3 STRIKERS GUILTY IN CONTEMPT CASE

Two Sentenced to Jail and One Fined $50.

DEFENSE WILL APPEAL

George Scharmann, Robert Green and Martin Chutuk Convicted in Federal Court.

Two striking shop-workers were sentenced to jail, a third fined and eleven cleared of the charge of contempt of court by Federal Judge Wolverton, who announced his decision yesterday in the strike contempt hearing...

Three others, also named as ringleaders and prime movers of the disturbance, Roy Baker, Nick Castriano and Mike Dubitz, were freed because it was not proved that they were members of any of the organized unions...

Appeal Is Likely. Because the court had viewed the proceedings from a criminal angle and because the testimony against two others, Stefan Vestica and Pete Mihajevich, was not conclusive, these two men were also freed...

Scharmann and Green were not imprisoned yesterday. Pending the perfecting of an appeal, a stay of execution for ten days was granted by the court...

The charges grew out of the shopmen's strike, which commenced July 1. On July 25, attorneys representing the O-W-R & N. company applied for an injunction...

Demonstration August 1. On August 1, three days after the order became effective, a large gathering of men and women assembled outside of the Albina shops...

Twenty men were cited for contempt of court by the railroad officials, and by order of Judge Wolverton, arrested and held in the United States marshal's office...

"Mr. Green," said Judge Wolverton, addressing the union lawyer, "are the defendants all being present when the decision was announced?"

Evidence Is Discussed. Judge Wolverton, in giving his decision and in fixing the punishments, reviewed the case at length, quoted numerous legal authorities and discussed the evidence...

"Out of due precaution that the rights of the parties might be adequately conserved the court directed that the hearing go forward on the hypothesis that the contempting was one for criminal contempt."

"The testimony shows beyond question that there was an assemblage of men and women on the north side of Knott street, extending from Delay street east for a distance of from 20 to 100 feet. The men were greatly in the majority, and the number of persons gathered there has been estimated at from 40 to 50 to 100 persons...

"The assemblage was boisterous and turbulent and the workers, as they passed through the lines, were subjected to various insults and indignities, accompanied by the presence of assault and in one or two instances of actual assault. One man was shoved about, another suffered the gross indignity of having one of the strikers, R. E. Baker, spit in his face, and another was tripped as he went by."

"The epithets applied were such as 'scab,' 'cur,' 'dirty rat,' 'yellow' and the like, with threats of different kinds, among which were 'I'll get you yet.' The assemblage was one well calculated to create fear and terror in the workmen, which was unquestionably the purpose."

Three Cases Dropped. "It is insisted that Baker, Castriano and Dubitz have not been shown to have been served with the restraining order, nor has it been shown that they had any knowledge of its issuance. The attachment for contempt will therefore be discharged as it respects these three men."

"As it relates to Robert Green, a different aspect is presented. Green was positively identified by no less than five witnesses, and was very active on the lines. One witness, a woman, said he looked right at her and called her a name. Another said that he and Scharmann asked him what he was doing there and called 'scab.'

Some Alibis Sustained. "Nine of the men, including George Scharmann, have denied that they were present in the picketing line or had any knowledge of the assemblage and each of them has endeavored to substantiate an alibi. The testimony, such as it is, has successfully sustained their alibis: Getty, Haberman, Melcher, Brill and Geska."

The testimony as to Mihajevich is such as to leave the matter in doubt. Vestica is not clearly identified as being on the picket line but I am satisfied that Chutuk was among the number maintaining the same. He was probably there simply as a follower of leaders in the picketing line."

George Scharmann was identified by as many as 11 persons and was without doubt, at least part of the time, on the picket line. Nick Eichner was appointed by the strike committee as the single picket which the restraining order allowed.

"I am convinced that Eichner was there lawfully, in obedience to his appointment, at the single picket to attend that place, that he did not participate in the assemblage on the north side of Knott street and that he did what he thought was proper and all he could do to have those engaged in picketing disperse and allow the men to pass from the shop unharmed."

"The court finds, therefore, that the attachment should be discharged as to Baker, Castriano, Dubitz, Getty, Haberman, Melcher, Brill, Geska, Mihajevich, Vestica and Eichner, and that Green, Scharmann and Chutuk are guilty of criminal contempt of court."

The order and judgment of the court will therefore be, that Green and Scharmann be confined in the county jail of Multnomah county for the term of 60 days, and that each pay a fine of $100, and that Chutuk pay a fine of $50.

The case probably will be appealed to the United States court of appeals in the cases of Scharmann, Green and Chutuk. R. A. Green, the union lawyer, announced yesterday that he will appeal the decision. Bail will be posted and the three men saved from imprisonment until the higher court passes on the case.

IDAHO STRIKER ACCUSED. Railroad Said to Have Violated Federal Court Injunction.

BOISE, Idaho, Aug. 29.—(Special.)—Contempt of court charges were filed today in the United States district court against Adolph Stein of St. Marys, Idaho, for refusing to obey the restraining order of Judge Dietrich. Judge Dietrich recently made permanent a temporary injunction in which striking railroad men of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad were enjoined from picketing or in any way interfering with railroad employees.

Stein was alleged to have tried to prevent workers from going on with their work at St. Marys. The injunction was the outcome of trouble at Avery and at Spirit Lake, at which places strikebreakers and guards were said to have been injured by strikers.

Stricken Suddenly. GEORGE M. REED DEAD. Mortgage Loan and Insurance Man Succumbs in Idaho White on Tour by Automobile.

George M. Reed, well-known mortgage loan and insurance broker of this city with extensive land interests in Idaho, died suddenly Sunday morning near Grangeville, Idaho, while driving an auto trip from heart disease.

Mr. Reed came to Portland several years ago, building a fine home on Portland heights at 743 Upper drive, where he had since resided, and opening a branch office here which was taken over a year and a half ago by his son, Kenneth S. Reed, the father devoting his time since then to his Idaho interests.

Both he and Mrs. Reed were prominent in the First Presbyterian church of Portland. George Millard Reed was born at Monticello, Ill., July 5, 1862. In 1887 he married Mary Elizabeth Dillon at Decatur, Ill. Both he and Mrs. Reed were members of prominent pioneer families of central Illinois.

As a young man he engaged in the farm loan business in Nebraska, and was a member of a firm which is now the Peters Trust company of Omaha. In 1902 he moved to Idaho and in 1916 to Portland. Mrs. Reed, accompanied by her son and daughter, Mrs. Miriam Reed Cobb, left at once for Grangeville upon learning of Mr. Reed's death, and will disinter the body to Monticello, Ill., for interment.
