

RATHENAU MURDER SUSPECT IS JAILED

Youth, 21, Arrested After Duel With Police.

OTHER SLAYERS FREE

Lad Is Found Hiding on Estate of Uncle Near Frankfurt-on-Oder and Caught.

(Copyright, 1932, by the New York World.
Published by Arrangement.)

BERLIN, June 29.—(Special Cable.)—The first of the assassins of Foreign Minister Rathenau to be captured by the police is Ernst Tschow, a Berliner. He was foolish enough to try to hide on the estate of his uncle near Frankfurt-on-Oder. The police easily captured him, though there was a pistol duel.

Tschow comes from a junker family which has dropped the Von from its name. He was a member of the Ehrhardt brigade which three years ago defended the republic against the Spartakists. Now at 21 he is accused of being the chief assassin of the republic's best servant and foreign minister.

Family Rich Before War.
Tschow's family was rich before the war, living in a handsome apartment. Since the war most of the apartment has been requisitioned. The widowed mother has developed in the youth deep hatred of the republic.

The two other assassins, Hermann Fischer, a Saxon, and Krüger, a member of the Ehrhardt brigade, were also members of the Ehrhardt brigade. They are chums.

The government's purpose is to prove they were paid by monarchists. It expects to do this by showing they were members of an organization which was implicated in the plot that resulted in the murder of Rathenau.

Others Not Yet Caught.

The man named Fischer, alias Vogel, a Saxon, and Krüger, alias Koenig, of Kern of Mecklenburg, alleged to be the other members of the murder party have not yet been apprehended.

All the accused men are declared by the authorities to be members of the monarchist organization, "Gul" and ex-members of the notorious Ehrhardt brigade.

Tschow is the son of an ex-member of the municipal council of Berlin. He comes from a well known family which lost its fortune through the war. During the Kapp rebellion Tschow was in charge of a machine gun at Admiralty building.

MONARCHISM IS FOUGHT

German Workers Said to Be Trying to Stamp Out Every Trace.

By ARNO BOSCH-FLEURY.

(Copyright, 1932, by the New York World.
Published by Arrangement.)

BERLIN, June 29.—(Special Cable.)—The German workers want to stamp out every trace of monarchism. They demand that the government be invested with certain extraordinary powers, which, they believe, will destroy monarchism, root and branch.

Specifically, they demand the enactment of laws forbidding all monarchist or anti-republican agitation in word, picture or print and removal of the imperial insignia from everything.

If this last demand were enforced, every city in Germany would look as if it had been hit by a cyclone. The imperial insignia would be so carefully removed that no trace of them would remain.

The workers also demand the liquidation of all monarchist or anti-republican organizations. The emphasis on anti-republican is not meant entirely against the monarchists, but is put as a check to prevent communists from making too much capital out of the death of Foreign Minister Rathenau.

They would also forbid anti-republican flags which could be made to apply to red as well as to black, white and red.

The democrats, who are joining with the socialists in the movement to strengthen the arm of the republic, are also putting the emphasis on the socialists. The demands were sent to the government by all socialist groups, augmented by the democrats.

The workers also propose a national executive organization, particularly a national criminal police, and new measures for making political arrests easier and quicker in cases of violations of the law. These police would have authority to make arrests throughout the Reich, which cannot be done under existing laws. This has seriously obstructed the apprehension of suspects in Herr Rathenau's assassination.

Regulations covering the immediate confiscation of property as another means of rooting out monarchists are very broad in scope whatever they may accomplish in application.

In fact, the real teeth of the entire proposed law lie in the provision for confiscation of property of convicted monarchists. Incidentally, the workers demand the confiscation of all the Hohenzollern estates.

Any criticism of anything republican would be punished by heavy fines or imprisonment.

All pictures of the ex-kaiser—and Germany is full of them—would have to be destroyed.

They would remove all monarchist elements in the courts, the reichswehr and other government officials. To accomplish this they would abrogate the laws now insuring office holders jobs.

They would exact an extraordinary republican tribunal, containing one judge and six laymen, to try political cases for the defense of the republic and appoint a new type of prosecuting attorney under the title "Republic federal commissar."

In presenting their demands the workers appeal to the workers of entire countries to relieve the reparations pressure on the ground that it is breeding monarchism in Germany. The proposed laws would mean the revision of the constitution.

CHERRIES BRING 5 CENTS

Fruit Begins to Reach Salem

Canneries in Quantities.

SALEM, Or., June 29.—(Special.)—Although many growers have contracted to sell their cherries for as high as 7 cents a pound, a number of sales were reported here today at 5 cents a pound under that figure.

ure. Cherries are just beginning to arrive at the canneries in commercial quantities. The quality was said to be excellent. Unless favored with rain within the next few days, the crop in the Willamette valley will not be as large as last year.

The first loganberries produced locally were sold in the Salem markets yesterday. The opening price was two boxes for 15 cents. Much of this crop has been contracted by the growers at 5 cents a pound, or 2 cents a pound less than the opening quotations. The loganberry crop also has suffered from lack of moisture and the crop will be under normal.

STILL OPERATOR GUILTY

IRVINGTON MOONSHINER IS CONVICTED BY JURY.

C. G. Alderdice Declared to Have Violated Federal Liquor Laws on Four Counts.

It required but a very few minutes yesterday for a jury in federal court to find C. G. Alderdice guilty on four counts of an indictment, the chief accusation of which was the maintenance of a nuisance in the heart of Irvington, 274 East Eighth street North, where a promising moonshine industry had been set up and operated.

Other counts were the manufacture and possession of liquor and its transportation. It would have been quite as easy to fasten another charge, that of sale, upon the prisoner had the federal agents not acted so hastily May 5 when they arrested the man and took 30 gallons of his distillate he had agreed to deliver to them at 451 Tenth street. Federal Prohibition Officer Price arranged the transaction that brought about the undoing of Alderdice.

The penalty provided by federal law for the offense of maintaining a nuisance, in this case a still for whisky manufacture, is severe and permits the imposition of a $1000 fine or the imprisonment of the defendant in jail for one year, or both. A stay of sentence for ten days to permit the filing of a motion for a new trial was granted.

Evidence presented to the court by Allan C. Byron, assistant United States attorney, yesterday was to the effect that when officers swooped down upon the Irvington residence they found a big new still with 20 gallons of moonshine, bottles, mash, kegs and all needed apparatus.

The government was permitted to retain the still and moonshine taken at the time of Alderdice's arrest, but his private papers, including a book that held names and addresses of customers, were ordered given back to him.

The penalty provided by federal law for the offense of maintaining a nuisance, in this case a still for whisky manufacture, is severe and permits the imposition of a $1000 fine or the imprisonment of the defendant in jail for one year, or both. A stay of sentence for ten days to permit the filing of a motion for a new trial was granted.

Evidence presented to the court by Allan C. Byron, assistant United States attorney, yesterday was to the effect that when officers swooped down upon the Irvington residence they found a big new still with 20 gallons of moonshine, bottles, mash, kegs and all needed apparatus.

The government was permitted to retain the still and moonshine taken at the time of Alderdice's arrest, but his private papers, including a book that held names and addresses of customers, were ordered given back to him.

The penalty provided by federal law for the offense of maintaining a nuisance, in this case a still for whisky manufacture, is severe and permits the imposition of a $1000 fine or the imprisonment of the defendant in jail for one year, or both. A stay of sentence for ten days to permit the filing of a motion for a new trial was granted.

Evidence presented to the court by Allan C. Byron, assistant United States attorney, yesterday was to the effect that when officers swooped down upon the Irvington residence they found a big new still with 20 gallons of moonshine, bottles, mash, kegs and all needed apparatus.

The government was permitted to retain the still and moonshine taken at the time of Alderdice's arrest, but his private papers, including a book that held names and addresses of customers, were ordered given back to him.

The penalty provided by federal law for the offense of maintaining a nuisance, in this case a still for whisky manufacture, is severe and permits the imposition of a $1000 fine or the imprisonment of the defendant in jail for one year, or both. A stay of sentence for ten days to permit the filing of a motion for a new trial was granted.

Evidence presented to the court by Allan C. Byron, assistant United States attorney, yesterday was to the effect that when officers swooped down upon the Irvington residence they found a big new still with 20 gallons of moonshine, bottles, mash, kegs and all needed apparatus.

The government was permitted to retain the still and moonshine taken at the time of Alderdice's arrest, but his private papers, including a book that held names and addresses of customers, were ordered given back to him.

The penalty provided by federal law for the offense of maintaining a nuisance, in this case a still for whisky manufacture, is severe and permits the imposition of a $1000 fine or the imprisonment of the defendant in jail for one year, or both. A stay of sentence for ten days to permit the filing of a motion for a new trial was granted.

Evidence presented to the court by Allan C. Byron, assistant United States attorney, yesterday was to the effect that when officers swooped down upon the Irvington residence they found a big new still with 20 gallons of moonshine, bottles, mash, kegs and all needed apparatus.

The government was permitted to retain the still and moonshine taken at the time of Alderdice's arrest, but his private papers, including a book that held names and addresses of customers, were ordered given back to him.

The penalty provided by federal law for the offense of maintaining a nuisance, in this case a still for whisky manufacture, is severe and permits the imposition of a $1000 fine or the imprisonment of the defendant in jail for one year, or both. A stay of sentence for ten days to permit the filing of a motion for a new trial was granted.

Evidence presented to the court by Allan C. Byron, assistant United States attorney, yesterday was to the effect that when officers swooped down upon the Irvington residence they found a big new still with 20 gallons of moonshine, bottles, mash, kegs and all needed apparatus.

The government was permitted to retain the still and moonshine taken at the time of Alderdice's arrest, but his private papers, including a book that held names and addresses of customers, were ordered given back to him.

The penalty provided by federal law for the offense of maintaining a nuisance, in this case a still for whisky manufacture, is severe and permits the imposition of a $1000 fine or the imprisonment of the defendant in jail for one year, or both. A stay of sentence for ten days to permit the filing of a motion for a new trial was granted.

Evidence presented to the court by Allan C. Byron, assistant United States attorney, yesterday was to the effect that when officers swooped down upon the Irvington residence they found a big new still with 20 gallons of moonshine, bottles, mash, kegs and all needed apparatus.

The government was permitted to retain the still and moonshine taken at the time of Alderdice's arrest, but his private papers, including a book that held names and addresses of customers, were ordered given back to him.

The penalty provided by federal law for the offense of maintaining a nuisance, in this case a still for whisky manufacture, is severe and permits the imposition of a $1000 fine or the imprisonment of the defendant in jail for one year, or both. A stay of sentence for ten days to permit the filing of a motion for a new trial was granted.

Evidence presented to the court by Allan C. Byron, assistant United States attorney, yesterday was to the effect that when officers swooped down upon the Irvington residence they found a big new still with 20 gallons of moonshine, bottles, mash, kegs and all needed apparatus.

The government was permitted to retain the still and moonshine taken at the time of Alderdice's arrest, but his private papers, including a book that held names and addresses of customers, were ordered given back to him.

The penalty provided by federal law for the offense of maintaining a nuisance, in this case a still for whisky manufacture, is severe and permits the imposition of a $1000 fine or the imprisonment of the defendant in jail for one year, or both. A stay of sentence for ten days to permit the filing of a motion for a new trial was granted.

Evidence presented to the court by Allan C. Byron, assistant United States attorney, yesterday was to the effect that when officers swooped down upon the Irvington residence they found a big new still with 20 gallons of moonshine, bottles, mash, kegs and all needed apparatus.

The government was permitted to retain the still and moonshine taken at the time of Alderdice's arrest, but his private papers, including a book that held names and addresses of customers, were ordered given back to him.

The penalty provided by federal law for the offense of maintaining a nuisance, in this case a still for whisky manufacture, is severe and permits the imposition of a $1000 fine or the imprisonment of the defendant in jail for one year, or both. A stay of sentence for ten days to permit the filing of a motion for a new trial was granted.

Evidence presented to the court by Allan C. Byron, assistant United States attorney, yesterday was to the effect that when officers swooped down upon the Irvington residence they found a big new still with 20 gallons of moonshine, bottles, mash, kegs and all needed apparatus.

The government was permitted to retain the still and moonshine taken at the time of Alderdice's arrest, but his private papers, including a book that held names and addresses of customers, were ordered given back to him.

The penalty provided by federal law for the offense of maintaining a nuisance, in this case a still for whisky manufacture, is severe and permits the imposition of a $1000 fine or the imprisonment of the defendant in jail for one year, or both. A stay of sentence for ten days to permit the filing of a motion for a new trial was granted.

Evidence presented to the court by Allan C. Byron, assistant United States attorney, yesterday was to the effect that when officers swooped down upon the Irvington residence they found a big new still with 20 gallons of moonshine, bottles, mash, kegs and all needed apparatus.

The government was permitted to retain the still and moonshine taken at the time of Alderdice's arrest, but his private papers, including a book that held names and addresses of customers, were ordered given back to him.

The penalty provided by federal law for the offense of maintaining a nuisance, in this case a still for whisky manufacture, is severe and permits the imposition of a $1000 fine or the imprisonment of the defendant in jail for one year, or both. A stay of sentence for ten days to permit the filing of a motion for a new trial was granted.

Evidence presented to the court by Allan C. Byron, assistant United States attorney, yesterday was to the effect that when officers swooped down upon the Irvington residence they found a big new still with 20 gallons of moonshine, bottles, mash, kegs and all needed apparatus.

For the Fourth! SUMMER SUITS.

$15
$16.50 $25
$40

Hot days—plenty of them are in sight! For real comfort—real style and real value—wear one of my suits of summer weight. Single and double-breasted models are here in Palm Beaches, Mohairs, Gabardines and Light Wool Worsteds. Light and dark shades in plain and sport models are offered.

BEN SELLING

Morrison
at Fourth

Portland's Leading Clothier for Over Half a Century

PHONE CUT PLAN WAITS

KERRIGAN RESOLUTION LIKELY TO COME UP NEXT WEEK.

Confession of Judgment Urged by Public Service Commissioner in Rate Suit.

SALEM, Or., June 28.—(Special.)—Final consideration of the resolution here yesterday by T. M. Kerrigan, recall member of the Oregon public service commission, looking to a reduction of the rates of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company, probably will go over until next week. The commission held a brief executive session today, but nothing was said about the resolution.

The Kerrigan resolution urged confession of judgment in the case filed in the Multnomah county circuit court by Robert Duncan and others of Portland, asking that the order of the so-called old public service commission authorizing an increase of the rates be set aside. Such confession of judgment, it was said, would automatically allow the Duncan suit to prevail by default and restore the rates of the telephone company to the level prior to February 23, 1931. There would follow, attorneys said, the possibility of the entire rate proceedings being thrown into the courts for final determination.

Should the resolution be finally adopted, local attorneys who have given up proposed proceedings being considered, said it was unlikely that the telephone company would submit to the restoration of their former tariff without a fight in the courts. This is made doubly certain, these attorneys declare, for the reason that in restoring the old rates the telephone company probably would be compelled to return to patrons of their lines between $600,000 and $700,000.

MAN SUES GIRL FOR RING
Mill Worker Alleges Engagement Token Was Kept by Girl.

SALEM, Or., June 29.—(Special.)—When Alfred L. McCartney, Portland mill worker, six months ago purchased a diamond ring for Alta Meyers, now a resident of Stayton, Marion county, he had visions of a happy wedding picnic to be held in the afternoon of the same day.

Today, instead of leading a bride-to-be to the altar Mr. McCartney sought out an attorney and filed suit in the circuit court against Miss Meyers for return of the ring. In case the ring cannot be found, Mr. McCartney set out in his complaint that he would be satisfied with the recovery of $165, which he alleged represents the cost of the trinket.

Miss Meyers makes no denial that she received the ring from McCartney, but said she considered it a gift.

Before accompanying her father to Stayton, Miss Meyers also lived in Portland.

32,000 SEEK BONUS AID
Nearly Twice as Many Cash Petitions as Loans Received.

SALEM, Or., June 29.—(Special.)—Although the records of the world war veterans' state aid commission show that a total of 32,186 claims for cash bonuses and loans have

Look Out!
ONE CLEAR CALL

Room With Bath $1.50
More if you wish to pay.
Special Weekly Rates.

NEW PERKINS HOTEL
Washington and Fifth Sts.,
Portland, Oregon.

CHERRIES BRING 5 CENTS
Fruit Begins to Reach Salem
Canneries in Quantities.

SALEM, Or., June 29.—(Special.)—Although many growers have contracted to sell their cherries for as high as 7 cents a pound, a number of sales were reported here today at 5 cents a pound under that figure.

CHERRIES BRING 5 CENTS
Fruit Begins to Reach Salem
Canneries in Quantities.

SALEM, Or., June 29.—(Special.)—Although many growers have contracted to sell their cherries for as high as 7 cents a pound, a number of sales were reported here today at 5 cents a pound under that figure.

CHERRIES BRING 5 CENTS
Fruit Begins to Reach Salem
Canneries in Quantities.

SALEM, Or., June 29.—(Special.)—Although many growers have contracted to sell their cherries for as high as 7 cents a pound, a number of sales were reported here today at 5 cents a pound under that figure.

CHERRIES BRING 5 CENTS
Fruit Begins to Reach Salem
Canneries in Quantities.

SALEM, Or., June 29.—(Special.)—Although many growers have contracted to sell their cherries for as high as 7 cents a pound, a number of sales were reported here today at 5 cents a pound under that figure.

CHERRIES BRING 5 CENTS
Fruit Begins to Reach Salem
Canneries in Quantities.

SALEM, Or., June 29.—(Special.)—Although many growers have contracted to sell their cherries for as high as 7 cents a pound, a number of sales were reported here today at 5 cents a pound under that figure.

CHERRIES BRING 5 CENTS
Fruit Begins to Reach Salem
Canneries in Quantities.

PORTLAND MAN HONORED

Delegates of Advertising Clubs Elect W. Kirkpatrick.

SAN DIEGO, June 29.—Delegates of the convention of the Pacific Coast Advertising Clubs association ended their business sessions late today with election of officers and choice of Spokane, Wash., as the meeting place next year.

The new officers are as follows: Thomas R. Keane, Spokane, president; vice-presidents: For west Washington, John Condon of Tacoma, re-elected; for east Washington, Frank Beckman, Spokane; for Oregon, W. Kirkpatrick, Portland; for northern California, T. A. Cleveland, Modesto; for southern California, Bert Butterworth, Los Angeles.

The convention voted in favor of a resolution which called for officers a woman vice-president to have charge of women's participation in association affairs. Another resolution which was approved urged automobile advertisers to publish the prices of cars delivered, not the "f. o. b." factory prices.

A dinner and ball ended the convention tonight.

COLLEGE HEAD TO SPEAK
New President of Pacific to Address Chautauqua Gathering.

PACIFIC UNIVERSITY, Forest Grove, Or., June 29.—(Special.)—Half a day will be given over to Pacific University at the Gladstone chautauqua being held at Gladstone, near Oregon City, next week. In the morning of July 11 President-elect W. C. Weir will address the crowd and lead the "forum hour."

This will be one of the first official appearances of the new president after his installation as head of the university July 5.

A Pacific university picnic will be held in the afternoon of the same day.

Coach Leo J. Frank, director of athletics and coach at the university, will be the physical director for the chautauqua and Thomas Fowler, veteran athlete here, will assist him. Fowler will be official umpire for all games. It is probable that the Pacific university quartet will furnish music for the day.

UTAH MINES PURCHASED
Columbia Steel Company of California Buys Property.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—The Columbia Steel company, headed by Wigginton E. Creed of San Francisco, has acquired the coal and iron properties of the Utah Coal & Coke company in Carbon and Iron counties, Utah. Creed announced today. The Columbia Steel corporation, capitalized at $15,000,000, will be formed to work the joint properties of the new organization.

Autoists Cross McKenzie Pass.
BEND, Or., June 29.—(Special.)—Three automobiles from Polk county arrived in Bend last night, being the first to cross McKenzie pass at Battle Ground lake July 16, 19.

Tillamook Plan Big Picnic.
VANCOUVER, Wash., June 29.—(Special.)—A big picnic will be held by the Tillamook club of Vancouver at Battle Ground lake July 16, 19.

Autoists Cross McKenzie Pass.
BEND, Or., June 29.—(Special.)—Three automobiles from Polk county arrived in Bend last night, being the first to cross McKenzie pass at Battle Ground lake July 16, 19.

Tillamook Plan Big Picnic.
VANCOUVER, Wash., June 29.—(Special.)—A big picnic will be held by the Tillamook club of Vancouver at Battle Ground lake July 16, 19.

Autoists Cross McKenzie Pass.
BEND, Or., June 29.—(Special.)—Three automobiles from Polk county arrived in Bend last night, being the first to cross McKenzie pass at Battle Ground lake July 16, 19.

Tillamook Plan Big Picnic.
VANCOUVER, Wash., June 29.—(Special.)—A big picnic will be held by the Tillamook club of Vancouver at Battle Ground lake July 16, 19.

Autoists Cross McKenzie Pass.
BEND, Or., June 29.—(Special.)—Three automobiles from Polk county arrived in Bend last night, being the first to cross McKenzie pass at Battle Ground lake July 16, 19.

Tillamook Plan Big Picnic.
VANCOUVER, Wash., June 29.—(Special.)—A big picnic will be held by the Tillamook club of Vancouver at Battle Ground lake July 16, 19.

Autoists Cross McKenzie Pass.
BEND, Or., June 29.—(Special.)—Three automobiles from Polk county arrived in Bend last night, being the first to cross McKenzie pass at Battle Ground lake July 16, 19.

Tillamook Plan Big Picnic.
VANCOUVER, Wash., June 29.—(Special.)—A big picnic will be held by the Tillamook club of Vancouver at Battle Ground lake July 16, 19.

Autoists Cross McKenzie Pass.
BEND, Or., June 29.—(Special.)—Three automobiles from Polk county arrived in Bend last night, being the first to cross McKenzie pass at Battle Ground lake July 16, 19.

Tillamook Plan Big Picnic.
VANCOUVER, Wash., June 29.—(Special.)—A big picnic will be held by the Tillamook club of Vancouver at Battle Ground lake July 16, 19.

Autoists Cross McKenzie Pass.
BEND, Or., June 29.—(Special.)—Three automobiles from Polk county arrived in Bend last night, being the first to cross McKenzie pass at Battle Ground lake July 16, 19.

Tillamook Plan Big Picnic.
VANCOUVER, Wash., June 29.—(Special.)—A big picnic will be held by the Tillamook club of Vancouver at Battle Ground lake July 16, 19.

There's Many a Sunny Smile in "Sonny"
—and a wonderful heart-holding hour!
STARTS TOMORROW FOR ONE BIG WEEK!

Richard BARTHELMMESS in "Sonny"

LAST TIMES TODAY

WALLACE REID

in

"ACROSS THE CONTINENT"

It's the fastest, zippiest show of the season.

True as "Tol'able David."

But different!

To the point of perfection he carries his portrayal of motherless-manhood, trying—lying—to hold the love of the woman who calls him "Sonny."

It stands among the most human plays and as one of the greatest individual triumphs ever radiated from the screen.

AND DON'T FORGET KEATES' CONTEST
AT THE SUNDAY CONCERT AT 12:30

which will take over the steel foundry and rolling mills of the former Columbia interests at Pittsburgh, Cal., and the steel foundry at Portland, Or., also a Columbia holding.

Sale of the Portland steel foundry of the Columbia interests was denied by officials last night.

Autoists Cross McKenzie Pass.
BEND, Or., June 29.—(Special.)—Three automobiles from Polk county arrived in Bend last night, being the first to cross McKenzie pass at Battle Ground lake July 16, 19.

Tillamook Plan Big Picnic.
VANCOUVER, Wash., June 29.—(Special.)—A big picnic will be held by the Tillamook club of Vancouver at Battle Ground lake July 16, 19.

Autoists Cross McKenzie Pass.
BEND, Or., June 29.—(Special.)—Three automobiles from Polk county arrived in Bend last night, being the first to cross McKenzie pass at Battle Ground lake July 16, 19.