MAZAMAS TO CLIMB WAUNA POINT.—The Mazamas have cancelled the Woodland-Kalama trip and will climb Wauna point instead. The train will leave the union station Saturday at 5 P. M. for Bonneville where camp will be made. The climb will be undertaken early Sunday morning and the party will follow back on the ridge to the huckleberry patch. The return train will leave Bonneville at 4:15 Sunday afternoon and will arrive in Portland at 6 o'clock. The distance will be about 12 miles. The fare is $1.90. R. H. Bunnage, leader, advises all comers to bring a canteen for water and a bucket for berries.

FOOD EXPERT TO LECTURE.—Paul O. Sampson, nationally-known food expert of Los Angeles, will give an address on how fast persons can get lean and lean persons fat at the luncheon of the Ad club at the Benson hotel today noon. W. S. Kirkpatrick, past-president of the club, also will speak. Mrs. Edith Lidyard will entertain with vocal numbers assisted by Miss Marjory Farrens.

TODAY IS CHILDREN'S DAY at the Oaks, with special attractions for the little folks. All the rides and concessions will be open and every boy and girl will be admitted to the park and given a ticket good for a ride on a park concession free of charge. Professor J. Le Strange, world-famed aeronaut, will go up a mile in the air in his big balloon and drop to earth in three parachutes. Bring your picnic basket and enjoy a glorious day here under the oaks.

JACKSON CLUB TO MEET.—The Jackson club of Oregon will meet in room A, central library tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. Harvey G. Starkweather, president of the club, and speakers will be C. E. Spence, mayor of the state grange, who will speak on the state grange income measure, and Mrs. Alice M. Naught, candidate for the state legislature, who will speak on "Idealistic Education." Robert G. Black, pianist, will present a musical program. The public is invited.

PORTLAND INVITED TO FAIR.—Invitations have come to the Chamber of Commerce to participate with a good delegation to the southwestern Washington fair, to be held at Chehalis, and Wednesday, August 30, has been named Portland day. The fair management is anxious that Portland join hands in the affair and the chamber will give credentials and badges to such of its members as can arrange to attend on that day.

VETERANS' AID LAUNCHED.—Otto W. Mielke, president of the Chamber of Commerce, has taken steps to aid in every way the work of the United States veterans' bureau in the rehabilitation of ex-service men and to obtain employment for them in this city. With that end in view, he has appointed William Whitfield as chairman of a special committee to co-operate with the bureau in the employment representative of the bureau.

BATTERY TO HOLD PICNIC.—The annual picnic of battery A of the Oregon national guard will be held at the Clackamas range next Sunday. Oregon City cars will convey the active members, veterans' families and friends to the Clackamas river bridge, where conveyances will be taken to the camp grounds from 11 A. M. to 1 P. M. and on the return trip from 4 to 6 in the evening. There will be military exercises, athletic contests and free dancing.

MR. McMURRAY GOES SOUTH.—William McMurray, general passenger agent for the Oregon-Washington Railroad and Navigation company, left yesterday for San Francisco, where he will remain a few days on business. Mr. McMurray is interested particularly in the fall movement of tourists this way, and indications at present are for an unusually heavy movement to continue throughout next month.

PLANNING BODY TO MAKE BUDGET.—Members of the Portland planning commission have been asked to attend a meeting tomorrow afternoon at 3:15 o'clock in the office of J. C. Alsworth, president. A tentative budget for the 1923 work of the commission will be outlined at the meeting and later submitted to City Commissioner Barbur for inclusion in the city budget.

PARTY SCALDS MOUNT ADAMS.—Last Sunday a party of six climbed Mount Adams and were regaled with "coffee and" at the ranger's cabin on the summit. The party was composed of Eugene Woodruff and George Pearson of Trout Lake, Wash.; Harry Card of White Salmon, Willard Cross of Portland, Robert Clark of Springfield, Mass., and William N. Boyd of Seattle.

MAN SEEKS MISSING SISTER.—C. E. Stitt of this city would like to find trace of his sister Daisy, aged 16, who was expected here from Emmett, Idaho, last October, and from whom no word has been received by relatives since shortly before that time. Mr. Stitt can be reached by general delivery.

MOVEMENT OF AUTOMOBILES REGULAR AT BIG CITY CAMP

Arrivals and Departures Every Day Continue to Hold at About One Hundred Each, With Three Hundred Upon Grounds.

BY ADDISON BENNETT. ONE HUNDRED AND TWO machines came to the camp Monday. The movement seems to be phenomenally regular, about 100 arriving and departing each day, with about 300 on the grounds.

San Antonio, Tex., is represented at the camp by Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Wyler. They left their home about seven weeks ago after selling their property there. They are really looking for a location. They have been in the movie and apartment-house business and are in search of something in the same line. If they do not find what they want they will return to Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hest, the former a hotel keeper, from St. Paul, Minn., are out looking for a new site to locate their lures and penates, which are mostly in the shape of scripts. They sold their property before leaving, but will return if no suitable location is found.

A very interesting party of home-seekers is at the camp from Denver, Colo., the leader, apparently, being R. H. Benson, who is accompanied by his wife and his wife's mother, Mrs. Lena Knorr. In the party also are Fred Goetz and wife. The Goetz folk were in the dairy business and Mr. Benson was an auto dealer and money lender on autos. Then with them are Mrs. Cammerer, a sheet metal worker. All of the party are from Denver, traveling in two machines, and all have sold out and quit Denver and all now expect to locate in Portland. There is one child also in the party, Lorraine, 1 year old, daughter of the Benson.

In a car and truck there came to the camp from Loveland, Wyo., a party looking for a location, the spot yet undecided. At the head are J. H. Farrell and wife and with them two daughters, Elaine and Hietta, 2; also Mrs. Farrell's father, R. E. Johnson and wife.

From Vancouver, B. C., came Captain T. Rippon and wife, and with them Mr. and Mrs. G. Cavin, the latter couple being residents of Cumberland, Vancouver island. These people are just returning from a trip to Los Angeles. On their way south they did not stop at the camp, going through in the daytime.

From Seattle, Wash., we have W. L. Stone, an auto dealer and money lender, and with him are James Preston and wife and Mr. and Mrs. W. Dennis, with one son, Harold, aged 13. Mr. Preston is in the same line of business as Mr. Stone, but Mr. Dennis is a contractor. The entire party travels in a big car and seems to have plenty of room. They have been down to Seaside for a few days. From here they will return to their Seattle home, but have not yet entirely decided the route. Anyhow, they will take a spin over the highway as far as The Dalles.

Fred Enbyk has lived in or near Pendleton ever since Hector was a pup and Pendleton was a town of but mighty few houses, years and years before the Round-up was thought of. During his residence there he has annexed himself to a few acres of real estate—say about 800 acres of wheat land and 100 acres of bottom land and a real estate in town near the Round-up grounds. Now that "the frost is on the punkin and the fodder is in the shock" the entire family, led by Mrs. Enbyk, has come down to visit Portland, the family consisting of the father and mother and three fine children, Myrtle, aged 15; Maurine, 13, and Evelyn, 7. After putting a crimp in the pocketbook for winter supplies the family will move on to the Yakima country to visit some old friends and then back to Pendleton in time for the school opening. For the Enbyk children are to have a better chance to get learning than their parents had—far better. But will they make any better use of their time and opportunities? We will have to wait and see.

From Los Angeles, where she spent the winter and on the way to her real home in Indianapolis goes Mrs. Jennie Duckwell, with her son, Frank, and Lillian, to enter Frank in the Chicago college and Lillian at Oxford, O. These are very fine people and are having a splendid trip.

R. A. WARD APPOINTED.—R. A. Ward, manager of the Pacific Cooperative Wool Growers' association, has been appointed a member of the National Wool Growers' association committee on wool marketing. Besides Mr. Ward the committee includes W. J. Williams and J. P. Fred Gooding of Idaho, T. E. Pollock of Arizona, W. W. Daley of Wyoming, Byron Wilson of Wyoming, C. H. Williams of Montana and J. P. Sears of Washington. To the committee is charged the work of considering and recommending a national plan of marketing.

MAZAMAS TO PORTRAY OUTING.—The Mazamas have arranged an interesting program for their regular luncheon today at the Y. W. C. A. A symposium on "Camp Montague" the scene of their recent outing at the three Sisters, will be presented as follows: "The Campsite," Martha Redman; "North Sister," Frank Redman; "Middle Sister," Alfred Parker; "South Sister," Bernice Gardner; "Mount Washington," Ed Peterson; "Camp Montague," Richard W. Montague.

KIRKWOOD CLAIMS VOTES.—Three hundred and eighty-one votes being longed to R. J. Kirkwood, were erroneously counted for John H. Coffey in the recent primaries, is the answer and cross-complaint on August 22, against the county clerk, yesterday to the contest petition of Coffey. The contention of this defendant is that his vote should have been 17,548 instead of 17,147 and Mr. Coffey's 16,696 instead of 17,077. Two hundred or more precincts are cited as the ones in which irregularities occurred.

SIGN BOARD PAINTERS STARTLED.—While painting a sign on a huge sign board on the hill leading to the Interstate bridge, Charles Miller and D. Quisenberry, employees of a sign company, were startled by the firing of six revolver shots in their direction. The shots came from two young men in a coupe who appeared to be intoxicated, they reported to the police. One of the bullets struck the sign board within a short distance from where the men were working.

SIX DIVORCE SUITS FILED.—Divorce suits filed in the circuit court yesterday were: Florence A. against Gilbert Bouchard, Flossie M. against William W. Davis, Dorothy R. against Roy A. Powell, Myrtle against A. B. Jameson, Helen against Thomas Brodigan, and Fern against George Turner.

FATHER IN SEARCH OF HIS SON.—Mike Kungas, living on route 2, box 235, Lents station, is seeking some trace of his son, John Kungas, who is thought to be somewhere in Canada. The father asks that any person who may know of the young man's whereabouts communicate with him at once.

WOMAN SEES FOR DAMAGES.—A fall from a streetcar at Broadway and Larabee street, on February 29, 1922, caused injuries for which Melissa A. Bond, manufacturer of hair goods, seeks damages of $10,000 from the Portland Railway, Light & Power company in a suit filed in the circuit court yesterday.

WOMAN'S AUTO COLLISION ASKS DAMAGES.—DAMAGES of $5000 are sought by Margaret Peterson in a suit filed in the circuit court yesterday against W. B. Crane & Co. and J. W. Jesse, driver of a truck for the concern, as the result of injuries received in an automobile collision.

No. 24 last Friday night. One robber is said to be 6 feet tall, weight 170 pounds, wore a gray hat, a gray cap and an olive-drab shirt and was of dark complexion. The other was 5 feet 11 inches in height, weight 155 pounds, wore a gray hat, blue overalls and olive-drab shirt. He is of light complexion and wore a red sash ring on the second finger of the left hand.

Information should be communicated to the chief of police at Second and Oak streets, Portland.

GLADIOLI ON EXHIBIT
Special Entertainment Also Provided During Afternoon for Big Crowds of Visitors.

W. L. Crissey, proprietor of the gladioli farm adjoining Dodge park on the Sandy river, is exhibiting a beautiful collection of gladioli of several varieties in the piano apartment on the sixth floor of Meier & Frank's department store for a few days.

Mr. Crissey, well known in this city as being formerly connected with the Portland Chamber of Commerce, has made a specialty of growing the most beautiful of European and American specimens of the many-colored gladiolus and has brought them to the city to display to interested flower lovers.

His display, which includes the best of the 400 varieties from England, France, Germany and Holland, and also American freaks, is made very attractive by the use of harmonious vases on well decorated tables. He has a handsome yellow gladiolus which is a rare thing and which has been very skillfully propagated.

He has also the Purple Glory, which won the prize for being the most beautiful variety displayed in the 1921 international show near Toronto, Canada.

Mr. Crissey will have his exhibit on display until Thursday. Yesterday crowds of people which were too large to handle were attracted by the flowers. The Thalia quartet, which has been stringing instruments, rendered selections during the afternoon. Today at 2 P. M. Mrs. E. M. Powell will sing some southern plantation melodies as entertainment.

Electrical Hearing Called.
OLYMPIA, Wash., Aug. 22.—(Special.)—Representatives of electrical companies operating in Washington will attend a hearing in the department of public works tomorrow to give testimony to be used as a basis for forming a rule to govern the apportionment of cost for electrical line extensions to serve new territory or new patrons.

Centralia Men Accused of Theft in Justice Court.
CENTRALIA, Wash., Aug. 22.—(Special.)—Arrested on charges of grand larceny, William Walls and P. H. Sumner, junk dealers, had a hearing yesterday before Justice Ross, who took the case under advisement. Goods stolen from S. C. LeBrook, the complaining witness, are alleged to have been found in possession of the defendants, who declared they purchased them.

A. B. Loftus, alias John Doe Halverson, was arrested yesterday on a warrant charging him with grand larceny. Loftus, it is alleged, stole tools at Walla Walla and sold them to W. E. Watson, a second-hand dealer.

Wear and Tear on Cement Machinery Costly
Machinery used in the manufacture of portland cement wears out faster than in most industries. Mechanical equipment has to be replaced on an average, once every ten years. Firebrick lining in that part of the rotary kiln where the raw materials are burned at nearly 3000 degrees Fahrenheit, has to be renewed about twice a year. To prevent long and expensive shut-downs, spare parts for practically every piece of machinery must be kept in stock. In addition, most mills maintain complete machine and blacksmith shops. For every million dollars invested in the cement plant proper, from $75,000 to $100,000 worth of spare parts must be on hand. One company's inventory of spare parts runs as high as $1,000,000. Interest must be earned on this big investment. Capital requirements of the cement industry are large. Turnover is slow—with some companies only once every two years.

Long Trouser Suits
For Young Chaps
THERE will be none of that awkward feeling in one of these suits, even if it is his first long pair—they're so skilfully designed and so smart looking. Tailored to give him that "young man" appearance, but strong enough for the "boy" that's still in him.
