All the favorites, both visitors 24th Oregon state tennis champion-ship tournament yesterday. There were no upsets and only a few de-faults. and Oregonians, won their matches

The tournament, played on the ST. LOUIS WINS FIRST GAME Irvington courts, opened with a large entry in all events. Except for a slight rain in the morning, when the matches were interrupted for nearly an hour, the schedule went through with hardly a hitch. Herbert Suhr of San Francisco, who lost in the semi-finals of last year's tournament to Phil Bettens, also of San Francisco, defeated C C. Campbell in two sets, 6-1, 6-1. Suhr was able to loaf through the match. He used a telling backhand stroke frequently. Campbell was no match for the Californian and erred on many occasions.

Suhr's Stroke Is Puzzle. Later in the afternoon Suhr, paired with Dorothy Ettinger, came through victoriously in their mixed doublos match against Mary Ann Bishop and William Whelan, winning 6-1, 6-3. Suhr's short chopstroke and speedy serve puzzled his opponents. Miss Ettinger also played well. Taking the lead at the start in both sets, Suhr and Miss Ettinger kept it throughout. Mr. Whelan is a Californian.

Elmer Griffin, brother of Peck
Griffin, one of the high ranking players in the United States, reached the second round by his victory over E. C. Wilson of Seattle, 7-5, 6-3, Mr. Wilson played steadily and was leading, 5 to 4, in the first set. He almost took that set, but the Cali-fornian braced and by volleying and playing a fine net game Griffin overcame the lead and won the two sets and match. Griffin is consid-ered one of the leading contenders

R. L. Mathews, for six years prior to 1921 football and baseball coach at Williamette university and last year baseball coach and assistant football coach at the University of Washington, has been appointed director of athletics and head football coach at the University of Idaho. He will succeed Thomas Kelley, head coach at Idaho for two years, who resigned recently to return to the University of Missouri as director of athletics. Announcement of his resignation

Idaho Makes Good Choice. Idaho could not have selected a better man to take charge of ath-letics there, and particularly footletics there, and particularly football, than Mathews. He made a remarkable coaching record during the six years he was at Willamette. That college never had material ranking with that of the larger conference universities, yet only once in the six years was its football team decisively beaten in a game with one of the big elevens.

Also, it won the non-conference football championship every year of the six. This record was achieved with material so scanty that sometimes not more than 12 to 15 men all told were available for the eleven.

In basketball under his coaching Willamette held its own with any of the colleges and several times was among the runners-up for the championship. His baseball teams also were good.

Mathews work at Willamette attracted the attention of his alma mater, the University of Washington, and last year he was signed as assistant football coach under Bagshaw and given charge of freshman athletics. His freshman football team went through the season without a defeat. He almost duplicated that showing as freshman basketball coach, his five losing only one game and that by a low score.

Nine Wins Title.

Besides that Mathews coached the varsity baseball team at Washington this spring and his nine won the northwest conference championship. His success as an athletic coach has
