Reed's Bottles of Bitterness About Emptied.

CHIEFS MAY BOLT PARTY

Swing to Republicans Held Likely if Senator Should Win in Primary Next Tuesday.

ST. LOUIS, July 28.—(By the Associated Press.)—Charges long leading democrats of the state, who are opposing the nomination of United States Senator Reed in favor of his opponent, Breckenridge Long, have threatened to bolt the party ticket if Reed should win the nomination, today furnished the latest issue in the campaign for next Tuesday's primary election.

In the opinion of politicians, the present campaign has been the bitterest in the state for many years. Supported by the local press, "Riders-of-Reed" clubs and many other organizations, in which women are taking a leading part, Mr. Long will wind up his campaign here tomorrow.

On the other hand, Senator Reed, who has based his campaign on the motto that he defended the people's rights, is expected to show more strength, especially in the rural districts, than seemed likely in the opening of the contest, his followers say.

Circulars were sent out today inviting the Long followers to attend Mr. Reed's "political funeral" tomorrow afternoon, at which supporters of Mr. Long will act as pallbearers.

The third democratic candidate, R. L. Young of St. Joseph, is not expected to play a prominent part in the race. Two years ago Mr. Young was a candidate for representative for his district, making his campaign on a strictly "wet" platform.

Six republicans are in the race for nomination, but the contest for the republican nomination has not been fought with such bitterness as the democratic. Supporters have long declared that Senator Reed was relying on a heavy vote from the republican party.

RADIO CONCERT RUSHED

15 NUMBERS BROADCAST IN 55 MINUTES.

Portland Hotel Orchestra and Harold Graham Featured on Wireless.

Fifteen pieces of music, consisting of ten orchestra numbers, one piano solo and four vocal solos, made up the programme of ten numbers in all from the Oregonian radio tower in the short span of 55 minutes. The air was literally full of music from the time the set was opened until the station was signed off at 9 o'clock.

Herman Kenin's Portland hotel orchestra was in its usual fine form and put over its ten numbers in real dance-step style. The broadcasting set was working splendidly and dozens of listeners who reported said that the music came over so clearly that they could easily distinguish the different instruments in the orchestra.

Harold Graham, baritone, was the vocal soloist, and he won a goodly amount of praise from the vast number of listeners. Mr. Graham sang the first time over radio, two weeks ago last night, and his debut was a signal success. Last night he repeated the performance and was even more pleasing than during his first concert. Assisted at the piano by Mrs. Graham, he sang "Tommy Lad" (Margaretson); "There is No Death" (O'Hara); "O, Dry Those Tears" (Del Riego); and "Duna" (McGill).

Roy Adams, pianist for Herman Kenin's Portland hotel orchestra, also distinguished himself by playing "Kitten on the Keys" as a piano solo. Mr. Adams, assisted at the drums by Walter Gallaway, put over the difficult and popular number in fine style, and the piano music, which is difficult to broadcast, was heard, some listeners said, as clearly as though it were being played in the same room.

WOODER USES REVOLVER

REJECTED SUITOR BELIEVED TO HAVE SHOT HIMSELF.

Country Girl Calls Police, But Would-Be Suicide Disappears in His Automobile.

Alex Brown, 21 years old, a farmer living near Cornelius, Ore., is believed to have shot himself last night at the head of Washington street, with a revolver. Following the shooting he ran to his automobile and drove away, according to Motorcycle Patrolman Forken.

He had driven Beryl Wagner of Laurel, Ore., 18 years old, to the city yesterday morning with the intention of marrying her, but she could not make up her mind to do so. Officer Forken said. Last night they were parked in the horseshoe curve at the head of Washington street, her escort urging her to proceed to Vancouver and marry him, when he despaired of ordinary means of persuasion.

"If you don't marry me I'll kill myself," he is said to have exclaimed.

The girl persisted in her refusal. Brown jumped from the car, set off Officer Forken, ran up the hillside into the brush and fired a shot. She became frightened, fearing that he had killed himself, begged a ride from a motorist and en route downtown told him her tale. He took her to police headquarters.

Patrolman Forken dashed to the curve, to find that both Brown and his automobile had disappeared. He is thought to have driven home. The girl was cared for by the women's protective division.

SLAYING OF SISTER OPENS FAMILY WAR

Katz Household Is Split Into Bitter Factions.

TWO ATTACK ANOTHER

Woman, Seen With Relative of Husband Involved in Triangle, Flee to Safety.

(By Chicago Tribune Leased Wire.) NEW YORK, July 28.—No Corsican vendetta was marked with greater bitterness than the feud which has split the family of Bertha Katz into two factions since her sister, Mrs. Minnie Reiser, her sons, George and Morris Reiser, and her brother, Max Katz, broke into Miss Katz's home in Brownsville Wednesday morning and left it only when assured the young woman was dying, with three bullet wounds in her body.

Two other sisters of Miss Katz, Mrs. Ethel Feinberg and Mrs. Elizabeth Rosenzweig, became infuriated today when they met Mrs. Ella Stadler, a sister of Mrs. Reiser's husband, "John the Barber," and Mrs. Kate Landorff, another sister of Miss Katz.

Mrs. Rosenzweig, a huge woman of great strength, flung two policemen aside as if they were children as she attacked Mrs. Landorff, screaming with rage and tearing at her sister's face.

All Indicted for Murder.

Mrs. Landorff had come from New Haven, Conn., to attend the arraignment of Mrs. Reiser, her sons and brother, before County Judge McMahon in Brooklyn, after all four had been indicted for murder in the first degree. She had not been on good terms with her sisters and her sympathies in the tragedy of Miss Katz's slaying are supposed to lie with Mrs. Reiser.

Mrs. Landorff paled with fright when her sister rushed at her and, swinging a heavy handbag in Mrs. Rosenzweig's face, tore herself from the latter's grip and ran across back into the courthouse she had just left. The scene of the outbreak was on the steps of the building.

Mrs. Stadler, who had left the side of her brother, "John the Barber," shouted for help when she saw Mrs. Feinberg rushing at her. She also made effective use of a handbag to cover her retreat.

Women Finally Subdued.

Three policemen and two court matrons finally subdued Mrs. Rosenzweig and Mrs. Feinberg. No such scene has been witnessed at the Brooklyn courthouse in the memory of its oldest attendant. Frank threats were hurled across the halls by the warring women that others than Bertha Katz would meet the fate which closed her life's chapter.

Mrs. Jennie Katz, mother of both Bertha and Mrs. Reiser, gave bail in $2500 to assure her appearance at the trial of her daughter, son and grandchildren for the murder.

George Z. Medallo has been retained to defend Mrs. Reiser on the murder indictment. The defense, it was said today, will be one of "transitory insanity" based on the code of the unwritten law.

FOUR PLEAD NOT GUILTY

Reiser in Statement Denies His Wife's Charges of Intimacy.

NEW YORK, July 28.—Mrs. Minnie Reiser, her sons Morris and George and her brother Max Katz were indicted by a grand jury in Brooklyn today for first degree murder in connection with the slaying of Mrs. Reiser's sister, Bertha Katz, whom Mrs. Reiser accused of stealing the love of her husband, "John the Barber" Reiser, which she knew sported. The quartet entered pleas of not guilty and were remanded to jail to await trial.

Reiser issued a statement today denying his wife's charges against Miss Katz.

"This girl was a good girl—none better," he declared. "Never anything wrong between us, she was good to her mother and for the last 15 years she supported her. She was my secretary and pal, that was all."

It is a story of beautiful innocence that loved wisely—told in a way that only Oscar Wilde could tell it. It is dramatically splendid—excellently acted and perfectly produced.
