THE MORNING OREGONIAN, TUESDAY, JULY 11, 1922

British and Declares Naval Limitation Pact Mistake.

Charges that English and Japanese interests are fomenting trouble in the United States, with a view of embarrassing and crippling the American merchant marine, were made yesterday at the luncheon of the members' forum of the Chamber of Commerce by George E. Chamberlain, ex-United States senator from Oregon and now a member of the United States ship-member of the based An open attack on the Washing-ton conference and the "5-5-3" agreement also were contained in Mr. Chamberlain's address. Eng-Mr. Chamberlain's address. Ling-land, he said, won complete mastery of the sea when the allied states-men at Washington adopted the forms limitation programme.

forms limitation programme. Senator Chamberlain's address was flery and patriotic. He spoke in defense of the American mer-chant marine and the shipping board, scored those Americans who did business with foreign shipping companies because of lower rates, and called on his audience to sup-port a programme that would put the American flag in its rightful place on the high seas.

plete mistress of the seas. Of all the ships of a tomage of more than 2009 and capable of a speed of more than 22 knots, we own 22 per cent and Britain owns the remainder. By arming her great liners she could wipe the American merchant marine off the sea whenever she chose. No wonder that British statesmen smiled when they signed the arresment?

the shipping industry required ex-bodson knowledge than is acquired in other ships, ye professions; that its problems are infernational and not domestic, that a ship on leaving a harbor immediately enters into close compethin with foreign interests and that America, unfortunately, does not possess a trained class of shipping executives.

MERCHANT MARINE LAW SECTION.

- Meyer Lissner, George E. Chamberlain and Admiral W. S. Benson. presentation on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce. Standing - J. N. Teal, In federal court. Seated on bench makin port of a merchant marine that tion 28 and, at the proper time, its voted to presentation of data and the shipping board had not allocated

The many base and provide the proper time first provide the pro

 The speed of more that a proof of more than a proof of the proof the proof the proof of the proof the proo for each steamer, that reduced the total handled by shipping board torseles in the six months to 115,000 tons, leaving more than 380,000 tons taken care of in foreign boittoms. Mr. Mann asked for data on im-tors and exports at Portland, in-cluding shipments originating in low-grade freight here, says it is unremunerative and that forces us to send it to neighboring ports, that answers your question." Interposed Mr. Dodson. "Isn't it inevitable, in the face of that, that we are to struggie above as a slow freight ports and exports at Portland, in-cluding shipments originating in local territory as well as beyond transcontinental lines. About that time a discussion was precipitated involving adequacy of shipping board tonnage available here at times and it was declared that section 28 when the port has no such struggle along as a slow-freight Chairman Chamberlain said he was trying to find out if the establishment of a fast passenger line from Portland would build up new busi-ness here or serve to take away business from Puget sound and San adaquate or not to be affected by section 28 when the port has no such facilities as fast combined passenger times, and it was declared that business had been drawn to Puget sound from Portland, also, it was said, because of lower rates in some and freight carriers. Francisco, where "they are already losing money." Admiral Benson said he was one who had much to do 20 Statements Embraced. instances quoted on shipping board steamers from the northern har-The presentation on behalf of the dock and port commission em-braced, in addition to the brief, 20 with the assignment of passenger ships and that Puget sound was re-garded as a strategical location for Admiral Benson asked to what statements in which were embodextent rates had influenced condi-tions on the Pacific and how such a preponderance of cargo had Atlantic and gulf ports as against such a line as far as the northwest figured. He said he thought that was the best way to start in serving the needs of the great northwest. As to the south, he said Los An-geles was seriously considered as against San Francisco. a preponderance of cargo had Atlantic and guilt ports as against moved westward via foreign lines Pacific ports, tonnage subject to im-or tramp steamers. The reply was port and export transcontinental that such influence had not been rail rates, passing through the port material. Admiral Benson asked if for two and a half years as handled Until you ride in it yourself, you cannot possibly realize how remarkable the good Maxwell is in its riding qualities.

Cord tires, non-skid front and rear; disc steel wheels, demountable at rim and at hub; drum type lamps; Alemite lubrication; motor driven electric horn; unusually long springs. Prices F. O. B. Portland: Touring Car, $1060; Roadster, $1060; Coupe, $1625; Sedan, $1725.

Covey Motor Car Co. Washington at 21st Broadway 6244

Merchant Marine Vital.

Admiral Benson spoke in behalf merchant marine legislation and outlined the difficulties confronting the shipping board. Meyer Lissner, Los Angeles' repre-sentative on the board, spoke next. Mr. Lissner's remarks paralleled those by Admiral Benson. He dwelt on the necessity of a merchant mas rine, the difficulty of securing trained men to direct the energies of the American fleet, the necessity of creating a better balanced fleet with fast freighters, passenger and refrigerator ships. When Mr. Chamberlain took the floor at the close of Mr. Lissner's address, he was greeted with pro-longed applause. He began by ll-lustrating the difficulties that confront the shipping board and the many baseless charges of favorilism made by every port in America. The board, he declared, tried to be fair with all ports, favoritism was not a part of its programme and Portland was receiving as fair a deal as any city in America.

Board Hampered by Congress.

The speaker related more of the difficulties that arise between congress and the shipping board. Ad-miral Benson, he said, was the only member who had previous expe-rience in shipping. In order prop-erly to direct the American mer-chant marine, the board had reached out and engaged experienced men from private corporations, paying out and engaged experienced men from private corporations, paying them salaries commensurate with their abilities. Congress'immediate-ly cut these salaries and it was only the patriotism of the men that kept them with the board.

Then the speaker began his attack on foreign trouble-makers. After he had charged English and Japanese interests with causing marine troubles, he opened his attack on the Washington conference. He sala:
"I do not favor war and I am in favor of anything that will prevent war, but so back to the beginning of time and you will find that wars always have existed. As long as speed fills men's hearts, we will have wars.
Historic Humiliation Regailed. "We practically disarmed after the revolutionary war. In 1783

"We practically disarmed after the revolutionary war. In 1783 there is an inadequacy of service for the character of cargo offering here, and as to the orient, the serv-ice does not approach adequacy." In presenting a brief Mr. Teal said the tariffs mentioned in con-nection with section 28 were not import and export rates, but equali-nation rates, and that they have no relation to domestic rates, having been made to give the railroads a haul on trans-ocean business. congress gave the remnants of our congress gave the remnants of our nuvy to the king of France. You know what happened. The little state of Algiers seized two of our ships and cast 150 of our seamen into prison. We made a dishonor-able treaty with that little state, paying $1,000,000 in ransom for our Other compares with that sailors. Other powers on the Bar-bary coast followed suit and levied haul on trans-ocean business. Enforcement Is Opposed. tribute against us, an unarmed

The attack veered to Britain and the speaker gave his ophion of the speaker gave his ophion ophio with the heavy commodity type of ships, yet it is vital to the district

* SALIENT POINTS IN PORT-LAND'S CASE AGAINST SECTION 28 AS PRE-

SENTED YESTER-DAY.

Existing shipping board serv-ice held inadequate with one sailing a month to orient. Three sailings declared nec-essary. Fast combined freight and passenger service advocated

Lack of facilities here compel shippers to book flour for new season on steamers plying from Puget sound. San Fran-cisco and Puget sound have three shipping board vessels sailing each month, with Los Angeles one every 20 days, the Portland schedule being monthly." Application of section 28 as to westbound rates would drive vessels from Pacific to Atlantic trade is foreseen, and committee is reminded that sentiment is opposed in other districts as well. Witness would repeal act, and points out other laws prohibit discrimination against any port. Law declared to have been framed as club originally. Question whether interstate mmerce commission would accept certification as to ade; quacy of service without mak-ing own investigation. L..............................

Imperial

Hotel Philmetichan

Manager

Increased Service Sought.

Frank L. Shull, of the Portland Flouring Mills company, testified as to efforts during the last few days to have the shipping board service to the orient increased, telegrams being sent to Washington. He said much space had been booked on yessels from Puget sound because of inability to get space here and that already three to four times as much flour has been booked there for shipment than was closed for by his company at Portland. He said Portland should have at least three ships a month and preferably faster ones than were operated.

Mr. Ganong said Kerr, Gifford & Co. had refused oriental business only yesterday because of lack of space. "I think it is a shame that Portland is so discriminated against," he said. "There are ships tied up here, yet we cannot get space on those operating and it is space on those operating and it is coming on the busy season with the orient and there will probably be a big increase this year." William H. Payne of the Pacific Export Lumber company, also told of difficulties in getting space for pareal abigments of lumber a foreful way accentuated important points that had been taken up. The morning session was de parcel shipments of lumber. Mr. Moser made the closing ar-gument for the port bodies and in

Headquarte r's

for Oregonians

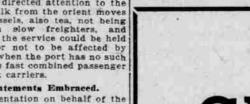

while in Portland.

MAN is marked by his manners and desires desires-to smoke Melachrino Cigarettes has always been an evidence of refined taste-a sign of superior judgment.

MELACHRINO Cigarettes embody an unusual selection of the rarest and most delicate of Turkish tobaccos-obtainable only by Melachrino, and shared by no other cigarette in the world.

MELACHRINO

"The One Cigarette Sold the World Over"

Astoria and Portland had contributed $500,000, of that $475,000 being from Portland. Also, it was said that cial.)—Earl Rowe and John Fair-violence, as the strikebreakers of-fered no resistance. Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Dry Law Offenders Fined.

FOR RAILROAD SERVICE AND AT WAGES AS FOLLOWS:

Machinists	cents	per	hour
Boilermakers
Blacksmiths
Electricians
Sheet metal and other workers in this line	cents	per	hour
Freight car repairers	cents	per	hour
Car inspectors
Painters, freight cars
Helpers, all crafts47

These men are wanted to take the place of men who are striking against the decision of the United States Railroad Labor Board, and their status, and the FULL PROTECTION GUARANTEED, are explained by Mr. Ben W. Hooper, Chairman, in his statement of July 1:

"In this case the conflict is not between the employer and the oppressed employes. The people of this country, through an act of congress, signed by President Wilson, established a tribunal to decide such disputes over wages and working conditions, which are submitted to it in a proper manner. It is the decision of this tribunal against which the shop crafts are striking.

"Regardless of any question of the right of the men to strike, the men who take the strikers' places are merely accepting the wages and working conditions prescribed by a government tribunal and are performing a public service. They are not accepting the wages and working conditions which an employer is trying to impose. FOR THIS REASON PUBLIC SENTIMENT AND FULL GOVERNMENT POWER WILL PROTECT THE MEN WHO REMAIN IN THEIR POSITIONS AND THE NEW MEN WHO MAY COME IN."

Apply W. J. HANLON, 410 Wells-Fargo Building, Portland, Oregon or A. C. MOORE, 513 Oregon Bldg., or Superintendent's Office, Room 29 Union Station