thing to do with the question of divine healing. Thomas Frank Gallor, D. D., bishop of Tennessee, who was delayed for 13 hours in Butte, Mont., by the strike, came in yesterday just before the close of the afternoon session. Bishop Ethelbert Talbot of Pennsylvania presided as chairman of the informal sessions until the arrival of Bishop Gallor.

Plan of Congress Used. In the general convention the plan of the United States congress is used, the house of bishops corresponding to the senate, the house of deputies to the house of representatives.

Everything is in readiness for the opening of the convention, according to Bishop Walter T. Sumner of Oregon, who said he had never known preparations so complete and so early. "The general convention could open in every department tomorrow if necessary," he said yesterday. "I am impressed by the fact that the bishops who have arrived are pleased with arrangements. Bishop Lines of Newark, who will preach the opening sermon of the general convention, said he had never seen so much enthusiasm at any convention nor all arrangements so perfectly made as here. And he has attended conventions for 34 years."

House in Perfect Order.

The House of Bishops was in perfect order for the opening session, Bishop Sumner said. "They say they never have been so comfortably housed," he declared, "and so enthusiastic was one bishop that he asked for the privilege of buying his desk and chair at the close of the convention so he could have it as a souvenir of his comfort while here."

Henri Thiele is preparing to serve $100 lunches each noon, which is a remarkable feat and impresses one who inspects the kitchen. Exhibit space is in order and as many as 25 or more organizations are placing exhibits there, although they will not be in demand for a week.

Bishops are still arriving, and more are expected today. Among those who arrived yesterday were Bishop James deWolf Perry of Rhode Island; Bishop Theodore L. Morris, bishop of the Panama canal zone; Bishop William T. Manning of New York; Bishop Theodore L. Reese, bishop coadjutor of southern Ohio; Bishop Boyd Vincent, bishop of southern Ohio; Harry Tunis Moore, bishop coadjutor of Dallas, Texas.

More Still to Come.

Among those yet to come are Bishop Charles C. Anderson of Chicago; Bishop William Lawrence of Massachusetts and his coadjutor, Bishop Samuel G. Babcock; Bishop Henry Darlington of Virginia; Philip M. Rhineclander of Pennsylvania; Bishop George Coolidge Hunt of Missouri; Arthur W. Moulton of Utah and Bishop Frank Hale Tourer of Idaho. A total of 110 bishops is expected for the convention.

An interesting figure at the preliminary conferences is Irving P. Johnson, bishop of Colorado, who is particularly identified with an effort to revive virgity preaching in the church. He made a report on this matter recently to the national council of the church. In this connection Bishop Johnson is chairman of a nation-wide preaching commission and before coming west he held a conference with 49 clergy in Evergreen, Colo., on the subject.

Bishop Howden Handsome.

Bishop Frederick B. Howden, bishop of New Mexico, is said to be the handsomest bishop of the house. His diocese includes all New Mexico and Texas and he has a special interest in Indian work and in hospitals. He has two or three good size hospitals, and voted especially for the treatment of tuberculosis within his diocese.

Right Rev. Edward Thomas Dambly, D. D., suffragan bishop of the negro race in Arkansas and the province of the southwest, is one of the three negro bishops of the United States and was one of the first to arrive.

Bishop Frederick F. Reese, bishop of Georgia, is another interesting figure. He was at one time mayor of York, Pa., and was a member of the staff of the New York Evening World.

William P. Remington, young bishop of South Dakota, is engaged with Bishop Burleson in the work among the Indians of that diocese. He saw service as a chaplain during the war. Bishop Remington travels much by automobile. He said that during the year he has made 16,000 miles by car.

A family of many bishops and other churchmen is that of Right Rev. Beverley Tucker, bishop of southern Virginia, who is accompanied by his son, Right Rev. Henry St. George Tucker, bishop of Kyoto, Japan. The elder Bishop Tucker is accompanied by his wife and his daughter, Miss Lila Washington Tucker, both of whom are delegates to the women's auxiliary conference which will be held simultaneously with the general convention. Bishop and Mrs. Tucker have 13 children. Among them are Beverley St. George Tucker, Jr., professor in a Virginia Theological seminary; Rev. Herbert N. Tucker, rector of the Episcopal church at Boynton, Va.; Rev. Francis Tucker, rector of the Episcopal church at Lawrenceville, Va.; Dr. A. W. Tucker, senior surgeon at St. Luke's Episcopal hospital, Shanghai, China; Ellis Tucker, professor of mathematics at St. John's Episcopal university, Shanghai.

OFFICER SHOTS RIVAL

BAKERY WAGON DRIVER IS TAKEN TO HOSPITAL.

T. E. Read, Policeman, Says Jeff Sambrano Broke Up Home While Boarding There.

Jeff Sambrano, a Greek, and bakery wagon driver, was shot and seriously wounded shortly after noon yesterday when T. E. Read, a policeman, aged 43, whipped out his service revolver and shot the driver just as he dismounted from his delivery truck in front of the American Bakery company, 433 Williams avenue. Sambrano was shot in the lower part of the abdomen. Jealousy is said to have prompted Read's attempt to take the life of the Greek.

After surrounding Sambrano, Patrolman Read, who was in civilian clothes, walked into the bakery and telephoned for the police. When Patrolmen Shaylor and Ragan arrived he gave himself up.

Just as he was being carried into an ambulance for removal to Good Samaritan hospital, Sambrano turned to Read and cautioned him to keep quiet. Sambrano then told the policemen that the shooting had been an accident.

At the hospital later, Sambrano told Sheriff McKinley and Schaal, plus that he would not sign a complaint against Read. The policeman is held in the city jail on a tentative charge of assault with intent to kill. He told Detective Captain Moore Sambrano had broken up his home while a boarder there.

PRIORITY RIGHT GRANTED

WESTERN RAILROADS GIVEN EMERGENCY POWER.

Senator McNary in Delegation That Appears Before Interstate Commerce Body.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 31.—Railroads west of the Mississippi river were authorized today by the interstate commerce commission to reserve routing directions of ships and movement of foodstuffs, livestock, perishable products and fuel whenever their operating conditions become such as to cause freight congestion or blockade.

The order declared an emergency and laid down rules for the conduct of the western lines identical with those which have been in effect on railroads east of the Mississippi for several weeks.

Roads unable to transport promptly all freight offered, the order said, receipts suspended and to lay general routing directions of ships and to move freight in the most direct line. Unless further orders of the commission are issued establishing the exact details of priority no immediate change in the methods of handling traffic in the west will result from the order. However, under its terms in case any railroad, by reason of rate existing shipmen's strike or other factor becomes congested or blocked, it will have power to declare embargoes against the receipts of shipments and to lay general freight aside in order to push through shipments of food stuffs, perishables and fuel.

RAIL MANAGERS OPTIMISTIC

Burlington Officers Claim That Shop Craft Strike Is Over.

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 31.—Railroad managers of important lines operating west of the Missouri river took an optimistic view on the question of future fruit movement, in commenting today on the orders of the interstate commerce commission, authorizing the carriers west of the Mississippi to give priority to foodstuffs, fuel, livestock and perishable products.

At the officers of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad it was said there was no indication that it would be necessary for that road to take advantage of the commission's order. So far as the shop craft situation was concerned, the road claimed the strike for them had been over for some time and that its principal concern was to educate into first-class workmen, some of the men employed to take the strikers' places.

All kinds of freight was being moved by the Burlington, it was asserted, the road was claimed, and similar expressions were forthcoming from the Union Pacific system and the Chicago & North Western.

General Manager Dickinson of the latter road for lines west of the Missouri admitted that there had been some freight congestion east of Omaha, but maintained that it was clearing up. West of the river, he asserted, the road was experiencing no difficulty in moving all freight business.

TOURIST FUND APPROVED

Honolulu Chamber of Commerce Will Expend $50,000.

HONOLULU, T. H., Aug. 31.—(Special.)—The Honolulu chamber of commerce has approved the proposed drive to raise by public subscription a total of $50,000 to be expended by the Hawaii tourist bureau to maintain newspaper advertising in an effort to attract tourists to Hawaii.

The chamber spent an hour in trying to decide whether or not it ought to sanction the publication and showing of views of the leper settlement on Molokai, Dr. P. E. Trotter explained that leprosy is a passing disease and that within 100 years or so there will be no more leprosy in Hawaii, hence views of the settlement on Molokai not only will have a pictorial appeal for their beauty, but a historical value as well. The matter was put over for further discussion.

Survivors From Japanese Cruiser Picked Up by Yakumo.

HONOLULU, T. H., Aug. 31.—The Japanese cruiser Yakumo, proceeding to the aid of the cruiser Nataka, sank in a storm August 26 off the coast of Kamohaka, has reported picking up 15 members of the crew, according to cable advices from Tokyo received by Nippu Jiji, a Japanese language newspaper here. Captain K. Toga and others aboard were reported to have perished.

Whether the 15 survivors referred to in the foregoing are in addition to 15 reported picked up by a Japanese destroyer, earlier mentioned in dispatches, although a different vessel was named, it was thought possible the survivors mentioned earlier might have been transferred to the Yakumo.

SANITARIUM IS BOMBED

POLICE RESCUE FIVE FROM BURNING BUILDING.

Explosion Occurs Just as Officer Reports "All Well" to Headquarters.

OAKLAND, CAL., Aug. 31.—One of the two buildings comprising the George Cowdry sanitarium here was destroyed by fire early today following a bomb explosion. Cowdry, his wife, two nurses and a patient occupying the building were rescued by police officers.

The explosion today came as the climax to a series of incendiary fires which have broken out in the sanitarium during the past month and which resulted in the police keeping a close watch on the premises.

An officer had inspected the sanitarium barely five minutes before the bomb went off and was at his call box reporting "all well" to headquarters when the blast occurred.

Other officers answered his call for assistance and the two nurses, Mrs. C. S. Whiffen and Miss Edna O'Donnell, together with the one patient in the building, Alberta Chamberlain, all of whom were on the lower floor, were taken out without difficulty.

Mr. and Mrs. Cowdry, however, who slept on the floor above, were trapped by the flames and were taken to safety with difficulty down a ladder.

Cowdry, according to the officers, told them that a patient who had received treatment at his institution in 1914 and who nursed a fancied grievance, had threatened to "get" him and his wife. Nothing developed from the threat, however, until last month, when the first of a series of three incendiary fires was discovered and extinguished. Two others followed and special details of police were set to watch the place.
