismissal was given, it was declared by those who took an active part in the recall.

L. A. Ebers and E. B. Pyle, the two directors upon which a recall vote of 99 to 5 was said to have been taken, have declared their intention of taking their places at the next meeting of the board in spite of the action taken. W. C. Flanders and Donald Pury, who were chosen to take the places of the recalled members, are equally insistent that they are legally the representatives of the school district.

Court Action is Likely.

As a result of the controversy, the district doesn't know just who is on the school board and it is probable a decision of the courts will be required to settle the matter, it was said yesterday.

So high has feeling run that some of the men of the district have threatened to take the two recalled members of the board out by force in case they insist on taking their old places at the next board meeting. Pending this next meeting, date for which has not yet been set, both sides are standing pat.

County School Superintendent Alderson has refused to recognize the recall of the two directors on the ground that district 45 is a district of the second class. According to Mr. Alderson, an opinion of the attorney-general held that the recall could not be utilized by school districts of the second and third class. He said that his office is standing on that decision unless an interpretation of the law to the contrary should be made by the courts. He admitted that there might be room for legal controversy on the subject.

Calkins Near End of Term. E. M. Calkins, the third member of the board, upon whom no recall vote was taken, owing to the fact that the other two members were said to have taken the initiative in the discharge of the teachers, is now nearing the close of his term. Mr. Wright was nominated to fill the vacancy. The final election will come up next month. At the same time B. N. Himebaugh, the school clerk, was nominated to succeed himself.

The controversy following the dismissal of the teachers has been going on for some time in the district. It was about the middle of the spring semester that the six teachers were formally notified that their services would not be required after the end of that term. The recall election was held after a committee of citizens of the district had surprised the board at a secret meeting, it was said, and failed to get any satisfaction upon demanding the reasons for the removal of the teachers.

Snow Reported Melting.

HOOD RIVER, Or., June 20.—(Special.)—Fred W. Donnerberg, official photographer of the Hood River American Legion post, back from reconnoitering ascent of Mount Hood in preparation for the post's annual climb of the peak July 16, reported that the snow banks of the high altitudes are melting fast. Mr. Donnerberg, accompanied by Orvie Thompson, Upper Valley legionnaire, was guided to the top of the peak by Mark Weyand, official guide for the legion post. The party camped just below the location of the legion's base camp, where two feet of snow still covers the forest floor.

AN ANNOUNCEMENT has been received of the engagement of Leland Leslie Smith to Mademoiselle Gilberte Garros by Mr. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter V. Smith.

Mademoiselle Gilberte Garros is the daughter of Colonel Leland and Madame Lehalie. She was educated in Paris and is an accomplished musician, having taken first prize in piano at the conservatory and the sister of the late Roland Garros, famous French ace who was killed during the latter part of the war.

Mr. Smith served overseas as a lieutenant in the aviation service, and following the armistice as a military observer in Roumania and the Ukraine. He was decorated with the French Legion of Honor and also with the Roumanian Legion of Honor. Following his release from the army he took the consular examinations and was assigned to Saigon. The wedding will be an event of the late fall.

A tea-garden party, with community singing and a programme of other music, including vocal and instrumental solos, was given at the home of Mrs. J. W. Tice, 1033 East Grant street, last night by circle No. 3 of the Ladies' Aid society of the Sunnyside Methodist Episcopal church. Members of the married club of the church, which usually meets on Tuesday evening, postponed their meeting to a future date and aided in making the tea-garden party a success. The lawn was decorated with Japanese lanterns and several hundred visitors were entertained.

Friends were surprised yesterday by the announcement of the marriage of Miss Loraine Bell, a resident of Portland for the last two years, to James H. Cassell, well-known Portland newspaper man and president of the Portland Press club. The ceremony was performed last Thursday in McMinville, in the presence of intimate friends.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Milton Bell of Forman, N. D., where her father is retired, though extensively interested in farm properties. Mr. Cassell, familiarly known in Pacific coast newspaper offices as "Jim," is editor of the Automotive News and manager of the Portland Automotive Trades association. He formerly was on the Oregonian editorial staff.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Beals of Tillamook were recent visitors in the city with their son Roland, who is a student at the Hill Military academy.

Wednesday noon, June 14, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Grieger, Woodland, Wash., Miss Gidonia Luetic became the bride of Marshall C. Quick. Victor A. Grieger sang "Oh, Perfect Love" and "At Dawn's Light." Miss Avis Olson played the wedding march. Rev. E. M. Singleton performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of white canton crepe trimmed with pearls. A wreath of orange blossoms held her silk veil in place. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and Cecil Brunner roses. Miss Anna Lind was maid of honor. Her gown was of old rose satin and she carried pink sweet peas.

locusts. The color scheme of pink and white predominated. At the apartments, Mrs. Smith, who was Louise Watson, is the daughter of Mrs. Anna Watson. The wedding took place in St. Paul's Episcopal church, Oregon City, June 10, Rev. Mr. Clellan officiating.

Mrs. Jane Howard, the house guest of Mrs. Harry Sharp, was the motif for an informal dance at which Miss Marion Howles entertained last night at her home on Westover terrace. Mrs. Rhodes returned with her and will make an extended visit in Portland.

An interesting visitor in Portland is Mrs. William Crosby (Peggy Hamilton), who, with her husband, is spending three weeks at the home of her sister, Mrs. Carl Griffith. The couple arrived in the city last evening on their honeymoon trip and will go to New York and then to Paris. Peggy Hamilton is the editor of the rotogravure section of the Los Angeles Times, and is well known in southern California as a clever writer, artist and designer of costumes.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hicklin Smith, who are passing their honeymoon in British Columbia, are expected to return shortly to Portland, and will make their home at the Brown apartments. Mrs. Smith, who was Louise Watson, is the daughter of Mrs. Anna Watson. The wedding took place in St. Paul's Episcopal church, Oregon City, June 10, Rev. Mr. Clellan officiating.

Friends of the former Miss Marie

Cavalline will be interested to hear of her marriage to Franklin P. Bull of San Francisco. The wedding was an event of June 12 in Los Angeles, but the couple will make their home in San Francisco, where Mr. Bull is practicing law.

Mrs. Henry Wilder and her children have gone to Victoria, B. C., for the summer.

Mrs. Jack H. White entertained yesterday with two tables of bridge in honor of Mrs. E. C. Crumpacker, who is the guest of Mrs. Maurice E. Crumpacker and Mrs. John Ker.

Miss Marion West complimented Miss Miriam Reed at a bridge party last Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Florence Davis and daughter, Miss Pearl Davis, of Maryland, are spending several weeks with Mrs. Helen D. Kruger of 5609 Fifty-second avenue Southeast.

Portland society folk are unusually busy this week. The Rose Festival, of course, is paramount, but the June brides are not to be neglected. Three attractions and popular girls will be wed this week. Miss Mary Warrack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Warrack, has selected tonight as the date of her marriage to Lieutenant Wilbur M. Lockhart, United States navy. Bishop Walter Taylor Sumner will officiate at St. Stephen's pro-cathedral, assisted by Dean Horace M. Ramsey. Mrs. Lloyd Gray will be the bride of honor and Miss Marjorie McGuire and Miss Helen Page will be the bridesmaids. The bridegroom will be attended by Lieutenant Leon Mintzer, U. S. N.

Another event of interest planned for tonight is the wedding of Miss Miriam Reed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Millard Reed, to James Forrest Cobb Jr. The ceremony will be performed by Dr. Harold L. Bowman. The bride's attendants will be Miss Marion West, Miss Gretchen Smith and Miss Nancy Hoyt.

The other wedding of social interest is that of Pendleton and Roscoe M. Ashley, scheduled for Saturday. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garry C. Nickerson and the bridegroom-to-be is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. M. Ashley.

This is the day of the admirals' ball. Roy Bishop of Pendleton will be the guest of honor at the big formal function, which will be held at the Malmouth hotel, beginning at 9 o'clock. Social activities and the mass meeting of women to hear Miss Alice M. Robertson will make the day a full one.

Mrs. A. S. Kerry, who will leave July 1 to make her home in Seattle, was honored at a reception and musicale last evening by the Malmouth hotel managers. Guests of the hotel and their friends were included in the guest list. Mrs. Kerry has written a number of charming songs under her pen name, Katherine A. Glenn, and these constituted a programme by Mitylene Fraker Stites, contralto, with Maye Van Dyke Hardwick at the piano. Among the more popular numbers was "I Heard a Lark Sing," the words by Helen Elkin Starrett. The guest of honor has made a host of friends during her stay here in social and musical circles and her going away is felt a distinct loss.

A beautifully decorated car will be entered by Mrs. Theodore E. Wilcox for the junior league girls in the floral parade Friday. Officers of the junior league will ride in the parade. The car will include Miss Cornelia Cook, who will drive the car. Mrs. Cameron Squires, Miss Louise Linthicum, Miss Margaret Biddle and Mrs. Spencer Biddle.

What a difference when it comes to drinking Clicquot Club GINGER ALE! They all like it.

There is something bewitching in the sight of tiny bubbles leaping from the bottom and sides of the glass, dancing up through the clear, golden liquid to sparkle and break at your lips. And the taste—who shall describe the taste of it? The only true description of Clicquot Club is—a drink of Clicquot Club.

Clicquot is made with pure spring water. Only real Jamaica ginger is used. The other ingredients—sugar and fruit juices—are just as pure as can be found. The blend never varies, so that every bottle of Clicquot tastes like the one before and the next. It is a most dependable, friendly, happy drink.

But you needn't be limited. You can give everyone the choice of Clicquot Club GINGER ALE, Sarsaparilla, Birch Beer, or Root Beer. The flavors are as different as their names—the purity of all is the same. Buy Clicquot by the case for home use.

The celebration will be held all day and at night.

Town Wants Convention.

NORTH BEND, Or., June 20.—(Special.)—North Bend and Marshfield American Legion posts have joined in bidding for the 1932 state convention, and it would be held in North Bend in the event it would come to this section. North Bend has named Bernard Hazer and Millard Wallace as delegates to the convention of 1932 at The Dalles. Citizens have promised the two posts every aid if they can obtain the 1932 convention for Coos Bay.

School Board Recall Fails.

BEND, Or., June 20.—(Special.)—A two-to-one majority last night repudiated the effort of the Bend Parent-Teacher association to recall Mrs. Horace Richards as a member of the local school board and to place Mrs. W. P. Myers in her stead. J. O. Gibson, opposing L. P. Orrell, another Parent-Teacher association candidate, won by nearly a large majority as Mrs. Richards in the annual school election.

Village to Celebrate.

MARSHFIELD, Or., June 20.—(Special.)—Langlois, sometimes called Dalryville in Curry county, for many years noted for its annual dalrymen's ball, is a sma-community of perhaps 200 people, including the town and county population, but they are giving a Fourth of July celebration this year that would do credit to any town in either Coos or Curry counties. The celebration will draw from Bandon, Port Orford and all of northern Curry and southern Coos. The celebration will be held all day and at night.

Wool Growers Name Manager.

YAKIMA, Wash., June 20.—J. F. Sears of Prosser, Wash., was named manager of the Wool Growers' Service corporation at the organization meeting held here last night. Mr. Sears will leave his position with the Prosser State bank and devote his entire time to handling loans for the livestock men of the state. Yakima will be headquarters of the corporation, which has a $100,000 capitalization.

Ex-Politician Has Stroke.

"There's a Reason" for Postum
Made by Postum Cereal Company, Inc., Battle Creek, Michigan

Coffee can disturb nerves and digestion, and often it does.

There's a safe and satisfying course for everybody in the selection of a table drink.

Postum has charm without harm. It's the safe drink for all, and probably, therefore, it's the better drink for you. Thousands have found it better, and fully satisfying, for them.

Your grocer has both forms of Postum: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for fully 20 minutes.

Household Problems

LINNTON, Or.—Dear Miss Tingle: Will you give me through the columns of The Oregonian, a recipe for brown stewed fish, sweet and sour, and a recipe that corrects? I had both several years ago, but lost them. I have a very full cream butter and a lemon recipe taken from your column and they surely were a great help to me.

MRS. R. M. I AM glad you find this column helpful. Possibly the following may be the fish recipe you want. Or, probably, some reader may have a better one and be willing to share it. I shall also be grateful if any reader can supply the Russian soup recipe you want. I think it is "Borscht," but am not at all sure of this or of any other Russian spelling.

Brown fish, sweet and sour—Two pounds halibut or other white fish, four tablespoons salad oil, one large onion, one small carrot, one small piece bay leaf, two or three cloves, one dill pickle, a few seeded raisins was guided to the top of the peak by Mark Weyand, official guide for the legion post. The party camped just below the location of the legion's base camp, where two feet of snow still covers the forest floor.

Brown the fish quickly and lightly in the oil. Take out of the pan and set aside where it will keep warm. Slice the onion and brown it in the fat, also the carrot (grated or finely chopped). Sprinkle in a little sugar and salt, to aid browning. Dissolve the "brown" in a very little water, quickly boiling to a "glaze." Then redissolve in more water, barely to cover the fish. Put in the fish with the bay leaf, cloves and raisins if used, and simmer very gently until tender. Take out the clove and bay leaf, add the dry ginger snap (finely pulverized) with the dill pickle finely chopped and salt, lemon juice and sugar to taste. If a thicker sauce is wanted, boil the onion soup or add a little brown thickening.

Possibly some reader may have a better recipe.

I have to thank Mrs. M. E. G. (Laurel, Or.) for the following information for Mrs. C. A.:

LAUREL, Or.—Dear Miss Tingle: I would like to answer Mrs. C. A. on soap-making with cracklings. The cracklings use the same amount of lard as pure grease—I can lay to 3 pounds cracklings. Put cracklings and grease in boiler. Cover with very little water. Boil until all cracklings have been dissolved, which takes several hours. Strain the pan or tub. There will be a layer of semi-solid settings which will be thrown away.

BILLINGS, Mont. June 1.—Dear Miss Tingle: About the middle of April I wrote you asking for a recipe for hard lemon candy. It has been in the issue you have overlooked it. We have not missed getting The Oregonian during that time and I have failed to see the answer to my question. Would you please answer same and see that it is placed for publication?

The reply to your question was written the day it was received. The matter of "placing for publication" is outside my field of authority. You have to remember that many letters are not read. I think probably your reply will have appeared by this time (as so often happens) you have chance to overlook it. To make sure, however, here is another recipe:

Women's Activities

DR. HENRY LAWRENCE SOUTHWICK will give a reading of "The Rival" tonight at 8:15 o'clock in the business women's clubrooms, Central building, under the auspices of the Oregon Federation of Business and Professional Women. Dr. Southwick is popular with Portland audiences, having read here before. The public is invited. An admission fee of 50 cents will be taken.

Royal circle, Neighbors of Woodcraft will entertain in the members and friends tonight at a 50 party at the Woodmen of the World hall, on Eleventh street.

The regular meeting of George Wright Relief Corps will be held tonight at 8 o'clock, in room 325 courthouse. All members who will attend the convention of the corps can get their credentials before or after the meeting.

The Peninsula Park Lavender club will not meet tomorrow on account of the Rose Festival.

Missionary enthusiasts of the First Congregational church will take no vacation this summer. Next Sunday morning Mrs. H. A. Roberts will superintend a shower of second-hand toys to be donated by the boys and girls of the First church Sunday school to a Christmas box that will be sent to Bruus, West Turkey. On Wednesday afternoon, June 23, Mrs. E. M. Gray will give a shower of linens for the same purpose at her home, 629 Wasco street.

A meeting of the Women's association of the Alameda Park community church will be held at 2 o'clock today. All members are urged to be there promptly.

On account of the Rose Festival there will be no clinics held this week at the Parents' Education bureau room 201 courthouse. The rooms will be open at all times and mothers are welcome to use them as a resting place. Any desired information will be given by the executive secretary, Mrs. Anne H. Bayly, who will be there during the regular hours the entire week.
