

WETS AND DRY TO BATTLE TODAY

Big Vote Is Expected in Wisconsin Primary.

WOMEN MAY DECIDE ISSUE

Interest Is Centered in Republican Party.

TWO SLATES OFFERED

"Real" Party Ticket Is Headed by William A. Ganfield as Candidate for Senator.

(By Chicago Tribune Leased Wire.) MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 4.—Fair weather and a tremendous vote are on the cards for Wisconsin's great primary tomorrow. With the registration up around the 165,000 mark, a new mark will probably be established for heavy balloting of an off-year election. If the race is close the women may decide the issue and big plans have been made to bring out the maximum women's vote. Interest centers in the republican party because it is in the republican party that the real fighting will take place.

WETS AND DRY SCAN VOTE

Returns to Be Eagerly Watched by Rival Factions.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—Returns of tomorrow's primary election in Wisconsin will be eagerly scanned by "wet" and "dry" organizations of the state. Since candidates representing these forces are seeking nominations for legislative offices. The anti-saloon league has made a vigorous campaign for candidates pledged to carry on its work, while an organization opposed to the prohibition amendment would prefer to see candidates nominated who would favor an amendment to the Volstead act permitting light wines and beer.

NEW YORK INTEREST LOW

Restoration of State Convention Derails From Primary.

(By Chicago Tribune Leased Wire.) NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—State primary day, two weeks from tomorrow, will have little local interest this year due to the restoration of the state convention. Even the local fights are few and far between, compared to previous years. For a time it was thought the fight between William Randolph Hearst and former Governor Alfred E. Smith for the democratic nomination for governor would result in primary fights for the delegates. But the Hearst plans did not materialize. The result is there are primary contests for Hearst delegates in only two counties in the state—Erie and Albany. Even in Erie the fight on the surface is for Louis Fuhrmann, ex-mayor. It is an attempt on the part of William J. Conners to overthrow the democratic leadership of William E. Fitzpatrick.

TEXAS CONVENTION TODAY

FOSSIL SHARK TOOTH FOUND NEAR ALBANY

RELIC DECLARED TO BE MILLIONS OF YEARS OLD.

Scientist Makes Interesting Discovery Where Road-Builders Cut Across Hill.

ALBANY, Or., Sept. 4.—(Special.)—The tooth of a prehistoric shark has been found in Linn county on Knox Butte, four miles east of Albany, by W. D. Porter, who is investigating fossil remains in this vicinity. The ancient relic was discovered on the southwestern slope of the butte in Miocene strata that were exposed where road-builders have made a cut across the face of the hill. The shark tooth has been classified by J. J. Crawford, Albany scientist, as belonging to a specimen of lamna elegans. The rock in which it was embedded when classified gives an idea of the age of the tooth. The Miocene period is described by geologists as being in the time of the Cenozoic, or mammalian era and tertiary age, many million years ago when the present Willamette valley was not in existence and a sea covered this part of the globe.

Research work on Peterson butte and Haight butte has been carried on by Mr. Porter. Both of these show evidence, he states, of the glacial period when ice swept over them. Professor O. P. Hay of the National museum at Washington, D. C., has requested additional photographs of mammoth, mastodon and other fossil teeth owned and maintained here in the notable collection of Mr. Crawford.

BANDITS GET RING, $120

Cigar Store Held Up—Victim Gives Chase; Gun Won't Work.

T. R. Terex, proprietor of a cigar store and confectionery at 144 Russell street, was held up late last night by two bandits, one of whom flashed a revolver in Terex' face while the other looted the till of the cash register of $120. A ring was also snatched from off a finger of Terex' hand. After admonishing Terex to stay where he was and keep quiet, they left. Rather than do as he was ordered, Terex seized an old revolver and started in pursuit. On reaching the street he tried to fire the weapon, but it refused to function and the bandits escaped in peace.

So quietly had the holdup been staged that Terex' partner, who was in a back room, was unaware of what had transpired.

Efforts to prevent completion of the lease through appeals to the war and state departments at Washington and to Senator Shortridge have also been made, according to the Los Angeles Times.

WEST'S BEAUTIES CAPTURE CHICAGO

Last Lap of Trip to Atlantic City Begun.

FETING LASTS FOR 24 HOURS

Smoky City Turns Spotlight on Pretty Girls.

ONE IS ASKED TO WED

Miss San Francisco Tells Suitor He Has No Chance; Name of Man Is Withheld.

(By Chicago Tribune Leased Wire.) CHICAGO, Sept. 4.—After a hectic 24 hours of feting and photographing in Chicago the four Pacific coast beauties, Miss Tanssia Zara of San Francisco, Miss Katherine Grant of Los Angeles, Miss Virginia Edwards of Portland and Miss Evelyn Atkinson of Seattle started tonight on the last lap of their long journey to Atlantic City. They were joined by Miss Georgia Hale, as Miss Chicago, and the beauty queens from Denver and Kansas City who arrived just in time to catch the special carrying the party from Chicago to Atlantic City. The spotlight, literally and figuratively speaking, was turned upon the pretty western visitors during their Chicago sojourn. At the Marlford gardens, where the girls were guests of honor at a dinner party Sunday night, the orchestra burst into the strains of "California I Love You" as Miss San Francisco entered and the spotlight was turned upon her winsome person.

Visitors Are Introduced. Several thousand people clapped and cheered her and her pretty rivals, who shared in the tribute arranged especially for her. Again today at the terrace gardens the pretty visitors from the coast were introduced to a Chicago audience and were received with great applause.

The girls and their chaperons will reach Atlantic City tomorrow afternoon. An elaborate programme of welcome has been arranged in their honor by Mayor Bader of Atlantic City. The pageant in which all will contest for the honor of becoming Miss America will open September 6 and continue for three days.

Miss San Francisco Wood. Miss San Francisco received her first proposal of marriage at the close of her long journey from San Francisco to Chicago. Won by her dark Carmen-like Spanish beauty, one lover admirer among her fellow passengers remained over in time to offer his heart and hand to the astonished beauty. Miss Zara was said to have informed him that his suit was hopeless.

"It is really not a matter for discussion," she said.

BULLDOG HOLDS FORT IN BATTLE FOR AUTO

POLICEMEN, OWNER AND BIG CROWD AT BAY ONE HOUR.

Canine in Possession of Machine Mounts Guard on Front Seat and Wages Vicious War.

A determined bulldog battled for nearly an hour yesterday against a couple of policemen, an irate automobile owner, and a crowd of pedestrians who joined in the excitement. The dog—a vicious appearing canine—took possession of an automobile belonging to Fred G. Miller while it was parked near Fourth and Morrison streets. The dog apparently thought the car belonged to its master, for when Mr. Miller went to get his machine the dog declined to give up possession. Mr. Miller, with the assistance of a group of pedestrians, tried for some time to coax the dog from the front seat of the machine, but their efforts were futile. Then they called for police, and the arrival of motorcycle patrolmen only served to increase the excitement. It was not until one of the patrolmen went into a nearby store and procured a long pole, and thus clubbed the dog out of the car, that Mr. Miller regained possession. After it was all over the bulldog amped up the street as though nothing had happened.

Others of the 16 who made the hike to the lake and back were John Stark, Arthur Haulman, Vernon Morris, Floyd Meeker, Harold Allenworth, Harry Junor, Lewis Payne, Mark Gill, Frank Webster and Amos Estab.

CHIEF TURNS 'WOMAN' AND CATCHES KISSER

'LADY' PROTESTS, WALLOPS MASHER ON JAW.

Soldier Who Accosted Girls Takes Officer for Flapper and Gets Real Jolt.

(By Chicago Tribune Leased Wire.) HIGHLAND FALLS, N. Y., Sept. 4.—Chief of Police Christoff of Highland Falls is not in the habit of wearing women's clothing, but he decided it was the only way to catch an elusive soldier flirty with cave-man tactics who had been the subject of many complaints made by girls and women of this little summer resort near West Point. The women declared that some man in uniform repeatedly followed them when they were alone and seized, hugged and kissed them, dashing away when they screamed for aid. In silk shirtwaist, sport skirt and silk stockings with high-heeled shoes and a veil covering his manly features, Chief Christoff tripped along about the shaded lanes in Highland Falls yesterday. Presently he was grabbed about the waist by a burly arm clad in khaki, and hot kisses were pressed upon his veiled and reluctant lips. The chief at first protested in ladylike voice that he was a married woman, but this only aggravated the soldier's affection. Then the chief hauled off and walloped the masher on the jaw, laying low the huggler and kisser, who proved to be Corporal Albert Hoff of West Point, a regular-army man. It was the greatest surprise in Hoff's soldier career when he found he had picked Chief Christoff for a flapper. Today Judge Nelson held Hoff in $1000 bail on the double charge of disorderly conduct and annoying women. The military authorities will deal with Hoff later. The chief got back into his own uniform as soon as he had locked up the kissing corporal.

RUMOR STARTLES BERLIN

Report Current That ex-Crown Prince Is Dead.

(By Chicago Tribune Leased Wire.) BERLIN, Sept. 4.—(Special Cable.)—Report ran like wild-fire through nationalistic circles here late tonight that the former crown prince had died in Holland. If the report be true it will make any material difference. There would be genuine sorrow among the "hard-boiled" monarchists, but among the practical reactionaries there would be a great feeling of relief that the problem of a future monarchy in Germany had been simplified, since no common sense monarchist in Germany considers either the ex-kaiser or the ex-crown prince as a possible candidate for a new empire.

PROHIBITION IS UPHELD

Sunday Movies, Golf and Baseball Approved With Warning Not to Make Religion Repellent.

BISHOP TUTTLE'S VIEWS ON FLAPPERS AND OTHER MODERN FEATURES.

"The young women of today do not differ greatly from those of 40 years ago. Give them your hand, give them your heart and pray God to bless them." "Go to the graves of the brave, honored dead and learn that the world constantly grows better." "Prohibition has worked great good, and the sense and sanity of the American people can be depended upon to adjust what loss of personal liberty it has entailed." "Sunday movies, golf, baseball? Why not. If their devotes have first discharged their religious obligations? Do not let us make religion repellent." "My message to the people of the United States? I take it from Shakespeare: 'Let all the ends thou aimst at be thy country's, thy God's and truth's, then if thou fallst, O Cromwell, thou fallst a blessed martyr!'"

FAIRBANKS POPULACE IN WAR ON CARIBOU

WILD GAME ABOUT TO MAKE JUNGLE OF TOWN.

Men, Women and Children, in Autos and Horse-Drawn Vehicles, Shoot Animals.

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Sept. 4.—Though the population of Fairbanks is greater now than previously in 14 years, every hotel being full and residences too few, hardly anybody was in town today. All except the force of the daily paper and those too young or too old were out hunting caribou, rabbits, geese and bear, which threaten to reclaim the town as if it were a jungle. Evelyn Houck, assistant postmaster, hunting grouse in her automobile, was peevish by a caribou that stood in her way. To string the caribou she fired at it with her .22-caliber rifle. This maddened the caribou and he charged. With only one cartridge remaining in his little rifle the assistant postmaster hit him in a vital spot and he fell dead against her car. Two hundred automobiles and all the horse-drawn vehicles in town carried hunters and huntresses. And the movie men were out shooting caribou. Even two Chebeco professors of the new agricultural college of Alaska, which is to open September 12, got a caribou apiece. School children killed several each. George Edward Lewis and Captain A. E. Lathrop, the movie manager of Alaska, went out with a truck and automobiles to film the caribou herds. Peter Steel, government photographer at Anchorage and Dick Thorne were present with their movie camera. But every time the experts got close somebody let go with a blunderbuss and the caribou moved too fast for the movies. Old timers say that the invasion of the wild is caused by the weather. At first the summer was unusually rainy and the last of August came a blizzard, ruining crops in the Tanana valley.
