

PICNIC ATTENDED BY 1500 SHRINERS

Fez Wearers and Families Enjoy Outing.

AL KADER BAND PLAYS

Annual Affair Held at Oaks Park, Where Sports and Dancing Entertain Crowds.

Fully 1500 Shriners with their wives, children and lunch baskets, gave up all thoughts of business affairs and other serious matters yesterday and were "kids" again, in the celebration of their annual picnic at the Oaks park.

The women and the children started for the Oaks early in the day and the crowds gathered until in the late afternoon they were augmented largely by a number of business and professional men who had doffed their "fedoras" for the fezes and joined in the fun-making.

The Al Kader band, the patrol and the chanters were all on the job early. The band was popular with old as well as young. The band played almost a continuous concert from noon until late last night. The chanters also came in for their end of the music and sang "When the spirit moved them."

Toy Balloons in Demand. Herman von Borstel, general chairman of the picnic committee, with a corps of assistants, had his hands full in meeting the demands of the youngsters for toy balloons and paper hats which were distributed.

In the afternoon there was a programme of races and games in which old and young had opportunity to participate. Among the attractions for the "fat man's" race were Dew Walker, A. H. Lea, George MacDonald and Tommy Luke.

At the dinner hour in the late afternoon the baskets were opened and lunches were spread on the lawns of the park.

Picnic Lasts Till Night. The picnic continued until late last night. The night programme consisted of dancing in the pavilion, concerts by the band and the chanters, and the playing of the various places of amusement in the park. Scrip tickets had been issued by Al Kader temple to all members of the shrine and their families and the wearer of a red fez was at a loss to find an opportunity to spend his money.

Through special arrangements with the Portland Railway, Light & Power company special trains were on the run to the Oaks throughout the entire picnic.

A. L. Tetu, potentate, estimated last night that fully 8000 Shriners and members of their families attended the picnic.

CORNERSTONE TO BE LAID

St. Paul's Church of Salem to Hold Exercises Tomorrow.

SALEM, Or., July 29.—The cornerstone of the new St. Paul's church will be laid at 11 A. M. Tuesday. The old church building was erected in 1854 and consecrated on April 22, 1855, by the Right Rev. Thomas Fielding Scott, D. D., bishop of Oregon. The mission became a parish in 1864. During the life of the parish there have been 15 rectors, the present rector being the Rev. H. D. Chambers, who was for 18 years arch-deacon of the diocese. He took charge of St. Paul's on January 1 of this year and immediately began the solicitation of funds for a new church and rectory, rebuilding the old church over into a parish house. The total cost of the improvements will be between $25,000 and $30,000. It is hoped to have the work completed during the present year.

JUDGE DECLARED DRUNK

EIGHT AFFIDAVITS FILED IN KING COUNTY.

Use of Either Liquor or Narcotics During Trial Alleged by Complainants.

PUGET SOUND BUREAU, Seattle, Wash., July 28.—Daniel H. Carey, judge of the superior court of Stevens and Pend d'Oreille counties, was charged today with having been under the influence either of liquor or narcotics while on the bench in Seattle, June 23. The charge was made in eight affidavits filed in the King county superior court in support of a motion for a new trial in the case of Silas E. Howland, executor of the estate of John C. Hennessey, against Elizabeth M. Day, the Corporate Loan & Securities company, the Corrigan Investment company and others.

The records in the county clerk's office show that after a two days' trial Judge Carey dismissed the plaintiff's case with prejudice. Judge Carey's decision was dated June 20. On July 3 the plaintiff's attorneys, J. E. McGraw and Henry S. Wortham, filed motion for a new trial, charging misconduct and irregularities on the part of the court and that the "erroneous judgment of the court was rendered under influence or passion."

The affidavits were signed by Attorney McGraw, Eva Howland, Silas E. Howland, Catherine D. Shiran, Louise Guillelmi, Lillian E. Maloney, May E. Bouquet and Percy Streeter.

MISSING SALEM CHILD FOUND.

SALEM, Or., July 28.—(Special.)—Irma Austin, aged 15 years, who disappeared here Wednesday night, returned voluntarily to her home this afternoon. The police said the girl slept at the state fairgrounds Wednesday night and walked to Silverton yesterday. The girl told the officers that she left home in fear that she would receive a whipping.

WALLCUT ROAD WORK STARTED.

ILWACO, Wash., July 28.—(Special.)—Ehson, Medley & Graham, contractors in construction of the new Wallcut hill road, began operations this week and plan to finish the work before the rainy season commences. About 15 men are now employed and the company will work two eight-hour shifts. A steam shovel is operating 16 hours a day.

BAPTISTS' SESSION ENDS

CONVENTION AT COLUMBIA CITY WELL ATTENDED.

Ten-Day Conference of Young People's Association Expected.

ST. HELENS, Or., July 28.—(Special.)—The 64th annual Oregon Baptist convention, which has been in progress at the Baptist assembly grounds at Columbia City, closed this afternoon. More than 120 delegates attended the conference, which was addressed by prominent Baptist ministers of Oregon.

The morning programme today included a business session and a sermon by Dr. W. B. Hinson. The afternoon session dealt with the Baptist programme, with Mrs. O. C. Wright leading the discussion.

At 7:30 o'clock this evening the ten-day session of the Oregon Baptist Young People's association was formally opened with a triple gold chimes by Aldo Davis and son and an address by Dr. Sumner Vinson from Walter O'Neill. Mrs. O'Neill charged that her husband and her mother had been unduly intimate.

The mother is Mrs. Mary E. Duggan, and though she and O'Neill deny the charges made against them, Patrick Duggan, husband of Mrs. O'Neill's mother, asserts they are true, and that his wife admitted to him she had traveled in the same stateroom with her son-in-law on a boat trip to Boston some weeks ago.

Mrs. O'Neill says her husband showered gifts on his mother-in-law, while ignoring her, and that Mrs. Duggan is but 49 years old and still attractive. "He only married you to be near me," the daughter says her mother told her.

OTHER WOMEN GET LOVE. WIFE SAYS SHE GOT ONLY ONE KISS IN SIX YEARS.

Divorce Complaint States Husband Pretended He Had Physical Infirmary.

(By Chicago Tribune Leased Wire.) CHICAGO, July 28.—One stingy kiss in six years was the meager allowance doled out to Mrs. Helen R. Hamilton, whose husband, Howard S. Hamilton, draws a salary of $6000 a year. She sued today for separate maintenance, charging, among other things, that her husband had affairs with other women, but that he pretended a physical infirmity to deceive his wife. She also says he has not been sober for the last two years.

Thomas Andler told Judge Ann Adams that his wife Martha had "driven him to drink." They have been estranged for six weeks, each charging cruelty. Judge Adams put him on probation for a year.

"If your wife drives you to drink, as you claim," said the judge, "start in on Lake Michigan, and after you get through with that tackle the ocean."

FLOOD MENACES DENVER. Creek in City Limits Rises and Residents Warned to Move.

DENVER, Colo., July 28.—Cherry creek, which runs through a portion of the city of Denver, went over its banks at Speer boulevard and Logan street tonight and residents in the district were warned to move. A cloudburst at Parker, Colo., was responsible.

The point where the creek left its banks is three blocks east of Broadway, the principal north and south thoroughfare in Denver. At 8 o'clock the creek was still rising.

Hanley to Talk on Roads. SALEM, Or., July 28.—(Special.)—William Hanley of Burns in response to an invitation extended by the Salem Commercial club, will speak here next Monday in opposition to the unmerging of the Central Pacific and Southern Pacific railroads. A banquet is being arranged by the commercial club.

Paving May Be Held Up. SALEM, Or., July 28.—(Special.)—Unless the Marion county court obtains the right-of-way for the Pacific highway through the town of Jefferson, this part of the road will not be paved this year. This was the announcement made today by officials of the state highway department. The road to be paved is practically a mile in length, and according to the lowest bid opened at a recent meeting of the highway commission will cost $24,400.

MAN'S MIND LONG BLANK. Amnesia Victim After Search of More Than Year Found.

CHICO, Cal., July 28.—Friends today were endeavoring to help revive the lost memory of W. H. Benton, one time a well-known fruit broker of Wenatchee, Wash., and Berkeley and Watsenville, Cal., who was found two days ago cowering in a small Chico hotel, a victim of amnesia.

Benton dropped from the sight of relatives a year and a half ago and since then a coast-wide search has been made for him. When found his mind was a blank and he thought his wife and children, who are in Berkeley, died during an influenza epidemic.

DOOMED MAN TO BE RESENTENCED. SALEM, Or., July 28.—(Special.)—Malheur county officers will arrive here tomorrow night for George Howard, who is awaiting execution in the state penitentiary here for the murder of George Sweeney of McMinnville. Penalty imposed in the Howard case recently was affirmed by the supreme court, and it is necessary to return the prisoner to Malheur county for re-sentence. The date of Howard's execution will be fixed at the time he is re-sentenced.

Barbers Slash Prices. COTTAGE GROVE, Or., July 28.—(Special.)—Local barbers have slashed the price of haircuts from 50 cents to 25 cents and have set a uniform price of 25 cents for all other tonsorial operations, as the result of the opening of a cut-rate and all-night shop in this city. The shops have left the matter of opening and closing hours with the individual shops.

Salem Curfew to Be Enforced. SALEM, Or., July 28.—(Special.)—Strict enforcement of the Salem curfew law was announced here today by Verden Moffitt, chief of police. The action was taken by the chief of police following the receipt of complaints that many boys and girls under 16 years of age have been on the streets here as late as midnight. The curfew hour is 9 o'clock.

VOTERS ACCUSED BY HALL LISTED

Counsel for Olcott Is Served With Tabulation.

ATTORNEYS FEELING WAY

What Procedure in Court Will Be Followed in Contest Not Yet Worked Out.

What procedure in court will be followed in the gubernatorial nomination contest of Charles Hall against Governor Olcott has not been worked out by the opposing attorneys. They are, in a manner of speaking, pioneering, and must feel their way as they go along for the first few days. None of the attorneys will even attempt a prediction as to how long will be required for the contest other than "it will require several weeks."

One of the first things desired will be a set of rulings from the court as to how different developments in the contest are to be treated. The rulings will materially influence the disposition of disputed ballots.

It is the tentative plan to open the ballot boxes in Marion county, in the disputed precincts, Monday morning. What will happen when the ballots of Marion county are tallied remains to be seen. Hall's lawyers say that instead of having the ballot boxes from all the other counties escorted to Salem, the court, attorneys, checkers and the rest of the personnel will travel from one county seat to another. In either course much time will be consumed.

Alleged Illegal Voters Listed. Late yesterday afternoon Hall's attorneys served Olcott's legal representatives with a list of individuals in Marion county who are charged with voting illegally. The programme calls for having these people called to the witness stand. The best-known name on the list of those alleged to have voted illegally is that of George Putnam, editor of the Salem Capital Journal.

In general, the charges made by the Hall people are that votes were cast by non-citizens; that votes were cast by citizens who were not registered; that voters voted in precincts in which they were not registered; that persons were permitted to change their registration to the republican party from other parties, in the list of Marion county residents alleged to have voted illegally. Most of the names are those of residents of Mount Angel, St. Paul and Sublimity, in which sections Hall received very few votes and Olcott very many.

Three Tellers to Act. As Jay Bowerman, for Olcott, and W. S. U'Ren, for Hall, figure the procedure, the court will appoint someone as a teller and there will be a teller for Hall and Olcott, thus three tally sheets will be kept. Not only must the votes for Olcott and Hall be tallied, but the checkers must maintain a record of the votes cast for the "also-rans" who participated in the republican gubernatorial primary.

Each ballot taken from the box will be opened and spread out and quickly scanned for distinguishing marks. Where there are no such marks and the ballot is normal, it will be counted without further ado. Ballots with distinguishing marks, however, or where too many candidates were voted for on this office or other features which indicate a defect, will then be laid aside and argued before the court. Probably 95 per cent or more of the ballots will be opened, spread and counted without a question being raised.

Mr. Hall's attorneys are of the opinion that after they get the machinery for the recount moving smoothly and mechanically it will be possible to put on two or perhaps three or more counting boards, and these boards can all be checking simultaneously in the courtroom to expedite matters. How far this plan can be carried out depends on the court and the adaptability of the scheme.

Counties to Be Visited. Multnomah county will probably be visited by the court and entourage following the cleaning up in Marion county and thereafter one county after another will be visited—if the programme of moving court is preferred to the suggestion of carrying the boxes to Salem. If the court is to go into each county mentioned in the petition for the contest, it will visit practically every county seat in Oregon. Witnesses will be asked for whom they voted, and possibly, why they voted for the candidate they did. Witnesses who changed from some other party to the republican ranks in the primaries also will probably be asked why they changed and whether it is their intention to vote for the republican ticket in November.

It is probably a safe guess that the contest will not be completed until about a month before the general election.
