Machines and Cargoes Are Seized in Raid.

ONLY DRIVERS TAKEN

All Other Occupants Escape From Officers Following Battle Near Point Lobos.

MONTEREY, Cal., June 20.—Twelve automobiles and two trucks loaded with liquor and eight men in charge were captured by revenue officers near Point Lobos early today after a fight, in which about 100 shots were fired. None of the revenue men was injured. The rest of the party were taken to Oakland. They were Ed Frohm, P. A. Woodside, P. B. Millstok, Alex. Pollett, W. E. Mullan, Sam Sullivan, Sam Kallendar and Jacob Walti. The liquor was landed at Point Lobos from a small steamer which had been hovering off the coast during the night. The steamer put out to sea immediately after landing her cargo. Revenue officers at San Francisco have been notified and it is thought that a coast guard cutter will be sent in pursuit. Point Lobos is close to the literary colony at Carmel, and, according to residents, has been a favorite landing place for liquor cargoes. Many boatloads of contraband liquor have been landed in the vicinity of Carmel bay and Point Lobos.

Only Drivers Captured. The cars loaded with liquor were of all sizes and varieties. The eight men captured were drivers. The rest escaped in the darkness. It is not known whether any of them were wounded.

Most of the seized cars were of the expensive type and some of them were new. The license plates remained on them, but the license cards had been removed from all but one. This bore the name S. Terry, 854 Stanford avenue, Oakland, Cal. In order to reach Point Lobos the cars had to pass through a tollgate operated by A. M. Allen, owner of the Point Lobos. Allen grouped on Allen's abalone wharf for the most part during the period that the liquor was being transferred to the boats, according to the authorities. The small boats drew up alongside this wharf and the liquor cases were lifted quickly and quietly into the waiting machines.

Two Trucks Also Seized. Allen was said to have been absent from the point during the whole period of the seizure and the events leading up to it. In addition to the cars two trucks were seized, one of them containing 200 cases of liquor. After a cursory examination by the authorities, the cars were lined up and started for San Francisco with prohibition agents in charge. The estimated automobile time between Monterey and San Francisco is five hours.

BIG PLOT IS HELD NIPPED

Liquor Said to Have Been Sent From Vancouver, B. C.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 20.—The big liquor seizure at Monterey today marked the climax of a plot to unload two liquor laden ships from Vancouver, B. C. at obscure California points. S. F. Rutter, federal prohibition director for California, said in a statement on the seizure. The vessels left Vancouver a few days ago, one loaded with 2000 cases and the other with 1500 cases of whisky, Rutter said. "Last night we were prepared, a force of eight men from this office, reinforced by a sheriff's posse from Monterey county, being placed on guard. They searched the boats, and found that the liquor was being carried on the automobiles. Figuring that it was a bigger job than they had originally contemplated, they telephoned to me for more men. I rushed three more to Monterey. The officers closed in on the supposed smugglers under cover of night and the seizure followed."

HILO, T. H., June 20.—A heavy column of black vapor arising from Mauna Loa crater was visible here today. The sky over the volcano glowed last night with an unusual brilliancy. Reports have reached here of an eruption of Mauna Loa, but Professor T. A. Jaggar Jr., United States volcanologist, has not yet been able to discover any lava flow. He expressed the opinion that the renewed activity of Mauna Loa might be caused by lava from the Kilauea volcano, which was in eruption last month, reaching the crater of Mauna Loa through subterranean channels.

Intention of Republican Chiefs to Bring Up Measure After Tariff Is Approved.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 20.—President Harding tonight gave formal approval to plans of republican leaders in the house to bring the administration ship subsidy bill to a vote at this session immediately after the tariff bill has been sent to conference by the house. The president's position was stated in a letter to Representative Mondell of Wyoming, the republican leader, which embodied also detailed arguments advanced by Mr. Harding in favor of enactment of the measure at the present session. approaching short session, the president said, but advantage will result in a delay of a short time while house members, particularly many of whom are now away from Washington, consult their constituents. The subsidy bill, he declared, is needed to get the government steamship holdings into private hands and into economic usage, if for nothing else, and this question he held "not to be prejudicial by the old and worn-out cry against subsidy." "It does not become us to go on paying shipping tolls to the world," the president said further, "when our righteous purposes in trade are better promoted by serving ourselves in making our tenders in the marts of the world." The exact time fixed for voting on the measure, the president said, in describing his agreement with house leaders is "approximately" such time as house members will be called in active attendance to send the tariff bill to conference."

American Women Who Marry Foreigners Would Be Able to Keep Citizenship.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 20.—To meet conditions which its friends declared have been emphasized by the women's suffrage amendment, the house today by a vote of 306 to 9, passed a bill which would open to alien married women substantially all naturalization and citizenship rights enjoyed by alien men. The bill would also permit American women who marry foreigners to retain their citizenship unless they renounce their allegiance as do American men who marry aliens or unless they marry aliens ineligible to United States citizenship. While the bill produced protracted debate and its consideration consumed the entire day, the procedure stated that there are 2,500,000 alien women in the United States who are not naturalized. Under existing law many of these are denied the right of citizenship because their alien husbands had failed to obtain a naturalization. With the declared object of better protecting American citizenship the bill would permit all alien women to qualify for and obtain naturalization and citizenship upon their own initiative even though they have American husbands. For the benefit of alien women who marry Americans the period of residence necessary for naturalization would be reduced to one year. Among other provisions the bill would enable a woman who had by marriage lost her citizenship to obtain naturalization and recover her franchise. The bill in no wise affects the status of children. Provision would be made by the bill to enable alien married women who desire to do so and are qualified to declare their intention and become naturalized. It has been estimated that there are 2,500,000 alien women in the United States who are not naturalized. Under existing law many of these are denied the right of citizenship because their alien husbands had failed to obtain a naturalization. In an attempt to curb the practices of optical fakers, who are said to be reaping a harvest in this state, Dr. Floyd B. Dayton, president of the state board of examiners in optometry, yesterday offered a standing reward of $50 for the arrest and conviction of any person fitting glasses in the state without a license. Dr. Dayton has laid before the board evidence of wholesale swindling by fakers, who canvass from house to house and take advantage of those troubled with weak eyes. Glasses supplied by these chivalrous are worthless, the doctor said. "Since it is unlawful to solicit from house to house," he said, "every person so approached immediately should report to the police."
