U. S. PLEDGE MADE TO BREAK STRIKE

Harding Asks Governors to Boost Coal Output.

PUBLIC WELFARE CITED

Message to State Executives Is Sent After President Confers With Cabinet.

BY ROBERT B. SMITH. (By Chicago Tribune Leased Wire.) WASHINGTON, D. C., July 18.—All the power and resources at the command of the federal government were pledged by President Harding today to the breaking of the coal strike.

In a remarkable address to the governors of all the coal-producing states, Mr. Harding declared that a sufficient supply of coal to meet the necessities of the American people must be produced; that all unlawful hindrance to such production must be suppressed, and assured them of "the prompt and full support of the federal government whenever and wherever you find your own agencies of law and order inadequate to meet the situation."

Cabinet Meeting Is Held.

The president's address to the governors was sent after a cabinet meeting given over entirely to a discussion of the industrial situation. It sets forth the policy which the federal government will follow in dealing with the coal strike and emphasizes again the determination of the president to resort to the use of federal troops if necessary to furnish protection to the mine properties and enable them to meet the nation's fuel necessities.

Common Welfare Cited.

"Your state government and the federal government are jointly responsible for maintained conditions under which free men, willing to work, may work in safety. We are responsible for the production and the transportation of fuel supply ample for the necessities of the American people and the public utilities which serve them, particularly the railways engaged in interstate commerce. We must have ample coal to maintain industrial activity; we must have the coal necessary to take care of the security and activity of all the people.

"It becomes necessary, therefore, in the name of common welfare, to invite production in the fulfillment of that obligation which attaches to any American industry engaged in providing a public necessity and to afford security to all men alike who are ready and willing to work and serve the common need. No cause is so important as that of common welfare, and there must be the suppression of every unlawful hindrance to the service of that cause. To the task of lawful protection and the maintenance of order the federal government pledges to you every assistance at its command.

Among the governors who received the telegram were Joseph M. Dixon, Helena, Mont.; B. W. Olcott, Salem, Or.; and Louis F. Hart, Olympia, Wash.

Supervisor Macduff and Ranger McFarland were in the Saddle Bluff mountain territory and riding leisurely along the trail without a gun when Mr. Macduff, who was in the lead, saw the cougar 60 or 70 feet ahead, coming straight toward them. He called to McFarland and both thought the animal was making for the horses. It was not until they yelled to frighten it that the cougar seemed to notice them. It then jumped off into the brush and soon disappeared, but did not seem to run very fast.

He declined to state anything further about what course the defense would take except to remark that no examination of Mrs. Phillips as to her mental condition had been made by his direction.
