Bay State Scandal of Few Years Ago Recalled.

NOTORIOUS RING BROKEN

Man Who Routed Lawless Officials Now Opposing Governor for Governorial Nomination.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

(By Chicago Tribune Leased Wire.) BOSTON, Aug. 21.—Some of those wicked deeds that cast their beams afar in a good world are illuminating the political contest in Massachusetts...

It seems there has been considerable trouble hereabouts in enforcing the Volstead act in high places, reminiscent of the difficulties of enforcing the colonial law prohibiting the cannibalistic kiss on Sunday.

One still hears reverberations among the prohibitionists of the upheaval caused by that dinner at the Quincy house a year or more ago. Governor Cox was the guest of honor and all the republican bigwigs were on hand.

Something Tragic Happens.

Now the reason the liquor gave out was a tragic one. In the midst of the festivity, when political enthusiasm was running high, when the republican strategists were trooping back from the refreshment parlor with perfectly corking campaign ideas...

Golf Facts Worth Knowing.

BY INNIS BROWN. Q. What is your decision in a case like this? A chain of sand traps runs along the side of the fairway, though each trap is separated from the adjacent one by a narrow strip of turf...

Wilson Cites His Courage.

Now Wilson is a candidate for the republican nomination for attorney-general on a platform in which he calls attention to his "unquestioned honesty and courage to carry on in the midst of a political storm."

Ringside Randoms.

Allen's Achievement Noted.

But this is only a sidelight on the situation. It is his success in wiping out a condition of wickedness of far deeper dye that has furnished Mr. Allen with the ground for his bid for the nomination.

Foreign Singer Shocked.

One of the victims was a foreign singer whose experience is related as typical of the mode of procedure of the blackmail gang.

FLORENCE REED in "The Black Panther of Paris"

The work of Miss Reed is exceptional. She assumes four distinct roles in this production, and she handles each splendidly.

What did the gentleman do? Why, he did—or was about to do—exactly what you or I would have done, when something appalling happened.

This was a case of the law and the tiger. The lady having stepped out of an inner door, the outer door burst open and in sprang the tiger in the shape of a burly man professing to be the lady's husband and pretending consuming wrath.

He was accompanied by several other glowering individuals wearing what purported to be insignia of the law.

The singer paid the blackmailers the tune of $40,000. I was informed.

Victor Overcomes Lead of Two Lengths and Wins by Nose in Exciting Race to Wire.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 21.—(Special.)—By a strenuous effort in the last quarter of the third mile heat of the 2:34 pace this afternoon, George Parker's pacer, Hal Fitzsimmons, overcame a lead of two lengths which J. J. Kaddery's Hal Brown had established and won over the latter by a nose.

There were six horses in the race. The finishes were as follows: First heat: Hal Brown, J. J. Kaddery, first; Ark Bell, James Richardson, second; Hal Fitzsimmons, third.

Second heat: Hal Fitzsimmons, George Parker, first (by default); Ark Bell, James Richardson, second; Mary J. Will Williams, third.

Third heat: Hal Fitzsimmons, first; Hal Brown, second; Ark Bell, third.

The default decision in the second heat was caused by Bob Merrill, driver of Hal Fitzsimmons to the race, George Parker, owner of the winner, and J. J. Kaddery are both from Portland.

Kaddery's trotter, Oregonian, also won the 2:16 trot, taking second in the first heat and winning the last two.

William Gray, owned by Plummer & Wilson of Seattle, was second after winning the first and trotting second in the last two heats.

Third place went to Perrio, owned by Z. J. & W. J. of Portland. Jockeys in the six-furlong running race were severely censured by the judges for pulling their horses.

The judge threatened to abandon running races unless they rode better henceforth.

WILLIS KNOCKS OUT JACKSON

End of Fight Comes in Second Round; Negro Toys With Foe.

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 21.—Harry Willis, negro heavyweight of New Orleans, tonight knocked out Buddy Jackson, a negro of Newark, after 2 minutes and 14 seconds of fighting in the second round of a 12-round match.

Willis toyed with Jackson in the first round, cuffing him into every corner of the ring with sharp hooks to the jaw.

Jackson was unable to land a punch on his adversary. In the second round Jackson dashed from his stool and attacked Willis in his own corner.

The New Orleans negro sent Jackson hurtling to the ropes with a right uppercut, then felled him for the count with right and left-hand smashes to the jaw.

Willis weighed 215 pounds and Jackson 194.

DETROIT IS GOLF MECCA

Professionals and Amateurs Prepare for Western Open.

DETROIT, Aug. 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—Nearly every prominent golfer of the country, professional and amateur, was here on route to Detroit tonight for the opening Wednesday morning of the western open championship to be decided over the course of the Oakland Hills Country club.

Gene Sarazen, national open and professional title holder, and Walter Hagen, western open champion, but were missing from the entry list, but aside from these two, there were few professionals of note that were not counted in.

Early arrivals on the scene of the contest, about 100 of them, played practice rounds today and all were enthusiastic over the course.

Jock Hutchison, George Turnbull, Emmett French, runner-up in the professional tournament last week; Bobby Cruikshank, Mike Brady, George Diegel and Pat O'Hara, ex-Irish champion, were among those out for practice rounds.

They were a bit backward when asked for their scores, but there were several 70s and somebody started a report that Brady made a 68. The Oakland professional, however, denied this. He had several times equaled the course record set by Walter Hagen at 67.
