

SUN YAT-SEN ARMY SUFFERS REVERSE

Deposed President's Troops Reported in Retreat.

LOSSES DECLARED HEAVY

Former South China Executive Still Confident He Will Be Re-established Shortly.

CANTON, July 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—Sun Yat-sen's forces in northern Kwangtung, on whom the deposed president of south China has been pinning his hope of regaining power, have been defeated and are in retreat, pursued by the troops of Chen Chiung-Ming, who overthrew Sun, according to advices received here today from Shichow.

The report of Sun's defeat came from General Yeh Chu, commanding Chen's troops in northern Kwangtung. Yeh Chu said he had engaged the deposed president's northern army around Shichow and had driven it back 20 miles, capturing three guns and a large quantity of material.

He reported that several hundred of Sun's troops had been killed and that the Chen forces were in pursuit of the remainder.

Sun Yat-sen's forces in northern Kwangtung are short of ammunition, according to advices received here from sources at Shichow friendly to Chen Chiung-Ming, Sun's opponent in the struggle for control of Canton.

Losses Reported Heavy. Reports from the same quarter also say the losses in the last three days' fighting around Shichow have aggregated more than 200, with the heavier casualties in Sun's ranks.

Chen Chiung-Ming is rushing reinforcements to the Shichow front daily along the railroad line from Canton to Shichow, which he controls. It has been rumored that Chen himself has left his headquarters at Waichow, 50 miles from Canton, and proceeded to Shichow, but this has not been confirmed.

Despite his repeated reverses, the defection of several of his ships and the reported defeat on the Shichow front, Sun Yat-sen declared today that within a week he would be re-established in the presidency of South China. He refused, however, to disclose his plans.

Hundreds of wounded soldiers are arriving in Canton from the north.

Commander Baum of the United States destroyer Tracy today protested to Sun Yat-sen against the mooring of Sun's flagship, Wing-fung, near the Tracy.

Destroyer Held Menaced. Commander Baum pointed out that mines intended for the Wing-fung, launched by Sun's enemies, might endanger the Tracy. The protest followed yesterday's attempt to sink the Wing-fung with a floating mine, believed to have been dropped from a passing sampan. The mine exploded prematurely within 50 feet of the American destroyer, shaking her up but causing no damage.

As a result of Commander Baum's protest, it is expected that the Wing-fung will be moved to another anchorage. Another protest over mines in the river was presented today by the foreign consuls to Yip Kue, commander of the forces in Canton opposing Sun Yat-sen. The consuls objected to Yip Kue mining the harbor waters in his endeavors to damage Sun's warships.

CLERK WEDS 2 WOMEN

New York Youth Held on $500 Bail as Result of Marriages.

(By Chicago Tribune Leased Wire.) JAMAICA, L. I. N. Y., July 21.—Caught in a crossfire of accusations by his two angry wives, George Schrader, 21, was held on a technical charge of non-support when arraigned in magistrate's court here Thursday following his return from honeymoon trip with Miss Elsie Gould, 18, of Elmont. Schrader left his wife, Anna, and a 20-months-old baby for a trip to Albany with Miss Gould, with whom it is charged, he went through a marriage ceremony on July 14.

Miss Gould learned of his previous matrimonial engagements when she returned with him to her mother's home in Elmont. Mrs. Schrader had appeared against her husband last week to press a charge of non-support, which she had withdrawn after her husband had been lectured by the court and had promised to support her.

Miss Gould was a stenographer in a title company and met Schrader, a clerk in the county clerk's office here, in the course of her work. Schrader's case was adjourned to the Ridgewood court, where he will face a charge of bigamy brought by Miss Gould tomorrow. He was held in $500 bail.

FINANCIER IS BANKRUPT

(Continued From First Page.) In such shape that he found it necessary for his protection to place his assets in the hands of trustees. It was officially declared at the time that Ryan's affairs "had been satisfactorily settled, and that Ryan would continue to exercise control of his property."

His liabilities then were estimated at $16,000,000 and it was stated that a careful conversion of his assets would permit him to "break even."

The largest creditor is the Guaranty Trust company of New York, with an individual account of $3,322,555 and another account of $13,677,445, representing securities owned by Ryan, pledged by him to the Allan A. Ryan & Co. firm and by the firm pledged to the trust company.

The Guaranty Trust company tonight issued a statement that "the action of Mr. Allen A. Ryan has been anticipated and provided against by the Guaranty Trust company."

Other large creditors with secured claims are the Chase National bank with $1,869,321; Lawyers' Title & Trust company with $259,000 and the Empire Trust company with $166,765.

Mr. Schwab's Claim Unsecured. The unsecured liabilities are principally the result of stock deals and debts contracted for household and family expenses. One of the principal unsecured creditors is Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the board of the Bethlehem Steel corporation, with a claim of $39,555.

MINING GOLD IN OLD VIRGINIA IN 1922.

Gold—real honest to goodness, glittering gold—is being mined by a placer outfit in a deep ravine of Bull Neck run behind the old Jackson home, where Mariah Jackson is said to have sniped at passing union soldiers during the civil war in Virginia, just ten miles from the White House in Washington, D. C.

The land on which the gold rush is on is all privately owned and in the vicinity of land which has been worked for 35 years for gold. This shows a miner placer mining the creek sides to wash the "pay dirt" from under the roots of the basswood trees, which stretch for more than a hundred feet above the ravine. It is said that Senator King of Utah and ex-Senator Lewis of Utah are interested in the project which has all Washington agog.

Shortly after the bankruptcy papers were filed a petition for the appointment of a receiver was made on behalf of William Edward Doffin, described as a creditor with a substantial claim. Federal Judge A. N. Hand appointed Francis C. Caffey as temporary receiver under a bond of $5000.

SEINER DEPUTIES CITED

(Continued From First Page.) from Bellingham, Wash., to start fishing off the river. They report seeing a number of purse seiners outside and the majority of them were headed north to establish their headquarters at Willapa harbor. The reason for this, they said, was the difficulties encountered at times in entering and departing from the Columbia river on account of the large number of gillnets drifting in the lower harbor.

Others aver that the real reason the purse seiners are leaving the Columbia river to make their headquarters on Willapa harbor and Grays harbor is they cannot rent dock space either here or at Ilwaco. It is also said that the Willapa harbor cannery has agreed to take their fish.

Deputy Warden Larson, who returned to the city this afternoon from cruising outside, says that while a large fleet of purse seine craft was fishing off the Washington coast today, it caught practically no salmon. One of the boats obtained a few rock cod and one silverside, but it released the latter.

STRIKERS ATTACK NON-UNION SHOPMEN

Shots Fired at Watchman, Windows Are Broken.

SEVERAL ARRESTS MADE

Police Cautioned to Use Diligence in Suppressing Violence and Vandalism.

Several minor outbreaks between strikers and nonunion men in the railroad strike yesterday caused Acting Police Chief Moore to caution all police to exercise the utmost diligence and caution in suppressing acts of violence and vandalism among the opposing factions.

Several arrests of disorderly conduct charges were made, although there was no serious attack. Clifford Holmes and Thurlock Stewart were held on $100 bail for an alleged attack on Manuel Feretti, a strike-breaker, near his home, 746 East Twenty-first street. Feretti told the police he was knocked down by the two strikers.

Frank Logan was arrested by Patrolman Horton after he said to Harry C. Buchanan, a railroad mechanic, he was held under $100 bonds on disorderly conduct charges as a result of his purported attempt to intimidate nonunion strikers going to and from their work in the railroad shops.

C. H. Daniels, night watchman at the Albany roundhouse, reported to the police that several revolver shots were fired at him during the early hours by some unidentified assailant. He said the shots came from a river boat, but the police were unable to locate the boat or gain any further information.

Several vandals at the home of J. Borch, 181 Grand avenue, were broken by vandals who threw rocks at the house late Thursday. Borch and his son are employed as strike-breakers and he suspects the strikers had something to do with the attack.

C. C. Knowles, 7 Webster street, told the police that four members of a motorcycle and sidecar followed him home from his work and threatened to beat him, although they made no attack on him. The men are railroad shop strikers, he said.

DALLEY SHOPMEN RESOLUTE

Only One Union Man Reported to Be at Work.

THE DALLES, Or., July 21.—(Special.)—With the exception of one union man who is at work, the strike of shop craft workers in The Dalles is still complete. The recent walkout of 17 members of the brotherhood of firemen, oilers and stationary engineers was authorized by Timothy Healy, president of that order, the strikers said.

Mayor Stadelman and Sheriff Chrisman have been advised that no violence will be countenanced by union heads in The Dalles. The recent disturbance in which three non-union workers were alleged to have been attacked was not the work of the strikers, it was asserted.

FOUR SHOPMEN WALK OUT

Albany Roundhouse Workers Join Nation-Wide Strike.

ALBANY, Or., July 21.—(Special.)

Four shopmen walked out today at the Southern Pacific roundhouse here, the first local railroad workers to join the nationwide strike of the shop crafts. Two of the men were machinists and were union members. The other two were helpers and did not belong to the union.

All other shop employees here have remained on the job and will continue to do so, they say, as they have worked for the Southern Pacific for many years.

Disbanding of Firemen Averted. BEND, Or., July 21.—(Special.)—Threatened disbanding of the Bend volunteer fire department was averted here last night when the police and fire committees of the city council promised that Willard Houston, police chief and fire engineer, would be relieved of one of his jobs.

The volunteer fire fighters had demanded an absolute divorce of the two departments, declaring that because of Houston's connection with their organization they were being criticized as "stoop-ping."

FUTURE LOOKS DARK TO BRITISH CABINET

Financial Aid to Germany Is Declared Impossible.

FRENCH BLOCK ACTION

English Bankers Unwilling to Lend Money Even With Guarantee of Government.

BY HENRY WALES. (Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service. Copyright, 1922, by the Chicago Tribune.) LONDON, July 21.—Despite the optimistic articles in the London press stating that the British cabinet is considering plans for extending to Germany a three-year moratorium or the raising of a huge international loan to aid Berlin simultaneously with the cancellation of allied debts to Great Britain and the abandonment by the English of their 22 per cent of the reparations, I am reliably informed that Downing street views the present situation with the gravest misgivings and is deeply pessimistic over the Reparations Issue Dropped. It is feared here that the mark must depreciate to worthless and the franc dwindle seriously before the economic situation compels France to consent to reopening the reparations discussion. Germany may be forced to take drastic action to save itself. Realizing the hopelessness of the present situation, the cabinet has not discussed reparations, but I am informed it is examining instead the business now before the house of commons in order to speed up the passage of certain bills in view of the summer recess which the members demand.

TURKISH WOMEN REBEL

STANDARD FORM OF DRESS CAUSE OF RESISTANCE.

Turks Hint Darkly at Imposing Their Plan Upon Opposite Sex With Police Aid.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 21.—Some optimistic and determined Turks are attempting to persuade the women of the land to adopt a standard form of dress. Optimists, because Turkish women seem no more inclined to wear a uniform than would their sisters of London, Paris and New York, and determined, because the committee de la mode is thinking of calling upon the police for help in carrying out its plans.

"Where are the women who would consent to have imposed upon them an antique and strange costume found today only in museums?" is one of the questions hurled at the reformers. "Where is the woman who would recommend such a costume to another? Can a Turkish woman of old world Stamboul dress like a modern hanoum of aristocratic Pera? Nationalistic fanaticism is an excellent thing, but only 'within limits'."

The committee, in answer to these and sundry other attacks, has announced darkly it is working on a scheme to put over its project, the application of which will be placed in the hands of the municipal police.

married before and she found out that marriage never had been annulled, so she was not living with him.

Marriage Is Set Aside. Miss Fontaine declared that young Whitney wanted to hire a lawyer, whom he would pay, to have that marriage set aside. She was successful in having that done in July, 1920. During week-end trips, she swore, Whitney slept on a couch in her living room at the hotel. Frequently in 1919 and 1920, she declared, she would motor to New Haven with him when he was returning to Yale. En route they would stop at a cafe for breakfast, and she would stay at the Whitney home at Roslyn. There or at the New York home, she met the young man's parents.

At Roslyn, the country home, she said, "Sonny" gave swimming pool parties, which she attended under protest, because his family was away. One time when they were to come back from New Haven to New York, she swore, they missed a train and registered as man and wife at a hotel there. The name used, she swore, was Crane. She swore that later when told she was to have a baby he admitted fatherhood and said he would marry her. She swore that she had not seen him from a day in October, 1920, when she said he admitted paternity.

Preparations are being made for 8000 to 10,000 people, everyone in the county being invited.

RICH YOUTH IS SUED

(Continued From First Page.) are Mr. and Mrs. Sheridan Norton of Park avenue, who a month ago yesterday let it be known that their daughter, Marie, was about to be engaged to young Whitney. They are still more puzzled by Whitney's presence in Los Angeles.

Whitney Met at Ball. Miss Fontaine, in an affidavit, declares that she met young Whitney first at a ball given in March, 1919, at the Ritz-Carlton by Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt. This party lasted until 5 o'clock in the morning and "Sonny" drove her to the Pennsylvania hotel in his car. They first had stopped at a cafe for breakfast.

Whitney, she swore, left her at the hotel and went home. They met that same day for a late luncheon and were together until he left for Yale on the 3 o'clock train that night. After that he would come to New York for week ends and see her then. In April that same year, she swore, he asked her to marry him while they were attending a dinner party at the Hotel Vanderbilt. She said she could not because she was a war romance bride of Sterling L. Adair of Houston, Texas. Adair, however, had been
