DAMAGES OF $10,900 ASKED—Because of injuries received when he fell into a bilge hole aboard the steamer Iowan, Frederick H. Germain, a laborer, filed suit against the Albina Marine Iron Works in the federal court yesterday, asking damages of $10,900. The Iowan was on the municipal drydock at the time, undergoing repairs following her collision with the British steamer Welsh Prince, in the lower Columbia. Germain says that he was sent to an unlighted lower deck, and that he stepped through the bilge hole, which was uncovered and unguarded. The accident occurred on June 21, 1922.

DETROIT HELD TO GRAND JURY—Solomon Miller, north-end druggist, was held to the state grand jury on a charge of plotting to injure R. J. Blischoff, attorney for Miller's divorced wife, after a preliminary hearing before Municipal Judge Ekwall. Testimony of W. R. Brown showed that Miller had hired him to throw acid in the attorney's face. When the acid plan fell through, Brown asserted, Miller wanted him to attack the attorney with a baseball bat. The druggist is at liberty under $2500 bonds pending the grand jury investigation. Brown was ordered held under $250 as a material witness.

BRICK CONCERN MOVES OFFICES—The Columbia Brick company, formerly located at 272 Hawthorne avenue, has moved its offices to the new distributing yard recently purchased on East Main and Water streets. An attractive little office structure designed in bungalow style and built of the company's brick products has recently been constructed on the new site and will be occupied by the offices of the concern.

WEEDS CAUSE OF FINES—The city of Portland means business when it says that weeds must be cut down in all vacant lots. Three property owners learned to their sorrow that there is no "spotting" to this edict when Municipal Judge Ekwall assessed fines because of their failure to comply with the ordinance. Those fined were M. H. Burtage, 511 Couch street, $12.50; Minnie Hill, 753 Mason street, $3; C. B. LaFollette, 803 East Fifty-second street, North, $3.

MASONS OWE LAY TO SILENCE—W. Hoyt, county commissioner, left Portland last night with P. S. Malcolm, Wallace McCamant and Arthur Thurlston, to attend the supreme council of the Scottish Rite Masons to be held at Salt Lake City, Utah, beginning August 28. Mr. Hoyt was asked to take charge of the music. Members of the council are all 33rd degree Masons and meet every three years.

CLERKSHIP ORDINANCE WITHDRAWN—Fearful that the publicity incident to the creation of a chief clerkship in the park bureau might have disastrous effect upon a similar plan for the street cleaning bureau, City Commissioner Bigelow has withdrawn his proposed ordinance asking for the abolition of the position of clerk in the street cleaning bureau and creation of a chief clerkship in the same bureau.

PAYING FOR LUMBER INVESTIGATED—Communications from the associated general contractors concerning the operation of the municipal paving plant in competition with private contractors are still being investigated by City Commissioner Pier. Mr. Pier has asked the city council for one more week before submitting a report to the council on the subject.

ENGINEERS TO HOLD PICNIC—Oregon chapter, American Association of Engineers, will give a basket picnic at Laurelhurst park tomorrow afternoon. The programme committees have arranged for a baseball game and other athletic contests, with prizes for all winners. All engineers and friends are invited. In the evening a dance will be held in the Laurelhurst clubhouse.

COGAR MAN WITH LIQUOR FINED—Ed Wilson, cigar dealer of Astoria, appeared before Federal Judge Wolcott yesterday and pleaded guilty to possessing five quarts of moonshine, in violation of the prohibition law. Wilson said that he kept the stock for his own personal use. A fine of $200 was imposed.

SHERIFF'S MEN END HONEYMOON.

Bubbling away in the process of producing one and a half gallons of moonshine an hour, a 16-gallon still was located yesterday by Deputy Sheriffs Beeman and Schirmer on the farm of Sam Cuska, two miles southeast of Multnomah station. Cuska was arrested and thrown in the county jail, despite his pathetic plea that he was on a honeymoon, having been married less than a month. Four hundred and fifty gallons of mash and tank containments capable of holding 450 more were found with seven gallons of finished product. The place had been in operation about a month.

STOLEN LOVE VALUED AT $25,000—The love and affection of Albert A. Pearson were worth $25,000 to Rose Pearson, she asserts in a suit filed in the circuit court yesterday to recover that sum from Mollie Crabtree, charging that the defendant stole her husband's love. Since last March Mrs. Crabtree has "ruined" Albert, causing him to remain consistently away from home, declares Mrs. Pearson, who avers that the other woman offered her husband money to leave his lawfully wedded wife. The plaintiff charges

Leigher will drive away, at least temporarily, the memory of battle scars this afternoon when the disabled veterans of the world war will attend, as guests of The Oregonian, the matinee at the Heilig Lloyd in "Grandma's Boy."

This photoplay was supposed to close its engagement at the theater Sunday evening, but William Pander proper regulations and restrictions. Mr. Nelson, who was in Portland yesterday, contends that he is representing no interests in the candidacy, but is holding in mind the general welfare of the public at large. He is dissatisfied with the present effect of the prohibition law and contends that it does not prohibit, but makes liquor as easy to get as it ever was. He also holds that there is more crime as a result of prohibition than there was before and that the millions of dollars which are being spent by the government to prevent illegal traffic are to no avail, and that the dry law is in vain, with an additional expense attached to enforcement.

Mr. Nelson seeks nomination on the ground that there are persons who want the present prohibition laws repealed and a more efficacious method of satisfying the public installed.

HOSPITAL ROUSES IRE
 Citizens Protest Against Refuge for Dogs and Cats.

No sooner has the city council disposed of the radiator-riding goose belonging to Mrs. Eunice Bothwell than comes a petition asking for an investigation of the dog and cat hospital operated by Mrs. Margaret Adams at 231 Chapman street.

A petition headed by John Henry Knight holds that the "hospital" is bringing dogs and cats of every description into the neighborhood and is a nuisance which should be abated without delay.

Mrs. Adams has no permit for the operation of her institution, but states that she is a lover of pets and has been caring for dogs and cats without compensation.

Cripple's Sentence Suspended.
 ALBANY, Or., Aug. 24.—(Special.)—Because he reformed when Sheriff C. M. Kendall was killed while raiding a moonshine still near here, J. D. Johnson of this city was given a suspended jail sentence of six months and a fine of $50 for owning and operating a still.

His arrest took place some time ago and he pleaded guilty at the time, but he was not brought into court until today. Johnson is a cripple and has a wife and three children.

Sunday School Workers to Meet.
 HOOD RIVER, Or., Aug. 24.—(Special.)—Hood River County Sunday School association will hold its annual convention at the Odell Methodist church Sunday, September 3. Miss Georgia Parker, secretary of the State Sunday School association, will be present for the sessions. A basket dinner will be served at noon.
