

OFFICERS GUARD PROVIDED FOR DAY

Second in Command to Take Up Senior's Duties.

FIELD DUTY WILL COME

Oregon Men at Camp Lewis to Get Instruction in How to Act in Protecting Bridges.

CAMP LEWIS, Wash., June 20.—(Special.)—For 24 hours, beginning with reveille today, the second in command of every unit in the Oregon national guard encampment is the commanding officer of his organization, replacing his superior for one day, by virtue of an order from guard headquarters.

The purpose of this practical experience is to give officers who might be expected at any time to assume command in the absence of their immediate superior, the necessary knowledge of the organization and the duties of the various positions. The order is issued by the commanding officer, Lieutenant-Colonel Eugene Moshberger of Woodburn succeeds Colonel Creed C. Hammond of Portland as commanding officer of the training camp. In every battalion, the senior captain replaces the major in command and in every company the senior first lieutenant succeeds the captain.

Duties Are Explained. "The first duty of the national guard in time of trouble has to do with guard, important bridges, buildings and roads," he commented today. "A guardman should know thoroughly just what duties are required of guards and how far they should go in carrying out their orders. There is no object in arming a soldier with a rifle if he cannot shoot. Marksmanship, therefore, is required.

"If a man can shoot fast and straight and can handle a rifle with skill, he has a fundamental training of great value and can be taught close and extended order drill and tactical maneuvers in a limited time."

Twelve posts have been established in the national guard area and the companies are daily assigned to 24 hours guard duty. Company E, Captain Harry Hansen of Portland, commanding, and company F, Captain Paul Hendrick of Salem commanding, has been on duty the past two days. There are more men than are actually required for the purpose of guarding the district but the many posts are fixed chiefly for instruction purposes.

Hospital Corps to Drill. To simulate a battle emergency, the 15th hospital company, commanded by Major Joel C. Booth of Lebanon, will furnish rations for about 250 men of the first battalion, 124 infantry on the morning of the day. A rolling kitchen will be taken and the meal prepared by the hospital company as though the men of the battalion were patients in their care had devolved on the hospital unit. Rolling kitchens will be taken to the range by the second and third battalions of the 182d and the first battalion of the 186th Wednesday for the noon meal under field conditions.

Arrangements for the equipment are being made by Major Joseph V. Schur, quartermaster department, and Captain R. M. Conners, infantry. Adjutant-General White left Camp Lewis at 7:30 this morning for an inspection trip to Fort Worden, where coast artillery troops of the Oregon guard have been in training under command of Major Charles E. Gjedsted of Portland. Accompanying him were Colonel Clarence E. Dentler of Portland, Major William G. White of Salem, Major Roy R. Knox of Portland, Captain Harry C. Brumbaugh of Salem, Captain Jerrold Owen of Portland and Captain E. B. Straw of Marshfield.

BIG GUNS WELL HANDLED Excellent Results Are Achieved in Target Practice.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., June 20.—(Special.)—In the blue reaches of the Strait of San Juan de Fuca the big guns of the coast artillery were firing today. Five hundred yards in its wake is a small craft surmounted by a flagpole.

"What is the range?" is the query of the coast defense commander to the battery commander.

"Twenty-five hundred yards," is the reply.

"Commence firing." A big gun raises its snout to the heavens and speaks in a small, weak voice. A one-pound shell speeds to its mark, falling 15 yards short. It is sub-caliber practice on the coast defense guns of Fort Worden, where coast artillery men of the Oregon national guard are in summer training. In the bore of the great rifles is a gun firing 2.35 caliber shells and the gun is aimed with the mechanism of the parent piece. Skill in handling the big guns is attained at a minimum of expense for shells by this method.

This was the first day of artillery drill with the sub-caliber guns and excellent results were attained, considering the inexperience of the men reported Major Charles E. Gjedsted of Salem, commanding officer. The practice was under the eyes of Adjutant-General White, who arrived this afternoon from Camp Lewis. The big guns will be fired with service ammunition next week, by which time the gunners will have attained sufficient skill to prevent undue waste of expensive ammunition.

The Albany company has been assigned to the 12-inch battery, the Ashland and Marshfield units to the 16-inch guns and the Newport-Toledo company to the six-inch rapid fire disappearing battery. Three hundred Oregon guardsmen are in training here under the immediate command of Major Gjedsted, with Major James S. Dusenbury of Salem, regular army coast artillery man, acting as senior instructor.

"Not only are the men doing excellent work but they are showing a splendid spirit and a keen interest in the instruction," was the comment today of Colonel Henry Merriam, commander of the coast defenses at Fort Worden, "Oregon can be proud of them."

one of the most attractive forts on the coast.

The days have been delightful, though the night has proved rather chilly. Three blankets were issued to each man on arrival in camp and 250 extra had to be obtained for those who still felt the cold at night. Sibley stoves have been lighted in many of the tents. The guard companies brought their own cooks and mess sergeants to Fort Worden and are standing entirely on their own merits. Keen rivalry exists between the various outfits, not only in target work, but in sanitary arrangements, a daily check being kept on the condition of quarters, mess tent, kitchens and company streets by Captain George E. Riggs of Albany, camp surgeon.

ROADHOUSE IS SEARCHED

Members of Citizens' Posse Fail to Discover Liquor and Go Back to Homes.

Whistle Inn Guarded Against Clean-Up Party.

ASTORIA, Or., June 20.—(Special.)—The 48-hour period, which a posse of Warrenton citizens gave the proprietors of the Whistle Inn to close the place and leave the county, expired at 12 o'clock last night. A posse of 40 men, headed by Frank Warren, mayor, and City Marshal Thurston, was on hand at the appointed time. Some of the men were armed with rifles, according to Sheriff Nelson, who with several deputies had gone to the inn in response to calls for protection from the proprietors of the place, who expressed fear of mob violence.

SUMMER SESSION OPENS

Willamette University to Allow Regular Credit for Work.

WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY, Salem, Or., June 20.—(Special.)—Registration for the summer session of Willamette university ended yesterday and instruction began yesterday. There will be two terms, the first one ending July 28, and the second one extending from July 31 to September 8.

HISTORIC CHURCH VIEWED

O. A. C. Students Visit Once Famous Place of Worship.

ALBANY, Or., June 20.—(Special.)—The old Providence church, about six miles south of Seio, which was built in 1812, was visited today by the Willamette valley and which, it is said, had the largest congregation of any church in the Pacific northwest, was visited Monday by a party of summer students of Oregon Agricultural college under the leadership of Professor J. B. Horner, professor of history. A service was held at the church in the honor of Job Powell, its founder and a minister of prominence in pioneer days.

LIONS AT HOT SPRINGS

Arkansas City Welcomes Sixth Convention of Clubs.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., June 20.—With his playing colors flying and delegations from many points staging street parades, members of Lions' clubs from over the United States and Canada made merry today, the opening of the sixth international convention of Lions' clubs. Addresses of welcome were delivered by Mayor J. J. Frazier of Hot Springs and Governor McRae of Arkansas. The response was made by Jesse Robinson of Oakland, Cal., past international president. Americanization and education are the principal themes to be discussed during the convention, which will continue its sessions through Saturday.

MOTOR CARS TOTALING 1300 ARRIVE AT MUNICIPAL CAMP

Only Words of Praise Are Heard Among Tourists for Management and Comforts of Parking Grounds.

Superior, Wis., where Mr. Wright was a crane engineer in a big saw-mill. They left Superior May 1 and are really looking for a new location. Mrs. Wright said: "The roads in Idaho and Oregon are the best we have found on the trip." She has a sister living in Superior and they may visit her after the big show in Portland.

The eastern parties are beginning to arrive at the camp. Quincy, Ill., furnishing one in which came A. G. Myers, wife and five small children, and a passenger, Miss Edith Smith. Like Cal Stewart, who is the conductor, "they ain't going back." Mr. Myers is a salesman and they expect to make Portland their home. They have been five weeks on the trip from Quincy.

George Montgomery and wife came up from Mary, Ariz., having as a guide "Teddy," their dog. Mr. Montgomery is a barber and says he may make Portland his home. However, he received 45 cents for a haircut in Arizona and the Portland price strikes him as being too low. However, it does not so strike the customers, and how the hair cuts are far more numerous here.

The banner party to arrive at the grounds this year came in from Logan, Utah—three families in three big machines and two trailers. The "main guy" of the party is Dr. D. C. Budge, with his wife and two children. His lieutenant and understudy is another medic, Dr. H. R. McGee, with his wife and two children, and a passenger, Miss Edith Smith. As camp boss there is John Christianson, with his wife and three children. Mr. Christianson makes an honest living in the big Logan department store of Sharnhart & Christianson. They all left home May 25, assembling at St. George, Utah, for a starting point. They came around via Los Angeles and expect to be back in Logan ten days from today. Let it be hoped no epidemic breaks out while all of the doctors are absent.

Alford Wright and Mrs. Wright and infant daughter are residents of

CLATSOP SHERIFF HUNTS FOR ILLEGALS

Whistle Inn Guarded Against Clean-Up Party.

ROADHOUSE IS SEARCHED

Members of Citizens' Posse Fail to Discover Liquor and Go Back to Homes.

MR. WEST WINS IN SUIT

$19,681 VERDICT RETURNED AGAINST COOS COUNTY. Full Amount Asked Is Awarded in Action Based on Lobbying Agreement.

EUGENE, Or., June 20.—(Special.)—Oswald, governor of Oregon won his case against Coos county late this afternoon when a jury in the circuit court returned a verdict in his favor for the full amount sued for, $19,681. The amount sued for was $250. The verdict was given by Circuit Judge Taxwell to William Crowder in his suit for legal separation from Helen Crowder.

Liquor Search Fails

When the marshal went into the building he was accompanied by four or five of his fellow citizens. They inspected the place but found no liquor.

Obituary.

Mrs. Olive Dickinson. Funeral services for Mrs. Olive Dickinson, resident of Oregon for the last eight years, who died in a local hospital were held at 10 o'clock today at the residence of her son, Fred A. Dickinson, at the residence of her son, Fred A. Dickinson, at the residence of her son, Fred A. Dickinson.

Sheriff to Enforce Law

Sheriff Nelson stated this morning that while he does not in any way approve of such resorts as Whistle Inn, and will co-operate with any individual citizen or group of citizens in collecting evidence that may be used in closing resorts of that kind, yet he knows the law entitles all persons to certain rights. For that reason, he does not intend to use force to close such places.

COURT ANNULS MARRIAGE

Conviction for Bigamy Releases Wife No. 2 From Husband.

Conviction of George D. Buckmaster, on a charge of bigamy, brought a marriage annulment decree yesterday. Buckmaster, who was married to his first wife in 1911, was married to her on June 4, 1921. The husband's arrest

HIGHWAY AID DISCUSSED

Experts of Western States Meet to Consider Federal Bill.

Highway engineers of western states held a meeting in Portland yesterday to discuss the new federal road bill and compare notes on the various methods of building roads. Among those attending were State Highway Engineer Gillette of New Mexico, State Highway Engineer Nunn of Oregon, Assistant Engineer Gregory of Idaho, Assistant Engineers McCoy and Gillis of Washington, State Highway Engineer McLeod and Hodgeman of Oregon; John B. Yeon, Oregon highway commissioner, and Secretary Klein of the Oregon highway department.

COAST GUARDS SAVE AUTO

Portland Motorcar Mired in Sand Rescued With Tackle.

ASTORIA, Or., June 20.—(Special.)—While the members of the Point Adams coast guard crew were most of their rescue work on the beach and ran to a point about midway between the old Peter Ireland wreck and the jetty, where the car

Lighting Franchise Asked

ABERDEEN, Wash., June 20.—(Special.)—A petition for a franchise to construct and operate light and power lines, within the city was presented to the Oakville town and conviction for bigamy occurred last September, according to the complaint of the No. 2. She had left him, she averred, as soon as she learned that he had a wife living. She was granted the right to use her maiden name of Graham by Circuit Judge Stapleton, by whom the decree was given.

Dora Chung was given a divorce from Ng Lung Chung, her Chinese husband. The wife's complaint cited the fact that the husband had deserted her and returned to China with their daughter in 1918. The testimony seemed to indicate that he was seeking to escape payment of possible alimony. The judge, however, decreed that he pay for a month for support of the woman and three children and the sum of $250.

MR. WEST WINS IN SUIT

$19,681 VERDICT RETURNED AGAINST COOS COUNTY. Full Amount Asked Is Awarded in Action Based on Lobbying Agreement.

EUGENE, Or., June 20.—(Special.)—Oswald, governor of Oregon won his case against Coos county late this afternoon when a jury in the circuit court returned a verdict in his favor for the full amount sued for, $19,681. The amount sued for was $250. The verdict was given by Circuit Judge Taxwell to William Crowder in his suit for legal separation from Helen Crowder.

Liquor Search Fails

When the marshal went into the building he was accompanied by four or five of his fellow citizens. They inspected the place but found no liquor.

Obituary.

Mrs. Olive Dickinson. Funeral services for Mrs. Olive Dickinson, resident of Oregon for the last eight years, who died in a local hospital were held at 10 o'clock today at the residence of her son, Fred A. Dickinson, at the residence of her son, Fred A. Dickinson.

Sheriff to Enforce Law

Sheriff Nelson stated this morning that while he does not in any way approve of such resorts as Whistle Inn, and will co-operate with any individual citizen or group of citizens in collecting evidence that may be used in closing resorts of that kind, yet he knows the law entitles all persons to certain rights. For that reason, he does not intend to use force to close such places.

COURT ANNULS MARRIAGE

Conviction for Bigamy Releases Wife No. 2 From Husband.

Conviction of George D. Buckmaster, on a charge of bigamy, brought a marriage annulment decree yesterday. Buckmaster, who was married to his first wife in 1911, was married to her on June 4, 1921. The husband's arrest

HIGHWAY AID DISCUSSED

Experts of Western States Meet to Consider Federal Bill.

Highway engineers of western states held a meeting in Portland yesterday to discuss the new federal road bill and compare notes on the various methods of building roads. Among those attending were State Highway Engineer Gillette of New Mexico, State Highway Engineer Nunn of Oregon, Assistant Engineer Gregory of Idaho, Assistant Engineers McCoy and Gillis of Washington, State Highway Engineer McLeod and Hodgeman of Oregon; John B. Yeon, Oregon highway commissioner, and Secretary Klein of the Oregon highway department.

COAST GUARDS SAVE AUTO

Portland Motorcar Mired in Sand Rescued With Tackle.

ASTORIA, Or., June 20.—(Special.)—While the members of the Point Adams coast guard crew were most of their rescue work on the beach and ran to a point about midway between the old Peter Ireland wreck and the jetty, where the car

Lighting Franchise Asked

ABERDEEN, Wash., June 20.—(Special.)—A petition for a franchise to construct and operate light and power lines, within the city was presented to the Oakville town

To know Quality, know my Clothes!

$35 $40 $45

TO SAVE a few dollars on a suit by buying elsewhere—is to cheat yourself of real economy. Cheap clothes may look good at the start, but it's the finish that determines their quality and economy.

What's the use of guessing?—my clothes have taken the guess out—see them today!—they're wonderful values. It goes without saying that they're quality garments.

BEN SELLING

Portland's Leading Clothier for Over Half a Century.

SCHOOL LANDS LEASED

OIL DRILLING IS EXPECTED ON GRAYS HARBOR.

Eastern Corporation Sued to Have Obtained All Available Tracts. Agents Are Silent.

ABERDEEN, Wash., June 20.—(Special.)—State school lands aggregating many thousands of acres and an unknown acreage of supplemental school lands in Grays Harbor county have been leased for an eastern firm by its two Aberdeen representatives, G. O. De Vaughn and James Watkins. The agents have been filing for the leases of the land with the secretary of state at Olympia for several months.

The leases were discovered when several Aberdeen residents endeavored to obtain the lands and found they had all been taken. It was reported that the agents had been filing for the leases of the land with the secretary of state at Olympia for several months.

While Mr. Watkins refused to say for what purpose the leases were taken, it was generally understood that oil drilling operations are to be resumed. The company which will undertake the drilling was said to be a Pennsylvania concern looking for a new field. It has, it was reported, no stock to sell. Neither, it was said, was it daunted by the failure of the Standard Oil company to find oil in its operations near McLeish and Pacific beach.

Mr. Watkins declined to discuss the oil drilling rumors or any other matter in regard to the leases. He said he expects Mr. De Vaughn from the east shortly and it is probable that he will be accompanied by an official of the company.

COAST GUARDS SAVE AUTO

Portland Motorcar Mired in Sand Rescued With Tackle.

ASTORIA, Or., June 20.—(Special.)—While the members of the Point Adams coast guard crew were most of their rescue work on the beach and ran to a point about midway between the old Peter Ireland wreck and the jetty, where the car

Late Monday night a Portland automobile containing five persons came up the beach from Gearhart, but missed the road at Columbia beach and ran to a point about midway between the old Peter Ireland wreck and the jetty, where the car

Lighting Franchise Asked

ABERDEEN, Wash., June 20.—(Special.)—A petition for a franchise to construct and operate light and power lines, within the city was presented to the Oakville town

Cast includes

Dorothy Dalton Milton Sills Wanda Hawley Abounding in big and tense scenes—a fashion show and a gorgeous melodrama.

Robert C. Bruce's THE ONE MAN REUNION The year's best short subject.

KNOWLES' COLUMBIA PICTURE PLAYERS

Portland's Coolest Spot

GO TODAY! (Last Three Days)

Advertisement for 'OVER THE BORDER' featuring Betty Compson and Tom Moore, playing till Friday midnight.

H-LIEBES & CO.

Furs and Individual Style Shops Broadway at Morrison

Bright, new gingham frocks—very specially priced 11.95

These days, when gingham is such a fashionable fabric, it seems but natural to combine it with fine organdie and snowy voile. Frocks of this nature assume almost a holiday air! Others are simply tailored, linen bound. And we have many, many frocks suited to large figures. All at this one astonishing price—11.95!

The linen suit returns!—a smart group at 19.50

Made with that simple perfection that distinguishes our cloth tailors—fashioned by the same designers—these slender belted models come in navy, brown, white and the natural linen—with smart pearl buttons, bound buttonholes—each detail worked out as carefully as in the most costly cloth suit!

New sport skirts—in outdoor silks—12.50-19.50

To wear with the sweater or new sports overblouse—the white skirt in the several new crepe weaves comes pleated or straight of line—white—or white with just a thread of color.

Our lovely new collection is manifestly low priced; and every wardrobe needs at least one of them!

Harriet Lee makes selections for out-of-town customers.

H. Liebes & Co

ESTABLISHED 1864

council by the People's Co-operative has a municipal electric light system. Telephone company recently through term with service up to 11 P. M. in its manager, A. J. Gaisell. Oakville summer.

The Woman Who Walked Alone

Lighting Franchise Asked. ABERDEEN, Wash., June 20.—(Special.)—A petition for a franchise to construct and operate light and power lines, within the city was presented to the Oakville town

While Mr. Watkins refused to say for what purpose the leases were taken, it was generally understood that oil drilling operations are to be resumed. The company which will undertake the drilling was said to be a Pennsylvania concern looking for a new field. It has, it was reported, no stock to sell. Neither, it was said, was it daunted by the failure of the Standard Oil company to find oil in its operations near McLeish and Pacific beach.

Mr. Watkins declined to discuss the oil drilling rumors or any other matter in regard to the leases. He said he expects Mr. De Vaughn from the east shortly and it is probable that he will be accompanied by an official of the company.

While Mr. Watkins refused to say for what purpose the leases were taken, it was generally understood that oil drilling operations are to be resumed. The company which will undertake the drilling was said to be a Pennsylvania concern looking for a new field. It has, it was reported, no stock to sell. Neither, it was said, was it daunted by the failure of the Standard Oil company to find oil in its operations near McLeish and Pacific beach.

Mr. Watkins declined to discuss the oil drilling rumors or any other matter in regard to the leases. He said he expects Mr. De Vaughn from the east shortly and it is probable that he will be accompanied by an official of the company.

While Mr. Watkins refused to say for what purpose the leases were taken, it was generally understood that oil drilling operations are to be resumed. The company which will undertake the drilling was said to be a Pennsylvania concern looking for a new field. It has, it was reported, no stock to sell. Neither, it was said, was it daunted by the failure of the Standard Oil company to find oil in its operations near McLeish and Pacific beach.

Mr. Watkins declined to discuss the oil drilling rumors or any other matter in regard to the leases. He said he expects Mr. De Vaughn from the east shortly and it is probable that he will be accompanied by an official of the company.

While Mr. Watkins refused to say for what purpose the leases were taken, it was generally understood that oil drilling operations are to be resumed. The company which will undertake the drilling was said to be a Pennsylvania concern looking for a new field. It has, it was reported, no stock to sell. Neither, it was said, was it daunted by the failure of the Standard Oil company to find oil in its operations near McLeish and Pacific beach.

Mr. Watkins declined to discuss the oil drilling rumors or any other matter in regard to the leases. He said he expects Mr. De Vaughn from the east shortly and it is probable that he will be accompanied by an official of the company.

While Mr. Watkins refused to say for what purpose the leases were taken, it was generally understood that oil drilling operations are to be resumed. The company which will undertake the drilling was said to be a Pennsylvania concern looking for a new field. It has, it was reported, no stock to sell. Neither, it was said, was it daunted by the failure of the Standard Oil company to find oil in its operations near McLeish and Pacific beach.

Mr. Watkins declined to discuss the oil drilling rumors or any other matter in regard to the leases. He said he expects Mr. De Vaughn from the east shortly and it is probable that he will be accompanied by an official of the company.

While Mr. Watkins refused to say for what purpose the leases were taken, it was generally understood that oil drilling operations are to be resumed. The company which will undertake the drilling was said to be a Pennsylvania concern looking for a new field. It has, it was reported, no stock to sell. Neither, it was said, was it daunted by the failure of the Standard Oil company to find oil in its operations near McLeish and Pacific beach.

Mr. Watkins declined to discuss the oil drilling rumors or any other matter in regard to the leases. He said he expects Mr. De Vaughn from the east shortly and it is probable that he will be accompanied by an official of the company.

While Mr. Watkins refused to say for what purpose the leases were taken, it was generally understood that oil drilling operations are to be resumed. The company which will undertake the drilling was said to be a Pennsylvania concern looking for a new field. It has, it was reported, no stock to sell. Neither, it was said, was it daunted by the failure of the Standard Oil company to find oil in its operations near McLeish and Pacific beach.

Mr. Watkins declined to discuss the oil drilling rumors or any other matter in regard to the leases. He said he expects Mr. De Vaughn from the east shortly and it is probable that he will be accompanied by an official of the company.