weigh 110 pounds, and my age is around 25 years. Thanking you for your kind suggestion, I am sincerely yours, BRUNETTE.

Brunette, Iwaco, Wash.—There is certainly something which can be done with your wonderful broadcloth and, while there must needs be a certain amount of waste due to the very narrow pieces, you can, with a pattern and thoughtful cutting, use the material you now have for the redingote top with a vest and sleeve of satin in contrasting shade such as dark blue, dark green, taupe or henna. With any selection the black rope silk to be used as shown on the vest and sleeves. The skirt you now have can be recut and the seams will show little under the paneled top. The piecing can be made under the belt. All edges can be bound with the black or the material as combined. In all probability the panels will be shorter than illustrated and will be very effective and correct if edged at the bottom only with a deep fringe. That this pattern will meet your problem I am sure, for one was made under much the same line from an old suit I once had.

Let me hear from you if I can be of further help.

NOTED ARTIST WILL HELP JUDGE ATLANTIC CITY BEAUTY CONTEST.

Here are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Chandler Christy at Atlantic City. Mr. Christy will be one of the judges of the national beauty contest at Atlantic City early in September, when Miss Portland will compete with beauties from other American cities. From the photograph one may guess that Mrs. Christy would be a formidable competitor in a beauty contest herself, but she will not be an entrant. In fact, the list will be made up entirely of unmarried girls from the leading cities. The winner of the contest The Oregonian has been conducting has not been announced yet, but will be early next week. In the meantime three more pages of contestants' photographs will be printed tomorrow. Look them over, as well as those previously printed, and see if your personal choice agrees with that to be made finally by the board of judges.
