

RADIO DANCE MUSIC DUE

PORTLAND HOTEL ORCHESTRA TO GIVE PROGRAMME.

Broadcasting Set Will Be in Good Orders, Says Superintendent of Plant.

Excellent dance music by Herman Kenin's Portland hotel orchestra, vocal solos by Miss Harriet Leach, soprano, and several instrumental solos by members of the orchestra form the radio programme which will be broadcast from The Oregonian tower tonight, between 8 and 9 o'clock.

Assurance that the broadcasting set would be in perfect order and with the same greatly increased volume obtained during the past two concerts, was given last night by J. B. Weed of the Shipowners' Radio Service, who will superintend the broadcasting tonight. Unless something unexpected happens, he said, after testing out last night, the set will continue to send out the radio entertainment in almost perfect form.

Miss Harriet Leach, soprano, who sang for radio in The Oregonian tower several weeks ago, and who delighted thousands of listeners with her clear, musical voice, will contribute four solos to the programme. Miss Leach will sing twice before the orchestra concert begins and twice more between numbers. She will be assisted at the piano by Mrs. Percy Lewis.

Del Porter, whose saxophone playing is one of the big features of Herman Kenin's orchestra, will also play a solo tonight. His selection is "Kiss Me Again" which he played with orchestra accompaniment.

Herman Kenin, director of the orchestra, who is playing a series of Friday night concerts for The Oregonian, will play a violin solo. He has played several solos before in connection with the concerts of his orchestra and his solos have always been applauded vigorously. His selection this time is "Smoke Ring" and he will be accompanied at the piano by LeRoy Adams.

Some of the orchestra numbers, which will be played in the "Serenade Blues," "Kicky Koo," "Over Nothin' in All," "Hot Lips" and "Night." The remaining time will be taken up in playing as many requested numbers as possible.

CHURCH MEET NEAR END

EPISCOPALS TO FINISH CONFERENCE FRIDAY.

Business Session and Election of Officers for Coming Year to Be Held.

OREGON CITY, Or., July 20.—(Special.)—The Episcopal conference, which is being held in Gladstone park, will be closed Friday night with a business meeting and election of officers for the coming year.

In an address on "The Narcotic Evil, Its Cause and Its Cure," Canon W. H. Bliss, rector of the Trinity church, advanced the theory that the taking of the drug sets up a natural antidote in the body. This antidote, the speaker said, demands the constant use of the drug to counteract it, and it is the antidote and not the drug that causes the craving. He also stated that it is this antidote which poisons the body.

The canon stated that there is an erroneous opinion that prostitution creates drug addicts and declared that the real fact is that the use of the drug creates prostitution. He said that as the craving of the victim grows greater and greater, the expense attached to the use of the drug grows in proportion to the use and that the victim then resorts to any means to obtain the price.

Rev. Mr. Bliss stated that in this country alone there are at present more than 20,000 persons engaged in the narcotic traffic and that according to figures obtained from the police, there are in the city of Portland about 6,000 addicts.

FRUIT CANNERS ACTIVE

NORTHWEST PRODUCTS FACE KEEN COMPETITION.

Crops in East Indicate Lower Prices in That Region That Quality Must Overcome.

E. A. Clark, president of the King's Food Products Manufacturing company, returned yesterday from an extended trip into the middle western and eastern fruit areas, where he investigated the markets for western fruit products and familiarized himself with the standard of fruit products of the east with which the western grower, canner and packer has to compete.

Mr. Clark said that the fruit crops are the best that have been grown in years and that the western concerns will have to maintain strictly their high standards of production in order to meet with their former reception by eastern jobbers.

"The northwest packers will have to uphold their standards of quality packing to compete with the low prices of the east," said Mr. Clark. "Our only hope is in the quality of our product. From my talks with the principal jobbers I gathered that the jobbers are purchasing only the staples which they know they can sell. The jobbers believe that things are at a new normal, but they are not going to stay there. They are all conservative in their buying."

BEACON STREET FAVORED

South Portland Bridge Committee Decides on Site for Span.

At a meeting of a sub-committee of representatives from southeastern districts which has been investigating sites for the proposed bridge across the Willamette river it was decided last night that the most favorable site was the line running on Grover street, with the approach on Kelly street on the west side, and on the east side the line of Beacon street with the approach on Beacon.

It was figured that the bridge would be 3625 feet long, 54 feet wide, allowing 38 feet roadway and four lines of traffic.
